Sixth-Grader Wins Spell 'B' At Franklin

Anita De Acosta

Anita de Acosta, 12 years of age, daughter of Mrs. G. Wilkes, of Lincoln Park, recently won the Lincoln Park Elementary School award as the champion speller of the school. In grade 6, Anita said she likes her teacher, Mrs. Patricia Caston. The champion was born in Cuba in 1946, but thinks it just as well not to return there under present conditions. Anita misspelled six words in the contest, the next committed 17 errors, and the next missed 28 words.

ZOO . . . TO YOU

. . Park Open, Too

Yes, that excuse that there "is no place to go" got itself all washed out Saturday and Sunday, when great numbers of the people from the city and environs proved there is "something to see" at the Columbus Zoo and plenty of fun across the way at the Zoo Amusement Park where several new rides have been installed.

"Never saw anything like it" was the comment of one of the officials, and this seemed to apply to the Zoo as well as to the Amusement Park.

Annual membership tickets are being sold at several places at $1 per book, which will allow a family of two adults and their children under 12 to visit the zoo six times during 1958.

Youth Week Observance

A Western Party, in costume, will begin the annual youth week observance at Ohio-av EUB Church on Sunday evening. The three youth groups of the church will join together for a potluck dinner, followed by a program of games and singing, with closing devotions. The midweek prayer service on Wednesday evening will be in charge of the youth. Thursday evening will find the youth at the Ska-teen Gardens in Westerville for a skating party. Various parties and programs are being planned by the individual groups for the other nights.

Youth Week will be climaxed by the observance of Youth Sunday on Apr. 20. The youth will be in charge of the morning worship services and a special emphasis will be put on attendance of youth at the Sunday school and worship services. Sunday evening at 7:30 will find the young people gathered in the sanctuary for a closing consecration service. Bruce Hilton, who is the editor of the "Friends," the magazine for junior high youth of the EUB denomination, will be the speaker at the Sunday services. Rev. Harold Sturm, from the Athens EUB Church, will be the song leader at the evening service, with Mrs. Sturm accompanying him on the piano.

Fishing Contest Features $300 Worth Of Fine Prizes For Lucky Anglers

ENOUGH TO LIGHT UP THE EYES of any old fisherman is this array of prizes for the Hartley Newspaper Fishing Contest. Here Henry Jones and Red Cochran, writer of our weekly column, "Inside on the Outdoors," look them over.

From the looks of the picture you might get the idea that Christmas is coming a little early this year. This is not the case however.

The two fellows are simply looking over some $300 worth of prizes to be awarded to fishermen in this area in the Hartley Newspaper Fishing Contest.

Anglers will have to "work" for these prizes—if work is what you want to call it—by catching some big fish in Madison Lake.

Hartley Newspapers are sponsoring the contest in an effort to interest more people in the healthful outdoor sport of fishing, and to reward fishermen who bring in trophy catches.

Madison Lake was chosen for the contest because it offers public fishing close to this area, and the fishing is usually good. It covers 108 acres and is located 10 miles west of Darbydale on State Route 865. The lake offers ample opportunity for you to catch some lunkers this year.

Contest Starts Apr. 15

If you're like us, this list of prizes will make you "itch" to go fishing. All fish caught after Apr. 15, 1958, are eligible for the contest, so that you can enter the fish you catch on your next trip to Madison.

You can enter as many fish as you wish, but only one prize will be awarded to a person.

Other rules of the contest:

Pan-American

Pan-American Day was observed in an assembly held today by the Spanish Department under the direction of Mrs Elsie Criger. There were several acts following Bonnie Bower's speech on "What Is Pan-American Day?"

Participating in the assembly were the Concords, Kay Chambers, Janet Nicholson, and other members of the Spanish Club. — by Donna Baker

Right Start

South High baseballers started on the right foot Mar. 31, as they topped Central in a practice fray 4-0, on the latters field. Although each mentor substituted freely, South showed signs of being a vastly improved ball club. Last year's version showed a strong defense, poor hitting, and poor base running. In the game at Central, South showed its '57 form on only one count, and that was its strong defense. The hitting was better and the base running was carried out without a hitch.

If the Bulldogs can get these results all the way it might mean a real tough time for all opponents.

Fluoride

Its Effect On You!

Editor's Note: Much discussion of possible fluoridation of Columbus water has prompted an inquiry into the subject by this newspaper. The effect of fluoridation is important, not only to Columbus, but to other cities and villages which either receive Columbus water now or are contemplating the use of fluorinated water in the future. Two opinions on fluoridation are expressed here by Dr. Ollie Goodloe, Columbus Health Commissioner, and Dr. Jonathan Forman, chairman of the National Committee for the Evaluation of Fluoridation.

An Advantage

Fluoridation of city water is safe, effective and a positive health asset, says Dr. Ollie Goodloe, Columbus Health Commissioner.

"People of Columbus have been drinking chlorinated water for years with no ill effects. Chlorine, iodine and fluorine are all lethal in large doses! If a person drank gallons of chlorinated water daily, or ate fantastic amounts of iodized salt, these would prove fatal.

"Fluorine is the same way and it has been proved by the nation's leading scientists that one part of fluorine to one million parts water is positively safe and will curb tooth decay by 60 per cent in America's children!

"In Texas, where the effects of fluoridated water on tooth decay was first discovered, children and young and old adults have been drinking naturally fluoridated water for generations with no ill effects other than stained or mottled teeth caused by the high uncontrolled amount of fluoride in the water.

"Right now, there are 30½ million people drinking fluoridated water in the United States. A large segment of these have been drinking it all their lives without physical harm!

"Of course, there is a better way to prevent tooth decay! That would be to have the teeth of every child cleaned by a dentist three times a year! For one thing, there aren't enough dentists to handle a job like that!

"Even if there were enough dentists, people who can afford proper dental care for their children often neglect to have it done. Those who can't afford it are just out of luck.

"Fluoridation has proved that it can safely, economically, efficiently and effectively reduce tooth decay by 60 per cent in most cases.

"Even if it would only reduce it 10 per cent, in my opinion, it would be worth the cost to the city to offer this protection to our children and their children!

"Many have labeled fluoridation as a 'mass medication' which is contrary to the beliefs of some organizations and religions. However, so was pasteurization of milk. Ten years ago pasteurization became a legal requirement for all milk to be sold in this city.

"Those who do not choose to drink 'cooked' milk must go out of the city to buy it and it should be the same in the case of fluoridation!

"If a few people feel they don't want to drink fluoridated water they should go out of the city to buy their water! Fluoridation should come to Columbus to benefit the majority, which it will, and should not be voted out because of the minority.

"In 1956, the Columbus Board of Health passed a resolution recommending the fluoridation of the Columbus water supply being standardized to one part per million. It is safe, effective and cheap and I hope our Columbus children will have the opportunity to benefit from its protection!"

A Danger

Fluoridation of Columbus water would be definitely be wrong, according to Dr. Jonathan Forman, offices at 139 S. Grant-ev.

Dr. Forman, an allergist, is a past president of the Friends of the Land organization and has studied the effects of fluoride on people, animals and soil. He is now chairman of the National Committee for the Evaluation of Fluoridation.

He stated the following reasons why Columbus water should not be fluoridated:

"Fluoridation is a therapeutic treatment which is definitely in the poisonous range for many people even in the now 'standard proportion' of one part to one million parts of water.

"Proponents of fluoridation insist that since chlorine has been used in city water supplies for many years without ill effects that fluorine can too. We must remember, however, that chlorine is placed in water to treat the water while fluorine treats people!

"Records I have examined of towns in Colorado which have 'naturally' fluoridated water show that residents of these towns had signs of fluoride poisoning, especially evident by mottled teeth. In some towns, as many as 85 per cent of the residents showed signs of poisoning from fluoridated water.

"Fluorine does not smell and does not taste. When the fluoridated water is boiled the chemical is concentrated; unlike chlorine, it does not go off as a gas. Fluorides are strong inhibitors of enzymes, especially those concerned with the utilization of sugars and starches.

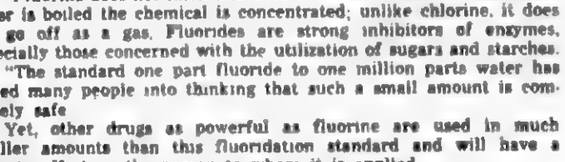
"The standard one part fluoride to one million parts water has fooled many people into thinking that such a small amount is completely safe

Yet, other drugs as powerful as fluorine are used in much smaller amounts than this fluoridation standard and will have a definite effect on the person to whom it is applied.

"About one-quarter of one part of another drug can reduce a man's blood pressure effectively. Small quantities of powerful drugs do not necessarily guarantee safety

"Fluoridation is artificial medication and the use of it should be decided by the person involved, not by a health department staff' It is an entirely unscientific method of treatment and a haphazard dosing of the people."

When asked if there was a better way to cut down on tooth decay, Dr. Forman replied, "every druggist has fluoride available in bottles. Proper dosage can be prescribed by the dentist. It is inexpensive and assures that a person receives only the amount of fluoride that is safe for his or her physical makeup



"Those persons who drink sofe drinks or other beverages made in cities that have fluoridated water, are already getting fluoride. Some people work in occupations where they receive more fluoride, such as welding, soldering, etching, laundry work and the manufacturing of bricks, glass, enamel and fertilizers. There is every possibility they will be receiving too much fluoride if their city water is treated with it, too

"It doesn't actually prevent tooth decay but delays it! A boy nine years of age who has been drinking fluoridated water may have 60 per cent less tooth decay than a boy nine who hasn't. But, compare the nine-year-old who hasn't with a boy 11 who has been treated with fluoride through water and you'll find about the same amount of tooth decay!

"Fluoridation doesn't work, it is expensive to install and operate, unscientific dosage and dangerous!"

Prosecutor, Too

Sheriff Holds County's Most Dashing Office

By State Representative Archer E. Reilly

Law enforcement is a fundamental part of county government. It is also cloaked with an aura of romance and action, for the Prosecutor and Sheriff are established heroes of the American tradition.

REILLY

Actually, their duties in a metropolitan county involve important civil functions, as well as law enforcement. Nevertheless, the modern Prosecutor and Sheriff are still essentially law enforcement officials.

The Prosecuting Attorney in Ohio represents the state government in the county where a crime is committed. Legally, a crime is an offense against the state. Thus, a criminal case involves "The State of Ohio vs. John Doe."

The Prosecutor officially enters the picture when a proper authority holds that there is sufficient evidence of a crime by a party in question to present evidence to the Grand Jury. He is responsible for the presentation of such evidence. If the Grand Jury decides to indict a person for a crime, it is the Prosecutor's office which presents the case for the state.

This involves the selection of a jury; the presentation of witnesses in behalf of the state along with physical evidence; cross examination of witnesses and a summation of the state's case to the jury. Conviction requires proof beyond a reasonable doubt.

In the event of appeal, the Prosecutor's office represents the state in the Appellate Courts.

The present Franklin County Prosecutor is Samuel L. Devine.

The Sheriff is also primarily concerned with law enforcement. As part of this responsibility he actively polices all of the unincorporated area of the county. This requires a constant, roving, motorized, uniformed patrol consisting of nine full time men.

When an arrest is made, the procedure is clear cut. The suspect is brought into jail, an affidavit is filed, and the matter is set down for a preliminary hearing before a municipal judge who, under the new system, sits in the Court House.

If the court decides that there is sufficient cause, the suspect is bound to the Grand Jury.

The Sheriff is in charge of the county jail. This is quite a housekeeping operation in itself. Among other items it involves the serving of between 500 and 600 meals per day along with the custody of an average complement of between 175 and 200 prisoners of whom 10 or 15 are women.

It also operates a convoy service for the courts; and averages two trips a week to Lima State Hospital taking prisoners to and from observation periods. The Sheriff is also responsible for transporting persons committed to state institutions to the appropriate institution.

The present Sheriff is Stacy Hall. His staff includes one captain, three lieutenants and ten sergents. The uniformed members of the staff are furnished uniforms along with annual cash allowances to replenish worn items.

A modern sheriff, despite the fact he neither dresses nor acts like the old time frontier figure, has in fact the same function. For essentially, he is still responsible for maintaining law and order in the county.

The Prosecutor and the Sheriff are entirely different functions. However, their objectives have much in common and they cooperate with one another in many matters.

YMCA, YWCA Must Keep Pace With Growing Area

This is one of a series of topics by distinguished citizens of Columbus, bearing on the purposes, programs, and the activities of the YMCA and the YWCA.

Robert Lazarus, President of The F. & R. Lazarus & Co., Columbus, Ohio

Much of our past, present and future prosperity rests on one important factor—growth in population.

A machine in the Department of Commerce in Washington registers one birth every eight seconds, one death every 21 seconds, the arrival of an immigrant every two minutes, and the departure of one every 24 minutes.

While it took the nation 273 years to acquire its first 50 million population, the second 50 million came in 35 years, the third in 34 years, and the fourth is scheduled in 1967, gained in 18 years. The experts now estimate that the next 50 million will come in just 14 years and that only 12 more years will be needed to reach 300,000,000, due in 1993.

We are marrying earlier and raising larger families. Last year more than four million babies were born. Before World War II, the annual baby crop was less than two and a half million.

This is all very promising in some respects. A great deal of the enormous expansion in manufacturing and distribution facilities during the last decade was based on this sure source of demand for a greater volume of products of all kinds.

The burden of the rapidly rising youth population, however, falls especially heavy on schools, churches, and the YMCA and YWCA which are acutely concerned with the development of young people.

Since 1950, the metropolitan population of Columbus has risen about 25%, but children in the 1 to 14 age group have increased 92% and actually constitute nearly 34% of our total population!

In the 1960's when the babies of 1946-47 reach the most frequent marrying age —20 for women; 23 for men—wedding bells will ring frequently and the annual rate of family formation will rise again.

One can hardly expect the YMCA and the YWCA, whose facilities have not expanded in more than thirty years, to nurture the mounting army of youngsters seeking outlets for their energy, ambitions, and aspirations in the programs and buildings of these old and tried youth organizations.

Once a child has reached school age and begun to associate with his fellows, the home loses some of its influence. Boys and girls commence to form in groups, sharing the interests and recreations common to their age. The concern of all of us is with the leisure time of our young people. Undirected idleness is one of the main causes of juvenile delinquency.

Every parent should be happy to invest something in such youth organizations as the YMCA and YWCA which for more than a century have provided fellowship for boys and girls of all races and creeds.

We have enormous resourses in our youth. Let us encourage and develop the characteristics that make good citizens. Good citizens make a good city.

BIBLE COMMENT

Nothing Great Is Possible Without Plan

LATELY we hear a lot about social planning. Possibly, both in the church and in society, there is too great emphasis on organization, especially where it is divorced from life and specific tasks and goals.

But we know that nothing great or permanent can be accomplished without planning. We see that Christ was not only preeminent as a teacher but also as a strategist. He considered carefully just how His words and public life could be most effective.

If our modern nations had shown as much strategy as Christ, we would not be in the plight we are in.

In Christ's method we see the importance of something that is fundamental to evangelism. All that He organized was based on the idea of hand-to-hand contact, of man with man. The preaching of His gospel was not something theoretical; it was a matter of direct action.

It is a grave question whether in our modern religious work we have not gone too far from this basic method, depending upon brilliant sermons, mass movements and various other factors, all worthy enough in themselves, to do what can be done only by more directly personal contacts.

The 70 men whom Christ sent out evidently went into individual homes as a modern pastor. Their work was not to get crowds to listen, but to do the patient, quiet work of preparing the ground for the seed the Master would sow.

This wasn't easy. Christ compared the men to lambs going forth into the midst of wolves. But what a marvelous tribute He paid them—these chosen, devout souls—when He said, "Blessed are the eyes that see the things that ye see."

With modern houses, foundation plantings should be low and spreading. Low plants are especially desirable at doorways and under windows, unless the house has a high foundation.

Buy eggs from a dealer who keeps them under refrigeration. Eggs kept at room temperature for three days lose more quality than those kept refrigerated for two weeks.

My Neighbors

"At this point, I'd say that dependents are a poor substitute for tax relief!"

Brownie Troop 261

Mrs. M. V. Sarchet, leader.

Mrs. Vincent Walker, assistant leader.

These Brownies have been working on and making yarn octopuses as a project and finished them this week, under the direction of Mrs. Bertha Hinkle.

Brownie Troop 150

Mrs. Alfred Knox, leader.

Troop members spent their last meeting making colored egg shells.

Senior Troop 90

Mrs. Blanche Peer, leader.

The girls in this troop are visiting a local beauty school to learn the most becoming hair styles for them.

HEYL AVENUE NEIGHBORHOOD

Intermediate Troop 615

Mrs. Guy A. Cochran, leader.

Mrs. Elmer Bingham, assistant leader.

Eighteen Easter baskets were filled and taken to shut-ins.

In celebration of the troop's third birthday anniversary, the members visited the WWL-C Sally Flowers Show on television Friday morning with their leaders and parents, and later marched in front of the camera. This troop is now going into its fourth year. Mrs. Cochran, leader, was interviewed by Miss Flowers during the program.

Brownie Troop 754

Mrs. R. Mauger, leader.

Mrs. Esther Leslein, co-leader.

The troop members made clothes sprinklers from detergent cans and painted and decorated them for their mother's Easter gifts.

The girls in this troop also have a shut-in friend whom they look after at the Marshall Rest Home; and they sent her a plant for Easter. During the recent meeting each girl made a card to accompany the plant.

Mrs. Leslein and the girls surprised Mrs. Mauger with the presentation of an Easter plant.

Brownie Troop 974

Mrs. Gene Morris, leader.

Mrs. William Thomas, assistant leader.

Duck baskets were made from catage cheese cartons, with the duck head being fashioned on one side and on the other a tail, after which they willed them with candy. Each girl made her mother an Easter card.

CORPUS CHRISTI

The regular troop meetings for the scouts in this area were cancelled due to Holy Week observance.

GE Range Festival At Seneca Appl.

An electric range demonstration will be conducted by Mrs. Mary Frick, Home Service Representative of Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company, at Seneca Appliances, 195 Thurman-av, Thursday, Apr. 10.

During the Spring Range Festival, co-sponsored by The Electric Company and over 200 electric appliance dealers in central and southern Ohio, similar demonstrations will be conducted for the invited guests of dealers throughout the area.

Electric Company Home Service Representatives, conducting all of the demonstrations, are graduate home economists and in addition have received extensive training in the operating techniques leading to convenience in all-electric home-making.

Each guest attending a demonstration at Seneca Appliances will be given two packages of Stouffer frozen foods. These programs are designed to vividly show housewives the many advantages of cooking in the modern, all-electric manner.

Egg production in the United States has increased 14 per cent since 1950 and the number of layers has decreased 10 per cent.

Great Southern Presents Chevrolet

Mrs. Thomas Tolley of 3980 S. High-st, was the Saturday night winner of the Chevrolet Station Wagon given away by Great Southern Shopping Center. Shown above is Earl Wilson, president of the GSSC Association, presenting the keys to Mrs. Tolley. Linda Sue was sure her mother was going to win the car. Says Mrs. Tolley: "Everytime we passed the car she would tell me 'that's your new car isn't it mommy?'" The last of ten new hi-fi sets was also given away Saturday at the center. Bob Canter is recuperating at home from his recent surgery in University Hospital.

Girl Scout Troop 113 will be selling cookies in the neighborhood and in the Kroger Store and possibly another place in the shopping center beginning at 4 p.m. Friday, and also all day Saturday. We hope the neighborhood will welcome these Scouts with their cookies for this is the one big sale for the Scouts and it helps the girls raise the necessary money for the troop activities and camping trips. And as most of you know, the cookies are delicious too.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blakeman Sr., of Mt. Vernon, visited with Harley Oakes and the Frank Blakeman jr. family on Easter Sunday. They all attended the 11 a.m. worship service at their home church, the South High EUB Church.

The WSWS met at the home of Aileen Wickoff on Tuesday evening.

Our family spent a very happy Easter Day visiting with my brother Bob McQuiniff on Rosemont-av.

The best news of this week for this neighborhood is that one of our own friends and neighbors won the Chevrolet Station Wagon given away Saturday night by the Great Southern merchants. Mrs. Tom Tolley of 3980 S. High-st is the happy winner. By this time she has been convinced that she won it, and is supposed to get the car today. Congratulations and many happy motoring miles.

Mrs. Alice Gray was taken back to University Hospital, Sunday by the emergency squad, in a very serious condition. She had returned home last week and when I visited with her on Thursday she seemed in very good spirits and was so happy to be home again. She has lived in the neighborhood for so long that I do hope there will be a shower of cards to her.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheeler entertained Bob's sister, Frances, from Dayton on Sunday.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible

O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good: because His mercy endureth for ever. —(Psalm 118, 1.)

Throughout all ages and all eternity, Almighty God seeks the soul of His children — seeking to fill our lives with the joy that comes from His good, His loving-kindness, His strength and His mercy. We create our own utter misery by wilfully turning away from Him.

Fishing Contest . . .

Fish must be caught at Madison Lake and entered at Carner's Boat House (a convenient location right at the lake). An entry blank will be filled out there and will include species of fish, date caught, the length to the nearest quarter inch, weight to the nearest ounce, and girth to the nearest quarter inch.

A point system will be used in scoring fish, and a point will be given to each quarter ounce and each quarter inch as determined from the measurements. Decisions of judges will be final.

Prizes will be awarded at the close of the contest, midnight, Sept. 15, 1958.

Well, there you have it—the rest is up to you! The rules are simple, and the list of prizes impressive. We'll keep you posted from time to time on the progress of the contest.

Do not be bashful about entering a fish that you may think to be too small. It's surprising sometimes how high a fish will score using the above point system.

Remember, take your fish to Carner's Boat House and not to the newspaper office. The boat dock will be headquarters for the fishing contest.

Local Realtors Celebrate Week

Members of the Columbus Board of Realtors will join some 62,000 other realtors throughout the country in celebrating Realtor Week beginning Sunday, Apr. 13 thru 19 Herbert T. Wolfe, president announced today.

Wolfe explained that a realtor sells real estate . . . but not every person who sells real estate is a realtor. He pointed out that a realtor is a member of the Columbus Board of Realtors and the National Association of Real Estate Boards who conducts his business according to a strict code of ethics.

The standards of this code are higher than those set forth in the state license laws, and the Columbus Board is empowered to see that its members live up to its provisions.

It's GIRL SCOUT Cookie Time Again

Starting on Friday, Apr. 11 (after school hours) and continuing through Monday, Apr. 21, members of the community are asked to cooperate in this annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale.

There will be three types of cookies available this year for the same price of 40c per box, i.e., regular four-flavored sandwich creme, the ever-popular thin mint and "Savannah" which is a peanut butter sandwich cookie.

Proceeds from this annual cookie sale will be used to balance the Girl Scout Budget. Each troop will earn 5c per box sold which will be used for their own troop programs.

Goal this year is 250,000 boxes. This will aid in carrying the Girl Scout program into six counties and increased enrollments. There are over 12,000 girls registered in the Ohio Trefoil Council.

Each girl is planning to sell twenty-five boxes, so when your "scouts" come to your door – cooperate and also treat your family to good cookies. Note to the thrifty – these cookies will keep perfectly in your freezer indefinitely, so buy for today and tomorrow, as well.

Church Basketball Managers

A group of men who volunteered their time to serve the community and its youth, getting little or no reward, were the volunteer managers of the South Side Branch YMCA Inter-Church Basketball Leagues. These men sacrificed time from their families and own personal likes to help organize and run the teams from the various South Side churches so that the boys of these churches might have some wholesome activity to occupy their leisure time. All of the managers are interested in developing the boys in sportsmanship and the right kind of play as well as serving as coach of the team. A big "Thank You" goes from the community to the following men:

Jack Stephans, Jr., St. Paul United Church of Christ; Bill Reiner and Larry Schleur, St. John United Church of Christ; Howard Henry and Art Parilla, Central Community; Larry Bukey, Livingston Methodist; George Strain, Bill Share and Dwight Anderson, Oakwood Methodist; Gene Zollinger and Harold Walters, Thurman Methodist; Ray Dailey, Frebis Avenue Church of God; Edwin "Budd" McLaughlin and Don Fellure, South Methodist; Ray Kuehner and Roger Arick Gates-Fourth Methodist; and Don Badger and Joe Glick (Ohio Avenue EUB).

S. High EUB Church News

It was so nice to have so many worship with us in all of our Easter services. Youths were in charge of the sunrise service, with 107 in attendance.

The altar was beautifully decorated with a large white cross and 25 pots of Easter lilies forming the base of the cross. Breakfast was served to 47 people, and then the first worship service had 135 present.

Sunday school followed, with 173. The second worship service had 139 in attendance.

We were privileged to hear beautiful choral numbers and an outstanding sermon in both services. We feel that our first try at two services was a success, with every one being comfortably seated at both.

PTA Looks At Self

Mrs. Donald C. Fischer, president, will open the final meeting of the year for the South High School PTA, Wednesday, Apr. 16, at 7:30 p.m., in the school band room No. 114

Election and installation of officers will be held. Mrs. William Hoptry, vice-president of Columbus Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, will install the newly elected officers. Past presidents of South High PTA will be honored guests. The PEBS Club, a group of past executive board members of South High PTA, will also be special guests. A short film entitled "So This is PTA" will be shown.

The theme followed for the evening will be "Gateway to a Healthful Future." It will spotlight the activities of the South High Health Council over the past year. The council, one of the first of its type in Columbus schools, has concentrated its efforts on projects designed to make South High students more aware of the importance of good health habits. H. Delbert Swan, principal, Mrs. Beulah Thompson, girls' physical education instructor, and Joyce Luketz, a student, will participate and present the program. A social hour will follow the program.

Last Meeting

The Parent and Family Life Education Study Discussion Group of the Columbus Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will meet for the last time this year at 1:15 p.m., Apr. 14, at Central High School, Room One.

The Demonstration form is a skit entitled "This Is My Very Own," written by Mrs. Jay Bennett. The discussion leader will be Mrs. B. G. Welch. Members of the Fairwood Avenue Elementary PTA taking part in the skit are Mrs. Rollin Hepner, chairman at Fairwood; Mrs. Kenneth Ewing, Mrs. Curt Strick and Mrs. Jay Bennett.

Mrs. D. T. Crawshaw, chairman of the Columbus Council Study Group, will award honor certificates to the study groups which have earned them by meeting all requirements for the year. Following the awards a tea will be given by the Columbus Council for the chairmen and their guests.

Season's Over!

Marion-Franklin High School PTA will hold its last stated meeting of this school year on Monday, Apr. 14, at 8 p.m. Mrs. Howard Hahn, chairman for the evening, announces that Chet Long will speak on his trip to Japan before the business meeting. Installation of officers will be held and refreshments served by room representatives. Mrs. Joe Drake is publicity chairman.

Siebert PTA

Siebert School PTA meeting will be Tuesday, Apr. 15, at 7:30 p.m. Invocation will be given by Rev. Carl Brown of the Gates-Fourth Methodist Church.

Presentation of a piano will be made by Lion Clarence Duffee of the Southeast Lions.

Mrs. Earl Snyder, Parent-Education chairman, will present a play, "Scattered Showers." The cast are members of the PTA and include Mrs. Robert Rickard, Mrs. Harold Druggan and Mrs. J. E. Van De Water. Discussion will be led by Siebert School principal, Eugene Kirby.

Election of officers for next year will be held.

St. Mary's Speakers

St. Mary PTA will have Dr. A. H. Imhoff of the Columbus Dental Clinic and Mrs. Louise Kanmacher, school nurse, as speakers at 8 p.m, April 10. Dr. Imhoff's talk and a film he will show concern the "Dental Health of Young America." Mrs. Kanmacher will stress nutrition as a necessity for having good teeth. This is the program scheduled for March but cancelled because of inclement weather.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Henry Thibaut and her committee.

This seems an appropriate place also, to extend our sympathy to Mrs. Lemmon and her brothers and sisters for the loss of Mr. Palsgrove, their father.

It would be so nice to be Mary and Howard Merritt right now! They left last Friday for the sunnier climes of Florida. They will be gone for a month. The Merritts are residents of Reinhard-av.

The group has a goal of giving the school some needed item each year, and at the Apr. 15 meeting a filing cabinet for the office will be presented. Election and installation of officers will also be on South's PTA agenda that evening.

Wedding anniversary congratulations were in order for Geneva and Clint Thompson a few days ago.

Trudeau Guilds 10 and 25 had and are having a different kind of meeting than either one generally has. Guild 10 met last night at Benjamin Franklin Hospital for a tour of the hospital. The group then held its meeting at 8 p.m. in the nurses' home on the grounds. Guild 25 meets tonight (eight days later than the regular meeting date) in the home of Nellie Kaufman for a party.

We'll tell you of this item more fully next week but we do want to mention the Tom Thumb "wedding" which Susannah Circle of Thurman-av Methodist WSCS is sponsoring on Apr. 17 and 18, at 7:30, in the church. Keep it in mind, won't you?

April birthdays are those of Marge Boyd, 1799 Wilson-av, who had her natal day on the fifth, and Dorothy Whitacre, 158 Southwood-av, whose celebration occurs this Saturday, Apr. 12.

We'll report about Margie Speakmon's Easter project and relay her thanks to all who helped her. The Irishman, Pat Soulsby, Margie Van Houten (who recently had a birthday), Margie and I filled baskets last Friday, and the Speakmons delivered them on Apr. 5. Margie had baked scads of cookies, as well as buying candy for the cartons, so those lucky patients at Orient who received them had goodies to last for a long time. She had previously delivered some to the State Hospital, so she brought Easter happiness to many folks this year, as she does every Easter. Re-reading an old bulletin from Orient gives us an idea for a suggestion. The bulletin asks for Sunday comic sections and comic books. With spring housecleaning upon us, why not bundle up such items and send them to P.V.A., Box J, Orient, Ohio?

Two South High School graduates will exchange their wedding vows Apr. 12 at 7:30 p.m., in Zion Lutheran Church. The two are Connie Miller, 844 Stewart-av, and Robert Dawley, 1034 S. Ohio-av.

Judy Grace, 737 Hanford-st South High co-ed, will have a birthday on Apr. 14.

Our sympathy to the family of James Ritter, who passed away last week.

Others in the picture from left to right are Ernie Barta, committee chairman for the Association; Bill Lamneck and Glenna Spencer of the Journal, and Patrolman John Day who assisted in keeping the more than 700 children in hand. HE IS PLEDGED TO PROTECT YOUR INTERESTS

Don't take a chance on what may be the most important financial transaction your family may ever undertake!

When it comes to real estate, the wisest decision you can make, is to consult a broker entitled to call himself a REALTOR—one accepted for membership in the local real estate board and the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Why?

A Realtor knows today's market. He handles hundreds of similar transactions. He can get you a fair price, quick sale.

A Realtor has a list of prospects who are honestly interested in finding a home. He shows by appointment, eliminating the stream of casual lookers who otherwise would troop through your house.

A Realtor screens out the prospects who are financially unable to meet your price. No wasting valuable time showing your home to those unqualified to buy.

A Realtor is prepared to arrange the intricacies of financing to complete the deal.

A Realtor has the technique and "Know how" necessary to close the transaction properly.

Lions Attack Is Happy Gift

The month of March brought the Roaring Southeast Lions upon an assembly of 625 pupils and faculty at Marion-Franklin High School, and the aftermath of the storm was reported most pleasant.

When the all-clear signal was given and the "Southeast Lion" had departed to soothe its temperament with cookies and coffee, Principal Edwin E. Gearheart, Visual Aids Instructor Donald Rinkas and Student Representative Bob Foreman were left holding a 16 m.m. R.C.A. Sound Movie projector, a Bell sound tape recorder, and two four-speed Magnavox record players for the school's use.

The presentation was the one hundred fifty-second project that has been donated to the schools and social service organizations of the South Side.

In expressing appreciation to the Southeast Lion Club, Principal Gearhart said, "We have found equipment of this kind very helpful in our school program. The tape recorder will be useful in the music and speech departments. The record players will make a possible better use of our speech and English literature recordings, and the sound projector will be used in every department and every day."

Miss Diane (Dee Dee") Gehl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gehl, 635 Frebis-av, represented Barrett Junior High School at the State Science fair, sponsored by the Ohio Academy of Science, at the University of Akron, in Akron, O.

W. E. Gongwer is her science teacher and J. E. Shevlin coached her for this project.

Schiller Recreation Center Host To Hundreds Of City-Wide Golden Age Leaders

A Luncheon Meeting At Schiller Parq Where Golden Age Activities Are A Major Part of the Program.

Schiller Recreation Center was the scene of two very large and informative meetings last week.

On Wednesday, from 10 a. m. until 3:30 p.m., there was a city-wide meeting for leaders and officers of Golden Age Clubs. In the morning sessions the topics of discussion were "Needs of the Older Adult," "Training of Club Officers in Parliamentary Procedures," "How to Organize a Golden Age Club."

At the noontime luncheon Rev. Albert Wright of the First Presbyterian Church was the guest speaker, and the afternoon sessions were taken up with program helps for senior adult groups. These consisted of planning trips and suggestions of places to visit, handicraft, folk dancing, easy drama hints, how to organize tournaments for older people, and fun games that could be used at social meetings.

Host To Agencies

On Thursday Schiller was host to representatives of the various youth-serving agencies of the city and county. Some of the organizations represented were YMCA, YWCA, Friendship House, Gladden Community House, Scout and Campfire groups, Juvenile Bureau, General Receiving Hospital, Teen-Age Clinic, Jewish Center, and many others, including each of the 11 public recreation centers in the city.

Topics of discussion were common to all groups attending. Principal speakers of the luncheon meeting were Dr. Schaeffer of the Teen-Age Clinic, which has been set up at Children's Hospital. He explained what the clinic is trying to accomplish for the teen-agers of the city in the line of medical and psychepathic care.

The other speaker, Bill Nelson, was from the American Youth Hostel Association. He gave an interesting talk, illustrated with many slides, on the organization, which sponsors trips for youth in many countries throughout the world.

Save the Park . . . And Provide Parking

City council is being asked to cut some 80 feet off the north end of Livingstone Park to provide parking space for cars at Children's Hospital.

It is a fact that the parking space is needed but it appears that a better solution of the problem is available through the legislation introduced by Councilman Ralston Westlake.

Westlake proposes that money from the city rotating fund be used to purchase properties across the street from the hospital to be developed for parking area. The area could either be leased to the hospital or metered and the revenue be thus returned to the city.

This would prevent the destruction of 21 large trees in the park and allow the park to be further developed for use by handicapped and crippled children.

In this period of shrinking parklands in congested neighborhoods it behooves us to preserve what we have.

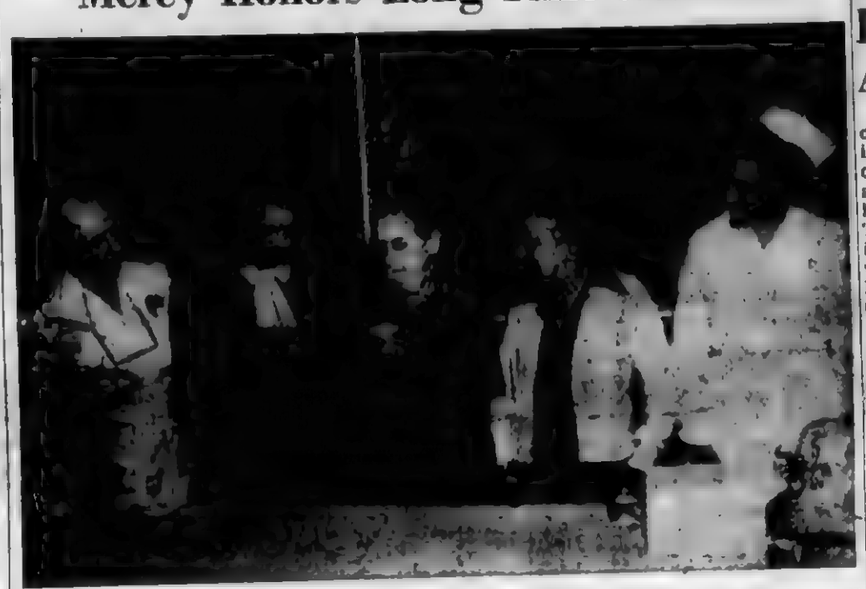
Something Wrong in Civil Service Dept.

There's been a lot of commotion recently down in city hall in the civil service department with two members of the commission sounding off with criticism of the secretary of the commission, Gale Reeder.



Never let it be said that any man is above criticism but this particular situation is taking on an unpleasant flavor.

Gale Reeder has been on that staff for 25 years and is known to have long time knowledge and ability in the operation of that department. Columbus has had a good civil service department probably because Reeder was known to be the type of person who never did anything in his job unless it conformed to the instructions by the commissioners, yet at the same time he never did the special bidding of anyone.

The fire and police departments have found no fault with his work.

It will be a very regretable situation if Columbus loses the services of Gale Reeder and politics take over in the civil service commission.

Mercy Honors Long-Time Associate

Mercy Hospital authorities recently surprised Mrs. Earmen Morrison Stevenor, one of the hospital staff, with a "token" of the staff's appreciation for her services over a long period of time. A lot of food has been cooked at Mercy since Mrs. Stevenor joined the staff . . . but, let's permit the staff, including Superintendent Charles Beard, to tell the story as it was told at the affair honoring the long-time associate. They wrote . . .

Nellie Stevenor

"Mrs. Earmen Morrison Stevenor, better known as just Nellie, was born in Chicago in 1893.

"Her family moved to Kingmines, O., when she was eight. Here she attended a one-room school and learned to read well at an early age.

"When she was 18 the mines were destroyed by fire and it was necessary for everyone to desert Kingmines to obtain work.

"Nellie's parents, along with their neighbors, the Stevenors, moved to St. David, Ill., in search of work. The following year Nellie married Earmen Stevenor. They had two children, a girl, Virginia, and a boy, Jack. When Jack was only three and Virginia was 14, and Nellie 34, the father was killed.

Came To Columbus

Work was scarce in St. David and Nellie's sister, Elizabeth, encouraged Nellie to come to Columbus. She arrived on March, 1928, at the age of 35. She worked two weeks at a laundry, but pennies were few and the car fare was five cents. She heard of an opportunity nearby, at Mercy Hospital, and two weeks later she was helping the head cook at $9.90 a week and working three meals and sometimes 12 hours a day. Everyone was so happy to have work that there was no thought of overtime. Food preparation was simple, but Nellie says meals were the best.

"Nellie's sister, then later her father, came to Columbus and they both cooperated with Nellie in helping take care of the children.

"Virginia and Jack went to school close by and were later graduated from South High School.

They Cheer

"Nellie loves to make pies, cookies and, in fact, all kinds of desserts, and how the staff cheers when she makes those pies! For 30 long years Nellie has been here, has been faithful in her work, always on time, always willing to try the new, and anxious to please. Today, we here at Mercy Hospital honor you, Mrs. Nellie Stevenor, for all the faithful service you have rendered the hospital, and for all the delicious things you have prepared for us. God bless and keep you, Nellie Stevenor, truly a wonderful woman."

Relatives

Mrs. Stevenor has a sister, Mrs. Perry Elizabeth Christian, 305 E. Markison-av; a daughter, Mrs. Kile O. (Virginia) Hansen, 2080 Springhill-dr; a son, Jack L. Stevenor, 1191 Lilley-av.

Dutch Scheiderer Big Man In Bulldog Win

By Jon Fritz

South High's baseball aggregation invaded the West Side Apr. 14 to go against West High School's talented nine and, with superb morale, came out on top by a 3-2 margin.

The Bulldogs, capitalizing on a base hit, a couple of walks, an error and a stolen base, took a 2-0 lead in the top of the third to give Dutch Scheiderer a slim working margin.

In the West half of the third the strong-armed right-hander complained of a tight muscle, but remained in the game to see his mates behind him make a few errors and literally give the Cowboys two runs to even the contest at the end of three frames.

Pitchers' Duel

In the next four innings it was more or less a pitchers' duel between Don Furry and the Dutchman. At the end of regulation play, the score was two runs apiece.

It looked as if the Southerners would follow last year's script in being the hard-luck team as the top of the eighth inning opened. Don Furry, showing tiredness, walked three batters to load the bases. Don Zauderer was the next man up. He left his club on his shoulder for four pitches to earn a free trip to first base and bring home the winning run.

Dutch Scheiderer, last year's hard-luck moundsman, went to the hill with a sore arm, but with confidence set down the West boys to win the contest.

Clair Chapel

Clair Chapel Methodist Church is sponsoring the Capital University Glee Club in a concert at South High School Sunday, Apr. 27, at 4 p.m. Donation $1. All proceeds will go to the church's building fund. Tickets may be purchased at Heaton's music store.

Help Get The 'Y' Building

Every community needs a community house for its young people, a center around which the energies and impulses of youth revolve, a place where they can congregate and feel at home.

The proposed new home for the South Side YMCA will be such a center.

Parents can send their children here, confident that they are under the guidance of dedicated Christian staff members and volunteers who understand the needs, desires, and ambitions of youth.

The South Side has suffered for lack of adequate facilities to achieve its full possibilities. The wide use of other facilities has been necessary and admirable. But the new YMCA building will open night and day for the endless activities that attract young people.

The major interest in such a building must come from the South Side itself. Help will come from other sources but these sources are reluctant to help communities that fail to help themselves. If the South Side is to secure a new $350,000 building the residents of the area must work enthusiastically for it.

Every resident has an obligation to his children and his community to share in an enterprise designed for his benefit. As an extension of the home, the church, and the school, the YMCA conducts a program which none of these organizations duplicate. The YMCA has been an immense factor in the life of young people on the South Side. It has earned the regard it holds, but now is the time to translate this regard into bricks and mortar for a new home.

Be sure to do your fair share in the current campaign. It will pay dividends in health and happiness for your children and for generations to come.

After The Speaking Was Over

South Side And Expressways

A group of members of the Council of South Side Organizations got together with Jack Willison, assistant director of expressways of Greater Columbus committee, following an expressways planning talk by Willison. The group around the table, left to right, William Nino, president Marion-Franklin Citizens' Association; Ed Brand, United Order of Druids; Willison, Dick Graumlich, Moose Lodge No. 1; R. A. Pierce, Moose Lodge No. 11. The place of the South Side and the significance of the expressways was the topic, and center of questions asked of the evening's speaker.

FIRST SIGNS OF SPRING

A man was justifiably proud of his lawn until one year a heavy crop of dandelions appeared. He tried everything imaginable in an effort to get rid of them, but without success.

Finally in desperation he wrote to an agricultural college, listing the remedies he had tried, and concluding with the appeal: "What shall I do now?"

Several weeks later he received this reply: "We suggest that you learn to love them."

'Panel Of Experts' Decides Crappie-Time Has Arrived

Springtime is crappie (pronounced croppie) fishing time — so it was decided by our panel of fishing experts at the barbershop the other day. April, the month of showers, brings about a decided change in barbershop talk. From here on it is baseball, golf, and fishing — right now crappie fishing.

Crappies are among our most popular panfish, and for some anglers crappie-time is the highpoint of the season. There are two kinds of crappies, the white and the black, and both have been widely stocked in this area. You can fish for them in most streams including the Scioto, Olentangy, and Big and Little Darby Creeks. It's best to try the larger pools and stretches of quiet water.

Several Spots Good

Lakes are probably the best crappie haunts. Hoover Reservoir was a real hotspot for them last spring, and good catches are being made now. Lake Madison seems to harbor unusually large numbers of crappies, and they offer plenty of good fishing every year

Remember the HARTLEY NEWSPAPERS FISHING CONTEST at Lake Madison this year — the prizes in the crappie division are: Garcia Gold Bond spinning rod, Johnson Century reel, and two dozen lures (a selection of Williams, Hofman, and Hubba Hubba spinners).

Crappies belong to the sunfish family, but they're "suckers" when it comes to silver spinners that imitate minnows The spinners or spoons should be small, and they can be used on flyrods as well as spinning tackle. Crappies will take wet flies, small plugs and other artificials. But stick to spinners and spoons if you want to fill your stringer with crappies.

Most crappie fishermen do not use elaborate flyrods or spinning tackle to take these harbingers of spring. A cane pole, with a light line, and a No. 6 or 7 hook is all the tackle you need. Attach a small pencil-type bobber and perhaps the tinest split-shot sinker you can find. Hook on a medium sized minnow, and you're in business.

Divulges Fishing Secret

Fish around submerged stumps, brushpiles, and boulders for crappies. These fish travel in schools, so if you catch one keep fishing the same spot. Paddy Wheaton, and a few other old timers, carry two fishing rigs when crappie fishing. The first fish Paddy catches, he leaves securely hooked and allows it to swim around in the water. The hooked fish keeps the school in the vicinity, and Paddy catches "specks" like crazy for a while.

If you ever set the hook cautiously, now is the time to do it. Crappies are nicknamed "papermouths" since the tissue around their mouths is paper-thin. A good yank on your line will pull your hook out every time. More fish are lost by pulling in too soon than are lost by setting the hook too late. This is especially true in crappie fishing — so take your time.

Well, by this time my hair was cut, and our fishing panel sort of dissolved into thin air. I think they scattered to round up some "minnies" to try for crappies. At least that's where I went.

A PESSIMIST is a woman driver who is sure she can't park her car in a tight place.

An optimist is a man who thinks she won't try it.

We generally don't start this column with an appeal, but there is always a first time, so this is it. The appeal is for cards, and the person is Jane Deible, Room 315, Benjamin Franklin Hospital. This is Jane's second trip to the san. The poignant fact about her battling the "bug" again is that she had to leave five little daughters at home. Her birthday was last Saturday, Apr. 12, so even belated birthday cards would be appropriate. We do hope she's showered with cards . . . it would help her morale so much.

Hope the weather in Washington, D. C., was pretty for the cherry blossom tourists. Two such tourists from this area were Mae Dean, 33 E. Jenkins-av, and Lucille Vance, 611 Stewart-av.

St. Ladislas parish is sponsoring a fish dinner on May 2, as we plan to remind you weekly.

Marla Wesner rates congratulations for reaching the ripe old age of three on Easter Sunday.

On Sunday, Apr. 20, at 12 p.m. Bishop Clarence G. Issenmann, D.D. will solemnly dedicate the new St. Ladislas church and immediately after the dedication will offer a Pontifical High Mass to inaugurate the Golden Jubilee of the parish. The social event in connection with the celebration is the reception, which will be held after Benediction on Sunday, Apr. 20, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. At that time the priests and parishioners will receive the friends of the parish and hold open house for the public.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoptry should have lots of pleasant memories and pictures of their western trip on their return this week. They were planning to be gone for two weeks.

Re-Hi-Go, Horizon Club group of the Campfire Girls, did a nice thing last Tuesday, so we'll tell about it. They went to the State School and entertained 60 children there. Their leaders are Mrs. Michael Skobrak and Mrs. Glen Buller.

Curtain time is getting nearer for South High's "Song of Norway." Better be getting your tickets soon, either for the Apr. 24 or 25 presentation.

Group B, Ohio State Mothers' Club, met on April 15, for a 12:30 luncheon in the home of Mrs Edward Bellman, 480 Siebert-st. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Jacob Feil, Mrs. William Garwood and Mrs. Donald Ryan. Mrs. H. O. Caldwell was the speaker.

Meeting at 10 a.m. this morning in Henderson Hall is Guild 33, South Methodist Church.

Little Peggy Ikehorn, of 212 Welch-av, had a close call recently when her bursted appendix became gangrenous. The Southwood School pupil was in Grant Hospital, Room 210, when we talked to her mother. If your get-well cards are still available we know this youngster would really appreciate getting them.

Congratulations to two young couples who have chosen Apr. 19 as a wedding date. Donnajean Brand will become the bride of S/Sgt. Eurith D. Grier in St. John E&R Church. Miss Brand resides at 910 S. Third-st, and is a South High graduate. Her bridegroom is a resident of Norfolk, Va., and is currently stationed at Lockbourne Air Force Base.

Margaret Ann Nesser, 606 S. 18th-st, will become the bride of Donald Covert. Miss Nesser is a St. Mary's High School graduate and her husband-to-be is a graduate of OSU. One of our personal acquaintances among the younger set will be exchanging her vows tomorrow night in the Southwood Church of Christ. Linda Hatfield is the young lady and she will become Mrs. Ronald Milburn.

News from Dorothy Jolly, senior regent of Chapter 206 of the Moose, tells us that the ninth annual minstrel show will be held tonight and tomorrow night, starting time, 8:30. For $1 one may see a fine show. The talent, recruited from members (the Loyal Order is represented also), is under the direction of Mary Winegar. Seats are not reserved, and may be bought from a member or at the door. On Wednesday, Apr. 23, the child care committee is in charge of the 5 to 7 p.m. dinner. The dinner (and minstrel show) will be at Moose Hall, 36 W. Sycamore-st.

Congratulations to the South High instrumental pupils who came home with blue ribbons last Saturday from the state competitions.

The League of Women Voters, South unit, will meet on Apr. 22, 8:15 p.m., in the home of Mrs. Donald Wilkerson, 291 E. Barthman-av. Discussion leader for the meeting is Mrs. Benjamin Gordon and resource person is Mrs. Henry Samuels. The meeting is a continuation of the study of the metropolitan planning.

Guild 8, Mercy Hospital, will meet Wednesday, Apr. 23, in the conference room of the hospital, at 10 a.m. The annual strawberry festival plans will be discussed, so all members are urged to attend.

Here's a birthday card we plan to send, hoping lots of other folks will join us. Mrs. Durthaler, a South Sider for many years, will be 86 years old tomorrow, Apr. 18. She is now in St. Anthony's Hospital and cards are so welcome.

Ruth Circle, Gates-Fourth Methodist Church is an active group, as these two items will attest: They are holding a bake sale Saturday, Apr. 19, at the Majestic Paint Store, Whittier and Parsons, from 9 a.m. on. Cakes, pies, rolls and cookies will be available. On the 24th a "workmen's luncheon" will be held from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. For $1 one will get meat loaf, mashed potatoes and gravy, green beans, cole slaw, home-baked pie and coffee. Accent on Athletics

YMCA, YWCA Build Children For Future

This is one of a series of topics by distinguished citizens of Columbus, bearing on the purposes, programs, and the activities of the YMCA and the YWCA.

Richard C. Larkins

Chairman of the Department of Physical Education and Director of Intercollegiate Athletics at Ohio State University.

We are a sports-minded people. Our newspapers devote from 13 per cent to 17 per cent of their space to sports: baseball, boxing, football, basketball bowling, golf, tennis, horse racing.

Most of these sports, however, are in the hands of professionals. Our interest is largely in the development of champions. Public participation is limited to filling the stands.

Sand lot games have steadily declined, public school sports are not general, and intramural sports are waning.

This vicarious interest in sports and physical development extends even to our children, whose excess energy would normally be expended in suitable sports.

Tests of some 10,000 school children in comparable communities here and abroad indicate our children cannot meet six simple physical tests that are easy for European children.

The Kraus-Weber tests, appraising the strength and flexibility of key muscular groups, resulted in 57.9 per cent failure for American children but only 8.7 per cent for the Europeans!

Dr. Kraus concluded that the lack of automobiles, school buses, elevators, and labor saving devices in Europe forced the children to take more exercise.

Are our luxuries creating anemic youth? There is much support for this belief in the Selective Service reports.

What should we do about it? One thing we can do is to support physical education on an organized basis, preferably where it already exists. The oldest and best physical education classes exist in the YMCA and the YWCA. Modern physical education was born in the YMCA's Springfield Training College, where Dr. Luther Gulick introduced the recreational training curriculum that became world famous.

With their gymnasiums and pools, the Associations provide facilities essential for group training in health education. Under skilled physical directors, programs and classes are adapted to all age groups.

The YMCA and the YWCA are intent on providing health education for all youngsters, not training a few stars for championships. Their interest is won by the weak child, the timid boy, the shy girl, to whom Nature has given only meager physical equipment.

In a city or a nation, it is not the strength or skill of a few champions that count but the vigor and vitality of the whole body of citizens. The YMCA and the YWCA can meet the demands of an increasing army of young people only by foresight in planning facilities. This is being done now. The Columbus YMCA will erect three new branch-buildings on new sites previously acquired, replacing old buildings in less convenient locations. It will remodel portions of the Central Branch and alter and repair some of the facilities at Camp Willson.

The YWCA will demolish its 50-year old residence hall at 64 South Fourth Street and erect a modern building on the same site.

Since both Associations are non-profit organizations, they have no reserves for new buildings. It is up to you and to me—and to every company and individual with an interest in youth — to help them do the job that benefits the community.

Honesty Is Heart Of Religion

HONESTY is at the very heart of true religious profession.

For years men have used profession of religion as a cloak to cover dishonesty and insincerity. Sometimes this is sheer hypocrisy because it may be socially advantageous to seem to be what one is not.

When Christ came into the home of a Pharisee who had invited Him to dinner, He sat down to eat without first washing His hands—an offense against Jewish custom and a disregard for common practice of cleanliness.

Christ must have done this purposely because He knew the pretentiousness of some who were present and because He wanted to teach them a lesson.

In strong language He stressed the fact that mere outward observance could not satisfy the real purpose of the law to which these Pharisees professed to be so devoted.

Christ pointed out that many Pharisees made a point of giving all tithes and were very strict about formal requirements but had no regard for justice or the love of God. He said they should observe the matters of the law but they should not leave the greater and more important things undone.

IT'S about that time when you resolve to take the screens down in the fall rather than leave them up all winter, as you did this year.

Growing more difficult as the days grow longer is the job of thinking up excuses for not working in the yard.

The first things to pop up in our garden each spring are rabbits.

Spring cleaning poses a real challenge to us: how to get out of it.

MR. 'SOUTH SIDE Y' PRESENTS TROPHY

Mr. "South SIDE YMCA," "Cap" Hoover, presents the Sportsmanship Championship trophy to Howard Henry, manager of the championship Central Community team of the South Side Branch YMCA Junior Church League. Seated between the men is Robert Duncan, the chief speaker of the evening.

RECEIVING TOKENS OF VICTORY

Pictured above is Robert Dunca, head football coach at South High School and speaker of the evening at the South Side Branch YMCA Inter-Church League basketball party, shown presenting this year's team championship trophies. Accepting in behalf of the Oakwood Intermediate team is Tim Woodyard, who starred for the champions. The Intermediate team also won the Sportsmanship Championship in their league. Bill Rundio, who accepted for the Oakwood Junior team, is pictured at the left.

SPORTSMANSHIP REWARDED

Rich Mors of Oakwood, and George Mather of Central Community, are shown here kneeling with team trophies. Individual trophy winners from each team by the vote of all team members are: First row, standing: Jerry Wigfield, Oakwood Methodist Intermediate; Don Wray, Central Community Juniors; Wally Reuchel, St. Paul United Church of Christ Juniors; Ernie Vance, Frabis Avenue Church of God. Second row: Jim Rothwell, South Methodist Intermediate; Burt Emick, St. Paul United Church of Christ Intermediates; Bob Druggan, Gates-Fourth Methodist Intermediates; not pictured: Dave Pence, Livingston Methodist Juniors; Bill Warren, St. John United Church of Christ Juniors; Steve Miller, Oakwood Methodist Intermediates; Steve Rounds, Ohio Avenue EUB Intermediates; Frank Garnes, Thurman Avenue Methodist Intermediates.

Taking the spotlight at the recent South Side Branch YMCA Church League Award Party were the boys who earned sportsmanship awards through their attitude and action during the recently completed basketball season.

The 1958 team winners were the Oakwood Methodists in the Intermediate League, and the Central Community team in the Junior League.

HE WAS RIGHT

Jim had planned a fishing trip with one of his neighbors, a young Chinese with the unoriginal nickname of Charlie, who, though thoroughly Americanized in everything else, was still a bit reckless with the English language.

At the last minute, however, Charlie came over to say he couldn't make it.

"Something came down," he explained.

Jim chuckled. "You mean 'came up,' Charlie."

Charlie grinned ruefully. "No, down. Wife's foot."

Old Firm Takes On New Look; Sets Open House

An architectural first for Ohio will be revealed when the scaffolding comes down Apr. 21 off the Main Federal Savings and Loan remodeling job at 24 E. Main-st. Two eighty-year-old buildings will be converted into a "new" office by the use of expanded aluminum panels.

President Harold Esper invites Columbus and Franklin County residents to visit the new offices Open House week, Apr. 21-26. There'll be refreshments for adults, and children accompanied by adults, and gifts for all savings or loan transactions.

An unusual feature will be The Money Fountain. Those 70 adults who guess most closely to the amount of money in this fountain will receive prizes ranging from a portable TV to flashlights that do not require a battery.

The open house hours will be 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday. A new exhibition of pictures of early Columbus will be on display all week.

Auto Safety Check Plan Set For May

The first voluntary vehicle-safety check program will be conducted in Columbus and Franklin County from May 5 to 10. The MAPS (Motorists and Pedestrian Safety) Committee has endorsed the safety-check program.

"We've set 75,000 vehicles as our goal to check during the week-long program," said Russell H. Campbell, general manager of the Columbus Automobile Club. Gordon Jeffery, highway safety director is honorary chairman.

Plans have been made for setting up check lanes in locations - at shopping centers, schools, business and industry, the University, military installations. Members of the Automobile Dealers Association and used car dealers are cooperating in the program. Volunteers from the city fire and police departments, women's groups, tire companies and vehicle safety-check program workers will conduct the check at the check lanes.

The 10 points will be inspected free on each auto.

A TV news show ended on this note: ". . . . the dogs broke away and raced crazily through a field of tobacco."

Came the commercial:

"Does your cigarette taste different lately?"

Lincoln Park

The April meeting of the Lincoln Park PTA will feature a style show of articles made and modeled by members and their families. This is to be held Apr. 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium. The presentation promises to add some fun to the program with comic versions of styles made by some of the members. A social hour is to follow.

ROLE OF MUSIC MORE IMPORTANT

South-East Lions Give $900 Drum Set

Twelve members of the South-east Lions Club paid a visit to South High School Tuesday afternoon, Mar. 25. They brought with them a $900 matched set of seven drums.

After opening selections by the South High School Concert Band, directed by Randal Near, Lion D. H. Swain, principal, introduced Fred Brunner, project chairman, Frank Neubeck, president, and Herb Germain, past president.

In presenting the drums to the students, Lion Germain said, "It is our belief that today's emphasis on technology makes the role of music more, not less, important. In fact, we need to emphasize all fine arts as a balance to the relentless drives of industrialized society."

Lion Swain accepted the gift for the students and praised the Lions as "civic-minded men who give time, energy and money to benefit youth."

Lion Swain told the students that "Our responsibility is to continue our records of good scholarship, good citizenship, and good sportsmanship, in such a way that we are deserving of the continued friendship of residents and organizations in our community."

To close the program, Director Near and the band blessed the audience with several selections. Of special interest was a drum quartet performed by his drummers on the new set.

Stamp Savers Benefit Selves, Retarded, In 'Rag Drag' Effort

Thousands of stamp-saving housewives are expected to be attracted to Central Point, Great Western or Great Southern and other major shopping centers Friday and Saturday, Apr. 18-19 to exchange their old rags for trading stamps and to help build a school for retarded children.

Rag donors will be able to claim eight S&H or Top Value stamps for every pound of rags or old clothing they bring. One stamp will be given for each pound of magazines if tied or in cartons. Newspapers cannot be accepted.

Sponsors are the combined ARCs of Franklin County and will provide funds toward a much-needed school for mentally retarded youngsters.

Huge trucks, bearing banners will serve as collection points in the centers. ARC members, organized to aid retarded children, will weigh the material and issue the stamps from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The county-wide project has been timed to coincide with the spring house cleaning season. Discarded rags, old clothing, blankets and curtains are desired.

Proceeds will be earmarked for a building fund and donated to the Council for Retarded Children. Mt. Vernon Avenue School, recently operated by the CRC, burned in January and was condemned. The 161 pupils enrolled have been holding classes temporarily at the Indianola Presbyterian Church and Columbus State School.

NOT HORSE'S HOOFS

Contrary to popular belief, animal glue is not made from the hoofs of old horses. It actually is a cattle produce derived from collagen, a gelatin-like protein found in hides, cartilage, bones, trimmings, and connecting tissues. Hides are said to provide the strongest and most versatile type of animal glue.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits — fresh pineapple, bananas, canned citrus juices.

Vegetables—carrots, new cabbage, green onions, head lettuce.

Other Foods—fryers, large eggs, loin pork roast, beef rib roast, dairy products, honey.

The Fresh Vegetable Picture Is Looking Up—More asparagus, beets, green peppers, Romaine, fresh peas and kale are arriving. You'll welcome back green and wax beans, but may want to use them sparingly for awhile. Good bargains are in the frozen and canned product, whether you want them Frenched or plain.

Cabbage prices have dropped slightly. A head of cabbage will go further than a head of lettuce, and you can add variety with either green or purple. There is little relief in sight for potatoes until new crops are harvested. The new Florida red crop is about 25 per cent below last year.

Pineapples Are Fine

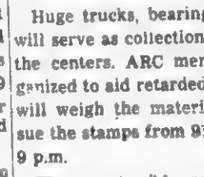
The fresh pineapple season is in full swing. The quality is excellent and the larger sizes (8's and 9's) are most plentiful. These are the Cuban pineapple.

Good Winesap apples are still available but this is not the time to buy apples in quantity. Florida citrus supplies are tapering off. Canned citrus items are the most economical buy.

MEATS

Good protein values this week-end are frying chickens, eggs, and cheese. In spite of higher-than-usual prices, pork offers you some of your better meat values. Picnics and bacon are good choices.

In beef cuts, there is less difference in price that usual between the more expensive and the economy cuts. Spring of the year, generally speaking, is a good time to treat the family to steaks and chops. Come hot weather when heat in the kitchen is avoided, the demand for tender cuts increases and prices tend to get higher.



If you like honey put it on your shopping list this week. Honey is plentiful now for three reasons. The 1957 crop of honey was good; we are importing more, especially from Mexico; we have not exported as much as expected. These factors lead to attractive buys.

At this time of year you'll like the flavor of the liquid and crystallized honeys. Much of the honey in the stores is graded according to Department of Agriculture standards. Top grade on extracted honey is U.S. Grade A, or U.S. Fancy. As a rule the lightest colored honeys are mildest in flavor.

When the pause comes in the day's occupations, be ready with some delightful records or good books from the Columbus Public Library.

Search me, O God, and know my heart; try me, and know my thoughts.—(Psalm 139; 23.)

When we truly surrender our lives completely to Our Heavenly Father, through His Son Jesus Christ, we will not try to hold onto or hide even the smallest evil thoughts. They cannot be hidden from Him — but He will forgive us when we are really repentant, when we really love Him.

IT'S:

CLEAN - UP — FIX - UP — PAINT - UP TIME

- Help Prevent Fires
- Promote Public Health
- Protect Your Property
- Beautify the Whole City
- Improve Your Own Neighborhood
- Protect Your Property Values

Mr. and Mrs. South Sider

You, as a citizen are urged to get behind one of the most important community projects of the year! It's the annual ambitious area-wide campaign to improve our city, to prevent fires, to promote public health and to stop neglect and deterioration.

You are urged to clean up your home and premises, paint up, fix up, during this important week which is dedicated to making our community attractive and looking its best.

The important thing is to DO something. Don't just read this message and forget it. Plan now to undertake a program of doing a worthwhile activity each day next week. Get behind the project . . . it's an important contribution to public health . . . civic beautification and protection of the valuable things we own.

COUNCIL SOUTH SIDE ORGANIZATIONS

- You might say, "What can I do to help this Clean-up Drive in the South Side?" Here are some suggestions:
- Start by cleaning the basement, the attic, garage, sheds and any other place which might contain rubbish causing a fire hazard.
- Clear your yards and lots of all weeds and rubbish. Get it piled up ready to haul away.
- Repair and paint fences and keep your lawns neat and clean.
- In the business section keep windows and sidewalks clean. Clean up rear entrances and keep unsightly rubbish in containers.
- Get a good trash burner and keep clean to eliminate fire hazards.
- Fix up chimneys, vents, check light wiring for possible repairs. These items may cause you trouble and cost money if neglected.
- By taking an active part in this campaign you will be doing your part to improve the health of our citizens and visitors, and aid in making the South Side an attractive spot for everyone.

Retired Riverboat Pilot Models Boats

BERNARD SAVAGE HAS SAILED THE DANUBE, Volga and Seine . . . the "toughest river fronts in the world: Calcutta, Hong Kong and Singapore. Models of famous boats, shown here are hand-made. L. to r, "Juanita," tow-boat that traveled up and down the Monongahela; the luxurious "Virginia," built in 1893 with crystal chandeliers and cabins paneled in mahogany, ran down the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers to New Orleans and carried such distinguished passengers as President and Mrs. McKinley; the original "Valley Belle" sank in the Muskingum River in 1892, killing four passengers; and the packet, "Annie Laurie," sold to coffee planters in 1894 for transporting coffee in South America. The show is open to everyone. There is no registration fee and no admission will be charged. Anyone interested may phone Mrs. Virgil Furry, BR. 4-2969 or Mrs. Robert Draper, BR. 4-6203.

WITH HANDS CAPABLE of navigating boats through turbulent river waters 60 years ago, Bernard Savage is still steady enough to execute the delicate detail of his models. They have been scaled one-quarter inch to a foot. Savage uses no plans but works entirely from memory. Scorning such shortcuts as stiffened lace for guard rails, he sands toothpicks, glues them in place and then cuts the piece to fit.

by Betty Daft

Among the most colorful times in Ohio's history were those years around the turn of the century. Waterways were teeming with traffic. Packets offered the last word in luxurious travel and heavy duty tow boats transported goods up and down the rivers.

Events recorded on that page of history seem to come alive again under the skilled fingers of Bernard Savage, 211 S. Richardson-av.

His years as river boat pilot and engineer, and his intimate knowledge of the boats he sailed are translated into exact, scale-model replicas, with every intricate detail painstakingly reproduced.

During his action-packed lifetime he has fought in two Indian wars, Spanish-American War and served with the Roughriders; had been a successful builder and contractor and traveled throughout the world. But the smells and sights of the river always lured him back. However, despite all his wanderings he still considers Ohio "the best place in the world in which to live."

Began Career at Nine

Signed on as a cabin boy at nine, he received his pilot and chief engineer's license at 20. As a young man he roamed all over the globe, sailing on most of the major rivers in the world including those in South Africa, Russia, Germany, Spain, France, India, the Orient and South America.

He recalls vividly the Seine, Volga, the Danube with its precision-built system of locks; the river fronts of Calcutta, Hong Kong and Singapore, "toughest in the world;" and his unforgettable adventure on the Amazon.

"Coffee planters from South America came to Ohio looking for a boat to carry coffee out of the Amazon country. They bought the packet "Annie Laurie," and hired another man and myself to take her down and train a native crew."

Christmas on the Amazon

"We took her to New Orleans where she was bulkheaded and a deep sea tug towed us on down. On Christmas Day, 1895, we landed at the mouth of the Amazon.

"We went clear up to the headwaters of the Amazon where the natives were primitive, savage headhunters. The wonders of our rifles and dynamite really impressed them; by the time we left a year later they looked on us as kind of gods; they would have made us kings of the jungle for the services we had done."

"We killed a man-eating tiger that had carried away a couple of their children, dynamited alligators that came upon the beach and gave soap and other supplies to their witch doctors.

He describes his years as a soldier as, "I wouldn't have missed any of it, but I sure didn't want any more."

His experience included two Indian wars, three years in the First Cavalry under Captain Wainwright, and service with Teddy Roosevelt's Roughriders.

Mingled With All Kinds

"Doctors, lawyers and millionaires, cowboys, engineers and probably some thieves, belonged to the Roughriders. It was a real crew and Teddy Roosevelt was a real man."

After the war in Cuba he returned to Ohio, married, and left the river to work as engineer and lock-master of the locks in Marietta.

The yearly floods, with their toll in life and property are still fresh in his memory.

He describes one near-disaster with, "I remember one year, a 60,000 gallon tank of gasoline broke loose, floated down the river and came to rest in a tree near our house. And a tank of paraffin landed beside our kitchen door.

River on Rampage

"Every year it happened . . . the river overflowing its banks and carrying its strange cargo. First came the chickens and pig pens and then, in order, the 'Chic Sales,' the houses and finally the barns."

In 1917, Savage moved his family to Canton and, soon after to Columbus where they settled on Richardson-av. A daughter, Emma, and a son, Clifford, make their home with him. Another son, J. R., lives on Woodbury; a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Evans on Lockbourne-rd and a granddaughter, Mrs. Juanita Whitman, on Demorest-rd.

Mr. Savage established the contracting business his son, J. R. now operates, when he came to Columbus.

Still active at 83 he remarks with humor about his "retirement."

"At 65, I retired. My son took over the business and I retired. It lasted ten days."

"A few years later I retired again. My wife and I went to Florida to sit in the sun and let the world go by. But that didn't last long. I met a friend who was building a road, and anyhow I just didn't like Florida."

money, which may be purchased for pennies.

Old Favorites

Many of the old favorites, plus some new attractions, will be included on the Schiller midway. Some of the features are bow and arrow shoot, penny toss, ring toss, knock down the doll baby, dart throw, skill ball, and other attractions. Also, two complete and entirely different puppet shows will be presented as part of the afternoon activities.

Climaxing the day's activities will be the spring carnival dance in the evening from 8 to 11. This is being planned by the Teen Age Club of Schiller and will feature the music of Ray Roop and his band, which is being furnished through the courtesy of the Columbus Federation of Musicians and the Music Performance Trust Fund.

Floor Show

During the intermission of the dance there will be a floor show featuring the Schiller Indian Dancers. Young people of this group have studied the customs and dances of the American Indian. They have appeared at other places with this act, but this will be the first time they have presented it at Schiller.

The success of last year's carnival and dance had such an encouraging effect on the planners, both small-fry and teen age, that this year they are looking forward to an even larger crowd. There will be no charge for admission to either of these affairs and both are open to all residents of the community, it was stated.

Fed cattle prices are expected to decline seasonally later this spring, but should average higher for the year than they did in 1957, according to Ohio State University Extension economists.

Aids In Estimating Paint Needs

With the advent of Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up time, you're probably planning to wield a paint brush or roller. To save time, money and paint, you should have an accurate idea of the paint you'll need.

The first figures to remember are the AVERAGE spreading rates for paint:

1 gallon covers approximately 500 square feet
1 quart covers approximately 125 square feet
1 pint covers approximately 65 square feet
One-half pint covers approximately 30 square feet
One-fourth pint covers approximately 15 square feet

More exact figures are indicated on each container.

To estimate the amount of gallonage required for a room, you multiply the length of the room by the height and double the total. Then you multiply the width of the room by the height and that total is doubled. Your two totals added together are the area of all four walls. A window or door is not deducted unless it is greater than 100 square feet in size. If you have picture windows in your room or a greater number of windows and doors than average, you should make a deduction.

Ceiling and floor are determined by simply multiplying length by width.

To determine the quantity of material which will be needed, you divide the total number of square feet in an area by the coverage the desired type of coating provides.

Cabinets and radiators are a special consideration. On cabinets, measure the front area and multiply by five while radiators require that you measure the front area and multiply by seven.

For the exterior you follow a similar procedure as you did inside. Multiply length by height, doubling that figure, then multiplying the width by height and then by two and adding the two results.

Gables or any triangular-shaped surface, measure the width and multiply by one-half of the height. This total should be added to the 2,520 square feet figure.

The range of coverage of type of finish recommended (indicated on the can), the number of coats, the type and condition of surface all must be considered.

With these ideas in mind, you will find paint estimating less of a mystery and as a result you'll avoid waste and save money.

Chilled canned meat will slice better than the same product at room temperature.

Once the can is opened, canned meat should be used within a few days.

Clean Carpet In Own Home

Housewives may now rent a Dri-Foam Carpet Cleaning machine, which is as easy to operate as your vacuum cleaner, as seen demonstrated by the lady in the above picture.

This Magic Master Cleaning machine is a generator of warm Dri-Foam under constant pressure. The foam emerging through the electric vibrating brush agitates, cleans and lifts the pile and suspends the soil and dust particles in the foam which is then picked up by an industrial vacuum cleaner which is furnished with the cleaning machine.

This new service to the community is furnished by the AAA Carpet Cleaning Company, located at W. Third Ave. and Northwest Blvd. in Columbus and in Dayton at 3830 W. Third St.

Dehumidifier Saves Damage

Humidity — one of the big causes of home damage — can be eliminated by using a dehumidifier.

Electric dehumidifiers are one of the fastest-growing home appliances in the country, with more and more people realizing how harmful moisture in a home can be.

High humidity will warp wood, damage floors, windows, doors; cause tools and machinery to rust and corrode; clothes to become damp, musty, or mildewed; paint to peel.

Newest feature of some dehumidifiers is a built-in "humidistat" which automatically maintains the exact level of humidity desired, turning the unit on or off as needed. This automatic operation makes the unit more economical because it operates only when humidity is above the pre-set level.

Another new feature is a unique "air freshener" that forces a non-allergic vapor into the room to neutralize odors and freshen the air. It is particularly valuable in eliminating musty oders frequent in damp basements.

Three Colors

When decorating a room, stick to three colors in floor covering, walls, furniture and draperies. Use one bright color for interesting accents. Choose the colors for walls and floor coverings first because these are the biggest areas of color. Light-painted walls always contrast well with dark floor coverings. Don't hesitate to repeat the same colors over and over in the same room. Color repetition will unify the room and its furnishings.

Although automation in the home allows the homemaker more time for other activities, it should be remembered that each automatic item added to an appliance increases cost.

Variety Of Loans Available To Ease Improvement Jobs

Whether you're thinking of adding a room, installing a new heating system, putting in new plumbing or doing some papering or painting, you should have little trouble financing the job with a low-cost loan, that you can pay off on a convenient monthly basis.

The first thing for you to do is get estimates from reliable contractors. If someone solicits your business who's a stranger to you, you'll do well to check his reputation. An established contractor will gladly give you references, including the names of satisfied customers.

Determine Capacity

As soon as you know how much the work will cost, you should try to figure out how much you will need to borrow, and how much you can repay monthly.

With these preliminaries taken care of, you are ready to talk to a bank, savings and loan association or other lender to make whatever financing arrangements may be necessary for the project you have in mind.

It isn't necessary, incidentally, for you to be a depositor with the lender you go to—banks welcome home improvement loan applications from depositors and non-depositors alike—and you needn't feel the slightest embarrassment about asking for a loan.

In fact, the attitude with which banks would like you to approach them is that you're not asking for a favor any more than you are when you discuss any other type of financial transaction with an interested party. Making loans is an important part of their business and they are just as eager to serve you as you are to get advice and aid from them.

Four Different Loans

There are four principal types of loans which way be available for home improvements through commercial banks, trust companies and other financial institutions—conventional bank installment loans, government-insured Title I loans, open-end mortgage advances, and supplemental loans obtained through mortgage refinancing.

1. Conventional Bank Installment Loan. In making such loans, the bank's major concern is that the improvement will substantially protect or improve the basic livability or utility of your home, and that you will receive real value for the cost incurred. The amount and terms will depend primarily on the nature of the improvement and your ability to pay back the loan without hardship. Since these loans are made by the banks on their own, and hence are not subject to the regulations of FHA Title I loans, they are generally more flexible with regard to the purpose, the amount and terms of repayment. While the interest rate is usually slightly higher, some loans not covered under FHA plan may be obtained through the bank's own home-improvement loan program.

2. Title I Loan. The Title I plan permits a bank or other qualified leader to advance the money you need under an insurance arrangement with the Federal Housing Administration. The maximum amount that can be borrowed under Title I is $3,500 and the maximum repayment term is five years for loans over $600. The interest charge is generally $5 discount per $100 per year. ("Discount" means that the full charges are deducted from the amount of the loan at the time the money is borrowed.) Title I financing can be used for most basic home improvements. It cannot serve however for certain items not considered essential to a home such as swimming pools, greenhouses or outdoor fireplaces or for appliances and items not substantially built into the property. Your local financial institution will be able to give you the specifics on the items eligible for Title I financing.

3. Open-End Mortgage Loan. If your mortgage contains an "open-end provision, additional funds on the same mortgage may be available to you for home improvement purposes. It is usually necessary of course to have built up a substantial equity in order to obtain such an advance. In other words, before you can borrow money in this manner, the bank or other mortgage holder usually requires that you shall have made earlier mortgage payments totaling at least as much as the new advance. Your monthly repayments may be increased slightly to pay off the additional debt, or the time of repayment simply extended beyond the original expiration date.

New Mortgage

4. Mortgage Refinancing. If you have a conventional rather than open-end mortgage, you may be able to obtain the money you need by retiring the existing mortgage and obtaining another in a new amount. Although this ordinarily involves a new title search, recording and other extra fees, your interest rate will be lower than under Title I or other short-term loans.

Home improvement projects can also be financed, of course, through personal loans obtained from banks, credit unions and small loan companies. However, many state laws limit the size of these loans, and repayment periods are usually shorter than for special home improvement loans.

Old Porch Becomes Useful Room

Porch enclosed with window units of ponderosa pine adds year around living space, new exterior beauty to this house. Use of old screened porch below was limited.

Wood window units can make conversion of a porch into a year-around room easier and less expensive than you'd imagine.

This is because window units of ponderosa pine, such as the ones used in the photographs, are available in stock from building material dealers and can be installed quickly with a minimum of labor.

The units come with frame and sash made to fit together. Hardware and weather stripping are attached, and the unit needs only to be fastened in place and painted.

The large glass units in the porch above have fixed sash at the top with an awning window section at the bottom. A bank of six individual awning units was installed on one side. These awning windows open outward for full ventilation. They also can be left open during a rainstorm, since the glass becomes a tiny "roof" that keeps raindrops out.

The porch shown was converted by a professional. However, these and styles of other windows units of ponderosa pine can be installed by a home-handyman with an average amount of skill.

PAY IT WITH YOUR GAS BILL

"That's Right, Johnny.....

...More Use Is Made Of Natural Gas In Our Ohio Homes....More Than In Any Other State!"

..... This is true even though Ohio is no longer a major natural gas producing state. Most of the gas we use in our Ohio homes comes from the big gas fields in Texas and Louisiana — through a great system of pipelines that cost millions of dollars to build.

And yet, Ohio's natural gas rates for homes still are among the LOWEST IN THE COUNTRY — even lower than in some of the major gas producing states!

One of the big reasons why Ohioans pay less for natural gas is UNDERGROUND STORAGE. In summer, when gas is not needed for house heating, your gas company stores tremendous volumes of Southwest gas in huge underground reservoirs in Ohio ..... This gas is withdrawn from storage in winter, to help meet customers' heating needs.

More than half the gas used to heat homes here on a cold winter day comes from underground storage.

..... An adequate gas supply, a modern pipeline system, underground storage, and reasonable rates ..... these are just some of the reasons why Ohio families are enjoying more and more of the modern comforts and conveniences provided by natural gas in the home.

The Columbia Gas System's dramatic sound, color movie, "The Underground Story of Natural Gas", is available for showings for schools, churches, club groups, and other organizations. Call your local Ohio Fuel Gas Company office about it.

Test Your Neighborliness

1. Do you cut your grass regularly, dispose of leaves, weeds, and cuttings neatly, prune trees and get rid of dead branches? Is your alley-side as attractive as your front yard thanks to cleanliness and camouflage of flowers.
2. Are your porches and steps sturdy and recently painted, your concrete walks even and free from cracks, your railings firm?
3. Is your garage cleared of greasy rags, flammable materials, piles of paper and junk? Is the garage a storage spot for the car plus neatly placed tools rather than an eclosed junk heap? Is your garage door sturdy? Have the windows been washed recently? Have you oiled the door?
4. Do you have separate containers for garbage and trash complete with lids? Are the cans placed out of sight or attractively enclosed?
5. Have your gutters and downspouts been cleaned out? Is your drainage planned to taper off rather than flowing swiftly over other's property?
6. Is the outside of your house gleaming with paint? Though individual, does your color scheme fit in with adjoining houses? Has your porch and garden furniture been paint-freshened this year? Are your garden tools an attractive-identifying color rather than a chipped-off brown?
7. Do you sweep the alley back of your house periodically to eliminate broken glass and spilling trash?

A "yes" answer to every question means you are a person everyone would like to live next to. Even one "no" indicates your disregard for those living closest to you. During Clean Up-Fix Up time, repair, remodel, plant and paint. From now on be a good neighbor!

Painting A House Can Be Like Eating A Steak

Until American homeowners learned how to do things themselves, most thought that painting a house was something like painting an elephant — too big to tackle. But now they know that painting a house is like eating a steak. When you divide the whole thing into bite-size sections, the undertaking is simple.

If your house is overly large or terrifying tall, you may still feel hesitant. If this is the case, you'll be interested to know that it's usually possible to find a painting contractor who will take the "high road" while you take the "low one." Such cooperative contractors will give you pointers on procedure while you work as a member of the team.

Check for Repairs

To begin with, it's important to check over all exterior areas of your house to see where repair work is needed. Boards may have rotted and should be replaced. Peeling paint is a warning that destructive moisture has forced an entrance. Its source needs to be traced so the devilment may be stopped. Rusted metal also needs careful attention. All rust must be taken off with sandpaper, steel wool or wire brush.

Where new wood is added—or old coatings are completely removed—the surface must be primed. Nail head indentations should then be leveled with putty. Where rust is removed, the bare metal should be coated with a primer devised for the purpose.

It goes without saying that all rough areas should be sanded smooth and that all cracks should be filled with either putty or caulking compound. Loose dirt should also be whisked off with a dusting brush.

Gather Materials

After your surface preparation is complete, it's highly important to round up all the tools and materials you'll need so you'll have them within reach, once you begin the actual painting. Check to see that you have stirring paddles, solvent for cleaning brushes, wiping rags, drop cloths to protect the shrubbery, strainers—if the paint has been previously opened, a paint can opener necessary ladders and brushes of the proper sizes. For siding, you'll need a 4-inch brush; for trim, a 2 or 3-inch one and for window sash, one of the brushes designed for the purpose.

On upper sections of the house where a ladder is needed, paint the trim before you paint the body of the house. In this way you'll avoid marring newly painted areas with the top of your ladder. When you are working near the ground, however, you can reverse the procedure, if you wish, and paint the trim last.

A favored way of painting the siding on a clapboard house is to paint first the under edge of the board where it overlaps its adjoining neighbor. Next, with a full brush, unload spots of paint along a single width within the area in which you are painting. These spots should be quite close together. Finally, draw your brush through the spots, merging the paint and completely covering the board with the fresh coating.

Dry Weather Needed

The best time to paint a house is during a dry spell when the humidity's low. Don't start in the morning until the dew has dried from the surface. Then follow the shade, if possible. When painting the side of a house, start at the highest point and apply paint in horizontal strips about three feet wide. Never stop in the middle of a strip for any great lenth of time.

You'll have fun with your painting. Furthermore, you'll enjoy the fruits of your industry for a long time to come. Your newly painted house will delight your eye and renew your pride in your home. The new coat of paint will also give you the satisfaction of knowing that it's standing guard over the important investment your home represents.

Year 'Round Light For Plants

Regardless of outside weather, delicate plants bask in even, glare-free daylight the year around in this addition an Ohio flower fancier built to his back porch. Built-in prisms in the prefabricated skylighting units, known as Teplite, "select" only the most desirable rays of the sun—allowing cool north light and low-altitude rays to enter, but rejecting hot rays of high summer sun. Hollow glass units provide insulation in winter, making it easy to maintain constant temperature and eliminating condensation.

DOES TRIPLE DUTY

Chaise, chair or bed is triple role of convertible aluminum cot that folds flat for carrying. Its weather resistant fabric is in brilliant plaid colors.

FOR SEATING

Newest sectionals are chairs. Tub-chair units — armless, with arms of one arm only — can be used separately or combined to form many seating arrangements.

FOR LIGHTING

Simplified shapes and lines, enriched by interesting colors and materials, are seen in new lamps and lighting fixtures.

FOR BEAUTY

Bringing outdoor beauty indoors is easy through the use of panels with floral and foliage designs. Embedded in the acrylic panels are actual flowers, ferns, leaves and grasses.

Vary scrambled eggs by adding chives, grated cheese, minced onion, crisp bacon, dried beef or herbs

Wax And Cracks

Before painting a surface which has been waxed, remove all traces with tarpentine or one of the products prepared especially for that purpose. Clean rags should be used for the final clean-up. If your painting job involves hiding cracks, rough or patched plaster or dry wall seams, try using a texture paint which is thicker than regular paint. First brush it on. Then stipple with a brush or sponge.

Enriched or whole-grain bread and cereal products are good protein foods.

Paint & Varnish

The difference between paint and varnish goes right back to the make-up of the two materials. Paint is made by grinding pigments (color) in drying oils. Varnish is made by melting transparent resins and mixing the melted resins with similar drying oils, after these oils have been raised to a high temperature. Paint is opaque and is intended to hide surfaces. Varnish is transparent and is intended to reveal surfaces

Beautiful Entrance Walks Add Distinction to Home

Beautiful walks around the home are indications of distinction in living, both of the family and with respect to neighbors and friends. Beautiful walks are just as applicable to the very small property, as to the large estate. On the smaller properties they are even more necessary because of the less space available to beautify. A flower-bordered approach to a door always seems to provide a gay, almost eloquent "welcome."

Everyone can have a lovely walk to front or side door, or both, using favorite flowering and evergreen plants that quicken the pace and brighten "homecoming" every day in the year.

In planting and beautifying walks, there are a few rules to observe in order to get the most out of the planting, according to the American Association of Nurserymen.

1. Usually at the beginning of a walk on the street side two shrubs, one on each corner of the walk should be somewhat higher than the plantings bordering the walk. They may be small trees if they are planted farther back so they do not cover the walk as they grow.

2. A ground cover should be planted along a narrow strip on each side of the walk, so that the bare earth will not show.

3. With the ground cover, a wide range of small evergreen and flowering shrubs may be planted, including roses, azaleas or perennials, and evergreen foliage plants to give color in winter. Ask your nurseryman's advice as to ground cover and other plants for your locality. The planted strip need not be wide, perhaps only three feet or so on each side of the walk.

Proper planning is essential. Know beforehand exactly what you intend to do. Plant plants that will not grow too high. A small diagram can be made of the walk beforehand, spacing the plants so they will not encroach one upon the other but will retain their individuality.

Child's Room Must Change With Needs

Flexibility is second only to comfort and convenience in a child's room, which must change to meet his requirements throughout his formative years.

During the early "writing" age, part of the wall area can be converted into a blackboard by covering the existing lower wall with Masonite tempered presdwood, sealing it and applying chalkboard paint. Later, this panel can be turned into an attractive wainscot by painting over the chalkboard surface.

"Peg-Board" panels, too, are a boon to parents who appciate every bit of storage space for toys and clothes. By simply moving hooks to new locations on these perforated panels, you can arrange hobby displays, book shelves and other functional and decorative schemes.

Treat Wallpaper To Clean Easily

Non-washable wallpaper can be made spot resistant and easier to clean by coating it with either clear flat wallpaper lacquer or wax emulsion.

First, be sure the paper is clean. Give two coats of regular wallpaper size, a substance of gelatin-like consistency available at hardware stores. Allow the first coat to dry thoroughly before applying the second. When the second coat is dry, apply two coats of lacquer or wax emulsion with a soft brush.

Lacquer may cause some colors to run, so test in a small inconspicuous area before coating the whole wall.

Wall Hangings Of Fabric Are Newly Popular

Fabrics for walls are news in home furnishings. Back on the walls again go fabrics as coverings and hangings for one to four walls, and as small decorative pieces hung instead of paintings.

There are a myriad of fabrics, including many prints, from which to choose. All blend well with currently popular upholstery, curtain and drapery materials and colors.

For a room of positive elegance, a lavish example is the use of a red cut rayon velvet on silk chiffon to cover all four walls. The feeling achieved is one of formal luxury in a room of modern airiness.

You can create your own garden-room with the feeling of wide open spaces by using lattice-patterned trellis prints enhanced with chiffon hangings of cerulean blue clouds applied to wall surfaces and printed on a white background. A carpet of inviting grass green complete the illusion.

These exciting fabric wall hangings are also popular in smaller painting size pieces which are hung exactly as if they were pictures. Among favorites in this style are those with the feeling and texture of typical Flemish woven tapestries.

For Safety's Sake Check Your Wiring

An important checkpoint during Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up time is your wiring system. This advice is especially applicable if your home is ten or more years old. Estimates are that eight out of ten houses in that age bracket can stand rewiring.

The rapid advances in electrical equipment have often strained the systems installed before the new appliances became so widespread in homes throughout the country. The most obvious symptoms of over-loading trouble are: fuses blowing, flickering picture on TV, fading lights, slowness of operation of appliances.

Therefore, it's wise to have an electrician check to see if you'll have adequate electrical support. It takes but a little while for a check and it can mean safety and comfort for your family. Check up at Clean Up time!

Patching Plaster

An old paint brush comes in handy when patching plaster or filling holes or cracks in wood. Apply spackling material with spatula or knife and while it is still wet lightly brush out rough spots with the brush which has been dipped into clean water. This cuts down the amount of sanding needed before finishing coat is applied.

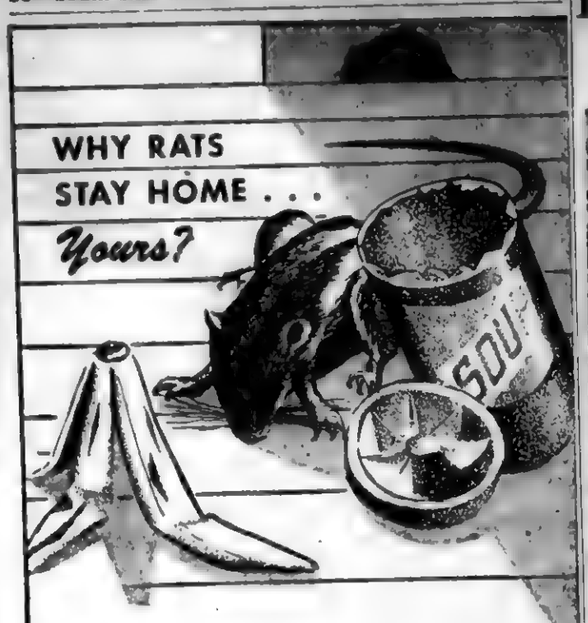
the two plans proposed.

Any reservations we may have had about our endorsement of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers' plan were washed away when we learned the effect of the SCD plan on the lower West Side of Columbus. The area is currently the target of a blight prevention program co-sponsored by the city's Urban Renewal Department and the West Side Neighborhood Council.



The objective is to rehabilitate the neighborhood through home and property improvements, and thus avoid the bulldozers, sledgehammers and "dislocation" of people. But these same people have the misfortune of residing in the lowland area most susceptible to floods. Thus, these least able to pay would have been handed the greatest proportionate share of the benefit-assessment burden.

Because these people reside in an area where The Spectator enjoys widespread circulation, they were the better alerted to the potential assessments through our accelerated coverage of the controversial flood control-water supply subject. The people from this area accounted for about one-third of all exceptions filed to the SCD appraisal record.

The story is not yet complete. We editorialized that there is room in the area for both the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and an effective conservancy district. Our immediate future efforts will center on encouraging responsible local elements to become personally and permanently involved in water management and related problems.

For a room of positive elegance, a lavish example is the use of a red cut rayon velvet on silk chiffon to cover all four walls. The feeling achieved is one of formal luxury in a room of modern airiness.

You can create your own garden room with the feeling of wide open spaces by using lattice-patterned trellis prints enhanced with chiffon hangings of cerulean blue clouds applied to wall surfaces and printed on a white background. A carpet of inviting grass green complete the illusion.

These exciting fabric wall hangings are also popular in smaller painting size pieces which are hung exactly as if they were pictures. Among favorites in this style are those with the feeling and texture of typical Flemish woven tapestries.

For Safety's Sake Check Your Wiring

An important checkpoint during Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up time is your wiring system. This advice is especially applicable if your home is ten or more years old. Estimates are that eight out of ten houses in that age bracket can stand rewiring.

The rapid advances in electrical equipment have often strained the systems installed before the new appliances became so widespread in homes throughout the country. The most obvious symptoms of over-loading trouble are: fuses blowing, flickering picture on TV, fading lights, slowness of operation of appliances.

Therefore, it's wise to have an electrician check to see if you'll have adequate electrical support. It takes but a little while for a check and it can mean safety and comfort for your family. Check up at Clean Up time!

Patching Plaster

An old paint brush comes in handy when patching plaster or filling holes or cracks in wood. Apply spackling material with spatula or knife and while it is still wet lightly brush out rough spots with the brush which has been dipped into clean water. This cuts down the amount of sanding needed before finishing coat is applied.

'Circus' Comes To Town At Deshler

The "circus" came to Deshler Elementary School Wednesday, April 16, and with it the animals, clowns, hot dogs, candied apples, balloons and most of all the merry-go-round. The theme of the musicale was the "Merry-Go-Round That Broke Down" and the only thing that would make it run was kind words. Children from kindergarten, second, fourth, and fifth grades presented the musical playlet written by Deshler teachers, with Mrs. Luella Hofstetter at the piano. Several instrumental numbers were presented by the Deshler orchestra, under the direction of Richard E. VanMeter. The program was presented to the parents and members of the Deshler PTA at its regular April meeting.

South Side Kiwanis Hears Safety Talk By Fire Dept. Expert

Cooperation by organizations with the Columbus Fire Department has enabled the latter to save countless lives, give aid to the sick and injured, and rescue persons from all manner of dangers, a spokesman reported this week.

Lt. Fred Martin, a member of the fire department's rescue squad, made the claim and gave credit at a meeting of the South Side Kiwanis Tuesday in Reeb's Restaurant.

"Not just public relations cooperation," Lt. Martin said. "But real help . . . understanding . . . education . . . a knowledge of how we can help.

He listed such organizations as the Kiwanis and other service groups, the schools, private firms, youth groups, and others. The fire department emergency service made 10,200 trips last year, delivered 66 babies.

This Week

In some cases, their work has been dramatic, almost unbelievable. Martin recounted a case just this week when an employee of a South Side firm became electrocuted by contact with a 220 volt circuit. Called to the scene from the nearest station, and using standard emergency equipment, they literally put life in the man. He had been dead seven minutes.

Not all rescues have this dramatic success, but Martin and his associates were unmistakably pleased, insisted that rescue was a part of good firemen's training, quick action by the employer, availability of the latest life saving equipment.

Requirements

Martin told the Kiwanis that rescue is possible with (1) training, and (2) tools.

The emergency squad job is (1) first aid for the sick and injured, and (2) rescue work of all kinds.

The firemen have four trucks, stationed at Lockbourne and Refugee-rds, 1000 E. Main-st, Deming and Arcadia, W. Broad and Mill-st. All stations are related by nearly automatic alarm equipment.

The police department is similarly set up. When firemen are already "out on call," the police emergency service is called.

The newest life saving equipment—a combination resuscitator, inhalator and aspirator—was also demonstrated at the Kiwanis luncheon. Martin, with

P.-American Day

"What is Pan-American Day?" was the theme of the talk given by Bonnie Bower to open the Pan-American Day celebration in South High School's auditorium on Apr. 17. She explained several happenings that led to the eventual formation of this event.

The Spanish Club arrayed in colorful costumes, sang "Las Chapanecas," and several members, Kay Chambers, Barb Bostwick, Nancy Buller, JoAnn Carter, Charlotte Reed, Kenny Yonker, Ralph Kleinline, Norman Woods, Ricky Moore and Dan Claffey, performed an interesting dance. Janet Nicholson played a violin solo, "Estrellita." The Conchords, a vocal quartet, sang "Cielito Lindo" and "Perfidia." Kay Chambers did a Spanish dance, followed by a piano solo, "Malaguena," by Martin Mitchel. The entire audience joined in singing the Spanish round "Frey Felipe."

Throughout the program the dance band provided the background music.

Fishing's Hot At Hot Springs

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — Your roving fishing reporter usually roves no further than the area between the Scioto River and Madison Lake, but right now I'm enjoying the warm spring weather along the shores of beautiful Lake Hamilton.

The fishing is sensational here —and the bass—and crappies really come BIG. The Hot Springs area is far enough south to allow fish to grow virtually the whole year, and I'm still a little bug-eyed after seeing a few Arkansas whoppers.

The first morning here I strolled down to the lake shore from our cottage, and on my first cast caught a bass. Twenty minutes of fishing stocked the larder for the day.

To be sure, the fishing hasn't been as fast and furious since, but the fish are cooperating enough to provide plenty of action. I have used spinning tackle exclusively, because I like to make long casts in large water. The baits I started with are the typical spinners and plugs I use back home. Anything that will catch bass in Ohio will catch them here.

After the first day or so, however, I switched to bucktail jigs. These are the favorite baits of the local fishermen here, and I succumbed to their advice. Joe Spinar, proprietor of Knollwood Lodge where we are staying, praised them highly—and sure enough they worked. I have found that I catch larger fish with them than I do with spinners, so today I alternated between orange, black, and white jigs.

100-Mile Chain of Lakes

Lakes Hamilton, Ouachita (pronounced Wash-i-taw), and Catherine make up a hundred-mile chain of lakes in the Hot Springs area. I've been devoting most of my time to Hamilton simply because it's at my doorstep, but I did break away for a day on Ouachita. John Bono, the owner of Bono's Spillway Landing, was looking for an excuse to get away that day, so we went fishing together.

Ouachita is the newest and largest of the three lakes, and it's nestled in the middle of huge Ouachita National Forest. The lake has only been in existence for about six years, and much of the shore is lined with dead trees that provide almost unlimited cover for fish. We worked the boat in and around these dead trees until we found a hole, and then caught a fish or two from almost every opening.

Georgane, John's wife, had a delicious fish dinner waiting for us at their cafe when we returned to the dock. It was a day I'll not soon forget.

Lakes Hamilton and Catherine are older, and not surrounded by the wilderness of a National Forest. They are ringed with attractive homes, and family resorts. Knollwood Lodge, for instance, is ideal for fishermen, and provides aluminum boats, motors, fish cleaning facilities, ets. Seldom does an entire family enjoy fishing, so a sand bathing beach has been built by Joe, complete with a floating swimming dock. Water skiing is available, along with swings and other playground equipment for the children. Joe and Ethel Spinar have made every effort to make our stay here enjoyable—even to the point of lending us an alarm clock and an ironing board.

No Lunkers Yet

Well, I guess I've been beating around the bush a little because I have to admit that I haven't caught any really lunker fish. I have had my heart set on an eight-pound bass, just as every fisherman who goes to Wisconsin expects to catch a muskie. I have seen a couple of fishermen with bass that weighed over eight pounds, and several with six pounders. The Annual Hot Springs Fishing Derby opened yesterday, and the best six bass entered weighed a total of 42 pounds. So I know they are here — the problem is to catch them.

If you will excuse me, I think I'll sort through my tackle box again to see if I can find a real killer that will do the trick. Tomorrow is our last day here, so I'll give you a report of the outcome when I return to Ohio.

Food Markets This Week by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR

Fruits — Pineapple, bananas, canned cling peaches, frozen strawberries.

Vegetables — kale, cabbage, green onions, carrots, frozen peas and asparagus.

Other Foods — Fryers, liver, large eggs, dairy products.

Homemakers are asking us how to keep Vitamin C in the family fare in light of the present shortage and high prices of fresh fruits and vegetables. In fact, this essential vitamin, needed every day, is apt to be short in American diets at any time. A recent survey by the U. S. Department of Agriculture showed that one family in every four was not getting enough vitamin C.

Though unfavorable weather in Florida this winter has affected the supply and price of fresh and processed citrus, canned grapefruit and citrus combination juices are expected to continue selling at reasonable prices. Serve them very cold to bring out their nippy flavor. Fresh pineapples are selling at bargain prices. While they are not nearly so rich in vitamin C as the citrus fruits, they contribute their share, as well as a piquant flavor, to salads and fruit cups.

Strawberries — another fruit rich in vitamin C, will soon be coming into their peak marketing season. Large shipments of Louisiana berries are expected to arrive late this month. Remember, too, that at this season processors are cleaning out old stocks of frozen berries which will mean attractive prices. Later in the season there will be cantaloupes which also rate high.

Vegetables—as well as fruits may be counted on to contribute this vitamin. Excellent dark green kale is here now from southern Ohio. In May, large quantities of a variety of fresh vegetables are due on markets. Many green leafy vegetables contain large amounts of vitamin C, especially the green leaves — spinach, kale, collards and broccoli — if properly cooked. Canned tomatoes and tomato juice are notably inexpensive sources of this vitamin the year around. Potatoes, sweet potatoes and cabbage are good buys for vitamin C much of the year.

Vitamin C is the most fragile of vitamins. Because it can be destroyed by exposure to air and is soluble in water, careful preparation and cooking are necessary to save it.

Suggestions for Saving — (1) Try to pare or cut vegetables just before you cook them; (2) Cook vegetables only until just tender and in as small a quantity of water as possible; (3) Remember that boiling potatoes in the skins saves vitamin C as well as time, and that generally each time you re-heat a vegetable more of the vitamin is lost; (4) Use vegetables raw in salads or as relishes, and serve them while they're fresh and crisp.

You probably have already observed the recent reductions in butter prices. Some local merchants have reduced butter prices since the U.S. Department of Agriculture reduced dairy support prices Apr. 1. It is expected that this price cut is a temporary situation. However, while it lasts it gives butter lovers a little break.

Butter, wrapped in moisture-vapor proof packages and stored at zero degrees fahrenheit, will keep its quality in the freezer for six to nine months.

Voters To Ballot On Welfare Issue; Funds Needed To Erase Board's Deficit

A one-half mill tax levy for Child Welfare and Relief will be on the Primary ballot May 6 for approval of voters throughout the county. The emergency measure requires a 55 per cent majority.

Thousands of children and familes are facing a health and welfare crisis. The financial situation of the Child Welfare Board and the Welfare Department is desperate. The County is short of funds. The levy must pass to prevent human misery and suffering.

The Child Welfare Board gives temporary care to 1400 children . . . children who have been neglected by their parents . . . children who are dependent upon the community.

More than 10,000 families will be helped by the Welfare Department this year under programs of Aid to Dependent Children, Aid to the Blind, Aid to the Disabled, and general relief.

Because of the lack of funds and growing budget deficits, agency staffs are too small. Services are inadequate. Here's how services have fallen down:

1 One-third of the children are removed from their families needlessly!

About 190 out of 570 children could have been served better in their own homes last year. But the agency staff was too small to carry on this important service.

2 Because there aren't enough staff members, children stay in the care of the agency too long.

3 Because there isn't enough money to meet basic living needs welfare budgets for food and milk are only 80 per cent of minimum standards. Unless the levy is passed budgets will have to be cut even more—to 70 per cent of the minimum standard.

Such inadequate diets contribute to malnutrition and serious health problems. In fact, 8,094 children, men and women received medical, dental or hospital care through the Welfare Department last year. The cost was $750,353.

Other factors which make it necessary to raise additional money for these services are the rapid growth of the child population and increased costs of maintenance and medical care.

Passage of the levy will erase the deficits, will mean the preservation of hundreds of families. Enough new staff workers can be added to work with children in their own homes where possible.

It will cut down the length of time children are deprived of family life. Welfare budgets for food and milk will continue at about the same level as last year.

Based on the present tax duplicate of Franklin County the levy can produce $780,000 a year. It will run two years.

Already in effect is a one-half mill levy for Child Wefare and Relief which was passed in 1954. Both levies expire in 1960. A committee of the Community Chest and the Council of Social Agencies is developing plans for financing these services after 1960.

Economical Curry Pinwheels Glamorize Hamburger Dish

Ground beef pinwheels with curry sauce make a tasty and economical entree for your table.

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

CURRY Pinwheels not only glamorize ground beef, but they are also economical. The "no-jump" curry sauce is delicious, too.

Both use nonfat dry milk to add flavor and valuable nutrition to the menu. It is actually the heart of the milk and is very inexpensive.

Curry Pinwheels (6 servings)

Three tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1½ pounds ground beef, 2 cups biscuit mix, ½ cup instant nonfat dry milk powder, ⅔ cup water.

Melt butter in skillet; remove half of the butter. Saute onion and meat in remaining butter until browned. Combine biscuit mix and instant nonfat dry milk powder.

Add water; stir quickly, only enough to dampen ingredients. Roll on a floured board to a rectangle ¼-inch thick. Spread meat mixture over dough. Roll up jelly-roll fashion; seal ends with a little of the remaining butter.

Cut into six slices; place on greased baking sheet. Brush with remaining butter. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 minutes. Serve with Curry Sauce.

Curry Sauce (2 cups)

Two cups water, ½ cup instant nonfat dry milk powder, 5 tablespoons flour, 1½ teaspoons salt, ⅛ teaspoon peppers, 1 teaspoon curry powder.

Combine ingredients in top of double boiler; beat with rotary beater until thoroughly blended. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until mixture thickens.

One Should Watch Only Own Destiny

SOMEONE among those following Christ along the wayside was concerned about the destiny of the human race and the number of those who would be saved.

Christ reminded those with Him that the thing which primarily concerned them was their own destiny. He advised them to make sure of their own salvation by properly attending to their character and conduct in immediate decisions and commitments of life. "Strive to enter in at the straight gate."

In what sense is the way to salvation a straight gate or a narrow door? Christ made it plain. Salvation does not come by chance and not by association merely.

It would not be enough even for these to say, "I knew the Lord; I ate and drank with Him, and I heard Him teach along the wayside roads and in the streets."

What Christ was emphasizing was that the way of regeneration, of the new birth, is the only way to salvation.

Then someone urged Him to go into hiding because Herod, the king, desired to kill Him. Christ made it clear that He wasn't going to interrupt His work because of any threat from Herod, though he was in an earthly sense a king to whom Christ owed his allegiance.

It is a false use of scripture to suggest that there is sanctity attaching to earthly rulers, independent of their character or conduct.

The Bible doesn't uphold any jus divina of kings but only their obligation, as well as subjects, to obey the will of God and serve their fellowmen with justice and truth.

Rulers in a democracy are worthy of respect only if they exemplify the integrity and devotion to the common cause that is the obligation of every citizen.

Natural gas pipelines have to be protected to give many years of trouble-free service while buried in the ground.

In some areas, before it is "put to bed", the pipe is coated with enamel and wrapped in a combination of glass fiber and felt. This, and other methods, help prevent rust and corrosion for thousands of miles of steel pipe that brings natural gas into your home.

Such precautions allow you to enjoy a steady supply of Nature's "wonder fuel" for heating, cooking, and many other uses—uses that are so natural in this area where natural gas was originally discovered and put to work.

Learns NIKE Fire Control

Bernard J. Young, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Young, 369 Stewart-av, is pictured receiving the oath of enlistment into the United States Army from Captain Howard R. Lumsden.

Young graduated from St. Charles Catholic High School in 1953 and attended University of Dayton for four years prior to enlisting in the Army.

Young chose one of of 150 different technical schools available under the Army's "Reserved For You" program that guarantees a school of your choice before enlistment. His choice was the highly technical NIKE Universal Fire Control System Maintenance School at Fort Bliss, Tex., which takes 47 weeks of extensive study to complete. He now is at Ft. Knox, Ky., for eight weeks of basic training.

Leader Carrier Wins $100 Award

A Marion-Franklin High School student was presented with a significant award at the annual ham radio operators' convention in Dayton Saturday, Apr. 19.

Kurt Meyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Meyers, 1763 S. Champion-av, was awarded a $100 prize in a contest sponsored by a Dayton communications equipment dealer. The prize was to be awarded to the first radio amateur to make two-way contact with at least one other amateur in all of Ohio's 88 counties. Kurt became eligible to receive the award when he was the only amateur to successfully complete the required 88 contacts.

The award was presented at the banquet, which is the climax of this annual meeting of radio amateurs who come from all parts of the United States.

Kurt will also receive a "Worked All Ohio Counties" certificate from the Ohio Council of Amateur Radio Clubs. The W.A.O.C. certificate is highly regarded; it has been awarded only six times previously.

Kurt is a sophomore at M-F and is a carrier for the South Side Leader.

A South Side woman who attended the recent card party sponsored by the Aides of the Franklin County Chapter, Arthritis and rheumatism foundation, wound up the "lucky" winner of a beautiful lady's wrist watch.

Mrs. James Duckworth (shown in photo holding watch) of 1369 S. Fifth-st, won the watch given by the Aides at a recent card party held at the Youth Center Building, Ohio State Fair grounds. Proceeds of the card party will be used by the Aides to support a clinic refreshments program at the Arthritis Clinic, University Hospital, and to aid in the purchase of various self-help devices for needy arthritis patients upon the recommendations of their doctors.

Several hundred persons attended the affair and several other valuable prizes were given during the course of the evening.

associate firemen, Dallas Watkins and Bill Badurina, pumped water from a glass (aspirator), filled an automatic breathing balloon with mixed oxygen and air (resuscitator) and measured a small amount of oxygen into the dining room air with a regulated pressure valve (inhalator).

Volunteers

Knowledge and training in the use of this equipment is not a regular part of all firemen's schooling, Martin pointed out.

"Most of the men keep abreast of these new developments by 'study on their own time'," Martin said.

What To Do

In a question session after the demonstration, Martin explained the "whys" of sirens and traffic rules for the Kiwanis group.

• "Why do Columbus vehicles use sirens?" he was asked. "New York City, for example, does not," someone pointed out.

(A requirement of the Industrial Commission. Firemen would be liable for accidents if they didn't give warning)

• "What is the best rule to follow when the siren is sounded?" someone else asked.

(Go to the right of the street, and by all means stop until the emergency vehicle has passed. On one way streets—stop.)

Discussions of the kind held Tuesday by the Kiwanis are a regular part of their program.

"Better understanding and closer cooperation with our trusted servants is a part of our aim," the new South Side Kiwanians say.

Could anyone deny this baby a few minutes?

Certainly not the mother or father. And surely you, a stranger, would not begrudge a few minutes of your time to protect this baby's life—perhaps your own, too.

Driving faster than road conditions or the law allows can shorten your trip no more than two or three minutes. Such an insignificant saving—is it worth the risk of a precious life? For minutes like these can often mean the difference between life and death.

Last year, nearly 40,000 men, women and children died in traffic accidents. In 3 out of 10 fatal crashes, speeding was a factor. Think how many lives just minutes might have saved . . . and slow down!

Help stop senseless killing on our highways. Drive safely yourself.

Insist on strict law enforcement for your own protection.

'Dear Son'

Chittlin' Switch
Sunday afternoon

Dear Jason:

Well, our trip to New York with the Sewer Workers of America (Chittlin' Switch Lodge) got postponed again. The President of the Club was out hunting last week and was accidentally killed. It seems he was mistaken for a moose. Your Paw says that anybody who is mistaken for a moose while out hunting and is shot is better off dead, anyway.

A whole gang of us went hunting that day. Paw and me and Ned Pooser and his wife, Angora, were in the crowd. I got mad at your old man during the hunt. You know how bad your Paw's eyes are, well, he was aiming at a deer and nearly hit Ned's wife right between the eyes. Ned, of course, got quite angry about your Paw's carelessness so to even things up, Paw told Ned he could have a shot at me!

Outside of that, things have been rather slow around here. Your sister, Morphine, got herself a job at the Bon Ton Restaurant but she only lasted one day. The cook had rhubarb, ravioli, rice and roast on the menu and the boss didn't like the way she rolled her r's so he fired her. I told her not to wear those high heel shoes to work the first day.

I've got to admit that Morphine really is boy crazy. She was out walking in the woods not too long ago with Zeke Tench who was really loaded down with a wash pot on his back, a chicken under his arm, cane in his hand and leading a goat. Zeke told Morphine she was lucky he had so much to carry or else he might steal a kiss or two from her. Morphine told him to stick the cane in the ground, tie the goat to it, then put the chicken under the pot. I'm telling you, that girl knows the score.

You must remember old Grandpaw Slodges. Well, he made a pile of money farming and last week he bought himself a brand new Lincoln and he really thinks it's out of this world. What he especially likes about his new Lincoln is that glass partition between the front seat and the back. Grandpaw says he keeps the glass partition closed all the time and that keeps the calves in the back seat from licking his neck while he's driving.

Open House At American Blower

Bernard Karner, factory superintendent, lives in the southeast at 262 Rosewood.

Wells A. Gardner, former plant manager, is now vice-president in charge of production.

John W. Brennan, president of the vast firm, visited from Detroit offices.

There comes a time when even the unpredictable weatherman can't dampen enthusiasm. Case in point: Saturday afternoon, Apr. 12, when employes of the American Blower Div. of American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corp. — industrial neighbors of the South and Southeast—held "open house" for their families and friends in the big shops at 666 Marion-rd.

The rains came just about starting time — in abundance and after threating all morning, but the visitors came, too. In damp drizzle . . . puddle deep, 1428 persons made the grand tour, shared handshake with president, plant manager, former plant manager, the vice-presidents, factory supers, and the host of department heads who extended courtesies of the day for their crews.

The tour began with a greeting from the executive heads, W. L. Allison, Columbus plant manager; Wells Gardner, former plant manager and now vice-president in charge of production; John Brennan, president, visiting from Detroit; Bernard Karner, factory superintendent, and others.

The big place was spotless, but not "prettied." The "hourly" crew of nearly 700 was responsible for most of the preparedness, Berny Karner said—made their departments ready on Friday. The chiefs, themselves, had walked the quarter long white stripe tour several times Saturday morning, he said.

"Just double checking . . . making sure."

Refreshments were spotted at the half-way place; wives and children, boy friends and girl friends, business friends, and the press, came . . . toured . . . talked and saw gigantic blowers than can air condition a whole hospital.

American Blower is a job shop, builds much of its equipment and tools, will tackle most air conditioning problems cooked up on drawing boards of architects and engineers.

One of their more interesting specials is a machine that rolls copper or aluminum rods to ribbons of tinsel thinness; then to another machine where the ribbons are spiral wound around cooling or heating tubes; then through a solder bath where ribbon and tube become a single unit—efficient, practical, to be used in endless variety in all sorts of blowers; the perfect heat exchanger.

American Blower's jobs are an example of engineering inventiveness matched with shop skill; good products made by a good team.

Their top employment was about 700; was down for a while, has crawled up near the top again. They ship everywhere.

One product—unmarked except for destintation, and perhaps classified too, was nailed up for transport half-way round the world . . . a remote place, impossible place . . . afa . . Agaf . . . it isn't in school boy geographies.

American Blower Div. of American Radiation and Sanitary Corp, Columbus, is a big business, a good neighbor to the South Side and Southeast.

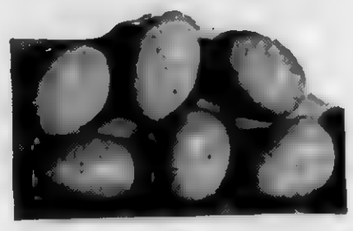
A Victory Tale

South High School's baseball team continued to hit the ball with sound efficiency as they won their third City League contest at Marion-Franklin Friday, Apr. 18, by a score of 8 to 3.

Dutch Scheiderer and Tom Noble were the big men with the sticks as they collected three hits including a circuit clout apiece.

Fans attending the game thought they were in for a pitcher's duel after scanning the pregame statistics. City league followers know that the Dutchman is a sound pitcher with a good earned run average, while Marion-Franklin's Don Hall went eight innings, only to lose a 1-0 ball game to Aquinas his last time out.

The Bulldogs started hitting Hall as if he were a batting practice pitcher and collected tko runs in the first inning to lead 2-0. The Bulldogs loaded the bases in the second inning, but lacked a base hit, so they didn't score. Dutch Scheiderer met a Hall curve ball and blasted it far over the screen in left field with nobody aboard to give the Bulldogs a three-to-nothing lead. Marion-Franklin came back with two runs in its half of the third to make it a three to two ball game.



In the last of the fifth inning Tom Noble met a fast ball and drove it high and far over the centerfield barrier, some 350 feet away, for a home run. The home run which came with two men aboard landed in a neighboring backyard. The rest of the game continued about the same with Marion-Franklin picking up one tally and the Bulldogs two rungs to give the game its final score.

It takes all kinds of people to make a world, including the young man who was in the habit of standing in front of city hall and snapping his fingers.

When asked what he was doing, he answered, "Can't you tell? I'm keeping the elephants away."

"Elephants!" said the inquirer. "Why there isn't an elephant within miles of here."

"I know, I know," replied the young man proudly. "Effective, isn't it?"

A Texas story now going the rounds concerns a man who struck oil and, with his new riches, built a mansion and three swimming pools. One pool he keeps filled with cool water and another with warm water; the third he keeps empty. Asked why, he explained: "A lot of my friends can't swim."

About 63 per cent of the farm families in the United States own a television set, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Daisy Day" is the most important thing right now for the Blue Star Mothers. Actually it's held two days, tomorrow, Apr. 25, and Saturday, the 26th.

The East Unit of the group (membership has a large share of South Siders) will be participating.

Frances Weber is chairman of the project and Irene Lemmon is president of the group. The profits go to help the veterans in all hospitals and institutions so it's a very worthy cause.

Now that the Lenten season is past, the monthly euchre parties at St. Mary's School will be resumed. The first one is slated for Apr. 29 at 8:30 p.m. in the St. Mary's High School serving rooms, 685 Mohawk-st. Door prizes and refreshments are part of the inducements offered. A 50 cent donation is all that's required and it is open to the public.

Little Sandy Leonard, 515 Forest-st, had a sad birthday this year. Her natal day is Apr. 16, and her uncle, Fred Nistleback, had passed away the night before. Fred was a former South Sider. Our sympathy to Gladys, Marilyn and Carl.

Our apologies to Susannah Circle, Thurman Avenue WSCS. In the process of housecleaning our reminder about their Tom Thumb wedding got mislaid, so we didn't fulfill our promise of reminding the folks about it. We're sorry, but hope the project was a great success.

Beth Edwards is a year older now, as of Apr. 21, so congratulations, Bethie!

Jack Knoll, 572 Hanford-st, is a patient in Room 221, White Cross Hospital, and cards would be appreciated, we know.

We received a very nice thank you note from Mr. Fyler, president of the PVA at Orient, asking that we thank you for your help in bringing happiness to that institution at Easter time. It was a saddened time for the staff there, for one family, bringing 500 cartons of Easter goodies, had a tire blow out, causing the station wagon to flip into a field. The father was killed instantly, the eight-year-old died soon afterward. The mother and daughter were in a hospital with fractures.

PTA news for hereabouts: Lincoln Park meets at 7:30 this evening. A style show featuring articles made and modeled by members and their families will highlight the meeting. Southwood School will honor the various extracurricular groups of the school at their 3 o'clock meeting tonight. Officers will be elected for the next school year. Another meeting for tonight is that of the Stewart Avenue Parent-Education group at 7:30 p.m. The discussion will be "A Line on Children's Problems." A special invitation is issued to parents of the pre-school age, i.e. kindergarten and first grade. South High School will be the scene of the musical, "Song of Norway," tonight and tomorrow night, so try to see it if you are able to do so.

The third annual style show by the Needle and Thread Guild of the Hungarian E. and R. Church will be held tonight at 8. Chairman is Mrs. John Komives and her assistant is Mrs. John Finta. Guild members will model garments from Morehouse-Fashion. Hungarian pastries and coffee will be served. (That's worth going for in itself, believe me!) Pastries will be sold in pound boxes after the show. Mrs. Paul Gage is in charge of the orders. Proceeds will be used for the church repair fund.

Pilot Club, one of the top women's clubs, installed its new officers on Apr. 15. A South Sider is recording secretary of the group, Miss Dorothy Egger, 331 Thurman-av. The installation occurred at the Fort Hayes Hotel.

Ladies' section of the Maennerchor will hold its annual banquet Apr. 27, 6:30 p.m., at the clubhouse. Reservation chairman is Mrs. Aloys Beickelman.

Garnett Campbell, 1716 S. High-st, has been hospitalized in University Hospital, and we are sorry to report her recuperation has been marked by setbacks. Her morale could be boosted immeasurably by a cheery greeting, so do remember her, won't you?

Don't forget the fish dinner to be held at St. Ladislas on May 2, from 5 to 8. Mrs. Bernard Karner is chairman, and her co-chairman is Mrs. William Hoffman.

All three Eichels — Duke, Mary and Gary — enjoyed a bang-up vacation Apr. 7 to 18. The S. Third-st residents visited Gettysburg, Washington, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and then home. (We understand the antique dealers fared well from the Eichels' vacation!)

Janet Roush, 400 E. Whittier st, will exchange her Apr. 26 vows with Frederick Benton, Westerville, in the Second EUB Church in Westerville. Miss Roush is a South High School graduate.

Birthdays this week for the younger generation: Mary Tobias, 74 E. Woodrow, Apr. 24; Jerry O'Conner, 1305 City Park, Apr. 26, Stephen Schneider, 356 Frebis-av, Apr. 29.

Don't forget the Workmen's Lunch, sponsored by the Ruth Circle of Gates-Fourth Church, from 11 to 2 today. For $1, the menu is meat loaf, mashed potatoes and gravy, green beans, cole slaw, home-baked pie (a choice of apple, cherry or lemon) and coffee.

Little Linda Cook, our next-door neighbor, will soon be a whole year old. Now her "big" brother, Steve, will have a playmate this summer.

All we gotta say, it's a good thing that summer is coming. The gals are getting to that stage where they've "had it." Here are three instances (two are PTA things). At an elementary school that held a bake sale on Good Friday, everything was ready to go, except not one remembered to pick up the president, who was left sitting at home! At South, one board member got anxious to attend a board meeting, so arrived one day early! The third friend of ours very generously took a cake to a banquet at her church and discovered the women were supposed to bring pies! Yep, when those things happen, vacation better hurry up and get here.

Pretty vacation cards from Mae Dean and Mary Merritt made our mail more attractive last week, so thanks, gals.

The Irishman and I have our mouths all set for the fried chicken dinner at the Moose Hall on Apr. 30. To continue the menu that the Friendship committee has set up, there will be sweet potatoes, cole slaw, lima beans, sheet cake, butterscotch dip and coffee. The dinner is served from 5 to 7 p.m., price $1.25 for adults, 75c for children. The Moose is located at 36 W. Sycamore-st.

No more news this time, so keep HI. 4-1031 ringing, won't you? Till next time then, tis

Mrs. C. J. McGrath, 353 Siebert-st, publicity chairman for St. Mary's PTA and Parish Council, has announced that immediately the organization will return to the regular program, holding the meeting on the last Tuesday of each month with a euchre game at 8:30 p.m. The parties are held in the high school's downstairs serving rooms at 685 Mohawk-st.

Door prizes have been announced and refreshments will be served. The affair is open to the public, Mrs. McGrath said.

Rag Drive

St. Leo School PTA has announced the holding of the annual rag drive. Mrs. Marie Ebelberger is president of the organization. She said that the drive began yesterday, the 23rd, and will continue through next Wednesday, Apr. 30.

Southway Aux

Mrs. Dorris Ferrel, director of the Juvenile Detention Home, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of Southway Unit No. 144, American Legion Auxiliary, Post Home, 874 S. High-st, Apr. 18, at 8 p.m. Mrs. Harold Backus, unit president, will preside.

Refreshment chairman will be Mrs. Lloyd Ledesma and co-chairman will be Mrs. Henry Butler.

Institutions Preparing For Mental Health Week

"We must be able to assure the families of persons in institutions that their loved ones are in true hospitals, not warehouses of humanity," asserted Gov. C. William O'Neill at a gathering here Tuesday. Ohio is leading the nation in building new facilities for the mentally ill, O'Neill said.

Community leaders, assembling at the Columbus State Hospital heard about the efforts of many in providing better understanding of the mental health picture.

Serving as a kickoff for Mental Health Week, which begins Sunday, the meeting was sponsored by the Franklin County Mental Health Association. In the group of nearly 70 were school, church, city and village officials, representatives of many civic and volunteer groups and the press. Mrs. A. J. Glockner, FCMHA president, presided.

Talks were also given by, Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner, Dr. Robert E. Haines, state mental health chief, and others associated in mental hygiene work. Mayors from this area attending were D. J. Kunz of New Rome and W. Ernest Hysell of Grove City.

"We must further enlist our community leaders in advancing work on menal health," declared O'Neill. He reaffirmed remarks of Dr. Haines that Ohio is declaring an open-door policy in its institutions. The governor praised the "many volunteers and underpaid workers who serve their fellow man."

For the first time in history the number of life-long hospital patients is beginning to decrease, despite the growth in population, O'Neill noted. He outlined present usage of about half of the recent $150 million bond issue which is directed toward mental health. In all, 500 beds are being added to the vast Columbus institutions, he said.

Mental health work can be likened to art, Mayor Sensenbrenner said. "We are using our abilities to mould human clay into something worthwhile." Sensenbrenner also called for a better informed citizenry through service clubs, churches, etc.

Calls For City Clinic

"The city needs a subdivision of the health department and allocation of funds for mental health," Sensenbrenner stated. A few minutes later Dr. Ollie Goodloe, city health commissioner predicted that a clinic for 'preventive' mental hygiene would be in force before the end of the year.

Victor Ewald, co-ordinator of volunteer, services, directed a tour of the 90-year-old institution.

The State Hospital will hold open house for the public Sunday and Monday, Apr. 27-28 and Friday, May 2, at 1:30 p.m.

The Columbus State School, 1601 W. Broad-st will hold a similar event, May 4, 9 to 11 a.m. and 12:30 to 4 p.m.

The Columbus Psychiatric Clinic, 1960 W. Broad-st, will be open to the public on Monday, Apr. 28, from 2 to 4 p.m.

The Juvenile Diagnostic Center, 2280 W. Broad-st, will hold open house on Thursday, May 1, 1 to 4 p.m.

Classes for retarded children, which are now being held at the Columbus State School, will be open to visitors all week.

South S. Council Sets Fourth Of July Program

Concessions, Fireworks To Lure Interest Of Many

By Show Reporter

Plans were made at the meeting last week of the Council of South Side Organizations for the annual celebration of Fourth of July on the Green Lawn grounds. The meeting was held, as usual, at the South Branch Young Men's Christian Association

Funds Sought

The first important activity by the group was to plan for financing the gala day. Beginning some weeks back, the Council undertook to raise sufficient funds to pay the costs involved in the fireworks display, plus other features for the enjoyment of the thousands who are expected to fill the playgrounds.

Letter

An item of major importance this year is the use of a special letter which has been mailed to a large list of former donors and others who are expected to make contributions toward the expense of this year's planned splendid show. Because the question of whether there would be a ball game, as in other years, has been asked many times, it has been announced that, while the teams have not been definitely determined, there most certainly will be a baseball game or games between strong teams.

Other Items

There will be the expected midway, with the barkers and the popcorn, and all the things that go with walking up and down the midway looking at the wonders which are brought up in mostly new fashion year after year. At the meeting last week it was stated that the various features on the midway are available, and the committee will select the most entertaining of many out in the open midway shows This, a spokesman said, is in line with the desires of the people who attend the Fourth of July show, and the committee is determined to have shows of high value.

Numerous committees have been called into action for the enormous amount of work involved in planning, securing shows, and setting up the "thousand-and-one" details necessary in the undertaking.

Officers

Officers of the organization are all well known. They are Jerold Fedderson, chairman, of the city recreation department; Harold Washburn, co-first vice-chairman; Thomas Quick co-first vice-chairman, Howard Henry, second vice-chairman; James L. Wagner, secretary; Howard Storch, treasurer; M. V. Hoover, executive secretary.

Children's Entertainment

There will be numerous events to interest the little people, of whom there are many. The committee has looked into all requirements, it has been said, and made such arrangements as will carry out the idea of satisfying everybody who attends the Big Show.

Finance Report

Although it is not time for a report on the receipts from the solicitation by letter, it was poined out that there are certain people who expect to be solicited by mail, and these are now mailing in their gifts, or preparing to mail "that check" to the committee. It was pointed out that the public realizes the great value in celebrating the Fourth of July in our own community, thus avoiding the necessity of traveling across the city only to find inadequate entertainment. The show designed for the South Side this "Fourth" will "have everything," one member of the committee said.

Program Plan

The committee in charge has spent much time in working out the kinds of shows, locations and facilities for an outstanding affair. Although the committee's report has not been reported in full, it indicates that numerous things omitted in the past will be in evidence this year and will contribute to the gayety and happiness of many hundreds of visitors.

Another Report

Within a short time, when all details have been arranged, a detailed report will be made showing all the things that will keep parents and children bubbling with joy. A slogan some one coined is good to remember: It's our area, it's our part of town, it's for us — and "we're going to use it."

MEN WHO MAN THE COUNCIL—Sitting: Howard Henry, YMCA celebration chairman; Ed Reis, St. Leo's Foresters 1475; C. L. Lensenmayer, Southway Post American Legion; standing: M. V. "Cap" Hoover, Southside YMCA executive secretary; Jerry Feddersen, City Recreation Department, council president.

X-Ray Cruisers Change Program

Approximately 1200 employees of Kimble Glass, 711 Southwood-av, will receive free chest examinations on the Tuberculosis Society's Christmas Seal X-ray cruiser, Monday through Thursday, May 5 to 8.

This concludes the industrial X-ray program. From now through October, both cruisers will be operating in various neighborhoods and shopping centers throughout the county

New Church Has Pastor

Rev. F. S. Dowdy of Lancaster has taken on the ministerial duties of the newly formed South Side Christian Church, 2951 S. High-st (Scioto Trail School).

Rev. F. S. Dowdy

Rev. Dowdy was born in Kentucky, received his ministerial training from the Eugene Bible University and Western Theological Seminary. During his long and active ministry he has served many churches throughout the country, such as the First Christian Church in Pittsburgh, Pa., Miles Avenue Church of Christ in Cleveland, and the Memorial Christian Church in Palestine, Tex While teaching at the Louisville Bible College he helped to organize the Memorial Christian Church in Louisville, Ky.

Rev. Dowdy has been considered a leading evangelist among the Christian Churches and has been instrumental in the establishing of many new churches. He will bring the morning message at 12 20 a.m., and the evening service at 7:30 Bible school will begin at 9.15 a.m.

Proud War History Brought Here By Lockbourne's New 301st Bomb Wing

When the 301st Bomb Wing touched down on Lockbourne Air Force Base for the first time two weeks ago, it marked a transition of base function from reconnaissance-bomber to complete bomber

Lockbourne now bases one of the most potent "hit back" forces in our elaborate defense mechanism

The 301st now joins the 376th Bomb Wing, and the 801st Air Force Base Group, in permanent station Lockbourne continues as a Strategic Air Command (SAC) installation.

The 26th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing long associated with Lockbourne operations is scheduled for deactivation just 60 days from now, will fly no more will now share a spot in American war history and give most of its personnel to the 301st

The 26th has a rich history of combat achievement dating back to World War I (It fought in World War I as the 'second provisional squadron" . . . it's the second oldest outfit in the "Air Service.")

The 301st has been reborn by its new assignment. It began writing contemporary history when in 1942 at Geiger Field, Spokane, Wash., it was activated and made up of the 32nd, 352nd, 353rd and 419th Bombardment Squadron.

The 301st was made part of the strategic air offensive arm in the European-Mediterranean Theater, and was credited with two Distinguished Unit Citations for gallant air actions in World War II.

One citation was for undaunted courage in action against the heavily defended port of Bizerte in North Africa. After blasting enemy shipping from the hazardous altitude of 10,500 feet, they returned home safely after a running battle with enemy fighters, without losing a single aircraft. The second citation was earned for action which took place a year later (Feb 1944) over the heavily defended ME-109 plants at Regensburg. (Only 10 out of 31 B-17's sent to the target by the 301st ever reached it. In the ensuing air battle 30 enemy fighters were downed but the Messerschmidt plants were almost totally destroyed.)

The 301st fought tough scraps and drew many battle honors in some of the fiercest air battles of the Second World War. Battle credits included: Algeria, French Morocco, Tunisia, Air Offensive-Europe, Southern France, Sicily, Po Valley, North Appennines, Naples-Foggia, Rome-Arno, Northern France, Air Combat-European, and the African-Middle-Eastern Theater. Lt. General Frank A. Armstrong described the outfit as the "best wing in the best Air Force in the World."

As a member of the Eighth Air Force, the 301st pioneered precision daylight bombing.

The Bomb Group arrived in the European theater in August 1942 and began at once to operate out of England. One of the first combined strikes was on the marshalling yards at Rouen, France. Later that year the B-17's of the 301st struck at the key targets of St. Omer Airfield, the Wilton Shipyards, Potez Aircraft Factory at Meaulte, the Lille Locomotive and Iron Works, and the Brest U-Boat pens Because of the experience gained early in the war the 301st then was diverted to North Africa, as one of the few proficient heavy bomber groups available to General

South Side Settlement House Studies National-Area Report

Plans Made Now For Sugar Grove Camp Trips

The South Side Settlement House, Reeb-av., paused in the midst of busy spring work—and summer camp planning—to hold an appreciation dinner Saturday night so that its volunteer staff of adult workers and members of its board of managers might become acquainted.

Appreciation was directed toward the workers, who, being occupied in businesses and professions, also spend a night or two a week as teachers and leaders of crafts and recreation groups.

The total effort at Settlement House is large; the schedule constant and packed; the workers come and go in spare time . . . it's a large labor of mutual interest following a pattern laid out by director Martha Bucke, and a small permanent staff who keep tabs on everything.

But not everybody knows everybody else So the once-in-a-while get acquainted appreciation dinner is held to correct things.

Saturday's affair was additionally celebrated by the announced engagement of program director Harry Vorrath and Miss Jane Monroe, a teacher in Columbus Public Schools.

Camping Schedule

It also became time this week to announce the schedule of summer camping trips to the Settlement House recreational area at Sugar Grove, O.

Miss Bucke's warning to "register now . . . don't be left out of the fun" is directed to the first 48 youngsters in each age group who are interested.

Preference will be given Settlement House members, but non members can register. The cost is $12 for 12 days, $6 for 6 days (members), and $15 and $7.50 (non-members).

The schedule: June 29 to July 4, 6 to 10-year olds; July 6 to July 18, 8 to 12-year olds; July 20 to Aug. 1, 10 to 14-year olds; Aug. 3 to Aug. 15, 8 to 12-year olds; Aug. 17 to Aug. 22, 12 to 15-year olds.

This fee includes medical examination, insurance and transportation. The boys and girls (24 of each) will hike, play games, have parties, sleep outs, cook outs, continue their crafts, learn archery, attend chapel . . . do many fun things.

They must take along sheets and blankets, towels and wash cloths, toilet articles, camp-type clothing, a dress up outfit for Sunday, a jacket or sweater, 2 pairs sturdy shoes, raincoat and boots, and a flashlight if possible.

Camp Ponies

Program director Harry Vorrath announced that two shetland ponies will be available this year for the youngsters camping fun. They'll be on a sort of loan to the Settlement House groups courtesy of the Pat Murnane Pony Farm, Grove City.

Program Survey

The recent visit to Columbus of John McDowell, the National Federation of Settlement House executive director, has left the Columbus Board of Managers and staff a mountain sized job of digging out the "why's" and "when's" and "what's for's" in settlement house work from a voluminous research report.

His visit was a part of a national survey: the Council of Social Agencies is sponsoring it and the Community Chest is interested in costs. The local officials share an interest, too, and have asked "How can we serve the community better?"

Specifically, The South Side Settlement hopes to do more with families . . . to encourage more adults to participate. More craft projects, and perhaps homemaker classes—such as how to plan low cost meals — may soon be on the schedule

Said Miss Bucke: "The results of our study are not ready . . . but we have all been looking carefully at recommended programs . . . are especially interested in doing more for adults."

Deshler PTA members and friends will square dance tomorrow evening from 8 to 11 o'clock. Jim Wagner, of the South Side Branch of the YMCA, will do the calling. If there is fair weather, dancing may be done outside. However, in case of rain the multi-purpose room will be used.

Square dancing has been a popular pastime all year with the fifth- and sixth-graders at Deshler. This Friday will be the last of the dances which have been held on the first Friday of every month this school year. Between 125 and 130 children have been regularly attending these dances, which have been held after school until 5 o'clock.

Jim Wagner has done the calling. Refreshments have been served. Mrs. H. S. Dunning is chairman of the recreation committee of the PTA. She has been assisted throughout the year by mothers.

Prosperity To Return Says Walter Shapter

Franklin County could greatly benefit from public works proposals under study in Washington, Walter J. Shapter, Jr. candidate for the Democratic congressional nomination, said today

He said a much-needed integrated sewer system to serve the entire area could be completed years ahead of schedule if the government makes funds available to the nation's communities

"I would favor federal grants for sound public works like the proposed area-wide sewer system here Mr Shapter stated

"Such a project would give the county an improvement of sound and lasting benefit to the people for generations"

Mr Shapter noted that such projects would give the economy a shot in the arm, but would not bear the stigma of waste like the "leaf raking" type of make-work projects

He also predicted that within a comparatively short time the economy will turn upward again and that meanwhile such a project would put Franklin County in an excellent position for returning to its normal high level of prosperity

McKinley Sees Need For Tax Saving Program

Hugh McKinley, candidate for general assembly, this week made this statement

By revision of existing legislation and closer study of the tax structure with new legislation in mind I believe the tax burden can be more equitably distributed, particularly in the area of school finance

"Our county, village and township governments depending on state revenue find themselves in financial difficulties at this particular time. Playing "Political Footsie" without regard for the welfare of people must be corrected. New legislation must be initiated that will give local governments a more fair share of taxes collected and old laws must be modified and brought up to date to provide additional revenue for services the people so justly demand."

Rod's Vacation Ends Without Record Bass On His Stringer

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

When I left you last week I was at Knollwood Lodge, Lake Hamilton, near Hot Springs, Arkansas.

I was trying to find a bait that would catch me a really big trophy bass on my last day of fishing. Another check on my tackle box didn't reveal a miracle lure, so Joe Spinar and I started out with black jigs tied to our spinning lines.

We left the dock just after sunrise, and tried fishing off several rocky points of land that jut into Lake Hamilton. A couple of days before I had good luck on these points, catching Kentucky bass with spinners. We cast into about six feet of water and bumped the jigs, or leadheads, along the bottom in a slow retrieve.

Jigs Didn't Work

These baits are called various names over the country, but perhaps the most universal is "jig." The bait is very simple in construction, having a piece of lead molded around a single hook. The center of gravity is such, that when you cast and retrieve the bait, the hook always rides up. This fact makes it a good bait to fish along the bottom—it doesn't get hung up so often.

Usually a bucktail, a feather, or rubber skirt is attached to give the jig more action in the water. Many fishermen attach a pork strip to their jigs to give them additional action. The fad right now is to hook a black pork "eel" to jigs. These narrow strips of pork rind, dyed black, have been really productive of large bass the last couple of years.

On this last day of fishing, however, the bass just weren't having any. When the jigs didn't produce, Joe and I switched to spinners and plugs. All we caught were crappies. We returned to Knollwood Lodge about noon so that I could give Lake Ouachita one last try.

Time was running out when I pulled into John Bono's Spillway landing about 1. Only a few more hours of vacation left. So John and I wasted little time in hopping in a boat, and taking off for some of those dead timber areas.

By dead timber, I mean trees that were killed by the lake water and are still standing along the water edge. Fishing here was not as good as it had been all week. First we worked around the snags of dead pine trees, then we tried the open points where our luck was a little better. By quitting time we had a respectable string of fish, but not as many as I had become accustomed to in a week of Arkansas fishing.

John and I returned to dock without a record bass on the stringer. I had hoped to win a prize in the Hot Springs Fishing Derby—but no soap. In looking over my fish I spotted a pretty good sized crappie, at least by Ohio standards. I guessed it would weigh about a pound and a quarter. On a hunch I took this fish, a fish that Arkansas fishermen would not bother with, back to Hot Springs and entered it in the crappie division. My hunch was that fishing had been a little slow that day for everyone, and that not many records would be broken. Sure enough, the fish entries were down for the first day. My crappie weighed over a pound and a half, and it squeezed into third place.

John Bono displays some of the bass and crappies we caught in the dead timber areas of Lake Ouachita.

Bible Comment

Christ Left Crowd To Pray

NOW that Easter is well past, it's a good time to consider the moving spectacle of Palm Sunday in Jerusalem.

It raised enthusiasm for Christ but it also stirred up the most violent hatred and antagonism on the part of those who already had tried to silence His voice, to destroy Him and to end His work.

It explains in part how that triumphant entry turned into the Crucifixion a few days later. Those who cried "Hosanna in the highest!" and the mob that cried a little later, "Not this man, but Barabbas," were not the same people.

We may assume from many passages in the New Testament that there was a division among the people concerning Christ.

Some listened to His teachings, observed His great work and were impressed with His gentleness and goodness. Others were devoted to formal authority and the ecclesiastical status quo. They took the authorities' part in opposing Christ and in treating Him contemptuously.

The entry scene stands as one of unforgettable glory, in contrast with the dark days that followed. There is something miraculous in Christ's riding peacefully into the city on the back of an ass that had never been broken, an animal "whereon no man ever yet sat." Yet that animal peacefully made itself available for Christ.

One shouldn't miss the verse which tells how Christ entered into Jerusalem into the temple and looked around upon all things. He then went out with His apostles to Bethany.

It is a wonder how Christ and the 12 managed to escape from this acclaiming crowd. We are reminded, even in the midst of such popularity, how much Christ needed to pray and meditate.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits — Bananas, lemons, pineapple, canned and frozen peaches.

Vegetables—Asparagus, green beans, potatoes, frozen asparagus and peas.

Other Foods—Fryers, ground beef, fresh Boston butt, large eggs, dairy products.

BANANAS A'PLENTY

This tropical fruit, imported from Central and South America, will be at its peak in quality and supply from now until mid-June. Unlike most fruits, bananas know no particular season. But right now the finest, most abundant banana crop in many seasons is at your market.

Selection — Bananas are always picked green and ripened in controlled ripening rooms. On the markets you find them in all stages of ripeness. It is wise to select them according to the use you plan for them.

Tipped With Green — Partly ripe bananas are just right for baking, broiling and frying. Cooking brings out a deliciously different flavor.

All Yellow Skin — Good to peel down and eat or to use in baking muffins, bread and cookies.

Flecked With Brown—These bananas are fully ripe, sweet, mellow and completely digestible. Best for eating and infant feeding. Just right to use in fruit desserts and milk shakes.

Most stores now separate bananas into bunches for your shopping convenience and to avoid waste through torn skins. In the long run it's cheaper for all of us to have the separating and weighing already done.

Bananas are a Favorite—They serve the role of appetizer, salad, vegetable, garnish or dessert with equal satisfaction. They are a fairly good source of vitamins A and C. A medium-sized one provides about 100 calories.

FRESH STRAWBERRIES NEAR

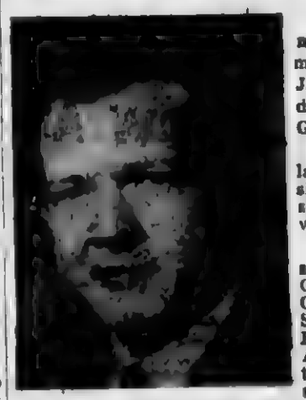
Louisiana strawberries will reach peak production within the next two weeks. Quality is reported to be good, and prices will drop as the supply increases. Remember, too, that stocks of frozen berries are being cleaned out to make room for the new crop. Watch for "specials" on this fruit.

RHUBARD, ASPARAGUS HERE

Field-grown rhubarb is now at its best. All of us can have it often now. Its tart unique flavor satisfies the spring yen for a food that's different and refreshing. For a pie treat combine fresh rhubarb with strawberries (the frozen ones now.) Rhubarb cream pie makes good use of two plentiful foods—rhubarb and eggs. Now is the ideal time to freeze your supply for next winter.

Marketing Information For Consumers
Franklin County Agricultural Extension Service
Rhubard for Freezing
Recommended Varieties — MacDonald, Canada Red, Valentine or any of the deep red-colored types.

Selecting—Select only fresh, crisp, deep red stalks that are free from fibers.



Preparing—Wash thoroughly, trim and cut into one- or two-inch pieces. To help retain color and flavor, heat rhubarb in boiling water for one minute and cool promptly in cold water. Rhubarb may be packed raw or preheated, with or without sugar. When sweetening, mix four pounds of cut rhubarb with one pound of sugar before packaging.

Packaging—Pack fruit into moisture-proof containers, seal and label. Freeze immediately.

Approximate number of containers for 10 pounds rhubarb: 12 to 15 12-ounce packages.

Research findings by Puerto Rico Agricultural Experiment station and the USDA show that Puerto Rico could boost its economy by expanding its agriculture.

At 9:30 p.m., the Bob Huskey orchestra will provide music for dancing. Class reunions will be held in the auditorium. One dollar per person is the admission, and this dollar is the year's dues for the alumni. For those unable to attend, alumni dues may be sent to Mrs. Charles Enis, 1108 Thurman-av. Make checks payable to South High Alumni Association.

The Lesein family of 643 Southwood-av, had a gay, happy week-end and son Jack was the reason for the joy. Jack, a member of the Stuart Morgan Dancers, arrived home in time to participate in Stella Becker's dance revue. Mr. Morgan and Inage, the third member of the trio, also made the trip from the East Coast to appear in the revue. While in Columbus, the trio were the guests of the Leslein family. Jack graduated from South High School a short time ago. Mr. Morgan has some exciting things lined up for the trio, so Jack seems destined to do a lot of traveling in the near future.

Right across the street from the Leslein household at 648 Southwood-av, lots of activity was going on, too, for Dan Lyle was at home on a Navy leave. Dan, the son of Newton and Marie Lyle, graduated from South in January of 1957, and Jack and he were delighted to be home at the same time. We don't know what-all Dan had planned for his visit home, but we do know a family dinner was part of his celebration last Sunday.

WSCS of Livingston Methodist Church will meet at the church tonight at 7:30 p.m.

The PVA of Orient State Institute will meet May 4, 2 p.m., in Kirk Hall.

Happy Birthday to these kiddies: Betty Maynard, 17 E. Innis, May 5; Beverly Reed, 368 Sheldon, May 1; Karen Early, 398 Southwood, May 7; Martha Hysell, 78½ E. Don't forget the fish dinner that members of the St. Ladislas parish are holding in the church basement tomorrow night. Serving will start at 5 and end at 8 p.m. The public is invited. Committee chairmen are as follows: Mrs. Bernard Karner and Mrs. William Hoffman, chairman and co-chairman; Mrs. John Taraba and Mrs. Yondrich, tickets; Mrs. Donald Rub, tables; Mrs. Sam Skunza and Mrs. Joe Gyuri, fish; Mrs. Albert Santo, bread and butter; Mrs. Joseph Eramo, coffee; Mrs. Albert Macioci, kitchen; Holy Name Men and CYO, dishes; Mrs. John Warden and Mrs. Jerry Pignatelli, carry-outs; Mrs Homer Hardy and Mrs. Joseph Buccilla, publicity.

Though a little out of the Leader's range, we think this item merits a place in the column. Mr. and Mrs. Otto T. Leithart, 2578 Lockbourne-rd, celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on Apr. 24. They operated a grocery store on Reeb-av for many years. They have one son, Dr. Paul Leithart and two grandsons, all of Columbus

Don't forget to vote in the May 6 primary, if you're a qualified voter. Remember, a good citizen never forgets to exercise his right to vote. See you at the polls?

It's Springtime all right . . . lots of wedding news.

Two Apr. 12 weddings were those of Constance Miller, 844 Ann-st, to Robert Dawley, 1034 S. Ohio-av, in Zion Lutheran church. Mr. and Mrs. Dawley are both South High School graduates. They are residing at 1506 Lockbourne-av. St. Thomas the Apostle church was the scene of the wedding for Yvonne Sahr, Gahanna, and Frederick Grossman, 1305 Lockbourne-av. The young couple is residing at the Lockbourne-av address.

Weddings that will take place soon are those of Sara Jeanne Weaver, 1383 Holywood-pl, and David L. Reed, Utica. The May 2 wedding will take place at 6 p.m. in the Brookwood Presbyterian Church. Miss Weaver is a South High graduate. Her bridegroom-to-be, is a graduate of Otterbeing University. May 3 is the wedding date chosen for four young couples. Charlene Rushia, a South High graduate, will wed Richard P. Devine Jr., 1340 Wilson-av at 9:30 a.m. in St. Mary's Church.

Julia Peterfy, 215 Jenkins-av, will become the bride of the Rev. John R. Bean, Clarksville, Ark., at an open church wedding in the Broad-st Christian Church. Miss Peterfy is a graduate of South High School. Her fiance is pastor of the Chicago-av Church of Christ Disciples. An open church wedding at South Methodist Church will unite Patricia Carter, 124 E. Morrill-av and David Wildermuth, 1118 E. Woodrow-av. South High graduate Frederick J. Zeltman, Jr., will exchange his vows with Nancy Joann Frank, 252 Leland-av, at 7:30 p.m. in St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Our sympathy to Louisa Gillion, who lost her mother, Mrs. Bauer, last week.

It's slightly past Christmas, but the Christmas tree still reigns supreme in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilkerson, 291 E. Barthman-av.

"Fantasyland" is the theme for Southwood School's Carnival tomorrow night. One concession Jeanette Edinger and the Gadabout will know better than any other is "Pluto's Pups" — hot dogs in their everyday nomenclature. The ideas for some of the concessions sound clever to us, so we're looking forward to tomorrow night.

May 2, on our calendar, has two events listed for greeting cards. One is the anniversary of Dale and Glenna Edwards, 66 E. Innis-av, the other is the birthday of our sister-in-law, Irene Brandum. A belated greeting should go to Carolyn Camp 97 Reeb-av, for her April 16 natal day.

Birthday or not, Dorothy Jolly will be right in there "pitching" at the weekly Moose dinner, held at the Moose Hall, on May 7. The Civic Affairs Committee will be in charge of the 5 to 7 p.m. affair. Profits from the swiss steak dinner will be given to the fund-raising committee of the proposed South Side "Y".

An event we'll be writing about for several weeks to come is the South High Alumni Reunion, May 23, at South High School. The program committee has been working diligently to provide an excellent program that evening. We'll be telling you more about that in the weeks to come. If you're a South High School graduate, ring May 23 on your calendar and make plans to attend. Registration starts at 7:30 p.m., and other plans include an organ prelude, Nite Club Show and the annual dance. Bob Huskey's Orchestra will furnish the music.

No more items remain on today's agenda, so we'll gracefully bow out until next edition. The number to call, as always, is HI 4-1051, and this, as always, is THE GADABOUT.

Got a new car? Just because you have more horsepower now, don't be a speed demon. That new motor is designed to give you more economical operation under normal driving conditions and smoother quieter operation at legal speeds, the Safety Council of the Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce says

Doughnuts

Very probably most of you who read this item will make a point of driving down Parsons-av right soon to look at the new business opened at 1918 Parsons-av, according to K. R. Dunkle and W. H. Lerch, owners.

These two men have opened a "King Kreme Donuts" business at the address named. And they said, they will bake the doughnuts daily "in the front part of our store, where lookers may see the cooking of the doughnuts."

Soon there will be a grand opening, Messers Dunkle and Lerch said, and they'll try to let the public know in advance.

OUT OF BLOSSOM DESSERT . . .

Tried For Tops; Got Second, Third

Barrett and Mohawk Junior High School Y-Teens were second and third place winners respectively at the seventh annual "Blossom Dessert," Tuesday, Apr. 22. About 300 guests including mothers, daughters, and advisors attended this evening dessert.

The theme of the affair was "Y-Teens in 1890—1920." Each of the 14 schools attending chose a topic on which to make their table centerpiece. Barrett Y-Teens chose the theme — "Y-Teens Dancing in 1920" and consisted of a musical score running the length of the table with appropriate records and flapper figures at either end. "Y-Teens in School in 1900" was the theme of the Mohawk Club and was a model of a school and yard with swings and play equipment and little figures appropriately dressed playing in the yard.

Brenda Keller, 676 Stewart, is president of the Barrett Club and the advisors are Mrs. Dorothy Beatley and Mrs. Donald Conkle. President of the Mohawk Club is Trena Sherman, 405 S. 3rd-st, and Mrs. Helen Clingman and Miss Frieda Belts are advisors. During the program all the advisors received a speech and a plant as a token of appreciation.

First place winner was Clinton Junior High School Y-Teens with their display of "Y Teens Making Music."

Fetch Stands For Orderly Growth

Frank R. Fetch is an independent Republican seeking the post of county commissioner. He is a former superintendent of the division of parks and forestry of the city, during which time the Franklin Park Commission was reestablished.

"Since I have always been interested in the orderly growth and planning of the community I favor the establishment of a metropolitan sewer and water authority to eliminate the friction which now exists between the city and unannexed portions of the county.

"I have adopted as my slogan, 'Progress is our community's most important problem'." He further states that he is definitely interested in a metropolitan form of government.

Brand - Grier Nuptials

St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church was the scene Saturday evening, April 19, for the wedding of Miss Donnajean Brand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Brand, 910 S. Third-st, and S-Sgt. Eurith D. Grier, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Grier, Norfolk, Va. Rev. Arthur R. Detwiler read the rites at 7:30 p.m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a silk taffeta gown with a basque bodice and scoop neckline of reembroidered Alencon lace encrusted with iridescents and seed pearls. A band of matching lace enhanced the waistline of the gathered skirt and formed a back drape held by a butterfly bow. Her veil of illusion was caught to a matching silk and lace pillbox trimmed with jewels. She carried a white Eastern Star Bible with a white orchid and lilies of the valley.

Miss Brenda Blackburn was maid of honor. Attendants were Miss Dorothy Arms, Miss Terrissa Zipf, a cousin of the bride, and Mrs. John Sorenson.

They wore ballerina gowns of royal blue taffeta made with fitted bodices, scoop necklines, and petal-shaped skirts tied with cummerbunds, while on their heads were matching feather bandeaux. Miss Blackburn carried deep pink glamellias while the others carried coloral glamellias.

Jasper A. Grier was best man for his brother. Seating the wedding guests were David M. Condie, Bobby L. Shields, Harry C. Lehman and Edward W. Seik.

Hostesses at the reception held in the church parlors were Miss Shirley Smith, Mrs. Daniel Henry, Miss Donna Frey, Miss Melba Kessler, and Miss Margaret Ann Ackerman. The bride's mother chose a beige silk organza re-embroidered dress, flowered beige and green hat, matching satin beige slippers and gloves. Her shoulder corsage was of Talisman tea roses, while the bridegroom's mother chose a light blue fur-trimmed wool two-piece suit, matching hat, and black patent slippers and purse to match. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Let's not have Columbus make the same mistake these cities did that have DISCARDED fluoridation!

There's a Reason Why These Cities and Many More Have Discontinued Fluoridation!

Akron, Ohio	Austin, Minn.	Coeur d'Alene, Idaho
San Diego, Calif.	Amsterdam, N.Y.	Williamstown, Mass.
Saginaw, Mich.	Kennewick, Wash.	Knoxville, Iowa
Wichita Falls, Texas	Sheridan, Wyo.	Rhinelander, Wis.
Stevens Point, Wis.	Beatrice, Neb.	Martinez, Calif.
Northampton, Mass.	LaCrosse, Wis.	Rio Vista, Calif.
Greensboro, N.C.	Fulton, N.Y.	Platteville, Wis.
Greenville, S.C.	Tyler, Texas	Franklin, Ky.
Bangor, Maine	Faribault, Minn.	St. Petersburg, Fla.
Charlottesville, Va.	Grosse Point Farms, Mich.	Tulsa, Okla.

The people of Columbus have always approved the things that were beneficial to the city and its people. However, here is an issue that is so doubtful, risky, controversial and questionable that your own city council members felt the need for a people's vote on such a serious issue as putting fluorides in your drinking water.

Don't be panicked into voting for fluoridation by a loud minority group. Use your own judgment. All of the cities listed here and many others have actually tried artificial fluoridation and have discarded it after a short time because it did not live up to the extreme claims made for it by its proponents. There are too many uncertain factors in this proposed experiment—not enough is known about all of its effects, both short and long range on all age groups. Even the "experts" are not agreed on this matter so why take the risk. Better to be safe than sorry.

When you go to the polls on May 6, remember these facts about fluoridation:
It is a cumulative poison. Once it gets in your body, you cannot eliminate it!
It is impossible to deliver a uniform "safe" dose through the water supply.
It becomes concentrated when boiled so excessive amounts are consumed in coffee, tea, baby formula, boiled foods, etc.
There is not any way to control how large a dose one gets since not two people drink the same amount of water—some none, others 8 to 10 glasses a day.
It can cause gum troubles and other physical difficulties.
Wasteful—only 1/10 of 1% of the water is consumed by those who are supposed to benefit.
Can mottle and stain teeth.
Can have bad effects on animals.
Can damage pipes and boilers.
Not an easy "cure-all"—is not a good substitute for good oral hygiene, good diet, heredity, good health, etc.
Approximately 100 communities have tried fluoridation and discontinued it. There must be a reason.
50,000,000 people in 2,000 communities have turned it down. There is a reason.
The American Medical Association and other groups are reevaluating their stand on fluoridation—the doctors and dentists are unable to agree on this matter.
It is mass medication without regard for the individual's condition, age, health, requirements, etc.
It is expensive to install, operate, and maintain.
Tooth decay is not contagious so it is impossible to compare it with the need for cholorination, vaccination, Salk vaccine, etc. that prevent diseases.

Don't take the RISK Fluoridation Imposes!

301st Bomb Wing—

James Doolittle's 12th Air Force.

Operating out of North African bases, the 301st hit enemy shipping at Bizerte in a raid which ultimately earned the group a Distinguished Unit Citation. They continued to strike at Rommel's forces from the muddy air fields of Tafaraovi, Maison Blanche and Biskra.

Then came the softening of Sicily before the invasion, Mar. 22, 1943, twenty-four of the group's B-17's appeared over the target (Palermo), bombed it from an altitude of 24,000 feet, and scored many direct hits. Photos of the raid showed total destruction of 30 acres of docking facilities and the loss of six Italian vessels.

After the battle for Sicily, the 301st, concentrated its destructive power on communication centers and the airdromes at Catania and Gerbini and began pounding Messina, terminus of the principal line of supply from the mainland of Italy to Sicily. In the last week of the Sicilian campaign, the 301st struck German aircraft in Southern France with fragmentation bombs, hitting airdromes near Marseille and destroying 94 planes on the ground in a combined raid with the 97th, 2nd and 99th groups.

In late 1943 the 301st concentrated its efforts upon airfields, the aircraft industry and communications. On the list of targets was Turin's ball bearings, Toulons' sub pens, and the Marshalling yards at Innsbruck.

Following the ground advances—made at extreme cost—up the "boot" of Italy during the preceding winter, the B-17's of the 301st in May, 1944, began striking in the Balkans, Fiest, oil at the Xenia Refineries, in Roumania, Austria and Yugoslavia. The flak put up a deadly screen as the bombers probed further into the center of Hitler's war machine. In December of 1944, Blechammer, Vienna, Klagenfurt, Brux and Regensburg were hit.

By January 1945, the 301st had flown its 400th combat mission. During the spring the group continued to destroy bridges, refineries, and communications centers. It's last mission in Europe took place over the marshalling yards at Linz, Australia.

After a brief period of deactivation, the 301st returned again. On August 4, 1946, at Clovis, New Mexico, it became a medium bomb group. From there, Smoky Hill AFB and later Barksdale AFB became its home. The group now flew the B-29 "Superfortresses."

In April 1948, B-29's from the 301st flew to Germany for a four month maneuver. On the return trip Captain Walter L. Abbott set a B-29 endurance record, flying non-stop from Germany to Fort Riley, Kansas, in 29 hours and 55 minutes.

The 301st became a wing at Barksdale in February, 1951, under Colonel Horace M. Wade. In the spring of 1953, the conversion to B-47's and KC-97's began and no sooner were the men transitioned than they found themselves on their way to North Africa. The "Stratojets" were flown non-stop to French Morocco in about 10 hours by air, refueling over Bermuda.

Deployments of the 301st to forward SAC stations include Germany, 1943; Schampton, England 1948; Goose Bay, Labrador 1950; Lakenheath, England, for a seven-month deployment during the Korean War in 1950; England, 1951; North Africa 1952, and England, 1951; North Africa 1952, and England again in late 1952. The 301st continued deploying to French Morocco in 1954 and England again since then.

The first commander of the 301st was Col. R. R. Walker, February, 1942—March, 1943; Col. Samuel Gormly, March-September 1943; Col. John K. Brown, Jr., September-November, 1943; Col. Jean P. Byerly, November-Christmas Day, 1943, when he was shot down over Bolanzo Railroad in northern Italy.

Also, Col. Karl T. Barthelmess, December, 1943—March, 1944; Col. John F. Batjer, March-September 1944; Lt. Col. John D. Moorman, September-killed on December 8, 1944; Col. Ernest S. Holmes, Jr. December, 1944—April 1945; Col. Raymond Winn, April-October, 1945.

And Col. Harris E. Rogner, May-December 1950; Col. Chester C. Cox, December, 1950-March 1951; Col. Horace M. Wade, March, 1951—June, 1952; Col. John C. Jennison, June, 1952-June 1955; Col. E. W. Holstrom, June 1955; Col. E. W. Holstrom, June 1955-May, 1957; Col. Kenneth S. Steele, May 1957, and Col. William H. Reddell, April 15, 1958 to date.

The future?

A spokesman had this to say this week: "As in the past the 301st is prepared to contribute its full combat capability to the mission of Strategic Air Command and the United States Air Force.

The re-enactment of the death of Caesar will be done, which, believe it or not, draws a few tearful laughs. If this act is interpreted correctly the tears are for Caesar and the laughs are solely for the singing actors.

Traction, or a lack of it, seems to be prominent in a good share of falls. Wet footwear, or a wet walking surface gives a person an unstable foundation. Hurry a little, with muscles a little cramped from chill, and the conditions are ideal for a fall.

News 'N Notes From Southside Businessmen

Local 'Spend At Home' Program Worth $1 Million To Columbus

Virginia Homes, Inc., the firm which broke ground this month for a 100-unit Parsons-av housing development, has a popular solution to the local business slump.

They launched a "spend at home" program Saturday, and said a similar effort by other business firms could stimulate and sustain brighter business.

"We are buying all our materials and supplies through local distributors and dealers," explained W. E. Wittmann, president of the homebuilding enterprise.

"We are using only Columbus sub-contractors. And we are insisting on Columbus-made products wherever possible," he said.

Virginia Homes broke ground early this month on a low-cost (under $12,000) housing development along Parsons-av on the far south side.

The company said it will use Westinghouse electrical appliances, Lennox forced air furnaces, American stained shingles, pre-fab units by Cardinal Industries, stone and aggregates from Marble Cliff Quarries Company, and Universal concrete pipe for drainage and sewer tile.

It will also call on the services of a score of other local firms ranging from lumber, tile, and other suppliers to sub-contractors, cabinet-makers, title searchers, and loan agencies.

Company officials said the more than $1 million expenditure it contemplates for the next few months not only will have a snowballing effect, but the completed project will offer sustained advantages to the economy.

For example, said Wittmann, owners of the 100 homes will spend more than $100,000 each year for taxes, water, natural gas, light, insurance, building maintenance and improvements.

New Member Of Home Council

Richard Smith, vice president of the Smith Dodson Company announced today their company has become an active member of the Home Improvement Council.

The Council is a national, industry-wide organization to help homeowners protect their homes from costly deterioration, and to help them take specific, sound steps to increase

Richard Smith pointed out the value of their homes, that one of the major purposes of the Council and its members is to help local families visualize ways they can make their homes more comfortable, more convenient, more attractive to live in and easier to maintain.

"So often local people see exciting ideas for remodeling or redecorating their homes in the big national ads and magazine pictures, but have no idea how to get the same effect in their own homes," Richard Smith continued. "Nor do they have any idea of where to turn first for help locally or how to proceed. The Home Improvement Council has been set up to answer these needs for local people through special community projects and a vast new educational program."

"In becoming a member of the Council," Richard Smith said, "our company has pledged to be of helpful service to every homeowner, no matter his home improvement need."

Are We Waterbugs??

CITIZENS' PURE WATER COMMITTEE OPPOSING FLUORIDATION

need services and funds to supply at once, before May 6th primary, information not told by the U.S. Public Health about FLUORIDATION. Make test. Ask your DENTIST and DOCTOR and Dr. Goodloe the NINE reasons given by the more than 100 towns which have discarded fluoridation. Why the A.M.A. Committee reported fluorides postponed, but did not reduce tooth decay, damaged teeth of 25% of children. Ask which "pilot studies" found increased tooth decay following fluoridation? Ask NUMBER and CONTENT of MEDICAL Journal reports on U.S. Citizens made sick by Public Health's "tooth remedy". What happens when fluoride precipitates in pipes (found by analysis to contain up to 1800 ppm fluoride), is dislodged, and as N.Y. Water Commissioner warned, comes out at somebody's tap? What concentration is fluoride precipitate destroys metal pipes?

ASK FOR FACTS NOT OPINION

Supply answers to us for VALUABLE POLL. Citizens without ideas can supply funds for paid ads in leading papers which must be paid in advance. Make checks to Dr. Jonathan Forman, Treas. Committee, 1568 N. High St. AX. 1-4179. If no answer, call AM 3-1085, AM. 2-5788.

VOTE NO FLUORIDATION

Fluoridation means a cumulative poison, up to fifteen times as poisonous as arsenic goes into the pure water of Columbus June 1, and poison added in a concentration, which 1500 scientists warn and submit 34 research reports in evidence, will injure many people.

Managing Committee At Work Preparing For Strawberry Fete

It takes a lot of people to do a lot of necessary things when a group is making plans and completing arrangements for the annual Mercy Hospital Guilds' Strawberry Festival. Some of the extra preparation required will include the regular auction sale of gifts received from celebrities throughout the country, and a bazaar. Those pictured people "carry the load" for this year's preparations, Supt. Charles B. Beard reports. They are, seated, left to right, Dr. Paul E. Brady, Mrs. David A. Eitel, Mrs. William Schaible, Miss Christine McKeever, Mrs. Joseph Spiker, Supt. Charles S. Beard. Standing are Mrs. Barbara Wetzek, Mrs. Stanley Badger, Miss June Swick, Miss Myra Frut, Mrs. Mose Spiker, Mrs. Howard Widden, Mrs. Robert Baker, Charles Fields, Irving Ruth.

Better Pay Now! It'll Cost You More Later.

There's good reason why South Side Leader readers and their neighbors should check back and see if they have neglected to pay for traffic infractions after having their cars ticketed.

That "reason" is the program recently inaugurated the Clerk of Courts Ted Hysel to bring up to date all outstanding and unsatisfied traffic summons. These total into the thousands, the Clerk of Court said.

During April, the Clerk said, 5096 statements were mailed out of a total of 13,500 unpaid tickets. It is expected that notices mailed during last month will bring a total of $38,000 into the treasury.

There's surely good reason for paying for these neglected ticket fines.

Historical Sites Are Being Sought

Any area resident who knows of a location with historical significance is asked to contact Commissioner Henry Koontz at the Franklin County Court House, corner of Mound and S. High-sts.

Magic Word

There's a "magic" word about Mercy Hospital these days. It's "Strawberry" . . . festival, that is. According to Miss Christine McKeever, the date for the annual Mercy Strawberry Festival has been set for June; and it is stated that the festival will be held without fail on that night or, in the event of rain, on the following evening, June 5.

Additional information regarding details, has been promised, and the South Side Leader will pass this along as soon at it comes.

The following chairmen have been appointed:

General chairman, Mrs. David Eitel; co-chairman, Mrs. William Schaible; ticket treasurer, Mrs. Robert Baker; publicity, Dr. Paul E. Brady; general purchasing, Earl Todt; decorations, Mrs. Nell Reeves; ice cream, Irving Ruth; posters and signs, C. B. Beard and Dr. Paul E. Brady; hostesses, Miss June Swick; milk for children, Mrs. Irene Bright; coffee, Mrs. Harold Brunton; suppliers, Mrs. Mose Spiker; grounds, James Johnson; housekeeping, Mrs. James Johnson; entertainment, C. B. Beard and Miss Myra Freet; waitresses, Mrs. Joseph McHugh and Miss Christine McKeever; celebrities' packages for auction, Mrs. Clarence Miller.

The New Spirit Of Liberty

By Staff Writer

There's a new name . . . a new spirit in the community. At least, Reader, you will recognize it as being out of the category of the ORDINARY.

It's the Spirit of Liberty . . . a fresh, bubbling . . . effervescent spirit that's invaded southside businesses, community groups, and the Council of South Side Organizations. And these people are already IN . . . are using the pages of the South Side Leader to bring others in—meaning, specifically, YOU!

If you will turn to page 2 of this issue, you will see an advertisement (overwhelming evidence that people in the South Side are generous in spirit, in thought, and in action) paid for by individuals and businesses to call the need (You) to your attention.

You see, the Council of South Side Organizations, which every year sponsors the Fourth of July Celebration in the South Side, has a campaign underway for funds to make this year's "Fourth" stand out in the minds and memories of the smaller population of our community . . . memorable for a long time.

The council is planning a great program . . . and your $1 as a patron, or your $10 as a SPONSOR will go toward making the Fourth of July 1958 one that will remain happily in the consciousness of all Southsiders.

Look in your South Side Leader this week, this issue, for the coupon; SEND IT IN, to help your COMMITTEE do what you want it to do . . .plan big and make the Fourth of July this year BIGGER and BETTER THAN EVER BEFORE. LET'S MAKE IT A WHALE OF A DAY! Yes, let's give the small fry THAT KIND OF DAY THE SPIRIT OF IT DESERVES! Send contributions to Fourth of July Committee, Council South Side Organizations, 864 S. Third Street, Columbus 6. DONATIONS WILL ALSO BE ACCEPTED AT SOUTH SIDE LEADER OFFICE. Let's make the Spirit of Liberty live again!

The Story Of Valuable 'Busybodies'

By Staff Writer

When discussing an organization which contributes substantially to the welfare of our South Side area, it is quite correct to use the word "Busybodies"—for that is what the organization is . . . to the very great benefit of the South Side.

The "Busybodies" is the Council of South Side Organizations.

In the monthly meetings of the Council one hears discussed many items having to do with the progress of community life. That may seem to have some weaknesses . . . how can one group have a hand in so many phases of community life?

That question arose in my mind when I first came to the South Side, but attendance at council meetings quickly answered all my questions . . . and has kept them answered.

As a Stranger

This is being written as one sitting on the sidelines of the Council, and therefore the view is that of a stranger wanting to find out if the organization really has something to its credit. True, many who read this may know the answers; if so, that's so much better.

Let's use the discussions, the investigations, the personal interviews with many people required for the operation of a group like this South Side group. And let's use preparations for the Fourth of July celebration as a target for understanding. It is recalled at the first meeting dealing with this year's July Fourth Celebration. Committees were appointed, got together, and went into examinations of various phases of community life into which the celebration was designed to fit.

Much Work

Please believe that the men who form the organization are hard workers . . . not for themselves, but for the community. Maybe we had better look around a bit and see who, what, when. In the first place you want to know that these business men come from the various segments of the population, such as local self-protection groups, like fraternal organizations, civic associations, manufacturers — newspaper people, and ministerial organizations.

Beginning

Of course there's a beginning, with a pattern already established from the previous year. These delegates to the organization are elected by their parent organizations to be a part of the South Side Organization with its collective finger in everything which has value for the community. Like the writer: he represents his publisher employer at the Council meetings, just as Carl Beyer represents the Auxiliary Police (another group of men who give much of their time with slight financial return).

Guild Elects Youth Prexy

Donald Ball

At a recent meeting of Guild No. 4 of Mercy Hospital, the following members were elected for the executive offices:

President, Donald Ball, 167 Jenkins-av., vice-president, Mrs. Moses Spiker, 67 Southwood-av., secretary, Woodrow Spriggs, 1655 S. Third-st.; treasurer, Miss Florence K. Erlenbusch, 97 Erie-rd.

Donald Ball and Woody Spriggs are both students at South High School. Guild 4 has the distinction of having one of the only two male presidents of a hospital Guild in Columbus.

Guild No. 4 members are all employees in the dietary department of Mercy Hospital, and they worked hard to help make the pancake supper a success, it was said at the hospital, and they are now working on plans for the Strawberry Festival, to take place June 4 or, in event of rain on June 5.

Rev. Lang Marks Ascension Day

Ascension Day, the 40th day after Easter, commemorating the ascension of Jesus into heaven, will be observed at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 322 Stewart-av, Thursday, May 15, with a service at 7:45 p.m.

The pastor, Rev. John O. Lang, will speak on "When His Visible Presence Was Removed."

During the reading of the Gospel lesson for Ascension Day, the Paschal Candle, which has been burning since the Gospel lesson on Easter Day, will be extinguished, signifying that the visible presence has come to an end, but the sanctuary lamp will continue to burn, signifying the abiding invisible presence of Christ.

'Seniors' To Celebrate Second Anniversary

The second anniversary of the opening of the Senior Citizens Recreation Center, old Memorial Hall, will be observed Wednesday afternoon in connection with the semi-annual meeting of the Senior Center membership.

The business session for the 600 men and women who have reached the age of 60 or more and are affiliated with the Center will be presided over by Samuel Orwig. Brief reports from officers will be heard; officers elected for the ensuing six months. Mrs. Clara Dawson heads the nominating committee.

Rabbi Nathan Zelizer, chairman of the advisory council to the Senior Center, has been asked to make the inspirational talk. William Secrist is in charge of music; and two of the "poets" of the organization, Mrs. May London and John Bodiker, will participate with appropriate verse. N. J. Barack, superintendent of the Columbus Recreation Department, under whose direction the Senior Center is operated, is also listed as a speaker.

Mrs. Cecyl Cowgill is chairman of the anniversary committee, Mrs. Bertha Camp is in charge of hospitality, and Mrs. Lena Stickel, 30 East Mithoff-st, is looking after the punch table. Following the regular program there will be a film of activities at the well-known senior citizens program in "Little House" at Menlo Park, Calif. A building designed especially to serve older people.

Columbus current activities are housed in the ground floor of Old Memorial Hall through the cooperation of the Franklin County commissioners.

S. High 'Optic' Lists The Names Of Ex-Students Who Have 'Gone Up'

Under the heading "South High Grads Reach High Goals," the "South High Optic," student newspaper, recently published the following articles listing former students and graduates of South High School who have achieved distinction in their various and important fields:

"In today's world where science, math, and an all-around education are becoming necessities, South High grads are among the top in their professions.

"In the field of rockets, missiles, and satellites, we have Colonel William Erlenbusch, commander of the 864 Strategic Missile Squadron at Huntsville, Ala., who recently demonstrated models of Thor and Jupiter in New York; Charles Keller, production director of the Atomic Energy Commission, Oak Ridge, Tenn., and General Curtis LeMay about whom Time magazine said, 'Curtis LeMay has proved to be one of the brilliant organizers of history.'

"The field of communications claims these: Howard Carlisle, executive editor of the Ohio State Journal; Bill Zipf, feature writer for the Columbus Dispatch, and Mel Clay, editor of the Spotlight, a Standard Oil publication.

"In the world of sports Robert Hess is head football coach at Ohio University, Frank Howard, all-American basketball player, recently signed with the Los Angeles Dodgers, and Paul Ebert, all-American basketball player, is now a doctor.

"As for the ladies, consider these: Nita Hutch, M.A. of the Sky Room program on WBNS radio; Glenna Spencer, feature writer of Youth News for the Ohio State Journal; Agnes Cariglow, secretary to Governor O'Neil; Toni Hightower, assistant Dean of Women at O.S.U.; and Nellie Armentrout Henry, secretary to Senator Bricker.

"The realm of religion has Donald Baughman, now serving as a missionary in Nigeria in British West Africa."

City Youth Orchestra Concert Set

The Columbus Symphony Youth Orchestra will present the spring concert of its third season on Sunday, May 11, at 8 p.m. in Hughes Hall, Ohio State University.

Three orchestra members who were winners in the 1958 Young Musician's Competition will appear as soloists with the orchestra. The orchestra is composed of high-school-age youths from all areas of Columbus and suburbs. It affords an opportunity for any competent high school musician to further his musical skills and to gain added experience within an orchestra group.

Dr. George Wilson is the conductor. The Youth Orchestra is sponsored by the Young Associates of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra, who also sponsor the annual Young Musician's Competition.

Admission will be free through the courtesy of the Musicians Performance Trust Fund of the recording industry.

It's Been Said . . .

Columbus public school system is getting more for their tax dollar than anywhere else, it is reported. The average cost per room in Columbus schools is just under $20,000, much less than in most adjacent cities.

School architects are coming from all over the United States to look over the newly constructed schools and additions in the Columbus area.

In 1950 there were 46,000 pupils first through twelfth grades in Columbus. Now, it is reported, there are 72,000 and in five years (1963) there will be 87,000 children in the schools. These figures are the result of strictly researched birth statistics. They do not include annexation or "move-ins."

It also was announced that Columbus School System has 111 buildings to house the present 72,000 children. City-wide population statistics show an average of 0.7 children per housing unit.

Stewart School Is Landmark In S. Side Education History

Stewart Elementary School is one of the many Columbus schools with a a particularly interesting background. It has a history, direct or by association, going back to 1802.

In 1802, the first log cabin built in Columbus was raised on the site where the Bliss Hotel now stands. It was this building that later . . . much later, became a tiny school.

The first child born in Columbus-Heziah Hamlin, daughter of John and Mary Hamlin, was born in the same area, S. Front-st, between Brewer and Livingston. The child attended the tiny cabin school which later became Stewart School.

Bring It Up

Let's bring it up to date and see the progress made by the school through the years. The land where Stewart now stands was purchased by the Columbus Board of Education in 1872 and the original Stewart building was erected in 1874, at New-st and Stewart-av.

The area was growing, and increased enrollment brought about expansion of facilities. In 1892, additional land was purchased, and in 1893 an addition was made to the building. An interesting fact is that the land was purchased for the sum of $4,550. The site is reported as being nine-tenths of an acre, same size as now.

The school house faces Schiller Park, presenting a majestic and austere appearance, with an interesting architectural design reminiscent of earlier years.

Again In 1953

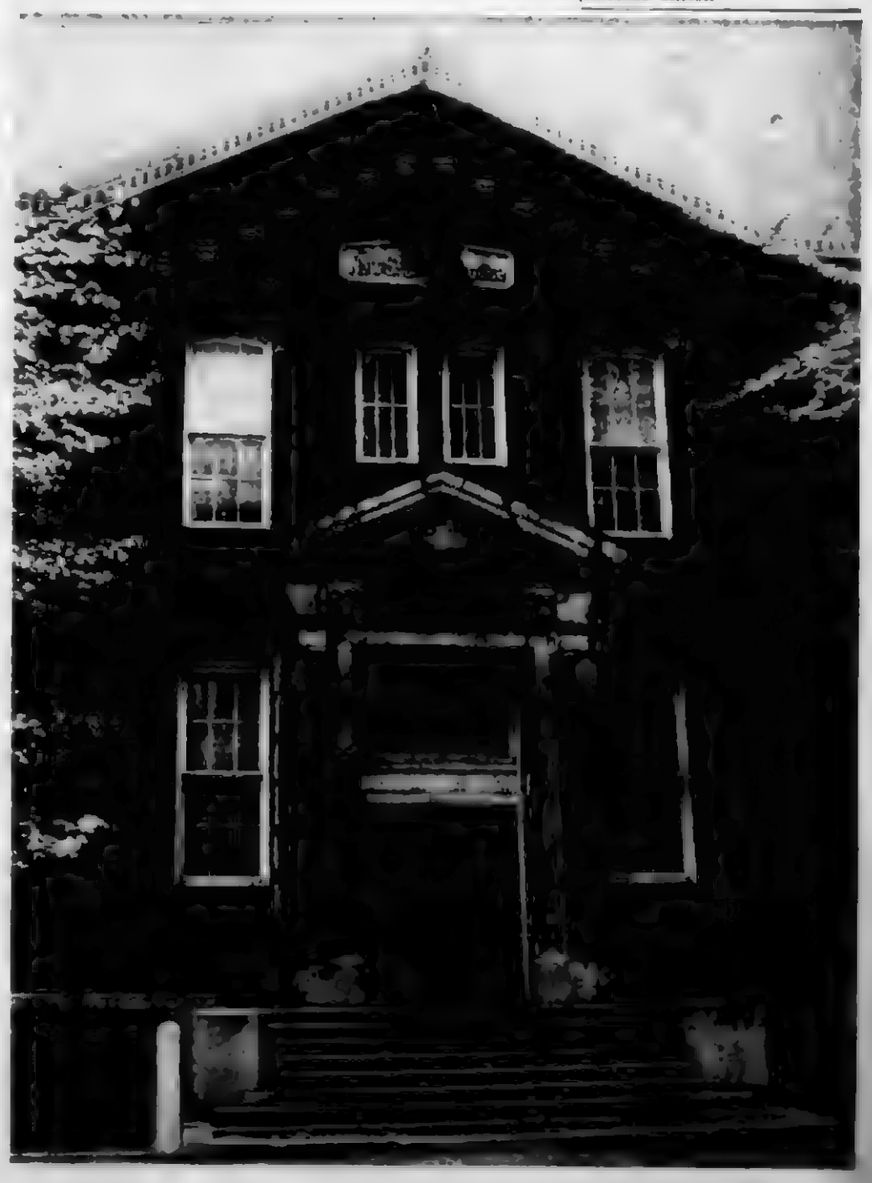
Time passed. Then came 1953. School rooms were crowded, space inadequate. There was a remodeling, extensive, too, and at a cost of $103,037. This brings the total investment of cash to a total of [illegible].

The school contains 13 classrooms, kindergarten room, health room, teachers' room, office, kitchen, lunch room, and a multipurpose room. (And so it is today). But let's read much of the history of Stewart Elementary School as supplied by Mrs. Eliza Jane McDonald, 35 Frederick-st, who is the school's PTA publicity chairman:

"About 1872 or 1873 the German population of the extreme southern portion of the city began agitation for another elementary school, Mrs. McDonald tells us.

Ed's Note: To avoid confusion, it is stated here that several names for what we know as Stewart-av were used at various times. Stewart, New, City Park, and, perhaps other names, were used for the same street.)

"The site at New-st and Stewart-av was chosen and an eight-room building was erected. It was a beautiful spot, with the building overlooking City Park.



"In 1874 New-st School was formally opened, with Anton Hungleman as principal . . . A position he held for 30 years.

"There were four women teachers in 1874. They were listed as Minnie Fuchs, Antionette Kiefer, Rose Andriessen, Ernestine Marchold. The total expenditure for the building was $24,574.65. Of this total $21,074.65 went into the building cost; the ground area cost $3,500."

German Taught

"German was taught in all grades," Mrs. McDonald reports. "In all public schools grades were designated like this: First grade, D Primary; second grade, C Primary; third

SCIOTO TRAIL

By Elizabeth Smith

HI. 3-1184

Mrs. William Snider, Mrs. Cyrus Donahue, Mrs. Horace Jarvis, Mrs. Melva Strawser and this writer attended the WSWS convention in Westerville on Wednesday. At noon we were guests of Mrs. Harry Schutte, former member of South High Church and now a resident of Westerville. She prepared a delicious fried chicken dinner for us and we got to see her lovely new home and then Betty attended the afternoon session with us.

Mrs. Frank Batteiger, Mrs. Ray Sells, Edwin Gearhart, Mrs. John Nippert, Mrs. Nelson Miller, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. James Davis and this writer represented Marion Franklin PTA's at the Columbus Council PTA's annual meeting at the Ohio Union on Thursday, May 1.

Scioto Trail School was represented by Maurice Lowks, Mrs. Evelyn Eberts, Mrs. Doris Schadler, Mrs. Dorothy Roberts and Mrs. Pearl Reeb.

Of course the biggest news to us in the neighborhood was the wind damage that hit us at Smith Dodson Lumber Co. Monday evening. We are still checking damaged material and restocking and getting ready for the insurance adjustors to do their tallying this week.

Richard and I want to take this means of expressing our thanks to all the friends and neighbors who were so kind and thoughtful and pitched right in and helped us to get stock moved and debris cleared away. There were several of the neighborhood men who went home that night really soaking wet after working in the downpour of rain we had. Thanks again, folks. You'll never know how much we really appreciated it.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kulich celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary on Thursday, May 1. It was a wonderful sight to see them with all their children attending the revival at South High that night.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huffman, 2781 S. High-st, were hosts to about 35 members of Ruth's immediate family on Sunday. The guests of honor were Lois and Carl Sowers. Carl is entering the service and the potluck dinner was a family get-together for them. There were guests from Toledo, Millersport, Circleville and Columbus.

Rev. William Snider celebrated his birthday on Saturday by going with the Youth Fellowship group to attend the services on Saturday morning at Temple Israel. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Freshour and this writer went with Rev. Snider and about 15 youths. The service we attended was a youth service,, following which Dr. Folkman was very gracious in answering questions put to him by the young people.

Three carloads of adults from South High Church went on a tour of seven new churches on Sunday afternoon. The board of trustees plus three elected persons have been designated as the temporary building committee to get the building program under way at South High Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gerano took Betty's mother home to Cambridge on Sunday.

New Southside Christian Church

Joyful Noise Unto The Lord

The Christian Crusaders, a widely traveled choral group dedicated to the gospel, held a "Singspiration" at the South Side Christian Church on Sunday, May 4.

The group has 12 members, was organized in Columbus in 1957; they have carried their messages in song throughout 11 of the 43 states and as far off as the Island of Jamaica.

They have held two evangelistic campaigns, had nine confessions for Christ and two dedications of life to full-time Christian service. They have made records, appeared on television, held banquets, youth rallies and singspirations.

Other choral groups from all over the state appeared with them on Sunday's program. The Gospelaires from Akron, and the Four Facts from Lancaster, were included.

The South Side Christian Church meets in Scioto Trail School, 2951 S. High-st.

Beery Jr. High Students Score

George C. Beery Junior High School students recently made a fine showing in the fourth annual "TV Spotlights TB" script-writing project.

Entertained

Twenty-nine South High School seniors were entertained at the annual Rotary Club luncheon May 5 at the Deshler-Hilton Hotel. The purpose of this is to give Columbus businessmen and retired businessmen the opportunity to meet the youth of the city who will be the citizens of tomorrow.

There were approximately 250 seniors from the city high schools who attended the luncheon. Those who represented South were Charles Baker, Susan Baldeser, Robert Bateman, Susan Dean, Don Dreher, Diane Dunkin, Richard Evans, Judie Farley, Ron Firman, Don Fischer, Jay Gramlich, Carol Greiner, Robert Hall Barbara Hoover, John Justus, Marcia Lipson, Stephanie Lando, Joyce Luketz, Marilyn McQuiniff, Carol Petty, Carolyn Rohr, William Rouff, Judy Sager, Nancy Sammet, Marianna Spohn, Ralph Walls, Elaine Watts, Julie Warner, Alan Weinberg. — by Judy Farley.

Bulldogs Bow To Linden

On Apr. 29 the Panthers from Linden inflicted the first city league loss on South's helpless Bulldogs.

South seemed to have forgotten how to play the game, as six errors were committed, mostly in the infield. To top it off, pitching and hitting seemed a lost art, as Linden collected ten hits to South's four.

One bright spot in defeat was the Bulldog shortstop, Don Dreher, who had a triple and single for three tries.

South definitely needs a place to practice and some good weather to go along. — by Chris Scheiderer

Tomorrow evening, May 9, is the date of South High's annual Rose Prom. The time is 9 to 12. Tickets are $2.50 a couple and can be purchased from Y-Teen Cabinet members.

Ray Roop's band will furnish the dancing music. Jim Hoptry the Golden Crowns, the Conchords, and the Southernaires will be the entertainment for the evening. Jack White will be master of ceremonies. — by Dianne Nye

Kay Hussey

Kay Hussey was elected president of the Girls Athletic Association of South High School at the Sports Banquet held Apr. 29 in the school cafeteria. Other members elected to office were Carol Young, vice-president; Jo Ann Carter, secretary; Suzanne Windmiller, treasurer. These girls were elected by votes from all members of GAA. The newly elected officers' names were kept a secret until an exciting moment at the banquet when H. D. Swain, principal of South, announced the winners. — by Rita Yates

Down Defeat Rd.

The high-flying South High baseballers went down Defeat Road 4-3 at the hands of the Arlington Golden Bears Thursday, May 1, on the winner's diamond, to knock the Bulldogs out of tournament play for the season.

Getting off to a good start, the Blue and Gray took the lead in the first inning and held the upper hand until the last of the sixth, when the Bears tied the score 3-3. When it was the Bulldogs chance at bat in the first of the seventh they failed to produce, which gave the Bears their chance to take the lead and the game.

With lanky left handed Bob Carver on the mound for the men from South the Bears came to bat in the last half of the seventh. The first hitter smashed a hard double down the right field line and was followed by an intentional walk to put men on first and second. Chris Scheiderer then came in to hurl, but the first man he faced bunted safely and the bases were loaded. The cleanup hitter for the Bears then slashed the winning hit into right field to save the game for the Brunos.

Don Dreher had two safeties while teammate Al Weinberg and Mike Bordy collected a triple and two singles respectively. — by Marty Noel.

Scholarships

Carol Petty, Don Fischer, Judie Farley and Judy Sager, all seniors at South High School, and Pat Carsilli, a January graduate, were awarded PTA scholarships last week.

The scholarships provide for $200 a year for two years in the field of education at any college.

These students, along with 15 other winners from the city, were guests at a Parent-Teacher Association luncheon at the Ohio Union on Thursday, May 1. — by Judy Sager.

Theresa Boggs, South High senior, made 100 in all three tests of the international spelling contest sponsored by the National Office Management Association recently.

In this district 57 students from 13 schools made 100 on all tests; 17 students in the six schools made 100 on two tests, five students from four schools made 100 on all three tests.

South was the only city school to have one in this group. — by Theresa Alberta.

Name Change

"In 1892, New-st was changed to City Park-av, and New-st School became City Park-av School. But changes came rapidly and a year later the name was changed to City Park-av and New-st School."

"One year later, in 1893, we find another name: Schiller School, named in honor of Friedrich Schiller, a poet all Germans love. (He is there today, in bronze, and has become more than a German — he is honored by all as a man of integrity and character).

"It was in 1893, too, that most of the other schools of the city took the names of their favorite poets. This brought about great confusion, with people being unable to find the building sought. A change had to come. It did."

But . . . well, here we go again! "In 1894 it again became Stewart-av School, and I hope (Mrs. McDonald writing) remains so, because Schiller Park was owned by a man named Stewart, and the place was called Stewart's Grove before it became a public city park."

Addition

"In 1892, the four-room addition had been built on the school building. History just dwaddled along for the next 12 years, when it is recorded that Caroline Wendt was made principal of Stewart; and, in 1917, Marie Schmitz filled this position. Since 1923, Mrs. Leona Logue has been principal of the school."

More Building

"In 1925, two more rooms were added and the building was modernized. Room telephones, a teachers' rest room, and a new heating system were installed."

About Now

The main entrance was changed, too. It's now on City Park-av, facing beautiful Schiller Park. The city has grown up around it. The small five room school of 1874 has now become a big 14 room facility — filled to the utmost capacity.

Later historians will undoubtedly record even quicker growths . . . more children . . . more facilities. A growing concern, so to speak.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Vegetables — Asparagus, cabbage, green beans, carrots, potatoes.

Fruits — Bananas, lemons, pineapple, frozen lemonade.

Other Foods — Fryers, ground beef, ham, frozen fish fillets, large eggs, cottage cheese.

Fresh asparagus, the first of the local fresh vegetables, is now available with supply good and quality excellent. The peak of local supply is expected about the middle of May. Asparagus grows like magic when the weather is warm and the earth is moist. Its season is short lived — 50 to 60 cutting days — so enjoy this green vegetable often when it's fresh and tender.

Peak season usually gives greener asparagus. The green color and length of the stalks depend on the weather. Wet and cold weather results in less rapid growth. You'll trim away more of the white woody part from early asparagus than from the spears grown in warmer weather. This means more edible asparagus from each pound purchased when the season is at its peak.

Selection — When buying fresh asparagus look for firm, compact, tightly-closed tips purplish-green color, and tender stalks. It's perishable. Refrigerate it and use it soon.

If you plan to buy asparagus for canning or freezing from a retailer or producer, it's well to check with him in advance as to when he expects a good, fresh supply.

To obtain a top quality product, asparagus, like other fresh vegetables, should be canned or frozen as soon as possible after harvest. Mary Washington is the variety recommenedd for freezing.

Weight Watchers are happy that six average-sized spears of asparagus give only 22 calories. When green it contributes a good portion of vitamins to the diet.

Cooking — Asparagus should be cooked quickly in a small amount of boiling, salted water. Tie stalks together, stand them in two to three inches of boiling water. Cook for 10 minutes, then cover and let the tips cook in the steam. For cut pieces, cook the lower part of the stalks in a saucepan that contains a small amount of boiling, salted water for 10 minutes. Add the tips and cook until tender.

The variety of ways asparagus can be served is enough to delight any homemaker — with Hollandaise or cheese sauce, tender spears of cooked asparagus in salads, buttered or creamed on toast, in souffles, ham casseroles and soups.

Field-Grown Rhubarb

Local growers are brenging quantities of excellent quality rhubarb to market. The stalks are longer now but still tender and colorful, which means economy for using it fresh or for freezing.

New Bulletin on Freezing

If you need up-to-date information on freezing you'll be interested in the new extension bulletin, "Freezing and Using Vegetables, Fruits and Prepared Foods." To get a copy, send 15 cents to Room 317, Old Post Office Building, Franklin County Agricultural Extension Service, Columbus 15, Ohio.

In God is my salvation and my glory; the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God.—(Psalm 62, 7.)

Let us then daily affirm—not once but continually—that the only true and lasting happiness on earth is to be found in God and in serving Him: that in Him alone can we find the strength to bear life's inevitable sorrow and adversity: that in Him alone is the joyous peace we all seek and may have.

Here's the Answer

Forceful Hand May Sometimes Be Used

Force, rightly used, may sometimes be necessary.

People who take the view that the Christian is not justified under any circumstances in using force say that Christ contradicted His teaching about overcoming evil with good when He drove the money changers out of the temple with a "whip of small cords."

You cannot call His behavior "moral indignation" from the picture we have of Him overturning the money changers' tables and upsetting the chairs of those who were selling the doves.

There was a show of force though many well believe that Christ overawed them with the force of his moral indignation.

The people He attacked presumably could have ganged up on Him and might easily have proven stronger physically. Accordingly, one shouldn't minimize the moral authority of Christ and the power of one conscientious, aroused man to put to flight a whole group of profiteers and cowards.

But the incident displays one aspect of the gentle and mild Jesus that is significant and has relation to our conduct and life today. Force can only accomplish so much. The world ought to have learned by now that, even in war, real victory depends upon a great deal more than physical conquest.

The prejudice that affects men is as bad or worse than the greed and willingness to exploit religion for profit.

For this picture we turn to Christ healing the lame and the blind in the temple. The official representatives of the religion were outraged by this exercise of authority by one who wasn't of their group.

To what depths of degregation can a false user of religion bring people when they can become indignant over the healing of their fellowmen simply because it wasn't done under their authority!

NOW YOU SEE 'EM, NOW YOU DON'T . . . This nest of rabbits was raised near Carner's Boat Dock at Lake Madison. When you find wild babies, it's best to leave them alone and not try to "adopt them.

Rule: Do Not Adopt Wild 'Pets'

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Stopped out at Carner's Boat Dock at Lake Madison the other evening to see how the fishing was, and to check on the entries in the Hartley Newspapers Fishing Contest.

The fishing is really getting going now, and entries are starting to come in. Roger L. Hatton, 2678 Sullivant-av, and William Simmers, 4752 Cosgray-av, Amlin, are going at it nip and tuck with a couple of fine entries in the catfish division.

The other divisions are wide open—so be sure to enter your fish in the contest. You may very well walk away with one of the top prizes. Remember, enter your fish at Carner's Boat Dock.

While I was there, Al Ward appeared on the scene and showed me a nest of baby rabbits close to the boat dock office. Al is Madison County's genial game protector, and we speculated on how soon the little bunnies would be out hopping around. It takes only a few days for them to leave the nest, and they grow rapidly. Biologists tell us that the first litter of cottontails will raise young of their own before cold weather sets in.

This is the season, of course, for baby animals to be seen. Young robins and mourning doves have been hatched out for some time, and will soon be leaving their nests. It won't be long until mama pheasant will be shepherding her brood around the hay fields. A little bit later baby raccoons, woodchucks, and even deer fawns will be seen.

This is when our "mothering instinct" gets the best of us. Far too many of us pick up wild babies, thinking them lost. We lug the cute little rascals home to raise, but they soon outgrow the cute stage. In fact, they become pests.

Now they ARE lost. They have been raised by humans, and have not been taught by their wild parents to forage for themselves. They do not know how to find food, and to protect themselves from predators. When liberated they cannot last long in the wild. Had they been left alone the parent would have found them and cared for them.

We had an interesting experience with young flying squirrels a couple of weeks ago. I was cutting down a hollow tree near the house. Just as the snag was about to fall to the ground, a flying squirrel emerged from a little opening and started flying from tree to tree all around me.

She flew over my head a couple of times, and I viewed at close range the fantastic sailing ability of these little animals. I figured that she had a nest of young in the tree, but by now the tree was ready to topple and would be dangerous to leave standing.

I downed the tree, and sure enough in the hollow were two little flying squirrels. I'll have to admit my first impulse was, "Can we raise these cute little fellows?"

All of this time the mother was chattering close by. I quickly cut the log in two, and got Al Steffan to help me fasten the segment containing the nest to another tree. This we accomplished in about 15 minutes from the time the tree fell, and before we got the ladder cleared away the mother squirrel had found her young. She will care for them far better than I could, and they will sail into the wild world for which they were born.

Al Ward gets many calls in the course of a year asking for help in disposing of adopted "pets". His advice to people this time of year, "If you find a baby animal, PLEASE leave it alone and unmolested." If the wild baby happens to be a game animal it is against the law to have it in your possession. Al repeats, "You will be obeying the law, and be giving the wild youngster a break by not adopting it."

E. M. Landry, district manager of Sun Oil Co., announces the first dealer meeting in the company's Columbus district to be held at the Lincoln Lodge, May 7.

A second meeting will be held May 19 at the lodge. These meetings cover the announcement of custom-blending in the Columbus area. First installations of the new custom-blending pump are being made in Columbus today.

Sun's new revolutionary blending pump will be displayed at the meeting. "The new pump, exclusive with Sun, dispenses six grades of gasoline, allowing the customer to choose the exact octane for his car's top performance at lowest possible price," Landry said.

Barrett Junior High School—

Instrumental Show Tonight

"Seventy-six directors with the one and only boss" might be a good caption for this picture snapped at a Barrett Junior High School rehearsal. Barrett's 200 musicians are preparing to "bang, blow, and bow" at the annual instrumental music recital to be given at Barrett tonight, Thursday, at 7:30 sharp. There are actually about 76 students studying conducting with Herb Germain, Barrett's instrumental teacher. Those pictured above have been chosen to direct a selection at the recital. They are, left to right, Mary Heery, Dick Jones, Patty Trigg, Bob Cook, John Burns, and Bob Smith. Other directors not pictured are Jim Rogers and Dee-Dee Gehl. The busy bass player, Bill Sherred, is not the only tuba player at Barrett, but he will be giving out with his umpah, as all the instruments have their say in their own particular way. There will be no admission charge.

Ascension Day Services Are Set

The Festival of the Ascension will be celebrated with special worship services Thursday evening, May 15, at 8 o'clock. Expressing thanks for the comforting assurance of Christ's return to Heaven where He rules over all things as King of Kings, Pastor Sutorius will speak on the subject "Ascension Blessings." Services are open to all.

The annual mother-daughter banquet of Emmanuel Lutheran Church will be held Tuesday evening, May 13, at 6:30. Mrs. Dale Ernsthausen, president of the Daughters of Emmanuel, will be in charge of the evening's program, which will feature Wilbur Fish, the "Musical Bell Ringer."

Woodlot Key To National Forestry Output

Small woodlot owners hold the key to our production of forest products now and in the future, according to Frank Needham of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, Division of Forestry.

Needham is forester in charge of farm forestry in Ohio.

"Since the United States may be faced with the possibility of having to produce twice as much wood for our needs within the next 50 years, Ohio farmers, as well as farmers all over the country, will find it necessary to manage their woodlots for highest production," he says.

In Ohio there are approximately three million wooded acres on small farms. Some 119,000 small farm woodlots in the state average 25.7 acres each.

Ohio Division of Forestry has 14 farm foresters located throughout the state who assist private landowners with woodland problems.

Differences In Wood Used Important In Life of Posts

Years ago fence posts lasted longer than they do now.

According to F. W. Dean, Ohio State University Extension forester, "old timers" split posts and rails from old trees which had a high percentage of heartwood, the hard central part of the trunk.

"Durability of posts," Dean says, "depends a lot on the percentage of heartwood they contain; the more heartwood, the longer the posts last."

Posts made of some tree species last considerably longer than those made of others. Posts made of Osage orange may last 40 years or more. Locust posts often last 30 or 35 years; red cedar and mulberry, from 25 to 30 years and white cedar, catalpa and white oak, from 12 to 20 years.

Heartwood doesn't increase durability when it comes to posts treated with preservatives, according to Dean. Posts and timbers with wide bands of "sapwood," soft, fast-growing wood absorb larger quantities of preservatives than those with much heartwood.

"Well-seasoned sap pine posts or any native sap woods with bark removed are satifactory for preserving treatments." Dean says. "Pressure treatments are most satisfactory, and can increase durability from 25 to 30 years." Such treatments force chemicals into the wood under pressure.

Cold soaking treatments can increase life of posts from 15 to 20 years, according to Dean. Posts which are to be cold soaked should be peeled first and properly seasoned.

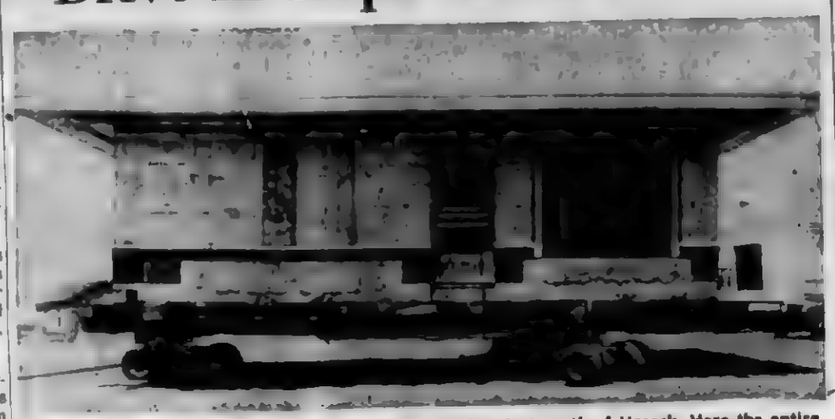
New Home Owner Service At Smith Dodson

Richard Smith, vice president of the Smith Dodson Company announced here today that their company has become an active member of the Home Improvement Council.

The Council is a national, industry-wide organization to help homeowners protect their homes from costly deterioration, and to help them take specific, sound steps to increase the value of their homes.

Richard Smith pointed out that one of the major purposes of the Council and its members is to help local families visualize ways they can make their homes more comfortable, more convenient, more attractive to live in and easier to maintain.

"So often local people see exciting ideas for remodeling or redecorating their homes in the big national ads and magazine pictures, but have no idea how to get the same effect in their own homes," Richard Smith continued. "Nor do they have any idea of where to turn first for help locally or how to proceed. The Home Improvement Council has been set up to answer these needs for local people through special community projects and a vast new educational program."



"In becoming a member of the Council," Richard Smith said, "our company has pledged to be of helpful service to every homeowner, no matter his home improvement needs."

Tax Time Is Running Out

Franklin County Treasurer Newton A. Thatcher has called attention to having penalties added if there is failure to pay current real estate taxes by May 5, the closing date. After that date, he said, penalties required by law will be added.

Normally, the Treasurer said, about 60 percent of the collection is received in the final week. And, he added, there will be no extension of time for tax payments this month, since the April opening of the collection amounted to a three-month extension beyond the customary January opening date.

Trudeau Guild 10 will meet next Wednesday, May 14, at 8 p.m. and the hostess will be Mrs. Donald Thomas, 757 Deshler-av. Installation of officers will be the main business of the evening.

Didn't mean to slight Maxine Crary on her Apr. 29 birthday, so will take care of that right now.

The Rose Prom at South High School tomorrow night has been the main topic of conversation for the student body of the Ann-st school this week.

Oakwood WSCS meetings are as follows: Susannah Wesley, May 9, 7:45 p.m., 1002 E. Whittier-st, hostess Miss Emma Edwards. On May 13 these three groups will meet: Bennett, 8 p.m., hostess, Mrs. Edgar DeLong, 899 Carpenter-st; Esther Hall, 1 p.m., home of Mrs. John Wright, 1136 Miller-av; Ethel Harpst, 6:30 p.m. casserole dinner, home of Mrs. R. S. Moore, 738 Bulen-av. On May 14, these groups are scheduled: Bethlehem, 1 p.m., home of Mrs. W. A. Rush, 834 Linwood-av; Jessie Lee, 1 p.m., hostess, Mrs. George Howard, 605 Carpenter-st; Marcy, 8 p.m., 567 Gilbert-st, home of Mrs. Charles Farrell.

Tea and guided tours will highlight today's open house at Alum Crest Hospital. The tea will be served from 2 till 4, and tours will be conducted regularly. The public is invited to attend. Anyone interested in helping with the work of the hospital or forming a Crest may contact Mrs. Kenneth Langfitt, BE. 1-7085. We had occasion to talk to Mrs. Longfitt, and had a marvelous conversation with her. I just wanted to "up and join" one of the Crests right now! I discovered there's only one Crest in the South Side, so there's lots of room for expansion. Crest 9 is the newest group and its chairman is Mrs. Robert Basbagil, 601 S. 5th-st. Mrs. James Genoozia, 643 S. 5th-st, is recording secretary and the treasurer is Mrs. Robert Assman, 1322 Lockbourne-av. Mrs. Longfitt promised to keep us informed of the projects of the Crests and we are looking forward to her doing just that.

The Band and Orchestra Parents of South High School will meet Tuesday, May 13, at 8 p.m. at the school. An election of officers will be held and the installation will follow. All members are urged to attend.

Birthday time is soon for these youngsters . . . Jerry Young, 125½ E. Moler, May 13; Ronnie Carter, 1408 S. 5th-st, May 8; Stanley Holley, 46 Woodrow-av, May 9; Tina Tobias, 74 E. Woodrow-av, May 13; Billy Penrod, 1665 S. High-st, May 14; Steve Schrader, 149 E. Hinman-av, May 11; Clyde Smith, 319 Southwood-av, May 13; Kenneth Frazier, 300 Sheldon-av, May 14; Diana Bartow, 174 Innis-av, May 11; James Blackburn, 1570 S. 4th-st, May 10; Ruby Knapp, 1291 S. Pearl May 13 and Della Tobias, 74 E. Woodrow-av, May 9.

Virginia Leonard has flat tires at the nicest times! The Forest-st resident had her last one the day of the Newark PTA convention, so she and Alberta Blackburn, her didn't-get-to-be passenger, sat this convention out.

PTA members of the Reeb-av School will hold a rummage sale this Saturday, May 10, at the St. Stephens Community House, 379 Barthman-av. The sale is scheduled to start at 7 a.m. Mrs. John Komives is chairman and if anyone would like to donate rummage her number is HI. 3-5404.

Congratulations to the five seniors from South High School who were awarded scholarships by the Columbus Council of Parent Teacher Associations. The five were Donald Fisher, Patricia Carsilli, Judy Farley, Judy Sager, and Carol Petty.

The St. Ann's Guilds will hold their annual May Mardi-Gras this Saturday, the 10th, at 581 S. High-st. Starting time is 9 p.m. There will be round and square dancing. Tickets may be purchased at the door. Guild 15, of St. Ann's will meet May 13 at 8:30, in the home of Mrs. William Stanton, 747 Livingston-av.

Wedding bells will ring in the near future for these young folks: Shirley Hill, 1067 22nd-av, (a South High grad as is her fiance,) and Charles Sharp, 848 S. 22nd-st, will exchange their vows this Saturday in the Ohio Avenue EUB Church. Two graduates of St. Mary's High School will exchange their vows in an open church ceremony at St. Mary's Church this Saturday. The two young folks are Patricia Jane Lanigan, 1114 Stanley-av and Richard Bond, 326 Whittier-st. The third May 10 wedding is that of Elizabeth Schaeufele, 705 Thurman-av, and Jerome Holland, 120 Midland-av. Corpus Christi Church will be the scene of the open church ceremony.

We discovered that one of the out-of-town Leader readers is Roberta Wilkins, (the former Roberta Blackburn of 756 Jaeger-st) and since she is having a birthday this Sunday, May 11, we would like to send greetings to her. If any of her former South High School friends would like to remember her with a card, her address is 5936 N. Campbell, Chicago 45, Ill.

May is a big month for festival-type things in the schools, and this May is no exception. Three schools in this area are holding their festivals tomorrow, Friday, May 9. Heyl-av has as its theme "Circus Day at Heyl." The activity gets under way at 4:00 p.m. A buffet supper will be served from 4:30 to 9 p.m. Tommy Mills, clown-magician, will give performances throughout the evening. Cotton candy, pony rides, a spook room, square dance, fish pond, white elephant and bake sales will also be featured. Smith-rd has a "Fun Round-Up" from 4:30 to 10 p.m. Siebert PTA will feature pony rides, games, white elephants, jewelry bar, cake walk and flower shop. Supper will be served from 5 to 7 p.m. Children of the school will present a talent show.

Roosevelt Junior High will hold its final PTA meeting of the year this afternoon at 1:30 p.m. Girls from the serving classes will present a fashion show entitled "Clothing for Our Girls." Miss Elizabeth Rankin will give the commentary. Officers will be elected and installed.

Lincoln Park residents will be interested to know that Harry Wirtz is currently in Columbus on a furlough, visiting his mother and brother. This will be the last time his folks see him for awhile, as he will go from here to Germany.

We'll soon be writing about Frances and Larry Rumsey as former Frebis-av residents, after they move to East Morland-av. However, we'll write about them more fully next week, so will just mention the fact this week.

Wednesday, May 14, the Escorts Committee of the Moose Lodge, 36 W. Sycamore-st, will serve a chicken and noodle dinner from 5 to 7 p.m. The meals are really excellent and well worth $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children. Another nice feature is the congeniality that's so noticeable. Do hope you'll try it there some Wednesday, but you'll have to hurry, for this month winds up the dinners until next autumn.

The known sick for this week includes Bobbie Warner, 545 Jenkins-av, who has had scarlet fever, and two former South Siders who now reside in Florida. The two are Mrs. Welcah Blount, and Mrs. John Young, and both recently underwent surgery. Mrs. Blount, mother of Mimi Bronson, lives at 605 Ohio-av, Ft. Pierce, Fla. Mrs. Young is living in Trailer Haven, Melbourne, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kelso, Mitchell, Ind., were recent Columbus visitors. They are the parents of Mrs. Ellis Wesner, 306 Southwood-av.

Can't think of anything else to write about, so guess it's shop-closing time. Till next week, then, 'tis —

Extraordinary Acts

Beyond The Call Of Duty

LOCKBOURNE—M-Sgt. Pinkston, center, is congratulated by Col. William C. Garland, deputy commander, 376th Bomb Wing, for his selection as Columbus' "Serviceman of the Month" for May. Lt. Col. Kermit W. Hardy, Pinkston's immediate commander (367th A&E Sq commander) looks on.

LOCKBOURNE AFB — M-Sgt. Albin G. Pinkston, first sergeant of the 376th Armament and Electronics Squadron, Lockbourne, was selected Columbus' "Serviceman of the Month" for May, the Armed Forces Community Relations Council, sponsor of the four-month program, announced last week.

Sgt. Pinkston began a week of tours, banquets, and radio-TV appearances May 1 as a guest at the Foremen's Club dinner at the Southern Hotel. This week he received the "key to the city" from Mayor Sensenbrenner and was taken on a tour of the city police department by the Chief of Police George S. Scholer. He'll also be honored along with the "serviceman" from the Army, Navy and Marine Corps during Armed Forces Day, May 17.

The council's screening committee made the selection during a luncheon-meeting at the Neil House. On the committee were Judge Thomas E. Herbert, Ohio Supreme Court; Judge Alan Schwartzwalder, Columbus Municipal Court; John P. Biehn, vice-president, Ohio National Bank; Col. Fritz Moritz, superintendent, Ohio Highway Patrol; Paul Jones, Ternstedt Division, General Motors; and Bob McQueen, Westinghouse Corporation.

Runners-up were M-Sgt. Charles M. Delaire, Columbus, Recruiting Station; M-Sgt. John D. Sanfilipo, 301st A&E Sq., Lockbourne; and S-Sgt. Andrew Horton, Base Police Flight, Lockbourne. Criteria for the award was military bearing, devotion to duty, service to country, contribution to national defense, personal leadership, special or extraordinary acts beyond the call of duty, and contribution to others and the community.

The "Serviceman of the Month" program was designed to cement relations between the aggregate military personnel and the central Ohio civilian population by saluting outstanding enlisted personnel and according them subsequent honors.

M-Sgt. Albin G. Pinkston is the first sergeant of Lockbourne's 376 Armament and Electronics Squadron. He was selected for the honor from among some 5000 men.

A native Texas, he entered the Air Force in 1944, became a radioman, and saw action in the Guam and Saipan areas during the war. In 1946, he returned to civilian life and college and received his B.S. degree from Texas Tech College in 1953.

In 1951 he was returned to active duty and served in Japan during the Korean conflict. He was assigned to Lockbourne in January, 1957. Sgt. Pinkston is a graduate of the Non-Commissioned Officers' Academy at Westover AFB, Mass. He, his wife, Nina, and young son Michael, live in the south side of Columbus where he is Sunday School superintendent for the 256 pupils at the South Side Baptist Church.

Col. Woodrow P. Swancutt, commander of the 376th Bomb Wing at Lockbourne, says of Sgt. Pinkston, "He is the personification of devotion to duty and country. He is indeed an outstanding airman and citizen."

Among the medals that Sgt Pinkston wears are: The National Defense Medal; United Nations Service Medal; Korean Service Medal; WWII Victory Medal; American Campaign Medal; Asiatic Pacific Campaign Medal; Occupation Medal, and the Good Conduct Medal.

Busybodies—

—take up questions having direct importance to the South Side. Then maybe a committee will be named to consider the questions. The committee reports to the parent body at the next meeting, and then, if there is need, the organization determines the program to be followed. Members having appropriate knowledge of the question in hand will be appointed with instructions to produce recommendations that will cover the situation.

Life Fourth of July

Another illustration currently is "hot" news for just about everyone in the South Side of Columbus. That's the Fourth of July Celebration.

When time arrived to start the "pot-a-boiling" on the subject, committees were appointed to determine a satisfactory proceedure and then report back to the organization.

As Always

That's what happened this year, as it happens every year. Plans are well developed for an outstanding, entertaining, pleasurable Fourth of July celebration, according to members of the committees assigned to this task. Just a day or two ago the writer asked Tom Sharp of the South Side Leader advertising staff how exhibits and entertainments were coming in. Although contracts had not been signed, Tom said there had been sufficient reservations to secure a highly entertaining and amusing show . . . to keep everyone happy and satisfied with the "midway" on Green Lawn-av. Like the others, he gives of his time in the interests of community welfare. He represents the employer.

Before leaving the question of the midway, some details have been revealed which should make everyone in the community reserve for himself or herself the time to attend the "big show" expected on the midway this July Fourth.

Right now letters are out offering opportunity to contribute to the big expense of the big Fourth of July celebration—and it is hoped that this year the plans for a stupendous midway will receive the generous support of everyone in the South Side.

Tom assured us the celebration will be big enough, good enough, to make everyone, especially the little tots, "happy as happy can be."

Yes, you may drop your currency —$1 or up to $10—into the mail (or a money order) to help pay for the "biggest yet" in Fourth of July entertainment. Address: Council of South Side Oganizations, care South Side Branch YMCA, 8T64 S. Third-st, Columbus.

Hail to the Council of South Side Organizations! Hail to our Magnificent Busybodies . . . and mail in your contributions . . . then join in the big celebration on the Fourth of July.

General WSCS Meet Date

The Susannah Circle will meet on May 20 at 8 p.m. at the home of Isabelle Redfern. Cohostess will be Mildred Zollinger.

The Ruth Circle will meet May 14 at 6:30 p.m., at the home of Virginia Koenig, 2581 Lockbourne-rd, for a yard party and business meeting. Co-hostess for this event will be Kathryn Minot.

BEAUTY BARED . . .

Local Artists' Works Go On Exhibition

Mrs. Louise Conway, 642 E Gates-st, is among the 18 Columbus artists whose paintings are on display all this month at the YMCA Art League's Fourth Annual exhibition being held in the auditorium of the Central YMCA, 40 W. Long-st.

A reception was held last Saturday, and an open house on Sunday.

Forty-five paintings — landscapes, still life, portraits and sea views—are exhibited in a variety of media: oil, watercolor, pastel, gouache, and charcoal. Ceramic work by YMCA Informal School classes is also on display.

The annual art exhibition by members of the YMCA Art League gives the public an opportunity to see the work of the group which was organized six years ago by YMCA Informal School art students. Many other local artists have become active in the group since it was originally organized.

Persons wanting original paintings for their home will find that some of the framed artwork is for sale. Other paintings — matted but not framed — will be offered at a nominal price, it was said. Paintings will remain on exhibit through the month of May.

BIGI BIGI

Interstate Expressways Aid U.S. Defense

When Jack Willison, assistant director for Expressways, Columbus Development Committee, spoke on the subject of expressways before the Council of South Side Organizations recently, it was brought out that the Interstate Highway Program is the largest "public works program ever administered by man."

The program is said to cover 41,000 miles of "Highway of Tomorrow," and will extend across the country. The program is largely designed for defense. "The entire 41,000 miles is to be fenced with five-feet-high chain fence," the speaker said.

Exports of U.S. farm products have gained substantially—from $2.8 billion in the fiscal year 1953 to a record-breaking $4.7 billion in the fiscal year 1957—an increase of 68 percent in value, 94 percent in volume.

Huge Needs Met By UA

Six health, welfare and youth serving agencies located on the South Side are receiving $115,230 in United Appeal funds to help meet operating costs this year.

With aid of the UA allocations the agencies were able to serve 7,559 people the past year.

These financial and service figures were released this week as part of UA's "Thanks to You" Week observance. Information on use of funds is being beamed through press, radio, TV and special events.

The money comes from the public's contributions to last fall's $3,281,585 oversubscribed campaign. Disbursements to South area agencies were these:

South Side YMCA, $32,750; St. Stephen's Community House, $27,508; South Side Day Nursery, $25,013; South Side Settlement, $20,442; Practical Nurse School, $4,962; South Side Community Center YMCA, $4,555.

Number people served: South Side "Y", 4,623; St. Stephen's, 617; Day Nursery, 67; Settlement House, 848; Practical Nurse School, 36; Community Center, 1,386.

Full Report

The full report on how much each of the 60 UA agencies gets and the number they serve is contained in a poster being distributed to all plants and offices in Franklin County for bulletin board posting.

The poster notes that only five cents of every dollar raised is spent for UA administration and campaign costs. This is under the national average of seven per cent for similar size operations.

The UA allocation covers part of the agency's operating expense. Most also get income from fees, endowments, special gifts, or other private income. The UA grant, set by a citizens' budget committee, is the difference between other income and the amount required to meet needs. Copies of the report are also available by calling UA's public relations department, CA. 8-5696.

Research conducted by Ohio Department of Health reveals that an individual's birthplace may be a factor in his developing cancer.

Superior

Members of the South High School instrumental music department received six superior ratings in the state solo and ensemble competition at Bexley High School, Apr. 12.

They were Jim Ferrell, Jay Gramlich, John Justus, Russ Meyer, clarinet quartet; Bill Gischel, Ralph Kleinline, John McDowell, Phil Garrity, Bob Karrer, Ken Klopfer, brass sextet: Bruce Papier, Jack Roe, Gordon Scholz, Jim Ballenger, drum ensemble; Jim Smith, John Justus, Bill Johnson, Jay Gramlich, saxophone quartet; Priscilla Dicke, viola solo, accompanied by Judie Farley; Reinhold Tischler, violin solo, accompanied by Priscilla Dicke.

The vocal department was well represented by the mixed ensemble, consisting of Ann Pritt, Susie Hancock, Judy Herrel, Barbara Hoover, Jim Hoptry Guy Cory, Bob Fornof and Jordan Traikof, who received a superior rating. Judie Farley was their accompanist. All except one held leading roles in the operetta.

Exhibits

Announcement has been made by spokesmen for the Council of South Side Organizations that three special exhibits have been assured for the Fourth of July celebration.

One of these, it was said, is a Fire Department Safety Program. Another will contribute to the joy of little tots who are happiest on the back of a little horse. There'll be enough ponies for the occasion, it was stated.

Traveling Showroom

Then, there comes a new phase in our country's social changes—a tractor-trailer showroom, sure to catch the attention of just about everybody attending, and it has been said that this should be the best Fourth of July celebration presented here.

There also will be a display of dangerous war souvenirs, which experts say, often are highly dangerous in the home. There will be many other exhibits, the concessions, rides, etc., will be announced as the contracts are signed. Further announcements are promised.

Plan on six half-cup servings from a medium-sized pineapple, weighing 2 to 2½ pounds.

Unbeaten Barrett Sets Hot Baseball And Track Pace

Barrett Junior High School's baseball team had its fourth win with no losses when it played Eastmoor Thursday, Apr. 24. The final score was 4 to 2.

The game had its moments—once when Middendorf's triple with the winning runs on base put Barrett out in front, and again when Burford, Barrett's relief pitcher in the ninth inning, struck out two with the bases loaded.

Burford is a very modest and diffident youth, who would not wish to have attention called to the fact that he had pulled any fat out of any fire, but it is reported that Coach Don McCauisky thinks, confidentially, that the deed is no mean achievement.

Barrett Track Winner

In last Thursday's track meet Barrett Junior High School's entries outpointed the Indianola Junior High School squad. The final count was Barrett 49, Indianola 32.

Lawrence, Mayfield, Bell, Steward, Schundelmeier, Ogan, Willson, Pollard, Brooks, Goodwin, Streaty, Martin, Hicks and Loska made the points for Barrett.

Boy Scouting Organizations Sponsoring Fishing Contest

Among the many fish contests of interest to the Fish Management Section of the Division of Wildlife, Ohio Department of Natural Resources, is the one spensored by the Boy Scouts of America.

All boys under the age of 19 who are interested in the contest can refer to the April issue of the official Boy Scout magazine, Boy's Life, which outlines the rules.

The contest started Apr. 15 and will run until Aug. 31. There will be 197 fishing equipment prizes awarded in 39 different categories.

To enter, a boy simply has to list the correct common name of the fish caught, the weight, length and locality where it was hooked. This information and the name and address of the boy should be written on the back of a photo of the fish and mailed to Boys' Life Fishing Contest, New Brunswick, New Jersey. An adult must attest to the entry by signing his or her name and address.

Among the classes for qualification are the largest catch of pan fish in one day (not the weight or measurement but the total number of fish); and best catches of largemouth bass, smallmouth bass, dogfish, carp, blue cat, channel cat, muskie, northern pike, sucker and wall eye. Brook trout, brown trout and rainbow trout are also eligible.

The fish may be caught in any waters of the United States and its possessions, Canada or Mexico.

Boys who are interested can contact their local Boy Scout organization.

Hello

An Orchid for Mother! She deserves it for all the buttons she has sewed on, the meals she has cooked, the many countless ways she has shown her affection by her loving deeds.

Or perhaps she would prefer a carnation or rose corsage to wear, and a colorful combination pot of plants she can enjoy all summer. Other suggestions are a centerpiece of spicy freshly-cut carnations . . . a box of dewey, fragrant roses . . . a dish garden of green plants . . . a novelty planter . . . a pot of bright geraniums.

Whatever your choice, Mother will love your present of flowers. They speak for us of the love and appreciation we all find so hard to put into words.

Don't forget to wear flowers yourself in Mother's honor or memory. Call us and give us your order, or come in to make your own selection. We have city-wide delivery, and will give your order our very best attention.

Survey Will Help Regulate Parking, Traffic

Look At Cleveland Parking

A Columbus group visited the site of one of Cleveland's modern parking developments, heard successful parking program discussed. Left to right, Bruce Jenkins, Ernest Stork, Catherine Maguire and Bob Herewitz talking to Thomas W. McNally, Cleveland Parking coordinator, and Clyde Scott, assistant traffic engineer. Also attending but not pictured was Stanley Nemic, license and assessment commissioner of Cleveland. For story see page 8.

Accurate Data Assured By Automatic Register Machines With Cable Across Streets.

South Columbus' choked streets seem on the way to receiving attention and correction, according to the deductions from the activities of young engineers who have been working recently checking traffic and parking. Regulations for the correction of plugged arteries, as well as side streets, may soon be established.

Danger Spots

One of the danger spots in the area, it was stated some months ago, is the church areas, especially when an important service or dinner or banquet is being held.

There, according to Traffic Commission Chairman Otto Meier, is the making of a calamity at almost any time. The conditions result in part from the width of the streets, the chairman said some time ago when he was asked about the conditions.

The hazards in the neighborhoods of churches were not because of dangers inherent in the church properties, the commission chairman stated. On the contrary, the difficulty and danger arise in the great number of automobiles parked on the streets ranging out several blocks from each church. This, informed people have suggested, would be the danger — fire equipment could not thread its way through the streets with both sides filled with parked cars.

Not Cure-All

Recommendations believed to cover this situation probably will be submitted to the traffic commission at an early date, and it was said there will be open hearings for the benefit of the citizens of the area involved. Those in authority are believed to feel that one-way traffic for many streets will be necessary, while safety will compel the enacting of legislation forbidding parking in the highly congested areas on both sides of the street.

Recently young engineers from the Columbus Traffic Department were observed in the South Side area checking situations arising from two-sides-of-the-street conditions and determining the number of cars traveling hourly over, or passing, a given point.

Survey Necessary

"There can be no guessing about the number of automobiles passing a given point within a prescribed area," one engineer said when commenting on his job. Therefore, the engineers began the survey. The pictures tell the story of the means and results found in the survey, and why the survey is an urgent necessity.

They Are . . .?

Pictured below are Richard Meier and Carl D. Francis as they were engaged in setting up a counting, or registering, machine. Because the register, or "counter", is an expensive item, it must be "anchored." (Its illegal removal would result in almost instant apprehension by officers.) Although a question about the original cost of one of the automatic counters was not answered, it was stated that the cost is very high.

Proceedings

Having located a spot in a cross-roads area, the electric counter, or register, is anchored by being chained with chains heavy enough to repel the casual delinquent who might be tempted to steal it. Steel cables are attached to meter, safely securing it to the tree, thence running across the street, to be

Well Baby Clinic . . A United Appeal Service

A group of South Side women got a first-hand look at United Appeal agencies in action on Monday, May 12.

They had a special reason for visiting the agencies. The women are all volunteers for the residential division of the United Appeal and they wanted to see the work of the agencies they will be campaigning for this fall.

The tour was arranged by Mrs. Paul F. Wiess, 1788 Weiler-av, chairman of the South Side Area for the campaign. The volunteers visited three agencies: South Side Day Nursery, 255 Reeb-av; South Side Settlement House, 363 Reeb-av; and Goodwill Industries, 1331 Edgehill-rd.

At the settlement house, they saw a Well-Baby Clinic being conducted by the Columbus Public Health Nursing Service, another United Appeal service. The health clinic is held in the South Side agency each week to insure proper medical care for children in families that cannot afford a private physician.

Miss Lois Booker, associate director of the Public Health Nurses spoke briefly. She informed the residential leaders that nurses are active in the South Side the year around.

She said the nurses care for the sick in their homes, help in the prevention of communicable diseases, demonstrate care of newborn infants, assist in rehabilitation of patients and provide many other nursing services.

The following women took the tour: Mrs. William Johnson, 241 Moler-st; Mrs. Herman Naegle, 257 Moler-st; Mrs. Willard Miller, 842 Gilbert-st; Mrs. Ralph Rodgers, 1140 Wilson-av; Mrs. Michael Skobrak, 1593 Oakwood-av; Mrs. Robert Piatt, 662 S. Ohio-av; Mrs. R. Bengston, 990 Seymour-av; Mrs. Richard Smith, 1072 Berkley-rd, and Mrs. Carl Cannon, 1138 Wilson-av.

Mrs. Morris Battles, 1600 Doone-rd, chairman of the United Appeals' residential division, accompanied the South Side women on the agency tour.

At the nursery, the local leaders saw the program for the care of children with working mothers. Under expert supervision, 67 children were cared for in the nursery during the past year.

The settlement house is a community center for the whole family. Activities range from ceramics and cooking to woodworking and athletics.

Goodwill Industries is for the rehabilitation of handicapped men and women. They are trained in trades suitable to their aptitudes. The agency also provides a sheltered workshop for severely handicapped persons.

'Citizenship' Recognized At Barrett's Honor Assembly

Scholarship and special achievements were rewarded at an assembly program held Monday at Barrett Junior High School.

It was "Honor and Recognition Day" for the large student body. High point of the program was the awarding of the American Legion Citizenship Medal.

Each year at graduation time, Southway Post has a medal for the boy and girl in the graduating class who is considered by teachers and classmates to be "outstanding in qualities of competence, integrity and leadership"— qualities which make for good citizenship in school and community.

Bonnie Brown

Kenneth Lee

According to school custom the names of medal winners are not known in advance—not to the winners, nor to pupils, nor to teachers.

This season's choice among Barrett girls was Bonnie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brown, 716 Hanford-st. The young man chosen is Kenneth Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lee, 693 Columbus-st.

The two young medalists received their emblem of distinction amid delighted applause, from the hands of post commander Heinie Butler, who represented Southway Post.

Roy Shumate and Mrs. Mary Poetker, chairman of the Americanization committee, also were present to represent Southway Post.

Principal Kenneth Olbert conducted the program. Bill Hamler led the assembly in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Joyce Hannah and Brenda Keller represented the Y-Teen Club and presented the Y-Teen gift to the school.

Fund Grows

The South High School Student Council voted recently to contribute $300 towards the building of a Press Box at Mahaffey Stadium.

South is one of the few schools in the city that does not have a Press Box. The box is needed to provide comfortable facilities for the press, spotters, and announcers.

This fund was started by the January class of '57. To date $587 has been contributed toward the approximate $5,000 needed to complete the project. As the Press Box would be a valuable addition, the students of South High hope it will be completed in two years.

Esther Hepner was re-elected President of Y-Teens of South High School. The other cabinet members are Ann Pritt, vice president; Linda Junk, secretary; Carol Greiner, member at large, and Diana Griffiths, program chairman. Esther, was re-elected by a wide margin of votes cast by every member Y-Teens. Miss Elsie Friebel, advisor, kept the name of the president a secret until the meeting of May 7 and then announced the president's name. After Esther was sworn into office, she announced the names of the other cabinet members and they were also sworn in.

The South High Masquers had a signal honor bestowed upon them when they were accepted into the National Thespian Society recently. The local chapter will hold an initiation tomorrow night for the new Thespians, at a 6:30 outdoor buffet supper. Ron Link is the president of the South High actors group.

Mohawk School PTA will hold its election and installation of officers tonight at 8:30 p.m. Past presidents will be honored. The second annual music festival will be held.

We purposely held this item till the middle of the month, so that the various birthday celebrants wouldn't feel slighted. As in all families, one month seems to be a "birthday" month and so it is with the Thum family, of 430 Siebert-st. Two granddaughters (sisters) have May natal days. Dolores (Peaches) Thum, 737 Wager-st was seven years old on May 1. Her sister, Kathy Ann, will be three on May 20. Tom Thum, 886½ Kelton-av, added a new year on May 7, and his sister, Lorene McCracken, will do likewise on May 26.

One of the unexpected thrills we received at South High's Rose Prom last Friday was seeing two former educators of that school. Marguerite Fleming and Alva Edwards were there renewing acquaintances and it was so wonderful to see them. They are two ladies who have discovered the Fountain of Youth, for they don't look a day older than when we were trodding South High's halls as a student 24 years ago!

To these five couples go wishes for happiness, as they start a new way of life on May 17. The couples are Gladys Lauffer, 1123 James-rd, and Robert Deibel, 1177 Oakwood-av; Shirley Ann Claar, 804 Gray-st, and James Halriter, 681 E. Columbus-st; Mary Louise Galloway, 311 E. Markison-av, Anthony Dattilo, 2632 Perdue-av; Joyce Crary, 256 Deshler-av, Thomas Kavanaugh 760 E. Gates-st; Sandra Lee Groves, 653 Sheldon-av, Harold Ray Roshon, 739 Oak-st.

Guild 33, South Methodist Church, meets at 10 a.m. today at White Cross's Henderson Hall.

Bob Hoptry is to be congratulated for his May 12 birthday so here's the place to do it.

A little belatedly go birthday wishes to Dennis Leslein, for his May 3 birthday. Dennis is now a big boy of 9.

Southwood Church of Christ will hold a mother-daughter tea on Friday, May 23.

Thirty-two members were taken into the ladies section of the Columbus Maennerchor on Tuesday, May 13. Hostesses were Mrs. William Thiemt, Mrs. E. Rossbach, Mrs. C. Schiefer and Mrs. A. C. Schmidt.

Birthdays for the younger South Siders are these: Tim Stith, 33 Moler-st, May 18; Rodney McKinster, 232 E. Markison-av, May 19; Rhonda Embrey, 1743 S. 4th-st, May 22; Edward Drake, 76 Welch-av, May 15; Michall Kochenderfer, 158 Hinman-av, May 19; Patricia Greenlee, 1509 S. Fourth-st May 18; Helen Foreman, 1540 S. Fourth-st, May 20; Cathy Collins, 87 Southwood-av, May 16; Michael Maynard, 1421 S. High st, May 18.

Get well wishes to Judy Albrecht, 1621 S. Third-st, who has been in Doctor's Hospital for an appendectomy.

Arc VIII is sponsoring a progressive euchre party this evening at the City National Bank Building, 3100 W. Broad-st. Mrs. Ellwood Lucas, 301 E. Livingston-av is co-chairman of the project. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

The 88th birthday of Molly Driscoll was celebrated with a dinner in the home of Margaret Ellifritz, 334 Kossuth-st. Mrs. Ellifritz's mother, Bert Rigot, assisted her daughter. Also present was Anna Gulcher, a sister of Mrs. Driscoll. Miss Gulcher and Mrs. Driscoll are residents of 284 E. Jenkins-av. The birthday and dinner were both events of May 14.

Mrs. James E. Cassell, 1117 S. Champion-av, captain of Thea Court Patrol, Ladies Oriental Shrine of N.A., will leave on May 16 to attend the National Grand Council session being held in Phoenix, Ariz., May 18, through May 23.

A week from tomorrow, May 23, all South High alumni will have the opportunity to return to their high school alma mater to renew acquaintances and do a little reminiscing. The registration starts at 7:30, the nite club show is slated for 8:15 and at 9:30 Bob Huskey's orchestra will furnish the dance music.

Dick Mincer will be the MC for the "Club Bulldog." Incidentaly, Dick is the newly-elected president of the South High alumni group, so this will be a fine opportunity for South High grads to see the new president. Alumni dues are $1 and the dues received help purchase many worthwhile things for the school in addition to giving scholarships to outstanding undergraduates of the school. Do try to attend, but if a conflicting schedule makes it impossible, send in your dues, won't you? The committee hopes to see a nice, large crowd . . . it's more fun that way!

Two May 18 birthdays to be remembered, one for Virginia Michell, t'other for Sarah Storts.

Guess we're fresh out of news so we'll call it a day. For news, call us at HI. 4-1051 . . . we'll be listening.

From The Engineer's Seat

Suicide Occurs At Rail Crossings!

Dead Heat!

Most Ohioans would never think of going over Niagara Falls in a barrel. Yet many have no more compunction about the same flirtation with suicide in a car, shooting over railroad crossings seconds before an oncoming train.

A man going over the falls is news. People are astonished by the courage and dare-devil spirit of the adventure. All odds are against such tricks.

Shooting across a grade crossing seconds before hundreds of tons of steel roar by is not news to the railroad engineer. He is not astonished. He lives with this winking at suicide every day. When the race ends in a tie he knows the people in the automobile are no prettier sight than the man at the bottom of the falls.

The engineer thinks his story would be of news interest to a public which admires boldness and daring currently seen in the success of today's western heroes.

He thinks the story might save someone's life.

It's the story of time-fighting "heroes" gambling to save a few seconds at a train crossing. The added sensational interest: "these poor heroes are dying," the railroader says.

Once you hop aboard with the engineer you soon see his job is more than enjoying the beauty of the Ohio countryside, the fresh air, the corn fields and open pastures.

It isn't long before you catch sight of a car in the distance bearing down on the tracks ahead. It doesn't look as if he's going to stop. You catch your breath as the engineer blasts on the whistle. The car stops at the red flashing lights 100 feet down the track (we're doing 60), checks to see how close our train is . . . guns his motor, then zooms across the track with a puff of exhaust.

You catch yourself wondering what kind of a mental patient was in the driver's seat. But you soon find out he wasn't a mental case, he wasn't a daredevil, he wasn't a criminal, another bum or hot-rodder. He was simply one of the hundreds of rushing Ohioans who gamble with suicide and murder at grade crossings. One of the hundreds who have no respect or fear of trains.

From crossing to crossing you hold your breath in tense suspense. It's about like riding a roller-coaster in an amusement park. The engineer is constantly on edge.

One hundred thirteen, who would probably have liked to have lived were killed. Some 295 who were injured will have a train and track number seared into their memory for a lifetime.

Few motorists ease up when they see the advance warning signs posted on the highway 500 feet from the crossing. The state highway department thinks the signs are important. They think the taxpayer's life is worth $48,000, the cost of posting these signs at 2,400 grade crossings across the state. Yet . . . the blueprints for these signs are traced in tragedy and blood.

Only a half-dozen cars stop behind the bar painted on the pavement to provide the margin of safety.

Some even seem surprised the trains are running.

You begin to wonder about these drivers daring hopscotch with sudden death. It's elementary trains don't gallop or buck. Tons and tons of surging steel propelled by 20,000 horsepower can't dodge on a couple of three-inch rails.

If the car should stall on the tracks while the driver is shifting gears to gun up his motor . . . if his calculations of the train's distance and speed are in error . . . if he should suddenly become paralyzed with frozen fear—train hits car—the driver loses the sensation of having extra time for a lifetime.

You wonder about all of these "ifs." But you can't ask the dead if they wondered.

Between whistles you ask the engineer how he can take the nerve-shattering tension and strain. "You get used to it," he said. "It's part of the job. There's nothing we can do if they don't stop. You just get ready to duck in case any wreckage flies up against the windshield," he said rather philosophically.

Sympathetically you ask him if he ever slows down at crossings. "No, we'd be fools if we didn't keep the throttle open. We have to make our runs on time. This one is due in Richmond at 10:51 a.m. If we slowed down for every car that looks as if it weren't going to make it, we wouldn't get 20 miles."

The engineer is interested in saving lives. He does not cheapend the life of the motorist who gambles with his own, but he has to think of the safety of his train and more important, his own precious cargo of passengers.

You talk to the white collar railroad men at the regional office and find them just as realistic. One of them is hopping mad about letters that come in periodically from drivers suing the railroad for clipping them.

In many cases, he documents, the driver gets clipped after going through the red flashers. In some instances they nearly run over the watchmen.

"We put an average of $18,000 into red flashers at crossings. Sometimes they run as high as $60,000. We pay the watchmen pretty good to stand duty. And then some individuals have the nerve to sue us for clipping them."

The railroader said he'd like to give these kinds of drivers "open hand-engraved invitations" to have the personal job of helping to remove the human wreckage in an accident, as he has seen all too often.

The angry man behind the desk thought "it might shake them up." "Maybe they might decide to inconvenience themselves to stop and wait for us to go by.

"Maybe."

Hartley Newspapers Receive UA 'Thanks'

Hartley Publications were cited May 8 for their public service in behalf of the United Appeal. A certificate of merit was presented to C. C. Hartley, publisher, right, at an awards ceremony for press, radio and television. The award was made by Cynthia Mason, who attends Ohio Avenue Day Nursery, a UA supported service. Cynthia and two other children in her family attend the nursery every day while their mother, sole support of the family, works. Jack Renney, who conquered cancer, and Lt. Charles T. anchored on he other side of the highway. But, for safety's sake, along the way across the street the cable must be anchored to the concrete or street surface, and safely, so it can "report" to the engineers at the end of each 24 hours, disclosing the number of automobiles which have passed over it.

From data secured engineers determine where ehere shall be one-way parking and one-way travel.

Used To It

Actually, although the normal tendencies of persons is to protest against something which is new or strange to us, engineers know when a "must" is made known to the public, the one-way traffic and the one-side parking will be accepted by the public as the only substitute for over-jammed and unpassable streets.

At the End

At the end of the 24-hour period, the department's young engineers unlock the chain, withdraw the driven-in brad, wind up the cord, and proceed to the next area to be "measured" for street room of the proper size.

Coming Soon

Although no specific dates have been mentioned, it is generally believed that the work will start at an early date and, upon its completion, the regulations calling for one-way streets and one-side parking will go into effect.

Rogers Jewelers Begins Convenient Payment Service

Great Southern shoppers may now pay all utility bills at Rogers Jewelers store in the Great Southern shopping center. This announcement was made yesterday by Jack L. Ratner, president of Rogers Jewelers (since 1920 a Columbus family-owned jewelry firm).

This service is provided, effective immediately, according to Mr. Ratner, as a neighborly gesture to acquaint you with one of Great Southern's finest shops, and to save the time and money involved in a trip downtown or payments by mail. It also gives night shoppers the opportunity to pay gas, electric and telephone bills all day and until 9 p.m.

There will be no service charge for the payments of phone bills because the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. covers handling costs by such authorized agents as Rogers.

A handling fee of five cents per payment will be charged on each gas or electric payment. Utility bills are also payable now at Rogers' Graceland and Town and Country shopping center stores.

The downtown Rogers store is located at 16 South High-st. in the Huntington Bank Building.

South Revives

The Bulldogs finally snapped out of their losing ways May 7 as they handed the Eastmoor Warriers their sixth straight defeat on the Weyant-av diamond.

The Bulldogs' hitting attack clicked for 12 safeties and their pitching was good, Doug Childers turning in his first win in the City League.

South looked like it had found its feet again as the defensive, hitting, and pitching were vastly improved. Dick Guyer and Chris Scheiderer each had three hits apiece to pace Bulldog hitters. Dave Williams led the losers with three hits in four turns.

Knee Injured

Bulldog third baseman Mike Bordy suffered an injury to his knee in the Eastmoor-South game at Eastmoor May 7. Mike went after a foul ball in the fourth, slid on the wet ground and fell into a drag.

An ambulance was called which took him to St. Anthony Hospital where five stitches were made in the injured knee. It was also x-rayed to determine if there was any further injury.

Mike hopes to be back in the line-up soon but will be out of action for about a week or 10 days. Although his knee was stiff and walking was painful he attended regular classes the next day.

SCIOTO TRAIL

By Elizabeth Smith
HI. 3-1184

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Freshour were hosts to 22 young people of the Y.F. group for Sunday evening supper, recreation and program. A nominating committee was appointed and plans are being made for several of the young people to attend the camp session at Otterbein College.

Pat Smith, president of the sophomore class at Marion Franklin, wishes to thank everyone who had any part at all in making the class bake sale the success that it was. The bakers, the sellers, the boys who picked up the baked goods and the buyers were all greatly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Boren and sons, Dennis and David, spent the week-end in Portsmouth visiting both their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Wedebrook and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Boren. Sunday was spent cooking out and doing some fishing at the Roosevelt game preserve.

Danny Davis of Colton-rd initiated his new fishing reel on Thursday by catching an 18-inch long 2¾ pound pickerel in Miller's Lake near West Jefferson.

I must have some calls with news if I am to keep this column going.

New Home Owner Service At Smith Dodson

Richard Smith, vice president of the Smith Dodson Company announced here today that their company has become an active member of the Home Improvement Council.

The Council is a national, industry-wide organization to help homeowners protect their homes from costly deterioration, and to help them take specific, sound steps to increase the value of their homes.

Richard Smith pointed out that one of the major purposes of the Council and its members is to help local families visualize ways they can make their homes more comfortable, more convenient, more attractive to live in and easier to maintain.

"So often local people see exciting ideas for remodeling or redecorating their homes in the big national ads and magazine pictures, but have no idea how to get the same effect in their own homes," Richard Smith continued, "Nor do they have any idea of where to turn first for help locally or how to proceed. The Home Improvement Council has been set up to answer these needs for local people through special community projects and a vast new educational program."

"In becoming a member of the Council," Richard Smith said, "our company has pledged to be of helpful service to every homeowner, no matter his home improvement needs."

New Books On Library Shelves

Steve Allen's recently published book, "The Girls on the Tenth Floor" is now available at the Parsons Branch Library. This collection of clever short stories by the well-known television personality includes a variety of themes ranging from farce to violence. Each story displays a unique feeling for words and excellent planning.

"Cheers, Major Barlow," a new novel by William Fain, is centered on the public relations office of the US Air Force in London just before D-Day of World War II. Fain's book is an entertaining story of the confusion and excitement of the times as well as a character sketch of the unusual Major Barlow. The major, a Texan, is a perfect paradox. His stupidity and his brilliance, his cruelty and his tenderness make this a truly amusing story.

A pair of friendly ghosts are the main characters in Manning Cole's delightful new book, "Come and Go." James and Charles Latimer, who died in 1870, decide to pay a visit to earth to aid their unlucky kinsman, Richard Scoby. A hilarious comedy follows in their complications with Scoby's enemies in Paris and in his encounter with a beautiful American girl.

"The Greengage Summer" by Rumer Godden, is a heart-warming novel of a family of five English children who are left on their own in a small town on the Marne river in France. Readers will enjoy the charming descriptions of the children's impressions of the world about them. Godden's book will soon be on the shelves at Parsons.

James Luzader Puts Gloves On Hit Record Biz

"Ups and downs are old stuff to professional fighters both the good and bad.

James R. Luzader, native South Sider, and now proprietor of the Hill Billy Record at 242 E. Main-st, can spin ups and downs stories learned first hand in the tough structural steel busin[illegible]

Jim, who lives at 1324 Gilbert-st, is currently slugging it out in the spirited and competitive hit record and radio business. He's up now . . . plans to stay there.

Jim Luzader — 1927

Jim Luzader was one of Columbus better light weights back in 1927-28, fought with his brother, Fritz (now deputy sheriff) also a football star in the old days, and Louis, also a local referee for a while.

Jim's first big "down" came a few years ago when an accident suffered in construction work knocked him off his good legs, put him permanently on crutches.

A fighter once . . . a fighter always. The span of years that marks fight nights at the old Jungle Imp (a club on the site of the new Bobbert's Grill), and the relatively quiet life as a record salesman, have not dimmed Jim's desire for a good scrap.

Which is to say that the Hill Billy Record Shop is currently waging a price war. Consider this: for a limited time, 89-cent 45 rpm hit records are going for only 59 cents. Emerson portable radios (battery equipped) are going for only $20.95.

Said Jim: "Both are values found nowhere else . . . the batteries in the radio are worth $3, the radios are worth $30.95 . . . the hit records are priced the lowest anywhere."

Good fight? The Hill Billy Record Shop has ALL popular records, wall plaques, salt and pepper novelties, jewelry, watches, radios and phonographs, magazines.

To repeat, native Southsider James R. Luzader is doing business at 242 E. Main-st, has all kinds of extra good specials . . . is waging a price fight right now.

Dinner will be served at 6:30, followed by installation of the new officers for the coming year. Highlights of the district operations will be discussed and plans for scouting activities in the district presented.

Harold Welch has been elected to serve as new district chairman to succeed Edwin H. Adolph, retiring chairman.

Gra-Y Softball

Last week's rain postponed the Tuesday Gra-Y games, but on Thursday the competition was keen.

The Heyl Satellites turned loose their big guns as they won over the Stewart Indians 17-7. Both teams played close ball the first few innings, but then Stewart's errors began to change the picture. In the other game, the Deshler Panthers beat the Heyl Pork Chops, 2-0, in a fast and well-played ball game. Deshler's win puts them in a first-place tie with the Reeb Musketeers. This week's game decides the winners as Reeb and Deshler meet.

Civic Leaders Look At Cleveland Shoppers Mart

Cleveland stores were modernized at what would normally be the rear of the buildings. Modernistic appointments were the vogue on all buildings abutting the parking lot. Slow speed lanes were provided and wide sidewalks were available between stores and parking lots.

Parking space for 367 autos was built and well lighted, and enclosed with an 8-ft. steel wire fence to eliminate traffic hazards. Completely paved and futuristic malls provided for easy travel from parking lots to stores not only abutting on lot but to other merchants in the general area.

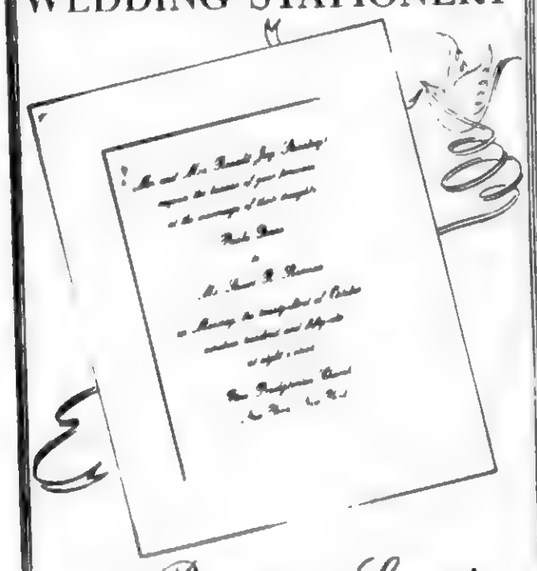
Evangelical Program Is City Wide

The Southwood Church of Christ is participating in a city-wide missionary rally being sponsored by Churches of Christ throughout Columbus on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday evenings, and on Sunday, May 18. In this rally, various missionaries will present their work to a different congregation each evening. Opening the services at Southwood on Wednesday evening was Paul Pratt, missionary recruit to Japan. He will leave for that country this summer. Thursday evening, Edgar Nichols, who has served on the mission field in Burma and also in Japan, will present the work in those areas.



Charles Troyer, who has spent five years in Italy and plans to leave from New York Aug. 1 to return to that field, will be at Southwood Friday evening. On Saturday, the missionaries participating in this city-wide rally will meet with the ministers of the various congregations for a picnic lunch at Whetstone Park. On Sunday morning, Eugene Morgan, missionary to Mexico, will speak in the morning worship period at Southwood. Time of the evening services will be 7:30 p.m., and the Sunday morning worship is at 10:30 a.m. This series of services will be an interesting and inspirational experience, Minister Ellis E. Werner said, as these men speak from a wealth of opportunities and obstacles they have encountered "in their efforts to carry the Gospel to those of other races and nations."

Southside Merchants Mean Business... Make Plans For Greater Shopping Service

Men interested in better shopping service to South Siders toured one of Cleveland's newest off-street parking and shoppers' marts last week.

Fourteen civic leaders, business men, and council president W. Wesley Llewellen made an all-day inspection tour of a site similar (in parking problems) to areas in Columbus' South Side which for years have been called "neighborhood shopping centers."

President Tom Sharp, South Side Business and Industrial Association, this week summarized objectives, said Sharp:

"I feel that in taking this trip we have shown some of the city officials of Columbus that we mean business — that we are not only asking for something for ourselves but are providing a nucleus for a modern approach to saving the older established business districts, enriching the tax duplicate of the city by saving them, not squeezing them out with programs aimed only for the benefit of downtown sections."

The trip to Cleveland established the following points, according to Bob Horowitz, member of the SSB&IA: (1) Assessment parking is feasible and practical. (2) smaller neighborhoods tend to grow stronger with assistance by city planners and add to the general welfare of the city. (3) general property values increase due to cleaning up of the area. (4) traffic conditions improve due to increased off-street parking facilities along main streets of travel.

The fourteen members of Columbus' official family were guests of the SSB&IA, traveled to Cleveland via Lake Shore Transit system to study assessment parking lots. Upon reaching Cleveland they proceeded to 131-st and Miles (which is an area almost identical to the South Side area) where they were met by Stanly Nemic, license and assessment director of Cleveland, Thomas W. Malik Cleveland parking coordinator, and Clyde Scott, Cleveland's assistant traffic engineer.

The Cleveland city officials provided a guided tour throughout the area discussing and answering questions put to them by the group, about operations and maintenance of parking lots.

Then several of the merchants in the area were visited in order to get their viewpoints. All merchants reported that the lot was a tremendous assist in maintaining their business area. "It has helped all merchants on both sides of the block," they said.

A complete folder of information was provided by the officials giving informative data on all phases of the operation.

"Attached hereto is the new program adopted relative to off-street neighborhood parking," the message said. "IT IS THE DESIRE OF THE ADMINISTRATION AND COUNCIL TO MOVE AS RAPIDLY AS POSSIBLE TO ESTABLISH NEIGHBORHOOD PARKING LOTS." Much will depend upon the cooperation of the neighborhood property owners and merchants themselves, the Cleveland people believe. The booklet explains in detail exactly what the merchants and property owners must do to get parking lots constructed in their areas as soon as possible. Robert J. Kelly, commissioner of traffic and engineering and parking, and John J. McCormick, director of the department of public safety, prepared the information.

On succeeding pages of the report they went on to use such quotes as: (1) "The need and urgency for off-street parking in the neighborhood's shopping areas has been established." (2) "The program is intended to provide a new means for obtaining needed parking in shopping areas where the impact of present day traffic volumes has limited the availability of curb parking, and where adjoining property has not been readily available for parking, and where the economic health of the business of the areas has been threatened."

The entire program boils down to cooperation of merchants and city council to save our established neighborhoods by progress through planning, the Cleveland report suggests.

The program as outlined in the report lends itself to usefulness in all areas of the city as well as the South Side. Some of the questions and answers asked were:

Question: Are there any other parking lots like this in Cleveland? Answer: At present, no, but there are four more such operations being worked on at this time and will be carried through as soon as possible.

Question: Under what plan are the merchants assessed for this property? Answer: Each adjoining merchant is assessed on his tax duplicate over a 20-year period, with no interest.

Question: Are residential homes in the neighborhood assessed. Answer: No.

Question: Do other merchants in proximity assist in paying costs? Answer: Yes, under one of several plans.

Question: Has other business moved in to the area since completion of lot? Answer: Yes, one retail food chain built a new building close by and is grossing over $250,000 per year.

When asked by Tom Sharp just what direct results can be attributed to this parking lot, the answer was: (1) increase of revenue due to increased tax value, (2) general cleanliness of area, (3) saving of established businesses, thus saving tax dollars, (4) cutting down of crime in the area due to good lighting.

The group was provided with lunch at Stauffers Restaurant and toured to Smithville Inn in the evening for a chicken dinner.

Meetings Slated

The Ladies' Aid and WCTU of the Washington Avenue EUB Church will meet at the church Thursday, May 15, with a covered-dish dinner at noon.

On Monday, May 19, the Ladies Bible Class and the Men's Bible Class will meet at the church at 7:30 p.m.

Private Play Area Keeps Children Off Streets

Clean-up time is safety time, and its a wise parent who takes this opportunity to check on where the children are playing. Even the most careful motorist can't always swerve to miss darting childish figures. The safest place for children is in their back yard or neighborhood play areas.

Almost any yard provides enough space for horseshoes or croquet. And for your make-believers, an old blanket, sheet or spread discovered in your attic clean-up will become a "gang" tent, providing much adventure and amusement. Some of the dilapidated wooden furniture discarded from basement or garage can be given a coat of paint and then it will provide the furnishings for a wonderful outdoor play house. A bushel basket mounted on the garage still provides wonderful basketball practice, with your special team member out of the street.

If your neighborhood is clearing a vacant lot, a rough baseball diamond or a football field is a possibility. Family garden plots, with a friendly rivalry among neighbors for the fastest growing or biggest flowers and vegetables, will stimulate some youthful farming.

Remember, one of the purposes of Clean Up Week is promotion of safety. A bit of thinking and a few "props" can transform your yard or neighborhood lot into your children's favorite playground — and the dangerous street will be deserted as a play haunt.

Lieut. Young Ends Study

Second Lt. Charles W. Young, 28, the son of Mrs. Bernice E. Young, 465 E. Gates-st, recently completed the officer basic course at Army Armor School, Fort Knox, Ky.

The course provided the newly commissioned officer with a working knowledge of an armor leader's duties and responsibilities. Lieutenant Young holds the Purple Heart and the Combat Infantryman Badge among his decorations. He is a 1949 graduate of Columbus South High School.

A plastic coat of arms, eight feet high, seven feet wide and five inches thick will decorate the entrance to the British Government pavilion at the Brussels (Belgium) world fair.

Seniors Elect New Officers

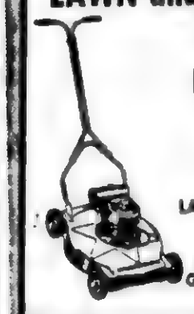
Two sets of officers have just been elected to leadership in the Senior Citizens Recreation Center.

The Advisory Council at the annual meeting on Monday chose Rabbi Nathan Zeiler and Mrs. Carl Williams as their co-chairmen for a second year, and the senior members at their semi-annual selection on Wednesday chose the eighty-year-old John Bodiker, 113 Franklin-av, to be their president.

Other senior officers heading the Senior Council in shaping activities of Senior Citizens are William J. Blackburn, Jr., first vice-president; James Galloway, second vice-president; Mrs. Seymour Taylor and Mrs. Samuel Hindman, as corresponding and recording secretaries; Mrs. Mary Combine, treasurer. Mrs. Clara Dawson continues for a second term as chairman of the nominating committee.

Mrs. John W. Klakes was elected secretary of the Advisory Council, and to fill out the roster of 24 community representatives, Mrs. Robert Lazarus, Jr., was chosen along with Msgr. Lawrence Corcoran, Dr. Boynton Merrill, and Messrs. Albert Giles and Ed Wagner.

Second Anniversary



The second anniversary of the Senior Center was also observed in the Wednesday membership meeting. There are now, according to reports given at the meeting, more than 600 members who have reached the age of 60 and up. Appearing on the program were Rabbi Zelizer and N. J. Barack, superintendent of the Columbus Recreation Department, under whose auspices the Senior Center operates, who presented first drawings of the proposed new Senior Center building to be integrated with the two apartment buildings for older people projected for the immediate future by the Metropolitan Housing Authority for the near west side adjacent to Sunshine Park.

WHAT'S BEHIND THE PRICE OF BEEF???

There's plenty of talk lately about the price of beef, and lots of folks are asking, "Who's to blame for the current prices?"

Let's look at the reasons behind the present beef stiuation. Then you, as a consumer, make your own decision about who's to blame.

We usually get clues or advanced warnings about changes in prices and supplies of food. Our first clues to the present situation came last year during the serious drought in our country.

Cattle ranges became so short of water and grass that producers were forced to drastically reduce their herds and send large numbers of animals to market. This brought larger-than normal supplies of beef to market and consumers enjoyed very low prices.

Supply and Demand — Recent weather conditions have been more favorable to the production of grass and feed. This situation has encouraged cattlemen to hold more of their stock to rebuild their herds. Also, they are feeding animals to heavier weights to increase supplies. Obviously this causes a temporary reduction in the supply of beef and with it a period of higher prices. In other words, we see the economic law of supply and demand in action.

There's more to tell about demand, too. We're a nation of beef eaters. In recent years we have had a change in appetite and as individuals we've been eating more beef than in earlier years. Rapidly increasing population has also created a greater demand on our reduced beef supply.

So who's to blame? Have you made your decision? Actually, no one is to blame for our present beef situation. We're in a period of adjustment. Increasing the size of herds means good future supplies of hamburgers, roasts and steaks. It takes time to get an animal ready for market. When they move to market you'll see the law of supply and demand work in the other direction — toward lower prices

FRESH PINEAPPLE TIME

Our markets offer fresh pineapple the year 'round, but the peak of the season is mid-point this week. Cuba is shipping the Red Spanish variety now. Mexico will soon put its Sugar Loaf variety on our produce counters. Sugar Loaf is sweeter than the Cuban pineapples.

If frozen pineapple is a favorite with your family now is a good time to stock the home freezer or locker with pineapple.

Two Day Open House At Lockbourne

Waving a "welcome salute" to Lockbourne's Open House and Rodeo to be held at Lockbourne May 24-25, 1/Lt's Jack "Arizona" Ward, Frank "Tex" Wisneski and Brernie "Nevada" Lukasik, Jet Jockeys of the 87st Fighter Interceptor Squadron get in the mood for this weekend's rodeo.

"Ride 'Em Cowboy" will be the cry at Lockbourne AFB on Saturday and Sunday, May 24 and 25, as a genuine western style rodeo is combined with an air show during a two-day open house program at the base.

The air show will start at noon each of the two days. Visitors will be treated to displays involving one-horsepower in the rodeo to thousands of horsepower in the jet aricraft maneuevers.

"This is being planned as Lockbourne's biggest event of the year," Colonel William J. Jowdy, base commander, stated.

The two-day program is being designed to be of interest to all ages. In the modern vein, Lockbourne pilots will demonstrate low altitude formation flying, low altitude refueling operations and jet assisted take-off.

The gates of the base will be opened to the public at 10 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Displays of aircraft and other Air

Mrs. Gerlach Honored For Gift Of Time

Mrs. William Gerlach, 496 Frebis-av, who has given more than 100 hours of voluntary service at the county children's home, Franklin Village, for the past three consecutive years, was among those honored at the annual Volunteer Recognition Tea Sunday, May 18, in the YWCA. The tea was given by the Volunteer Service Bureau.

Presentations

The 100-hour awards were presented by Mrs. Albert Blank chairman of the Volunteer Bureau Advisory Committee, to volunteers who served as drivers, clerical workers, receptionists, typists, and friendly visitors. Others who received awards acted as group leaders, child-care helpers, craft teachers, public health nurse's aides, and in many other capacities.

The volunteers work through the Volunteer Service Bureau, a department of the Council of Social Agencies. The Bureau is the coordinating department which finds workers to assist agencies and finds worth-while projects for civic organizations and clubs. It recruits new volunteers and assists in their orientations and training.

The Volunteer Service Bureau, now five years old, was established as a separate department of the Council in 1956. It is headed by Miss Helen Bowers.

Three New Buildings Will Add 6,000 Square Feet

Florist Louis Whitacre and daughter, Louise, inspect the new floral facilities to be in use soon.

Louis Whitacre of 158 Southwood-av, has announced that a new addition to the business will be completed during August. The three new structures will add 6,000 square feet to the floor of his greenhouses.

The increased floor space will mean more flowers grown, and will expedite the services of the institution. Asked to explain why he would add such an expensive phase to his business, he replied that the explanation is simple enough—that the business had greatly overgrown the productive capacity of the greenhouses now in use. "The only solution was the building of more floor space, and the three new greenhouses are the answer," Florist Whitacre told the editor of the South Side Leader."

Story Of The Past Brings Memories Of 83 Years

Nostalga stirred in the heart and mind of Walter Braun of 1083 S. High-st when he read the story of Stewart Elementary School recently printed in the South Side Leader.

Mr. Braun, as told in his letter to the Leader editor, started his school career in September of 1875—83 years ago. But read his interesting letter:

The Letter

To the Editor,
"South Side Leader":

In your May 8 issue you have an article on the Stewart Avenue School and this brought back memories. I started to school September, 1875, at the New Street School (now Stewart Avenue). There was one building, built, I think, in 1873. There was no east entrance and the girls' yard and entrance were on the south side and the boys' on the north. There were six grades, four primary and two grammar. My first teacher, D primary, was Dora Schatz, who married Joseph Faltenbach who later was U.S. Consul at Berne, Switzerland. She was a very motherly person and a good teacher and we remained friends until her death.

My C primary teacher was Johanna Viet, whose sister, Frieda, taught at the Third Street School (Sycamore and Third). My B primary teacher was Rose or Rosa Andriessen, a good teacher and lovable person who married the principal, Anton Hungelman, about the middle of the school year. She was succeeded by a Miss Wasson.

My A primary teacher was Antoinette Kiefer, a very strict, but good teacher. I have a few trinkets given me by her for good scholarship. The D grammar teacher was Flora Hesse, also a very good teacher, who used to use my young abilities to help her correct the arithmetic slates.

The noon hours were from 12 to 2 and I had to report at 1 o'clock for this work. Occasionally I received a kiss for my efforts. The principal, Anton Hnngleman, taught the sixth grade or C grammar. He was a stern person and strict disciplinarian and used the whip or cane when deemed necessary, for all grades. I still think this is the way to handle bad scholars. He used to have me monitor the class when he visited the other grades. I recall what a task it was for a youngster to try to control boys and girls his own age. I passed on to the Third Street B Grammar, where my teachers were the principal,

City Schools' 'Starters' Need Enrolling

Kindergarten and first-grade children who will start to the Columbus public schools next fall should be registered before school is out this spring, Superintendent Harold H. Eibling has reminded parents today, in a statement.

Although the registration and health appraisal of these children began early in March, many parents have not called the elementary school in their neighborhood to make registration plans, Dr. Eibling said.

Any child who will be five years old before Dec. 31 may be registered for kindergarten. Children who will be six years old on or before Dec. 31 must be registered for first grade if they are not enrolled in a kindergarten of the Columbus Public Schools at the present time.

Parents should call the elementary school in their district. This call should be made as soon as possible, so arrangements can be made for children and parents to meet with school nurses for a conference and health appraisal.

Registration can be completed more quickly if parents take an original birth certificate and verification of diphtheria and polio immunization to the school when they register their child, the statement said.

Birth certificates for children born in Columbus may be obtained at the City Health Department, 181 S. Washington-blvd.

Poppy Sale May 23 And 24

The Columbus area will bloom with red paper poppies when the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion Auxiliaries hold their annual sale on Friday and Saturday, May 23 and 24, according to the publicity chairman of these two organizations, Mrs. Robert Zulauf of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Mrs. Clyde Shamberger of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The little flowers have been made by disabled veterans at the Poppy Shop at the Sandusky Hospital, Sandusky, O., for the American Legion Auxiliary and at Dayton V. A. Hospital for the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Poppies are made by many veterans who cannot leave their beds, while others sit in wheel chairs at their bedsides or go to poppy rooms to do the work.

The poppy money is used for rehabilitation work at the Chillicothe and Dayton V. A. veterans' hospitals as well as Columbus State Hospital, Benjamin Franklin Tuberculosis Hospital, and Alum Crest Hospital. A share of the poppy proceeds is used for relief work among the needy families and orphans of veterans in Columbus and Franklin County.

Hundreds of adult volunteer workers and high school girls will participate in the joint poppy sale of these two service organizations, the American Legion Auxiliary and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Mrs. Robert Dunlap heads the drive for the American Legion Auxiliary and Mrs. J. Shelley LaMonte is general chairman for the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Spook Beckman An Auctioneer At Mercy Strawberry Fete

The incomparable Spook Beckman will be auctioneer at the auction sale the Guilds of Mercy Hospital will sponsor at the Annual Strawberry Festival set for June 4.

This will be one of the main features of Mercy Hospital's Strawberry Festival. There will also be featured a curb service carry-out of ice cream with strawberries and cake. Advance ticket sales indicate a huge crowd, it was said at Mercy.

All proceeds from this event will be used by the Guilds of Mercy Hospital for improvement of facilities of the institution.

Group Praised As Sponsor Of Leader Advertisement

Recently the South Side Leader and the S. E. Rural-Urban News sponsored an advertisement in behalf of the Council for Retarded Children, Inc.

Under a later date, Mrs. Wilbur E. Crist, executive secretary, wrote to the South Side Business and Industrial Association, 1542 Parsons-av, commending the two Hartley newspapers for making the advertisement possible.

The Letter:

"Dear Sirs:

"On behalf of the ARC women's clubs and the Council for Retarded Children, I wish to extend our heartfelt indebtedness for being a sponsor of the full-page community service advertisement announcing "Operation Rag Drag" which appeared in the Rural Urban News and the South Side Leader, Apr. 17.

"Although this project was very well publicized in all weekly and daily newspaper, your ad was one of the most effective inducements presented.

"Let me assure you "Operation Rag Drag" was worthy of your participation. Since a fire in January left our pupils without permanent quarters, the two-day, county-wide rag collection was conducted by the ARCs to help raise funds for a school for retarded children in Franklin County.

"In expressing our gratitude, I can only say the recent strides toward a universal understanding of the problems of mental retardation can be largely attributed to interest similar to that displayed by your organization.

"Parents and friends of retarded children everywhere offer you their sincere thanks."

Hospitals' Help Need Increasing

The Columbus Hospital Federation will soon begin a coordinated recruitment for Health and Hospital Career Personnel.

Many employment opportunities are available to people with varying degrees of training. The Federation is cooperating with the Ohio State Employment Service and the United States Employment Service both operating state-wide and nation-wide listings of openings in the hospital field. This service is free to applicants and employers.

It is estimated that at least one thousand new hospital jobs will be available in Columbus by the end of 1960 because of expanded hospital facilities.

One of the important jobs which can be filled by women with very little formal education is that of the practical nurse. More than 300 practical nurses will be needed in Franklin County by 1960. A one-year course for practical nurses is available at the Practical Nurse School of Columbus and Franklin County, which is operated by the Columbus Board of Education. During eight months of this training, students receive $75 per month compensation.

Business Notes

CHAD'S SHOE REPAIR is a member of the South Side Leader advertising family. The son of the late Jesse Chadwick has opened his father's shoe repair shop on Parsons-av by announcing a very low special on ladies' heel repair in this issue.

FOUNTAIN DRUG STORE of Parsons-av, is presently engaged in remodeling the store and will hold a big open house in the very near future. Watch for it.

ARDENE'S FLOWER SHOP, located on City Park, is now holding classes three times a week for those who are interested in learning how to make wood-fibre flowers.

EMORY RUSE of REUTTER FURNITURE SHOP, had a slight heart attack this past week, but is now able to see visitors and will soon be back on the local scene. Best wishes for a speedy recovery.

BRENNEMANN'S PHARMACY on Whittier-st had a wrong phone number on their ad last week. The correct one is listed today. Brennemann's Pharmacy records all calls no matter what time of the day and your prescriptions are filled as soon as the store opens.

MRS. HENRY of Fountain Drug store is continuing her late husband's interest in local sports. She recently presented jackets to her championship bowling team in appreciation for their sports achievements.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Vegetables — Asparagus, cucumbers, green beans, frozen peas.

Fruits — Bananas, Valencia oranges, pineapple, canned apricots.

Other Foods—Fryers, ground beef, ham, large eggs, dairy products.

FOOD BUYING IS BIG BUSINESS

Today's family spends about one-fourth of its disposable income for food. Retail food sales last year totaled almost four billion dollars.

To get the most from these food dollars many decisions must be made. While more food for less money is the aim of many, it is not the only measure of wise food shopping. Family satisfaction may be more important to you. Many factors affect wise food buying. Used together, these factors can result in both greater mealtime for your family and save you dollars.

Buy in Season—Seasonal buying offers many advantages such as economy, larger supplies, better quality, high nutritive value, and less waste.

When and Where—The right time to shop depends upon needs, demands on time, cost of goods, and community conditions. You'll find your shopping easier if you choose a day and a time to shop when the selection offered by your store is normally large and of best possible quality, and when you can make savings.

Food prices vary from store to store, sometimes from day to day during the week. When choosing a store look for economy, quality, variety, location, convenience, parking facilities and employee courtesy. Credit availability may be important in the event you might wish to use it.

A shopping list will save both time and money, even if you find it necessary to make substitutions while in the store.

Food buying skill is developed through improved buying practices. It's a bit like the slogan, "Learning to do by doing." The satisfactions that come as a result of good money management will reward the effort it takes to become a better food shopper.

Jim Wagner of the South Side YMCA was the caller.

Lions Ladies Aid Y-Fund

The proposed South Side Branch YMCA building was a step nearer reality with the presentation of $300 and of a $500 pledge by the Southeast Lions Women's Auxiliary. Accepting the check, above, is M. V. (Cap) Hoover, executive secretary of the branch. The new facility is to be located at Jenkins and Sixth. sts, following the current YW-YMCA Development Fund Drive. Presenting the check are, left to right, Mrs. J. E. Powell, 1086 Oakwood, project committee member; Mrs. Art Deal, Jr., Asheville, president of the Auxiliary; Hoover, and Mrs. Floyd Lemmon, 2050 Linwood, chairman of the project committee. The Lions' group of about 74 women has been organized for eight years and contributes to various projects in the Columbus southeast community. Mrs. Deal said the club's money would be directed to the proposed South Side facility to cost $350,000. Total goal of the drive city-wide is $2,520,000.

The purpose of the Girls' Council is to set examples of high moral, social, and scholastic standards for the high school girls.

The council is limited to 15 seniors and one junior girl.

Assembly

By Donna Munn

On Monday, May 12, the annual school awards assembly was held in the high school auditorium.

Iris DeWees and Dave Nippert received scholastic honors. They were named as class valedictorian and salutatorian respectively. They were also given partial scholarships to Findlay College.

Athletic awards were made to Fred Bowles as the year's outstanding football player and to Rod Buccilla as the outstanding basketball player of the year.

A Resume

Barrett Junior High School's unbeaten nine took Franklin Junior High for a final score of 10 to 6 Thursday, May 8.

Barrett's track squad outpointed Roosevelt at a meet last Thursday, May 8. Ron Bell was Barrett's high point man, Gerald Martin was second, followed by Bill Lawrence and Bill Steward, tied for third place with the points. Mayfield, Loska, Streaty, Schundlemeier, Logan, Steward, Bell, Goodwin, Martin, Pollard, Wilson, Hicks, and Lawrence make up the Barrett track squad.

Kenneth Mills, Barrett Junior High School spelling champ; Ferd Gaulkle, scholar and athlete; Robert Bostwick, science addict; Deedee Gehl and Sharon Roshon, scholars and musicians, went with Principal Kenneth Olbert as guests to a dinner of the recently organized South Side Optimist Club. Mr. Olbert's purpose and intention was to demonstrate before this community group what possibilities exist and are being realized in the school children of the South Side. Kenneth Mills didn't spell, and Ferd Gaulke didn't shoot baskets, but Robert Bostwick and Deedee Gehl did demonstrate science projects which worked. Deedee Gehl and Sharon Roshon played a clarinet and piano number, and Deedee played on oboe, sax, and flute.

The Optimists made their guests heartily welcome, and the students enjoyed the visit, Barrett's spokesman said.

Gretchen Stimpfle was given a DAR award based upon her proficiency in American history and government. She also received a citizenship citation from the Danforth Foundation, as did Charles Boren.

Church Softball

Rain postponed the starting nights of the Monday Junior and Girls' Leagues in the South Side Branch YMCA Inter-Church Softball Program. The Wednesday Junior and Intermediate Leagues did get started, although the Intermediates had only two games because of not enough players on two of the teams.

Preceding the play, on their respective nights, the teams all gathered in the center of the Southwood Field, where Howard Henry offered some words of welcome and emphasized the meaning of sportsmanship in the leagues. Rev. Paul C. Kaefer and Rev. Carl E. Hicks offered prayers to officially open the leagues on Wednesday and Thursday nights respectively.

Two good games in the Wednesday Junior openers were Emmanuel Lutheran vs. Thurman Methodist and Southwood Church of Christ against St. Paul Lutheran. Emmanuel won its game, 8-7, as Joe Middendorf and Bob West got successive hits in the seventh inning to push across the winning run. Southwood beat St. Paul Lutheran, 8-5, with a five-run first inning. St. Leo started again where they left off last year by handing South Methodist a 22-0 loss. St. John E&R also turned on the steam, beating St. Paul E&R 22-6.

The Intermediate League opened with South Methodist beating Hungarian E&R 6-3. Jerry Cook hit a home-run for the winners. St. Paul E&R beat last year's champs, Emmanuel Lutheran, 7-3, in a good game all the way. Tom Bolen got the only homer for the winners. Oakwood won its first game by forfeit as Southwood Church of Christ dropped from the league. Livingston also won by forfeit as Gates-Fourth Methodist had a shortage of players.

Ticklers . . . . by George

Dear Son

Television Now Goes To Chittlin'

Chittlin' Switch,
Monday afternoon

Dear Jason:

Well, I've really got some news for you this week. I've been expecting a letter from you all week but suppose you are busy steering that big cruiser around.

To start off with, Chittlin' Switch isn't so far behind the times now. We've got television and so Paw bought a television set. Of course, the TV station is in Polecat Ridge but it comes in real clear. Your little sister, Astigma, really takes each program just as though the people on the screen were folks she knows. The other night she was crying so hard I thought her heart would break. She told me the story she had just watched on television was very, very sad. It seems that the ending of the story she was interested in was a real tear jerker. The lady died and the man had to go back to his wife.

I really don't know what will ever become of your Uncle Lushmore. He's still running around nights, drinking, and going with wild, wild women. He's got 30 days so often from Judge Potts that they're thinking of naming a month after him. The other day Lush was passing through Goon Gulch and stopped into the Bon Ton Saloon for a drink. Lush ordered his favorite cocktail: about a pint of straight booze in a tall glass with one ice cube. The bartender, being a friendly man, asked Lush if he'd like a twist of lemon peel in it. Your Uncle told him that if and when he wanted lemonade, he'd ask for it.

Your Paw and I went to a carnival at Pasture Flats, and he took me into the tent where they had a knife thrower who worked with his wife. I was very disappointed as the man had a very bad aim. He threw 50 knives at her and missed her every time.

The hospital is just filled with people you know. The old maid school teacher is laid up with internal injuries. She was taking a milk bath when the cow slipped on the bar of soap and landed on her back.

Uncle Lushmore landed in Ward H with a possible fractured skull. He was hit by a man who was driving his car down a big broad highway on a clear day. However, the man couldn't see Lushmore because his windshield was all cluttered up with "Drive Safely" stickers. They've now passed a new law in Chittlin' Switch. Any car going over 35 miles an hour must have a driver.

I understand that they've got a wonderful new invention up in the city of New York. The latest model cars up there have modern devices to safeguard the pedestrian. If a car runs over you, the exhaust pipe sprays you with penicillin and a "Get Well" card drops down on your chest.

One thing I'm positive of, Paw will get well. We owe fifty for the room, a hundred for the nurse and one fifty for the doctor. With all that we owe on him they won't let him kick the bucket.

Guess that this is about all for now. Oh, yes. Your little nephew, Cheddar, is just getting to be too fresh for six years old. The other day he was at the house and he told me that he had been to church and had heard the preacher say that people were dust and would return to dust and asked me if I thought it was true. I told him that whatever the preacher said must be right and then he told me to go into my bedroom and look under the bed. He said that there was a whole mob of people under there either coming or going.

Write soon.

Your loving MOM

Unwelcome Guest

Physical Detail Unimportant To Drama Of Last Supper

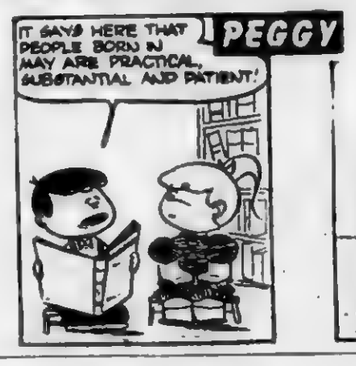
If the scene of the Last Supper lacked dramatic impact in the simple description which the New Testament gives, great artists would have dramatized it for us and made it unforgettable.

The greatest depiction of the scene is the famous painting by Leonardo da Vinci, though it is probably more emotional than historically accurate.

It is unlikely that the disciples ate at a long table of Leonardo's arrangement. More likely they were grouped together at tables in the form of hollow squares, and were reclining instead of sitting, as such was the custom of the time.

But the physical details are unimportant. Jesus and His followers were Jews and they were engaged in the holiest of all Jewish observances—the celebration of the Passover. This specific celebration in the upper room has a new and added significance as the origin of the Christian sacrament, the essence of Christian faith.

All that makes Christianity worthwhile is portrayed in the glorification of the Christian service. Though one of the Twelve was a traitor, these disciples had been called to a high honor. It was not to exercise power like kings, but that of serving the King of Kings, who is beyond all others.



He stooped to conquer and give Himself completely to the service of His Father and His fellowmen. By joining in that spirit we can perpetuate the spirit of the Last Supper in the upper room.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Take Your Catch Home!

Picture yourself sitting in a boat anchored near Starve Island. You are on Lake Erie for a day of fishing in the beautiful island area — one of the best fishing spots in the country.

You snap on a spinner to try for smallmouths or perhaps white bass. A few casts bring no action, so you work the spinner slower, closer to bottom. Suddenly there is a terrific strike, and your rod tip arches down to meet the water.

The first run shows plenty of power, and your first thought is that you have hooked a granddaddy smallmouth bass. You turn him, and the fish rushes under the boat heading for deeper water. He bores down deep, and then a little deeper.

To Keep, or Not to Keep?

A few seconds later you have him near the surface—a few last water-sloshing flip flops—and you net a silvery sheepshead. What would be your reaction?

Many anglers in this situation would feel that they have been cheated, for somehow sheepshead have gotten the reputation for being a worthless fish. This is difficult for me to understand, for they have plenty of fight when taken on light spinning tackle. They hit artificial baits. And yes, they are good to eat. What more can you ask from a fish?

Granted that they do not rate with walleyes and perch in eating quality, nor with the smallmouth bass in slashing acrobatics. But I'm certainly not ashamed to admit that I enjoy catching them, and I usually take my catch home for a session with the frying pan.

Preparation Makes Difference

Sheepshead, and all fish for that matter, should be cleaned promptly and kept well refrigerated until cooked. Fillet them and take the skin off. This is standard procedure for me, because fish are easier to skin than to scale. Take a fillet and lay it skin side down on a board. Then with a sharp knife start at the tail and work the flesh loose. With a little practice this becomes very easy.

Many fishermen do not even bother to keep largemouth bass, because of stories of "mossy" and "muddy" tastes. This could be true when bass are taken from certain waters during hot weather. Skinning them removes most of this taste. In early summer though, a bass that has been filleted and skinned is as good as any fish you will eat.

It got to thinking about the eating qualities of certain fish after attending a fish fry with a group of outdoor writers from all over Ohio. We were guests of Jack Lay, Port Clinton, and we were served sheepshead, catfish, walleyes, and perch.

Jack has had considerable experience with fish frys, and said that they usually figure on three-quarters of a pound of fish per person. After the meal Jack told us that we had eaten twice that amount—a pound and a half each. This was a very practical experiment in deciding whether sheeps head are palatable or not.

Jack and his brother are commercial fishermen on Lake Erie and would, of course, very much like to sell some of the sheepshead they catch. The market for them, however, is non-existent. In fact, they can't even give them away.

Actually, fishermen are missing a bet if they don't fully utilize their catches. Fish are a high protein, low calorie food. The pleasures of fishing are doubled when you take your catch home.

ECONOGRAM

Gross National Product (value of all goods and services produced in the U.S.) was running at an annual rate of $424 billion in the first quarter of 1958. This compares with $430 billion during the same period in 1957 and $440 billion during the third quarter of 1957. It represents a drop of one and one-half per cent from first quarter 1957 and four per cent from third quarter.

Total consumer spending in U.S. increased during the first quarter of 1958 compared with the first quarter of 1957. Big drop came in spending for durable goods (12 per cent below first three months of 1957). Such expenditures, however, make up only about 11 per cent of total consumption expenditures. Spending for non-durable goods and for services was three to five per cent above the same period of 1957.

Gross business investment first quarter this year was off 16 per cent from same period in 1957. Inventories were cut sharply.

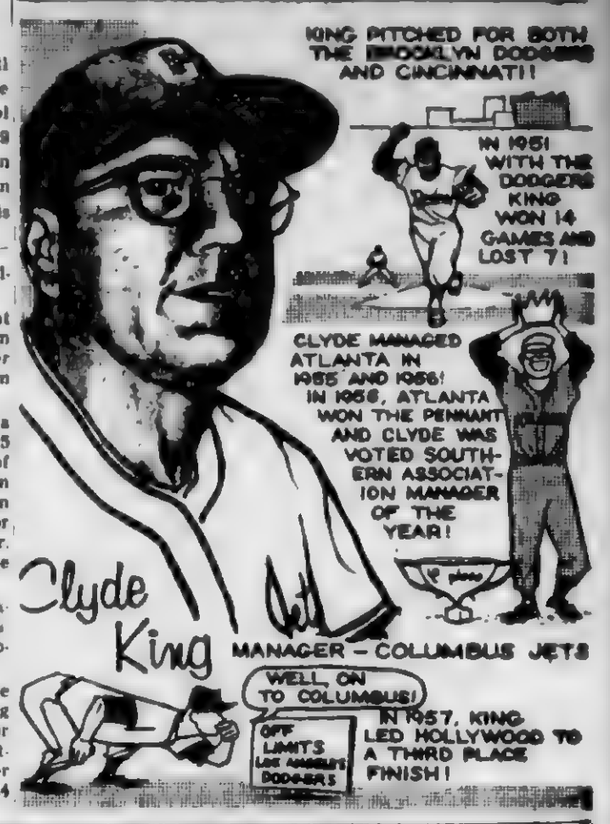
Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act due to expire June 30. Has been in effect since 1934. Now under consideration by House of Representatives. Good chance that act will be renewed but may be in a form to control president's power in certain decisions.

Market basket of food (retail cost of average quantities of farm foods purchased by average urban wage earner or clerical worker's family) rose from $1015 in fourth quarter of 1957 to $1054 in first quarter of 1958. Farmer's share continued to be about 40 per cent. In man hours of factory earnings weekly food cost requires about 9.6 hours at present time, compared to 14 hours 10 years ago.

Conservation reserve signup in Ohio shows 661 contract applications in 1958. The contracts must be inspected by ASC for eligibility. The contract applications average 30.7 acres. Total annual payments could be $187,982 if all contracts are acceptable. The applications include added requests for conservation practice payments of $186,441.

Wheat marketing quota penalty for 1958 crop is $1.09 per bushel — 45 per cent of the effective parity price of wheat on May 1, 1958. Penalty generally applies on those farms with more than 15 acre allotment which have exceeded their allotment.

Support price for 1959 wheat crop has been set at a minimum national average of $1.81 per bushel, providing referendum passes.



Wool consumption per capita during last three years was 25 per cent below 1935-39. Price of wool during 1958 market season is likely to average lower than 1957. Incentive payments for 1957 market year ending Apr. 1, 1958, will be made during the summer.

National Wool Act of 1954 expires at end of 1958 market season. Legislation has been introduced to extend the program.

Broiler egg settings continue to increase. For week ending Apr. 26 reports from 22 major producing states showed settings had increased two per cent from week earlier and 24 per cent from a year earlier

St. Francis School of Nursing, Circle 12, meets at 8:30 p.m. today for dessert and cards, in the home of Mrs. Arthur Widmaier, 386 E. Moler-st.

St. Mary's PTA and Parish Council Catholic Women Euchre Party will take place Tuesday, May 27, at 8:30 p.m. in the high school, 685 Mohawk-st, in the downstairs serving rooms. Door prizes will be given and refreshments served. Donation is 50 cents per person and the affair is open to the public.

May 24 will be an anniversary date in years to come for four young folks, three of them current South Siders. Ann Galloway, 1279 Wilson-av, will wed Keith Rupert this Saturday in Corpus Christi Church. Mr. Rupert resides at 625 Neil-av. Shirley Schoonover, 2001 Studer-av, will become the bride of Donald Quick, 1123 Woodrow-av, at 6:30 p.m. in St. John's E. and R. Church, on the 24th.

Mrs. Sheldon Cox will install the Stewart School PTA officers tonight at 7:30. The 6A graduation class will be featured on the program.

South Gate Optimist Club will have a 12:30 p.m. luncheon on May 28 in the home of Mrs. Jack Karn, 722 Vernon-rd. Mrs. Helen Haughton will be the speaker.

The unexpected visit of a former South Sider to the Gadabout's home on "column" day caused a few omissions to be made in last week's output, and one of the items was our weekly reminder of the Moose Wednesday dinner. We'll get this week's reminder in early, as it will be the last one of the season. Dorothy Jolly, Senior Regent, has done a fine job, so we'll compliment her at this point. The Friendship Chorus will have charge of the May 28 dinner, 5 to 7 p.m. For $1.25 adults and 75 cents for children, this tasty menu will be available: roast turkey and dressing, mashed potatoes and gravy, cranberry sauce, coffee and strawberry shortcake.

And now we'll tell a little about our May 12 visitor. It was Jane (Wycoff) Johnson, now of Benton Harbor, who has been in town taking charge of affairs in the home of her daughter, Judy Smith, who was hospitalized for an appendectomy. Jane naturally wanted to be with Judy, and the chance to visit with granddaughter Debby was an extra attraction. Jane has since returned to Michigan and taken little Debby with her, to enable Judy to convalesce better.

Guild 8, Mercy Hospital, will meet to sew at 10 a.m., Wednesday, May 28, at the hospital. Final plans of the Strawberry Festival will be discussed in the business portion of the meeting.

Tomorrow night, May 23, the Mother's Club of Southwood Church of Christ will sponsor a mother-daughter tea, 7:30, at the church. For reservations, call Geneva Hendricks, CL. 2-5048. On May 24, two other groups of the church are convening, the Bykota CE and the Fidelis Class. The CE will spend the day in beautiful Hocking Valley. At 6:30 p.m. the Fidelis Class is holding a pot luck supper at the church. Hostesses will be Mrs. Joseph Spiker and Mrs. Vernon Vanscoy.

We didn't get to attend the board picnic of Southwood PTA last week, but we understand the members and teachers had a fine time. That big sliding board at Y-Park must have a shrinking effect on clothes, eh M.P.? Get 'em sanforized, perhaps.

The Wiechers family, of Moler-st, is enjoying itself at French Lick Springs, Ind. this week. That would be Oscar, Ginny, Fritz and Davey, naturally.

In the Claffey household, May 1 was the anniversary date for mom and pop, and on May 7, Frank had a birthday.

Members of South High's instrumental department will hold their annual picnic at the South Side "Y" Park on May 27.

Mr. Stork deposited a boy baby in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meadows, 1924 S. Fourth-st on May 1. Congratulations.

The PVA of Orient State Institute was quite grateful to Mrs. L. H. McLaughlin, who donated 132 Folger's Coffee unwinding bands. It was very helpful to their coffee-urn project.

Birthdays for the younger generation . . . Judith Butts, 1557 S. High, May 27; Philip Evans, 1274 S. Pearl-st, May 28; Ruth Curry, 1695 S. Pearl-st, May 22; Shirley Taylor, 151 Hinman-av, May 24; David Stahr, 421 Hanford-st, May 25; Joyce Wolfe, 1350 S. High-st, May 28; Cecil Blackburn, 146 Hanford, May 25; Carolyn Hunt 251 Markison, May 28; Richard Holmes, 1478 S. High, May 22; Lynn Mitchell, 172 Innis, May 26; Karen Poenisch, 1554 S. Fourth-st, May 24; Karen Alexander, 25 W. Markison, May 25; Connie Stewart, 1636 S. Fourth-st, May 26; Kathryn Mason, 1357 S. High-st, May 17.

A cheery card would be appropriate at this time for "Ike" Kalb, a well-known South Sider, who is currently in Room 263 of St. Anthony's Hospital, following surgery. His home address is 220 E. Morrill-av.

The Cunningham twins, Dianne and Donna, are now teen-agers, and have been since May 15. The 13 year olds have a little brother, Timmy, who will be five years old on May 29. The Cunninghams are residents of 836 Livingston-av.

Our sympathy to the family of J. Curtis Laymon, who passed away last week.

We hope Deanna Womeldorf is feeling good again, after her first hand acquaintance with scarlet fever.

Oh to be an invisable guest in the Grace household on May 24! Fred and Faye will be celebrating their silver wedding anniversary this Saturday, so have requested "Earlyworm" Johnson to play "their" song. When he plays it, they will do the dance they did 25 years ago in their courting days. It really shouldn't be too difficult for them, for they just DON'T look old enough to have been married one-fourth of a century. Congratulations, Graces. Let's hope we're all around when you've doubled the years and I can write of the event in my palsied hand!

Carolyn Rohr will probably remember Wednesday, May 14, 1958, as long as she lives. The South High senior, resident of 1367 Heyl-av will have these memories of the day . . . notice that she was the recipient of the Bland L. Stradley Memorial Scholarship to OSU, and recipient of a trophy as the outstanding senior girl of the year, at the Junior Achievement banquet at the Ohio Union. She also received the Executive award at the banquet. We think it's wonderful; keep it up, Carolyn. Another young lady, also dear to us and who is doing splendidly, is Shirley McCaffrey. Shirley, a former Frebis-av resident, now of Grove City, also received a full scholarship to Ohio State. Shirley is a charter member of the National Honor Society of Grove City's High School, and has won high honors for her entry in the recent science competition. Perhaps the two young ladies will be meeting on OSU's campus and will get acquainted. We're proud of both of them.

The Zodiac Club, families included, met at Blacklick Woods for a potluck picnic last Sunday. The two honor guests were Nellie Kaufman and Clem Fisher, birthday celebrants. Twenty were present, eating enough for 40! Yeah, long and lanky ate enough for five people himself . . . that 6'6" frame has a 4'4" tummy, always empty!)

Past presidents will be honored when the Links, South Side Settlement, meet for a 12:30 luncheon tomorrow at South Methodist Church.

Friends of Jack Karch will be interested to learn that he is now out of the Air Force and is residing in Springfield. Jack was in service for four years. For those who would like to visit him, his address is 1421 Erika-dr, Springfield. Further news from the Karch family is anent Clara Jane, now a Floridian. Clara Jane will be home on June 7, for a three-week vacation with her home folks at 272 Southwood. Ruth and Carl will be able to have all their family around them at once, which doesn't happen so often now that their children are adults. For Clara Jane's friends who may have mislaid her Florida address, it is 1825 N.E. 26th-av, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

The Mothers' Variety Club meets tonight, 6:30, at Berwick Manor. Mrs. Emmett Fleming will be the hostess.

Members of the Trudeau Guilds meet for their annual banquet tonight at the Grandview Inn. One of the hostess guilds is No. 25, a predominately South Side group.

South Unit of the League of Women Voters will meet Tuesday, May 27, 8:15 p.m., in the home of Mrs. Fred Grumley, 1186 S. 22nd-st. The topic will be child welfare, and the action item is "the establishment of a homemaker service in the community." Resource person for the meeting is Mrs. Phillip S. Jastram.

"Last reminder for the South High Alumni Reunion, last reminder of Alumni Reunion!" Well, maybe we do sound like a railroad person, but we just want all the alumni to get aboard the Reunion "Special" tomorrow night. Registration gets underway at 7:30. Dick Mincer will emcee "Club Bulldog" and the dance starts at 9:30. Bob Huskey's group will play for the dancing. See you there?

Philo members of South High School hold their annual banquet tonight at South Methodist Church. The co-eds will be honoring their mothers at the 6:30 p.m. banquet.

Five birthdays to honor among the adult section. Jane and Madelyn Eagon, mother-daughter, duo who celebrate May 21 and 23; Vivian Lenox, May 22; Don Baughman and Don LaRue, May 27. Don Baughman is a missionary in Africa.

My, it was nice to have so much to write about . . . would that that was a weekly occurrence! It could be, if the lovely readers would call us at HI. 4-1051 . . . won't you? Till next time then, 'tis —

A change in deadline for receipt of Free Swap Ads in Hartley Newspapers will be effective next week. The new deadline will be 9 a.m. on Monday.

This will mean that free swap ads must be mailed no later than Saturday if they are to arrive in time for publication in the following week's papers.

Highway Closes Thurn Brothers Meat Business

The expressways have put another West Side firm out of business — but only temporarily!

Thurn's meat smoking plant, at 948 Kirby-av, was closed last Saturday because the city wanted the land for an expressway.

This put a temporary halt to the Thurn meat business, a 72-year-old firm, which operates in Booths 11, 12 and 13 in Central Market. The three generations of the Thurn family have manufactured their own smoked meat in the plant since 1894.

Brothers Robert, Leo and Paul Thurn, owners of the business, will reopen their Central Market booths as soon as their new plant is completed. The new one is under construction now at 533 Greenlawn-av and will go into operation near the end of July.

Shelterhouse Haven If Rain Falls July 4

One of the big bugaboos in the preparation of outdoor activities in the "good old summer time" is the problem of what to do if rain should intrude.

This bugaboo has pestered the Fourth of July committees over recent years while they prepared for the annual South side celebration. This year, however, the bugaboo of possible rain spoiling the fun and soaking visitors has been surmounted by "rain-proof" arrangements, according to a report issued by officials of the Council of South Side organizations.

Shelterhouse

The Greenlawn shelterhouse has been selected as the "escape" for those who may be caught in the rain on the day of the celebration. The shelterhouse is large and will shelter many, it was said. Thus, an important phase of the Council's Independence Day celebration has been taken care of.

Reports

Good progress also has been reported in connection with various exhibits, and those responsible for the success of the celebration feel this year will hit a new high in fun and frolic.

Ponies

The little tots will have their heyday with the ever-popular ponies. At the most recent meeting of the Council it was announced that a number of ponies had been contracted for and that children are assured all the rides they want as far as the number of ponies is concerned. Additional concessions are to be announced.

Local GM Plant Calls About 700 Employes Back

Paul L. Jones, plant manager of the Ternstedt Division of General Motors Corp, 200 S. Georgesville-rd, said Saturday that about 700 persons have been called back to work in the past two weeks.

Jones said the recalled workers had been laid off during an inventory adjustment at the plant.

He added that another seasonal recall of employees is expected sometime in the fall.

Vet Preference Will Be Capital City Meet Topic

The proposed change in veterans preference in Columbus by the Secretary of the Civil Service Commission will be the topic in the next meeting of Capital City Barracks 461, Veterans of World War I USA Inc., to be held June 1, at 2 p.m. in Veterans Memorial Building.

All eligible WWI veterans, their wives, mothers, sisters and daughters are invited.

Members are also urged to attend the state convention of WWI veterans in Springfield, O., June 7, 8.

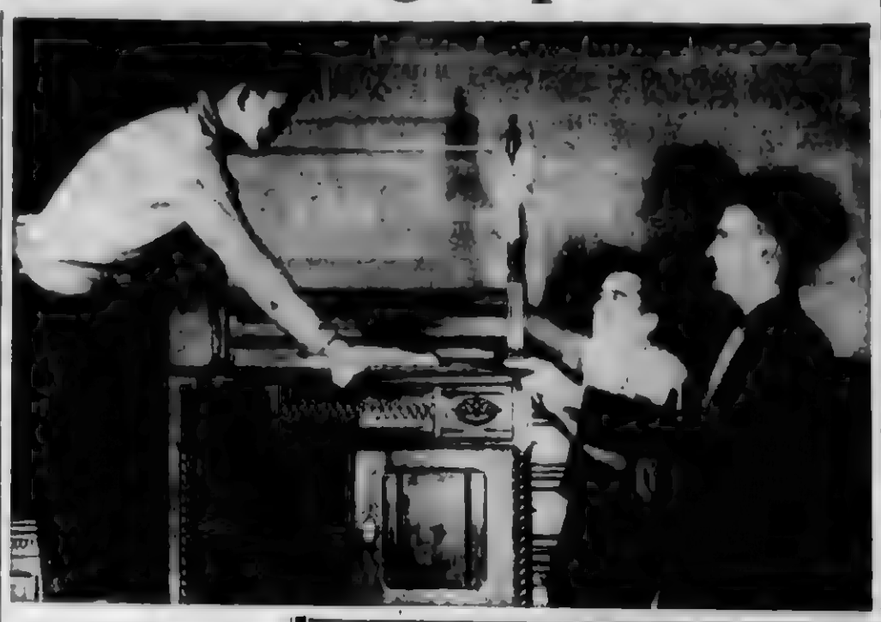
Pupils And Teacher Learn Together In Central Refinishing-Repair Class

By Ray Shaffer



There is an occupational class at Central High School that has a record for teaching as much to the instructor as it does to the students!

The class is Central's Furniture Refinishing and Repair Shop.

The instructor, Everett Reynolds, of 187 Alder-dr, Hilliards, O., frankly admits that he was not prepared to teach refinishing when he came to Central from Franklin Junior High School last fall.

He was asked to accept the position because of his background in teaching remedial reading students, which he now does in connection with his refinishing class.

Reynold's predecessor, Mrs. Pearl Kuehner, retired from teaching the class after 15 years in the refinishing field. Mrs. Kuehner said she knew nothing about this sort of work when she started but taught herself along with the students. Reynolds has done the same thing. The course just seems to instruct the instructors!

BEAUTY RESTORED! This washstand has been transformed from an ugly piece of furniture to a beautiful solid cherry antique. Central's Refinishing and Repair Class did the work. It is part of a bedroom suite belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Stepleton, Hilliards. Following three months of work by eight Central students, the boys are just polishing it off for the owners. Left to right are Charles Moncrief of 1421 Ellsworth-av; Eddie Milner, 1762 Cleveland-av; and Everett Reynolds, the instructor, of Hilliards.

Found In Yellow Pages

The class is really a business and the students receive a pittance while they are learning. The group even boasts a listing in the Yellow Pages under furniture refinishing and repair. It would be wise, however, not to expect immediate service since the class has enough orders to keep them busy until late next fall!

The course is part of Central's occupational division which enrolls 175 boys. The division is for boys over 14 who have mechanical aptitude and who have educational needs which cannot be met effectively in the standard classroom. Students completing the program receive a certificate rather than a diploma. This certifies that they are trained to follow this work in an outside business firm.

One of the biggest projects to conduct the class thus far was the refinishing of a bedroom suite for Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Stepleton, 400 Crescent-dr, Hilliards, O. The antique suite was given to them by a relative who acquired it at an auction near Lima, O.

The seven pieces, a chest of drawers, washstand, bed ends, bed sides and a heavily framed mirror, were covered with a sloppy green paint job and various coats to varnish. No one was really sure what type of wood was under this unattractive finish.

The Central class began working on it three months ago. Students worked on the set an hour and a half daily and finally completed it the week of Apr. 21.

Make Exciting Discovery

At this writing, the Stepletons had not yet seen the results of the refinishing but they should be happy with the job! The bedroom suite is made of solid cherry and is estimated to be nearly 100 years old. The set would do justice to any collection of an antique scout now!

Although the class is in competition with outside refinishing firms, it does not operate for profit but to teach.

Reynolds said, "I'm proud of the work the boys turn out and what I've learned. The course is valuable to the boys even if they only use what they've learned as a hobby."

Reynolds and his wife, Rosetta, have two children, Janice, four and Jerry, two. He said he eventually plans to go into administrative school work.

Be prepared with birthday gifts! The gift you make yourself is the one that brings the most pleasure, and books from the Columbus Public Library have ideas for unique articles you can make. It isn't the cost that counts — it's the sentiment behind it that is important.

Catholic Women Sewing Group To Be Formed

Father McFadden has extended an invitation to all the women of the parish to meet at the parish hall after Novena to St. Jude for the purpose of forming a sewing group, Wednesday.

On Thursday, 6:30 p.m. at the church, the First Communicants, Altar Boys and Junior Choir will assemble for practice. Final practice for the Junior Choir will be held on Saturday, 7 p.m. at the parish hall.

The following children will receive their First Holy Communion at 8 o'clock mass: Leonard Baronda, Charlotte Brown, Rebecca Collins, Beverly Crawford, Mark Dembski, Karen Eades Maureen Fisher, Richard Holland and Katherine Smith. A procession in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary will follow the mass.

There will be no religious instruction for grade school children Sunday.

Commissioner Orders County Dog Quarantine

County health commissioner Dr. Robert A. Evans has ordered a dog quarantine for Franklin County. The area includes all of the county except Columbus, Grandview, Upper Arlington and Bexley.

Owners must keep dogs on their own property or under their direct control at all times. A fine of $100 and 90 days in jail will be imposed upon those who do not comply.

Dr. Evans said that a hunting dog near Groveport showed symptoms of "dumb" rabies. The type causes a dog to become lazy and less likely to bite than the "furious" type. It is still fatal, however.

The commissioner said that it would be the first case of rabies in a dog owned by a Franklin County resident in five years, if the tests prove positive.

Dr. Evans said that examination of the dead animal revealed it was rabid. The family has started taking shots for protection.

The European corn borer entered this country on imported broomcorn before 1917 and since has spread into most major corn-growing areas of the country.

Exclusive 'Fox-Martin Hotel' Is Ready For Feathered Guests

GONE SOUTH FOR THE WINTER—One fold-up of the porches closes the hotel for the season when the martins have departed for the sunny South. Fox, owner of Fox's Cafe, 2758 Sullivant-av, is a member of the Knights of Columbus, Santa Maria Lodge; Loyal Order of Moose and the Elks.

SPRING HOUSECLEANING—A second fold of the porches opens the apartments for cleaning, essential because unsanitary and infested nests will destroy the young. The feature also permits easy removal of other birds nesting in the exclusive martin hotel.

UNIQUE SUSPENSION — The house, anchored to two pipes which are supported by a five-inch iron pipe set deep in concrete, can be lowered by removal of bottom rod. Upper rod serves as a pivot.

* * * *

The 52-room bird hotel in the yard of Howard Fox, 639 Crescent-rd is ready for its usual summer occupancy by purple martins. Designed and built for the insect-eating birds, the five-foot long hotel has 700 shingles and more than 100 hinges. Ingeniously hinged porches permit easy eviction of sparrows, starlings and other unwelcome guests. Fox particularly enjoys the distinctive, early morning song of the martins and their graceful swoop on insects.

Fishing Pioneers Still Alive

I just received from the Fred Arbogast Co. a silver Hawaiian Wiggler to commemorate the silver anniversary of these popular baits, and to serve as a long-distance celebration of the official presentation of a similar bait to Vic Simich of Akron Simich was a personal friend of the late Fred Arbogast and was one of the first men ever to fish a Hawaiian Wiggler.

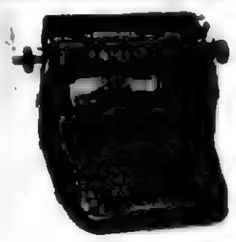
If you're like me, you sort of take such things for granted. You seldom realize how much progress has been made in recent years in improving fishing and hunting equipment. Bait casting is a good example. At the turn of the century, 58 years ago, bait casting was considered a novelty—perhaps a fad. Many people who turned it into a world wide sport are still alive, and fishing.

BEGAN IN OHIO

A lot of anglers in this area watched the growth of bait casting first hand. The sport was born and nurtured in Ohio and surrounding states. The first multiplying reels were made by watch makers in Kentucky and were widely used in early days around Cincinnati. The first "plug" was whittled by James Heddon of Michigan, and it caught bass in Dowagiac Creek. Innovations and improvements followed rapidly.

Long bamboo flyrods were changed a little, and adapted to bait casting. Dr. Henshall, an Ohioan, was the first "famous" bait caster, and his books gave the sport a boost. Dr. Henshall used the long bamboo rods in his bass fishing.

Steel Introduced in 20's



You don't have to be very old to remember the flurry of excitement among fishermen when tubular steel and solid steel rods came into wide use. True-Temper of Geneva, O., brought out the first step-down solid steel rod. This appeared in the 1920's, and was a hexagonal rod that decreased in diameter toward the tip.

Shakespeare made bait casting "almost automatic" with the first levelwind reel. It was called the Marhoff, and the name should jog the memory of many anglers. Soon, anti-back lash devices of all types were on the market, and have not diminished over the years.

The slick fishing tackle of today has been developed very recently by engineers. This equipment, of course, is a pleasure to use. All refinements have been provided for the consumer. Not so long ago fishermen had to build in their own refinements. They experimented until they had a rod, reel, line and bait that would catch fish. It's easier now, but the romance and spirit of adventure is gone.

I envy Vic Simich in a way. As he tosses his silver Hawaiian Wiggler into a pocket of lilly-pads, he will have many memories of the earlier days. He will remember the times he and Fred Arbogast went fishing, and the times they worked in basement workshops developing a weedless lure that took the country by storm and made fishing history.

At the awards ceremony at Marion-Franklin last week Margaret Smith received her pin for Girls Council and also for National Honor Society. There were probably a lot more awards given to young people of our community but no one called to tell me about them.

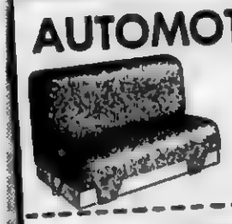
Bill and Lois Foreman have returned from Bill's tour of duty with the armed services in Germany. They got back just in time to see Bill's brother Bob in the senior play, Friday night at Marion-Franklin. Bill and Lois were guests of honor at an open house at the home of Lois' parents Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Donley on Sunday evening.

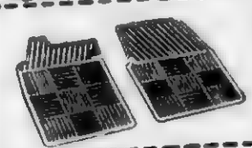
Our deepest sympathy to the family of Lloyd Carter of 220 Colton-rd, who passed away suddenly Monday morning. The funeral services were Wednesday at the W. J. Simons Funeral Home.

Richard, Pat and I went to the cottage in Hocking County this past weekend and got it ready for the summer season. Right now the trees, wildflowers and scenery are beautiful. Pat had her first swim of the season and got a touch of suntan while lying on the creek bank.

The man who never thought anything of walking 10 miles a day now has a grandson who doesn't think so much of it either.

A brilliant senator, somewhat given to overindulgence, was getting the best of another senator in a furious debate. In anger the abstemious senator said, "At least I am in possession of all my faculties."





He got this devastating reply, "And what difference could that possibly make?"

A Boy: Noise with dirt on it.

The city slicker halted his car at a desolate crossroads and yelled to a farmer driving a load of hay, "Hey, Cornsilk, is this the way to town?"

The farmer looked up in feigned astonishment. "Stranger, how'd you know my name was Cornsilk?"

"I guessed it," answered the slicker.

"Then," snapped the farmer, "guess your way to town, too!"

Past Memories—

Carl Becker and Elise Howald (of the furniture store family.)

Miss Howald was an ideal teacher and loved by all. The principal was very stern, unsmiling and also used his ruler and cane for the many punishments. He used me for special errands and so again I was a teacher's pet. At the end of the year, June, 1882, the teacher had all the class members sign a specially prepared paper, mimeographed copies of which were given each of us as a memento.

I still have my copy in good condition, as also two similar original copies of my handwriting in English and German. For the "A" grammar is was necessary to go to Fourth and Fulton-sts building, where the teachers were, for this grade, Antonia Mees, also principal, Pauline Mees and Louise Bauer. All good teachers. The Mees sisters were aunts of Otto Mees, later president of Capital University. Reading and writing of German were taught in all the grades. There was one high school which was Central at Broad and Sixth-sts.

"Sincerely,
"Walter Braun"

Hospital Parking In Livingston Park Debated

Memory and Faith

"This Memorial Day as we in America make the pilgrimage to the graves of our loved ones there will be an added solemnity for all.

"In our Nation's capital a service for two American servicemen, — one from World War II, the other from Korea, who were selected from the thousands of unknown dead — will be held. They will be entombed beside the Unknown Soldier of World War I in Arlington National Cemetery.

"There the three will sleep through the ages under the inscription "Here Rest in Honored Glory, American Soldiers, Known Only To God."

"Let us each make our own silent tribute to these men. They could be your sons or mine. 'Unknown' . . . they are ours!" (Submitted by Mrs. H. H. Herron, 71 Eldon-av, past president, Department of Ohio, Blue Star Mothers of America.)

Father Raiser To Be Ordained At St. Joseph's

Jerome K. Raiser, 1457 Lockbourne-rd, will be ordained to the priesthood at 10 a.m. Saturday, May 31, at St. Joseph's Cathedral here by Bishop Clarence G. Issenmann.

Raiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Raiser, both deceased, attended Corpus Christi elementary school, and Rosary High school. He received his bachelor of arts degree from St. Charles College and completed his studies for the priesthood at Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, Norwood.

Prior to entering the seminary he served in the United States Navy. He was employed by Streng's Market for five years, while in school here.

Father Raiser will offer his first Solemn Mass at 10 a.m. June 1 in Corpus Christi Church.

Assisting Father Raiser will be Fr. Albert Kessler, pastor, who will be assistant priest, Fr. John Geiger, deacon and the Rev. Mr. Edward Fairchild, subdeacon.

Fr. Ralph Huntzinger of the St. Charles Seminary faculty will be preacher.

Reception will follow Solemn Benediction at 7:30 p.m. Sunday evening in the Corpus Christi parish hall. The public is invited.

City Specialists Will Study Federal Aid And Expansion Of Children's Hospital

Developments early this week indicated that the threat of a legal battle to prevent the conversion of a segment of Livingston Park to parking facilities for Children's Hospital entered a "research stage."

Action by the Council of South Side Organizations Monday night in withdrawing full opposition to using any of the park grounds for public parking led the way to postponement of debates in Columbus City Council.

The issue will be re-entered on council's agenda for next Monday night. In the meantime, city specialists — including the new slum clearance director — have been asked for authoritative opinions.

The action by the COSSO consisted of the issuance of a circular letter to its membership withdrawing its opposition to the parking program, after hearing public officials on the subject at a meeting at the South Side YMCA.

The organization had previously submitted to the city council a plea to preserve the city's diminishing park resources by refusing to vote authority to utilize the northern area of Livingston Park for public parking.

The argument had been advanced that the hospital was restricted in accessibility by inadequate parking space, placing a handicap on physicians, nurses and patrons of the hospital.

Reasons

Public officials attending the meeting at the YMCA conference room on S. Third-st presented the fact that failure to approve the northern sector of the park for parking, with the attendant effort to purchase property to the west of the area, could cause the withdrawal of plans for slum clearance to the east.

At the time of the appearance of authorities before the council meeting in the conference room of the Y, it was stated that a proposal to buy additional property for parking for the hospital would, if carried out, result in

Capt. Felled By Flames

A S. Lazelle-st fire Monday evening held the possibility of widespread and extensive damage until two extra companies called by the captain had arrived and brought the dangerous blaze under control. The fire was at 791 S. Lazelle-st. Following the call for extra help, Capt. Paul Fribley was overcome from heat and lack of oxygen as firemen fought to master the flames. Firemen had a fight on their hands to reach the source of the blaze in the two-story structure. The captain was treated at the scene of the fire by emergency squadmen.

Battalion Chief E. A. Werner said that in a few more minutes the building would have been heavily damaged or destroyed by the flames. He also said no one was in the building when the fire started.

The fire started in the upstairs near a work table, the chief said. There was no one in the building when it started and there was no explanation concerning the origin of the fire. He said unofficially that loss amounted to about $100 on the building and $100 on the contents of the building.

A Transplant Revitalized

Once-a-year spectacle conducted by the Columbus Club of the National African Violet Society was attended this year by hundreds of Central Ohio ladies. New colors have extended the range from sparkling whites to deep reds; new cultural tricks enable most anyone to grow violets with success. Most of the plants shown here were grown in the ladies' homes under fluorescent lights (better than natural light). Shown here, left to right, Wilda Matt, Brice, Society Treasurer Blanche Karche, 1211 Smith-rd, and Mary Watts, 544 Wilson-av.

African Violets: Challenge And Fun!

Ladies who grow African violets call it a "challenge" . . . say it gives them year around pleasure.

African violet growing is done indoors—exclusively—in kitchen windows, solariums and sun rooms, living rooms, and basements under fluorescent lights . . . even though the plants are native to the rugged outdoors of Africa's uplands.

Growing them is a tricky business—hence the challenge—but not difficult, most of the ladies insist. Just good fun, they say.

As proof of this, they point to Mrs. Ralph Meeker of north Columbus, who, entering competition last week for the first time, was named "Queen of Show" in the Society's annual spring show.

The Columbus African Violet Society now has more than 125 members drawn from Delaware and Groveport, from Millersport to Hilliards.

The competition held last week attracted 301 entries, was attended by "hundreds" of others who came to look and browse among the 500 or so other plants on display in the hat bar of one of Columbus' largest department stores.

The spring show is a sort of spectacular triumph to the achievements of the past 12 months—not only for the members, but for the hybridizers and professional chemical firms who strive constantly to make flowers prettier, their culture easier.

Each year sees new things; the advances by hybridizers almost evenly matched by the firms which make bug killers and new fertilizers.

The Society, mostly made up of housewives, also is a lively enterprise. The ladies meet once each month in Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts, exchange culture hints, plants; they have "guest days", make trips to hospitals, etc., hence the year around pleasure enjoyed. (The flowers bloom 12 months, too)

Among the extra special activities are a flower therapy program for retarded children and a project at Benjamin Franklin Hospital, where a patient has installed his own nursery for growing small plants (He is an ex-florist).

Good project for anyone, the ladies believe, because growing violets calls for a lot of TRY.

The culture is becoming easier and achievements more dramatic, but the challenge is ever present, they say.

Case in point is Queen of Show Mrs. Meeker. She's currently making ready for an excursion to a farming area near Toledo. There, she believes, can be found ideal violet growing soil, the same stuff used by commercial celery growers. This will be the last word in soils, she says.

It's a long way from the semi-dry, sandy and rocky, shady ledges of upland Africa to the sunny west window of a central Ohio household, but the thing has been done nonetheless.

And some extras have been added.

SCIOTO TRAIL

By Elizabeth Smith
HI. 3-1184

Our deepest sympathy to Bill Hackworth, in the death of his mother, Mrs. Emma Hackworth, last Tuesday. The funeral was Friday with burial at Fernwood Cemetery.

George and Joan Becker were guests of Margie and Dick Foreman on Saturday evening.

Mitchell Malloy is now recovering from the chicken pox. He surely has had a bad time this spring with first getting scarlet fever, then a very bad case of the measles and now chicken pox. At least he won't have to get these again next year when he enters the first grade.

Jimmie and Julie Pabst have been very sick children for the past few days but are now better.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Chapman, Carolyn and Arthur have moved to their new home in Grove City.

Quite a few of the youth from South High Church are making plans to attend Otterbein Youth Camp.

The youth will be in charge of the evening service next Sunday night at South High. The Film "Broken Mask," a motion picture on the theme, Christ the Church, and race will be shown. This picture tells a forcefull story about the masks of prejudice, and is a picture that all should see. Everyone is invited.

Rev. William Snider will graduate from Capital Seminary on Sunday. Our congratulations and very best wishes to him.

Marion Franklin had an assembly last week and gave the awards for 1957-58. They were as follows: best actor, Ralph Maciocci; best supporting actor Charles Boren; best actress, Karen Rieber; best supporting actress, Peggy Glenn; best basketball player, Rodney Buccilla; best football player, Fred Bowles; citizenship award Charles Boren, and Gretchen Stimpfle; Noma spelling award Carol Shaw, and Peggy Glenn; National Honor Society, Judy Casto, Hazel Kennedy, Iris De Weese, Carol Shaw, Pat Smith, Dave Nippert, Larry Lupfer, Charles Boren, and Margaret Smith.

Carrie Bobst and Gretchen Stimpfle received 4 year pins for GAA.

Football letters were given to Don Fogle, Ronnie Gray, Ted Grotsky, Bobb Dean.

Senior Chorus Awards to Joan Bayles, Janet Ward, Sandy Powers, Bob Foreman, John Farrell, Janet Knight, Pat Smith, Barbara Sweasy, Arlene Turner, Ruth Ann Martin, and Bonnie Diamond. Jane Reese and Pat Smith each received a pin as a special award for their outstanding accompanist work.

The top 25 seniors of this year's class are Dave Nippert, Iris De Weese, Joan Bayles, Judy Casto, John Farrell, Margaret Smith, Pat Smith, Fred Bowles, Linda Nay, Carol White, Carol Shaw, Charles Boren, Larry Lupfer, Arlene Turner, Ted Grotsky, Janet Mounds, Kenny Jones and Lanetta McKenzie.

Thanks to Margaret Smith and her mother for taking the time to get this list together. There are several of the young people who are making scrap books of their high school happenings, and I am glad to be able to write up material from the school that they can use. Years from now they can look back on these things with fond memories.

My sister-in-law, Thelga McQuiniff and I both share the same birthdate, May 23; so our husbands took us to the Seafood Bay and to see "Around the World in 80 Days" on Saturday evening.

R. B. Osborn of S. High-st was taken to Grant Hospital last week, for a serious operation. Mr. Osborn is in his 70's but he is beginning to make a nice recovery. He is in Room 324. He has lived here since this area was made into lots, so is known by a lot of the people, so let's give him a shower of cards.

One of the hardest secrets for a man to keep is his opinion of himself.

New officers for the Lad 'N Lass CCL were installed last evening in the home of Mrs. John Nippert, 1615 Berkeley-rd. They are Mrs. Joe Ziegler, president; Mrs. Edward Findley, vice president; Mrs. Paul Shoaf, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lowell E. Clark, recording secretary and Mrs. George Cale, treasurer.

A month's visit to Honolulu was the pleasant vacation trip for three Columbus women this Spring. The three, who have just returned home, are Mrs. John Spetnagle, 1465 Wilson-av, Mrs. Pauline Care Gunther, 1086 Geers-av, and Mrs. Fred Breckur, 1108 Berkeley-rd. Mrs. R. Rea, of London, was also a member of the group. The occasion for the trip was the Imperial Potentate Shrine Pilgrimage. The travelers flew to San Francisco, then sailed to the islands from there. Mrs. Spetnagle, upon her return to Columbus, set out the same day for Cincinnati, to visit her daughter. When we asked the Wilson-av resident her opinion of the trip, she said that "fabulous" was the best way to describe it. The weather was wonderful during her stay in the islands, a sharp contrast to the sort she'd left behind. One of the highlights of her month's stay was the four-and-a-half day "outer island" tour by plane. Sounds great, doesn't it?

Belated birthday greetings to Nita Hutch, who was such a gracious hostess on her WTVN "Sky Room" program when Helen Maser, 1133 Champion-av and I visited her last Wednesday. (While we're giving thanks we'll send them also to Spook Beckman, for permitting Helen and me to "plug" the South High Alumni Reunion on his program also).

As usual, it was fun attending the reunion at South, seeing those we went to school with long years ago. One of the out-of-towners we renewed acquaintances with was Bob Noll, who now lives in Madison, O. From not quite so far away, we saw Vera Link Pestel, just as pert as ever. We were so busy greeting the ones in our own class, we didn't get to talk to some of the other folks . . . time's just too short. Oh yes, Carl Gilkey came from nearby Groveport; mustn't forget. One of the ones from the class of 1934 just became a first-time grandmother two days before the reunion, and she and proud grandpa were impatient to get to see their new granddaughter. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Tope, 384 Hanford-st. The parents Carolyn and Allen Helm, also South High graduates, are now in Louisville, Ky., where Allen is stationed. For the young Helms' friends, the address is 3406 Dixie Highway, Louisville, Ky. The six pound baby probably won't get to see her paternal grandmother for a while, as that grandparent is hospitalized in St. Ann's where she underwent surgery. Edna Helm is the ailing lady, and her home address is 218 E. Gates-st.

If you have your cards out for the preceding item, perhaps you'll send one to Betty Justus, 1447 Wilson-av, who is convalescing after her recent hospital trip.

Mrs. Lester Merritt, 864 Wilson-av, was elected first vice president of the Ohio Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at their 38th annual convention here. Twelve hundred Ohio women attended the Neil House convention, representing 161 clubs.

Newly elected and appointed officers of Trudeau Guild 25 are as follows: Mrs. James Whalen, chairman; Mrs. Jack Wagenbrenner, vice chairman; Mrs. Virgil Dean, secretary; Mrs. Tim Souder, treasurer, Mrs. Glenn Fulton, expansion; Mrs. Bernard Lachowsky, project; Mrs. Herman Crary, Sanaire; Mrs. Clem Fisher, publicity; Mrs. Lorraine Itskin, ways and means; Mrs. Francis McCaffrey, correspondence; Mrs. Charles Boyd, sunshine; Mrs. Oliver Mayes, sales tax.

If any of the readers have been house cleaning and are looking for places to dispose of unwanted items, here are three suggestions. For all white articles (shirts, sheets, table cloths, etc.) the Mother's Club of Southwood Church of Christ is collecting this sort of thing for the Cancer Society. To make contact for pickup, call Ruth Stewart at BE. 5-9336, or Phyllis Donovan at HI. 4-6190. To donate used greeting cards to a worthwhile cause, send them to Life Study Fellowship, Norton, Conn. For any sort of usable items, Trudeau Guild 10 will be holding a rummage sale on June 10, at 344 S. 4th-st, so will appreciate all kinds of donations. The women to call are Mrs. James Claar, HI. 4-9338; Mrs. Floyd Leonard, HI. 4-6552; or Mrs. Herbert Hampton, HI. 3-2716.

One of the prouder moments of ye Gadabout's life occurred last Thursday at 6:30, when we were privileged to attend the mother-daughter Philo banquet, held at South Methodist Church. The South High girls looked so bright and pretty in their gay springtime clothing, it was a sheer pleasure to watch them. The food was delicious, as we knew it would be.

A warm welcome to newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Charles Werner, new residents of 510 Siebert-st. The former Carolette Francis and Mr. Werner exchanged their Apr. 26 vows in Gates-Fourth Methodist Church. A wedding trip to Florida preceeded their return to the Siebert-st address.

Other wedding news in this edition include two May 31 nuptials. Margaret Ann Ackerman, 724 Ann-st, and Jack Bittinger will exchange their vows this Saturday, as will Linda Lou Williams, 1385 Linwood-av, and Harry J. Parkinson, 1003 Linwood-av.

Our sympathy to the family of Mrs. Ralph Chandler, 1305 S. High-st, who passed away last week.

Birthday time is NOW for these youngsters . . . Donald Page, 25 W. Innis, June 4; Mary Penington, 31 E. Morrill, May 19; Aaron Rockhold, 1386 S. 3rd-st, May 29; Saundra Dennis, 20 E. Moler, June 4; Barbara Zwilling, 41 W. Markinson-av, June 4; Marilyn Ruddock, 345 Sheldon, May 30; Hubert Moore, 169 Hanford, June 4; Janet Quidor, 302 Markison, June 2; Sandra Standiford, 305 Jenkins, May 29; Darla Harlor, 84 E. Moler, May 29; Gregory Bailey, 301 Markison, June 2; Patricia Foreman, 1542 S. 4th-st, May 31; Patty Trigg, 1291 S. High, June 3; Donnie Bush, 2091 Studer-av, May 31; Andrea Frey, 1627 S. 3rd-st, June, 1 and Jean Straub, 172 E. Welch, May 30.

Don't forget the annual strawberry festival that the Guilds of Mercy Hospital will be holding next Wednesday, June 4, on the lawn of the hospital. In case of rain, it will be held on the fifth of the month. In addition to the traditional strawberries, there will be a bazaar and auction. Spook Beckman will be the auctioneer.

Congratulations to Alan Weinberg, South; Tom Darst, Marion-Franklin, and Michael Jennings, St. Mary's HI School who represented their schools at the Agonis Club banquet. The banquet is designed to honor the outstanding scholar-athletes. Woody Hayes, of OSU was the speaker.

Gary Thompson, who formerly resided on S. High-st, until he became a Grove City resident, rates an item in today's wordage, so we'll take care of that right now. Gary will be graduating from Grove City Hi today and on July 16, he will be starting his Marine boot training in San Diego. His mother, Jane Adkins, is planning a sumptious lawn party for him on June 1, so he can visit his South High and Grove City High friends before he leaves for the West Coast. The Adkins residence is at 4220 Orders-rd, Grove City. From all the things that Gary's grandmother told us about the party, those young 'uns invited will have PLENTY to eat, and knowing how young 'uns can eat, they'll probably do just that! Gary's grandmother is Dorothy Jolly, one of our favorite people, incidentally.

St. Leo's Parish is losing two families at this time, and both families are moving to the eastern part of the city. William and June McLoughlin, now of 235 E. Mithoff-st, will move tomorrow to 1159 Olney-dr, Barnett Heights. The McLoughlins hate to be leaving their South Side friends and neighbors and we know the feeling is reciprocated. Larry and Frances Rumsey are now residents of 2868 E. Moriand-av. Their son and his family will be seeing the new family home for the first time over this Decoration Day holiday, and the get-together will be a combination housewarming and birthday celebration for Larry jr.'s and Jane's May birthdays. The younger Rumseys are residents of northeast Ohio.

Don't see any more unchecked items, so guess we'll have to skeedaddle for this time. To give us news, call HI. 4-1051. Have a pleasant and SAFE holiday! Till next time, then, tis

More Prizes Added To Contest

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Catfish, Bass Entries Popular; Midgets To Rate Prizes, Too!

Entries are really rolling in to the Hartley Newspaper Fishing Contest at Madison Lake.

Some of the leaders are: Fred Hinderer, 175 S. Sylvan, one pound, 2 ounce largemouth bass; L. Kent Hummel, 2166 Northern-rd, 11 ounce crappie; Joseph K. Kellso, 86 Shady-av, London, five pound, 12 ounce channel catfish; L. F. Spangler, 3502 Brookgrove-dr, Grove City, one pound three ounce crappie.

Steve Ball 706 E. 9th-st, two pound, 10 ounce carp; Edwin Glass, Rt., 3, London, one pound crappie; Darrell Smith, 11 Fairview-av, London, four pound smallmouth bass; George Duke, 84 E. 11th-av, six pound, 13 ounce channel catfish; and Leslie West, 2347 Dover-rd, four pound, eight ounce channel catfish

Channel catfish seem to be in the limelight, for more have been entered than for any other species. Bass and crappies have been showing up in Madison Lake catches, however, the last couple of weeks. The lucky catfish anglers report that nightcrawlers and minnows have been the most effective baits. Dorothy Ward, at Carner's Boat Dock, told me that the demand for live bait has been exceptionally high this year, and the good stringers of catfish are the attraction. Most catfishermen have had their best luck, at night.

With so much interest right now in "Mr. Whiskers" a couple of fishermen have inquired again about the prizes in this category. Here they are:

First place — Skakespeare Wonder-Cast reel; second place—Johnson Century reel; third place—Cumberland fish creel, and Ta-pat-co life preserver boat cushion.

All prizes are on display at Carner's Boat Dock, headquarters for the fishing contest.

In case you don't catch any really big fish, you still have a chance for some prizes. R. A. Mehnert, Alliance, president of Ray's Bait Co., has supplied some of the famous Dene's Gypsies Spinners for consolation prizes. These baits will be given to those "unlucky" fishermen who don't win one of the top prizes. Also, a booby prize will be awarded in each class for the SMALLEST fish entered.

Thanks to the interest of Mr. Mehnert in the Hartley Newspapers Fishing Contest, this is probably the first time in history prizes will be given for the tiniest fish caught on hook and line. The chances of you breaking the world's record with a big fish are pretty slim, but the small fish category is wide open.

This is the kind of contest that appeals to me, and it's lucky for you that I can't enter. I must qualify as some type of small-fry champion—I've caught more than my share. Now we'll see if I'm the only person with a deadly attraction for minnows. Enter your fish—large ones, small ones, and in-between ones, and try for a Dene's Gypsies spinner.

Gethsemane Symbol Of Suffering

Gethsemane has become a symbol for acute trial and suffering.

When we speak of passing through Gethsemane in connection with some sorrow, do we always realize that Gethsemane was a real fact in a real human life? It was in the garden called Gethsemane that Christ experienced that anguish of soul that preceded the anguish of body as He was scourged, crowned with thorns, forced to carry His cross and finally nailed to it.

There are people who, in their zeal to do honor to Christ, have emphasized His divinity to the exclusion of His humanity. They miss the essential meaning of Christ in relation to God and man. The gospel centers around the Incarnation as expressed by St. John: "The Word was made flesh and dwelt amongst us."

It is the revelation of the divine character in human life that makes the story of Christ, from the manger in Bethlehem to the Resurrection and Ascension, significant for man.

If we could ever doubt the humanity of Christ, that He was subject to human temptations and trials, all doubt should be removed by the scene in the garden of Gethsemane.

Here was a human soul facing human tragedy. One whom He trusted was about to betray Him. Others He loved were proving themselves inadequate in the hour of His greatest trial. His soul, we are told, was exceedingly sorrowful and, as He prayed, the inner conflict was so intense that He sweat drops of blood.

Yet Christ had the strength to say, "Not my will, but Thine be done."

He arose from prayer, though discouraged by the failure of His disciples, able to say, "Arise, let us go forth."

Christ was prepared for betrayal and the Cross.

An old-timer is a fellow who remembers when the knife-grinder jingle-jangled his big-wheeled cart through the neighborhood several times each summer.

Why is it that buses make express-train speed when you're on the way to the dentist's office?

The fellow who remembers those "good, old July 4th celebrations when every kid had a pocketful of giant fire crackers" probably still has all 10 fingers.

'Dear Son'

Chittlin' Switch
Monday noon.

Dear Jason:

Guess I'll sit down and drop you a line or two before it's time to go to the movies.

Every Monday, Wednesday and Friday night, old grandmaw Sludge and I go to the Bon Ton Theater at the Switch to get our free gift.

Monday night is "dish" night and the manager gives out free dishes to the ladies; Wednesday night is "cosmetic" night and he gives the ladies lipsticks or something; and Friday night is "surprise" night. If the show is any good, it's a surprise.

I sure wish Zelda was modest as Salina. Zelda came home from town the other day with what she called a bathing suit that she had purchased in town. I told her that no daughter of mine would ever appear in public in a two-piece bathing suit. Zelda agreed with me and then asked me which piece I prefer she didn't wear.

Uncle Lushwell is in the hospital again. This time it was a broken back. He and your Paw were up in the barn bottling some hootch from the still and Ned Poozer and some other guys from the nighborhood were helping. Evidently the gang of them absorbed too much of the joy juice and Lush decided that he could fly like a bird and climbed to the top of the barn and did a spread eagle in the air. On the way back from the hospital I asked Paw why he didn't try to stop him. Paw said that he was so loaded he was taking all bets that Lush could do it.

It seems that everybody around here is having a run of bad luck of some sort. I was reading in the Chittlin' Switch DAILY BUGLE last week where old Zeke and Blanch Tench were instantly killed over in Pasture Flats. It seems, according to the newspaper article, that they were trying to manufacture some beer for their own consumption and they had an enormous crock sitting in the middle of the kitchen filled with hops and yeast. It was about 11 o'clock one night while they both were in bed that they heard a terrible rumbling noise coming from the kitchen and they both hopped out of bed to investigate. Of course, it was just the mash working. They should have known that. Just as they both stuck their heads into the crock the whole business exploded and blew the both of them right through the roof. The newspaper went on to say that is was the first time they had been out together in twenty years.

I have to laugh when I think of your brother's little boy, Cheddar. He's only five and he says the funniest things. The other day in school the teacher was trying to show them addition and asked them if she laid one egg on the table and two on the chair how many would she have altogether. Cheddar told her that he didn't think she could do it.

Well, Jason, guess that this is about it for now. Oh, yes, I suppose you know Rufus, will be graduating from that agricultural college up there in Brooklyn in a couple of months. He will be awarded three degrees. First he'll be getting his B.S. Well everybody knows what B. S. is. His second degree will be M. S. which, I presume stands for more of the same. When he wrote me and told me that he had to go back to school in the fall to take a post-graduate course to earn his Ph.D he had me stopped because I didn't know what Ph.D stood for. Paw told me that knowing Rufus, Ph.D. could mean only one thing. "Piled Higher and Deeper!"

Your loving,
MOM.

Ranch-Style Homes Being Built: S. End

Wilburn K. Kerr, president of the Southfield Company, announced today that construction is under way on the first group of 305 new ranch-style homes on a 62-acre tract in the southern part of Columbus.

This is a private enterprise development. The new development is being built under the provisions of FHA section No. 221 of the National Housing Act; Southfield is the first 221 project in this area. The new homes are being constructed primarily to accommodate families who have been or will be displaced as a result of expressway and slum elimination programs.

According to the Southfield Company, financing for the new homes has been arranged so that they may be purchased with no down payment excepting nominal closing costs. Monthly payments, including taxes and insurance, will be approximately $65. A family whose take-home pay totals as little as $68 per week will be eligible to buy in Southfield. The basic purchase price is $10,000. Optional items may be included up to the amount of $10,750.

The first public showing of the new homes was on Saturday, May 24.

The Southfield homes feature three bedrooms (two for children, one master bedroom) with several large closets; a living room with over 180 square feet of living apace and a guest closet; large, modern kitchen with dining area, automatic garbage disposal, and natural maple-finished cabinets; a separate laundry room, centrally located; inside and outside storage rooms; lifetime asphalt tile floors; all aluminum sliding windows and screens; plus automatic gas heat, automatic gas hot water heater and copper plumbing throughout. Lawns are sodded front and side with shrubbery in place. Side drives are provided for each home.

"Southfield offers particular advantages for the family with schoolage children," Kerr said. "Within walking distance are Garfield Elementary School, the George Beery Junior High school and Marion-Franklin high school. The area has complete city utilities and service, yet is away from heavy traffic, noise, and smoke. Just twelve minutes from Broad and High, the new community is served by Lake Shore Bus Company," the builder continued.

Southfield homes will be offered first to families who have had to move because of new highway construction in and around the city. In order to qualify, these families should secure an eligibility certificate from the Family Relocation Bureau, 131 East Lincoln.

Southfield may be reached from Broad and High by driving south of Livingston - av, east on Livingston to Lockbourne rd, and south on Lockbourne to Southfield. Signs have been erected to direct traffic to the development. Ample parking has been provided. There are complete playground facilities on the site with attendants to take care of children while their parents look at the new homes.

One of the model homes in Southfield has been tastefully furnished in the latest styles by Glick's Furniture Company of Columbus. Other homes include displays of materials and workmanship used in building and optional extras available with each new house.

All of the new homes to be built in Southfield will be preassembled by Midwest Houses, Inc., Mansfield, Ohio. Midwest uses top quality West Coast lumber and nationally-known building materials for constructing the homes, Kerr said. Coordination of the construction program is being supervised by John B. Kerr.

A permanent sales office is located at the site. Wilburn Kerr, Jr., will be in charge of the sales program. He will be assisted by Ralph E. Brown and Preston Hinebaugh.

Public Relations Demonstrated By Barrett Students

Barrett Junior High School—by invitation of the newly chartered Optimists Club of South Columbus—recently raised school public relations to an inspired and enviable high.

The Optimists had been seeking a good school program; Barrett's principal Ken Olbert staged a five student affair that sent Optimists home with the feeling they had witnessed an exceptional program.

"Our most outstanding program to date," they said.

Diane Gehl and Robert Bostwick discussed their experiences in the district and state Science Fairs and demonstrated Looking Ahead . . . their respective projects

Ferd Gaulke, Barrett's outstanding scholar-athlete, presented his views on the relationship between athletics and academic work.

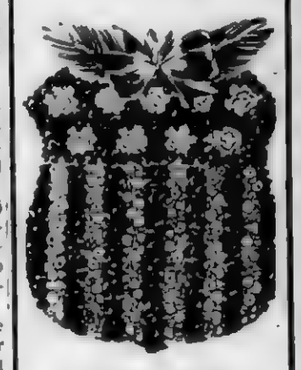
Kenneth Mills, one of the 15 finalists representing the public schools in the Scripps-Howard Spelling Bee proceeded to spell down any and all Optimists.

Diane Gehl returned to the spotlight to demonstrate her proficiency on four different musical instruments.

The Virgin Islands government, with the help of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, is instituting meat inspection as part of its overall plan to improve the livestock and meat economy in the Islands.

Career Day

Friday, May 23, was Career Day at Barrett Junior High School. In the midafternoon of that day students went to groups of their selection and choice, where visitors from outside the school explained the many different possibilities of a person's life work.



The visitors came from such different sources as the armed forces, the medical profession, teaching and coaching, business, engineering, the ministry, forestry, social work, the Ohio State Highway Patrol, the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

Interest was high and sustained. In several groups informal discussion continued for some time after the time for dismissal of school had brought the formal meetings to a close. One visitor was Thos S. Shevlin, son of a member of Barrett's faculty. He is a ceramics engineer.

'Planned' Community Unveiling Set Sunday

One of the largest planned communities in the South Side will be started this Sunday when a new model home—an example of over 200 that are planned—will be opened for inspection in Great Southern Shopping Center.

The new sub-division is called Scioto Village and will [illegible] into being on a large tract adjacent to Scioto Trail School on South High-st.

More than 200 homes will be built by the developers of famed Brookside Park in Reynoldsburg. Dubbed the "Fairlane," the homes are all three-bedroom models of a one-floor ranch style. A wide variety of exterior styles will be featured.

Furnished, Landscaped

A completely furnished and landscaped model of the Fairlane will be on display in the middle of Great Southern's parking lot. The home is complete in every respect, and will be open to the public from noon until nine every day. Next to the home, a large tent will house the office of the company and several displays covering construction details of the homes and pictorial representations of the homes and their location.

The Fairlane itself will bring home-ownership within reach of families who until now have avoided buying because of the monthly payments which they felt were too high in relationship to their income. The Scioto Village homes will be the best home buy in the Columbus area, with a total sales price of just $10,900. This places the down payment at $350 and the monthly payment at only $74. Under FHA regulations this means the weekly salary requirement is $77 before deductions for taxes, etc.

Like Costly Homes

In spite of the low cost, the Scioto Village homes will feature many items usually found only in much more costly homes. Baths will be tiled, and there is a shower. Heat is automatic forced-air perimeter, with ducts running to registers at the outside wall in every room. This is recognized as the best warm air heating system ever designed. Because the air is circulated to the outside walls, cold air is warmed before it has a chance to cause drafts and the forced-air operation of the furnace in combination with natural convection currents in the room, provides an even heat throughout the entire home.

As mentioned above, all homes have three bedrooms. Inside and outside storage rooms are provided. The living-dining-kitchen area is uniquely designed to be quite flexible in arrangement. The dining area may be considered basically a kitchen eating area, or as an adjunct to the living room, depending upon the individual owner's arrangement of furniture and fixtures.

Important Step

The kitchen itself is complete with colored Youngstown Kitchen units, and is equipped with a garbage disposal unit in the sink and an exhaust fan.

Scioto Village is an important step in the growth of the South Side. It marks the first real step in many years in large-scale residential development in the area, and folks with roots in our part of town and with jobs throughout the area will do well to stop by the model home in Great Southern and see just how much the Fairlane has to offer.

Circle Date

Ohio Avenue EUB Circle No. 2, WSCS will meet at 10 a.m. Tuesday, June 10, with Mrs. Arthur Bell in charge of devotions. Helen Bowers, director of Volunteer Bureau of Franklin County will speak. Members will bring needle and white thread for sewing. Mrs. Paul Elsnaugle is chairman of the circle.

Witnesses Hour

W. J. Brickless has been announced as the Jehovah's Witnesses speaker, South Unit, 1705 S. High-st, Sunday, 7 p.m. The announced subject is "Is Everlasting Life Only A Dream?"

At 8:15 there will be Watchtower Bible study, with the topic, "The Time To Sing The New Song."

Hospital Parking—

the withdrawal of the slum-clearance program. This argument seemed to find acceptance, and the body went on record as desiring city council to ignore a previous request by the COSSO to deny the use of the park area for parking.

To City Council

Following the meeting referred to, a letter was sent to all members of the city council asking that the previous recommendations in the circumstances be ignored. The most effective argument seemed to be that the purchase of acreage to the west of the Children's Hospital for parking purposes would cause federal aid to be withdrawn from urban development. It was also stated that failure to provide parking immediately would seriously interfere with future building plans for Children's Hospital.

Not a Precedent

The council seemed to be aware of the possible result of its change of position, but, as one member of the council expressed it "either way, there are disadvantages; but the greatest disadvantage would lie in doing anything that would handicap the hospital in its building program." With that the council seemed to agree.

The Issued Letter

"May 23, 1958

"To All Members of
City Council:

"The Council of South Side Organizations, in studying the opinions of the proponents for parking in Livingston Park, rescinds its action opposing the ordinance for parking in Livingston Park, if in the judgment of city council the following opinions are factual.

"1. That the acquisition of acreage to the west of the Children's Hospital for parking purposes would jeopardize federal aid in the area for urban development.

"2. That the failure to provide parking immediately would seriously interfere with future building plans of the Children's Hospital.

"The Council of South Side Organizations expresses its concern that the granting of this privilege for Children's Hospital will not become a precedent for future action of city council

"Trusting that our concern is mutual, and that city council action will be based on facts.

"Sincerely,
James L. Wagner,
Secretary."

Both Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner and Councilman Shumaker urged "a full review" of (1) obligations to provide parking, and (2) contracts for federal aid.

City Council

It was generally believed that city council would follow the recommendations of the Council of South Side Organizations and its technical specialists, although this opinion was not based upon a polling of the members of the city body.

Irish Mike Did A Job

Hercules McIntyre Wins, Loses . . Comes Back Friday

There's no doubt about it — pore old Irish Mike McCall did a good deed last Saturday night at Jones Park.

There's no doubt about it — and even though most of the crowd would probably disagree, Irish Mike saved the night for Glen Redman.

As happens in these rugged out-of-doors wrestling circuits, injuries left over from Friday night forced a cancellation of the preliminary Larry Daniels — Gorgeous George Birchem match on Saturday, and brought the early debut of Hercules McIntyre, a man given to quick-easy berserk.

It's safe to say now that a man more cautious than Irish Mike (he was referee) might not have been able to handle the likes of Hercules. It was beef against beef, with plenty of language thrown in, and a three way match-Hercules, Redman and Irish Mike-on the ropes a couple of times.

Redman is a clean cut boy and a good wrestler. — Hercules McIntyre, on the other hand, is the fellow that pulled an automobile 15 feet with his hair a few years back, can drive spikes through a 2 by 4 with his hands, can break a tire chain wrapped around his chest.

He weights 238 pounds and once beat the famous "Atlas" in a fete of strength.

To the credit of McCall let it be said that he "feared not" the wrath of the heralded Hercules. — Redman was pinned after a series of body slams (maybe 15 or 20 — we lost count), but it was McCall that blew the whistle on the big boy, and saved Redman from damage when he lay helpless on the mat.

McCall didn't fare as well in other things Saturday night. It can be reliably reported that he lost several close matches with members of the audience who "advised" him on some of the finer points of calling fowls during the Ralph Waley-Lucky Lambert match (won by Whaley), and the Chest Brenneman-Gentleman Rocky Mingo match (won by Brenneman when McCall ruled a disqualification).

The main event, a seven man battle royal, was won by McCall who stayed fresh—merely warmed up — during the first three matches.

Next week, McIntyre will get another chance to demonstrate his unique strength. This time it will be relatively harmless: they're going to wrap a rope around his neck; three men on each side will try to pull him off balance.

He's a man.

In Friday night's matches, McCall beat Red Roberts, Elaine Ellis defeated Mary Alice Hillis, and Ralph Whaley defeated Goregous George Birchem.

This week's complete card is shown elsewhere in the paper.

He who has truth in his heart need never fear the want of persuasion on his tongue.

After all is said and done, it's usually the wife who has said it and the husband who has done it.

Experience is a wonderful thing. It enables you to recognize a mistake when you make it again.

Man of the Hour: The fellow whose wife asked him to wait a minute.

Mom, Daughter

The Philomathean Society of South High School held its annual spring Mother-Daughter Banquet, Thursday, May 22, at 6:30 p.m. in South Methodist Church.

Mrs. Delbert Swain and Miss Elsie Groves were honored guests among the 66 present. Mrs. Florence Belcher and Miss Mary Gaal are faculty advisors of the literary society.

A delicious dinner was served followed by a short musical program. Marcia Lipson, Barbara Hoover, Billie Rae Jordan, accompanied by Priscilla Dicke at the piano, sang two selections, "Greensleeves" and "I Believe."

The installation of the newly elected officers completed the evening. Lighting candles to guide them in the coming year were president, Peggy Kovaleski; vice president, Kay Hussey; secretary, Betty Sue Edwards; and treasurer, Sally Paulus. The retiring president, Donna Baker, charged them with their new responsibilities in a short address.

Church Builders Get Widow's Mite

There's a church being built at 490 E. Woodrow which brave members are working diligently to complete and pay for. A great many people in the area know about the church and many of them attend. It is pastored by Rev. Stephen Ferguson, 1545 Fairwood-av, who came to the church from Portsmouth, O. The pastor and Mrs. Ferguson are the parents of two sons.

This background concerning the pastor's family will let us proceed with the story of the church . . . the church that is to be will be completed on the foundation which is there now, and which houses the usual services throughout the week.

Help Needed

The present basement structure will accommodate only about 250 persons, D. E. Hughes and Russell Raffit, co-chairmen with Mrs. Audrey Steele report. When the superstructure is erected and finished the church will accommodate a total of about 350 persons. This calls for a substantial amount of money, the chairmen say.

In a campaign recently started, the immediate goal of $6000 has been set. The total ultimate need is $15,000

Wanted to Own ONE Brick

In pursuit of the first $6000, Mr. Raffitt has encountered many heart warming and enobling selfless deeds. For example, he called at a home, was invited in to explain the church building project by a mother of several children—eight in fact. The mother (a widow) began a search for cash.

Raffitt noticed she was a cripple, and perhaps she had a good need for money herself, he thought. He told her not to bother—to use whatever money there might be in the house for her family's needs.

But the woman responded: "All I have is 11 cents, but maybe that will pay for one brick . . . I want to own at least one brick in the new church," she said.

That, the solicitor thought, was a noble sacrifice for a noble cause.

She Was 70

Then there was the 70-year-old woman who "had no money, but wanted to 'give her all'" and did, insisting that her "all," which was nine cents, be accepted.

The co-chairmen believe that others may be touched by these stories. They hope that other money will be forthcoming to help complete the church building at 490 E. Moler-st.

SWANGER TELLS . . .

. . . Capital Sports

By Gene Swanger

The Capital University spring sport teams compiled a .666 average with 31 wins and 14 losses for the '58 season. The Purple thinclads headed the list of winners with a 7-1 record, the only loss being to Heidelberg 66-61 at Tiffin. Among the vanquished of this, the finest track team in the history of Capital, were Ohio Wesleyan and the University of Cincinnati. Sophomore Art Slate of Columbus, a triple winner in seven meets for the Lutherans, was named the most valuable player by his teammates.

Baseball was next on the list with a 6-4 record, having beaten Otterbein in a wild finale 10-9. Freshman Park Brigner of Columbus was the leading hitter for the Capsters with a .359, 10 runs batted in, 3 doubles and 2 triples. Brigner was followed by captain elect, Ken Eberhard, who hit an even .300 at the plate. Larry Evans, a junior from Columbus, who pitched 25 strikeouts was named most valuable player for the second year.

The tennis team recorded a .500 season for the Capsters from Bexley by defeating Otterbein twice, Muskingum, Marietta, and Wooster. The win over the Otters in the final match returned Capital to the win column after last season's 3-6 season. Don Schiff, a junior from Sidney, was named the most valuable player.

The Golf team defeated Wittenberg, Kenyon, and Heidelberg to compile a 3-4 record. In the Ohio Conference playoffs at Mount Union College, Capital took eighth-place honors while Akron and Wooster shared the top spot. The Lutherans' most valuable golfer, Clark Carless, of Pittsburgh, was named bronze medalist out of a field of 162 in the Ohio Loop playoffs.

Salary Hikes Set For 700 GM Workers

Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, announced pay increases Saturday that will effect approximately 700 salaried employes at the GM Ternstedt plant here beginning June 1.

Salary increases will apply to all employes earning less than $884 per month and in general will amount to about $10.50 more per month or two-and-a-half cents per hour, whichever is higher.

Curtice announced increases for 94,000 salaried GM employes and wage increases for 10,000 hourly-rate workers not represented by a union. Paul Jones, local plant manager, said the Ternstedt plant has no non-represented workers.

Cost-of-living allowances will continue in an upward adjustment of $10 for both groups.

Employes earning more than $867 per month will be raised to $884.

LET'S HAVE A BARBECUE

The long Memorial Day week-end officially opens the picnic season. Many families will include a picnic in their plans for this holiday week-end, be it in their backyard, with friends, or at a nearby park. Food out of doors always tastes better. A barbecue may be just the answer to the question, "What shall we eat?"

What is Barbecuing?—In the broadest sense barbecue means cook-out-of doors. In a more strict sense, barbecuing is cooking, especially meat . . . in a specially seasoned sauce.

The sauce builds the reputation of the barbecue. Some like sharp tangy sauce with lots of fire, while others prefer one that is more mild. Here is where the imagination can be put to work.

What to Barbecue—Meats of all kinds, and practically all cuts can be barbecued. Tender chicken or turkey, pork, beef and rabbit are easy ones to do. Fish fillets are good, too.

Less Tender Cuts of Meat . . . those which require long, moist cooking . . . may be barbecued, but they need to be treated to a tenderizing period prior to barbecuing. This is done by covering the meat for 12 to 48 hours, depending on the size and thickness of the pieces, in a food acid preparation in the refrigerator. Food acids such as lemon juice, vinegar, tomato juice, or the barbecue sauce itself will do the job.

Have you tried Kabobs?—Kabobs are meals on a skewer or green stick. Alternately place cubes of meat and vegetables on a skewer, brush with melted butter, and cook over fire until done, turning frequently. Any meat and vegetable combination as ham with sweet potatoes, and pineapple chunks (especially fresh) may be used.

Note: If green sticks are used make sure they are long but not too pliable. Scrape the bark off the end where the food is to be placed.

For the Rest of the Meal—spring onions, local grown radishes, cucumbers, carrots and greenhouse tomatoes may well be considered for salads or relishes.

For dessert, how about strawberries? Local berries will soon be available. Meanwhile those from our neighbors to the south are of good quality and are reasonably priced.

Don't forget to round out the barbecue with plenty of cold milk.

Natural Gas Helped Them Decide!

Communities prosper when industry moves in. Industry makes jobs, jobs attract people, people provide markets for industry's products; so the cycle goes!

Natural gas plays a vital role in attracting industry to a community. And your gas company, a part of the Columbia Gas System, supplies industry with ample quantities of this important low-cost commodity—as a fuel, a tool or a raw material—at low cost.

Natural gas has been—and continues to be—an important factor in the economic growth and progress of this part of the country—the area where this dependable "wonder fuel" was originally discovered and put to work for the benefit of man.

St. Leo's Parish was formed in June, 1902, when seventy five families registered with Father Charles Kessler. The first "Chapel" took in the first floor of the building which is now the school, erected in 1903. As the parish grew, plans began for the present church which was dedicated on Sunday, May 6, 1917. The building is Romanesque in style of architecture and has a seating capacity of over 800. Three daily masses and four Sunday masses are being said for the 800 families now registered in the parish.

The late Right Reverend Monsignor Bernard P. Vogel, served as head of the parish some thirty two years, retiring in 1952. On July 15, 1952, The Right Reverend Monsignor Francis J. Schwendeman, S.T.D., was appointed as pastor of St. Leo's Church. The annual festivals, the first of which was held in August, 1903, at City Park (Schiller Park) some fifty five years ago, have been a very important factor in enabling the pastors to keep St. Leo's Church the beautiful landmark it is, at Hannford and Bruck Streets.

S. E. Lions And City Rec. Dept. Invite Kids To 59-Day "Tagged" Fish Derby At Schiller

The South East Lions Club and the city recreation department this week announced a two month long "First Annual Fishing Derby" to be held at Schiller Park Lake beginning June 17.

The program has several purposes, all of which will give adventuresome South Side youngsters the incentive to stay near home during the summer vacation days just ahead.

The fishing derby will take the place of the long-established annual "big" day. Fish already have been newly stocked, a recreation department spokesman said. More fish will be added from time to time, and some of these will be "tagged".

"Tagged" fish will win prizes.

The following is the announcement and invitation:

The Southeast Lions Club and the Columbus Recreation Department are co-sponsoring a fishing derby at Schiller Park pond this summer. All South Side boys and girls 14 years of age or younger will be eligible to participate in this event, which opens on June 17 and will continue until Aug. 15.

Applications for membership in the Southeast Lions Junior Fishing Club may be secured at any of the schools in this community or from Schiller Recreation Center.

Many prizes will be awarded for tagged fish which are to be placed in the Schiller pond. Every club member will be eligible for the grand prize drawing of a bicycle on the final day of the contest.

Rules

There are rules, of course, which must be complied with before youngsters can become eligible. The Southeast Lions say this is necessary and customary whenever organizations

Ten Groups Honored For Service To Agencies

Ten clubs and organizations were honored recently at the fifth annual volunteer recognition tea for their service to South Side recreation and welfare agencies.

The groups were awarded certificates of appreciation for special service projects at St. Steven's Community Center, 379 Barthman-av; Schiller Recreation Center; South Side Day Nursery, 255 E. Reeb-av.

The Volunteer Service Bureau is a department of the United Community Council. It assists clubs and organizations in finding worthwhile projects to serve the community.

The bureau also serves as a coordinating department which recruits and trains new volunteers to assist agencies. Livingston Park Area To Be Used For Parking Strip

By Tom Sharp

City Council voted 5-2 Monday night to convert an 80 ft strip of Livingston Park into a parking lot for benefit of Children's Hospital. The project will cost about $8000 plus labor.

In the face of many objections lodged by Councilman Westlake, the Council of South Side Organizations and various other civic groups and independent people living in the area, city council passed the ordinance which gives a new blacktopped parking area to Children's Hospital.

Westlake favored city purchase of substandard buildings west of the hospital. He said these could be razed and part of the land used for parking and the rest as a playground for sick and handicapped children.

Trent Sickles, representing Children's Hospital trustees, outlined parking needs south of the hospital (where the park is located).

Several speakers from the South Side Council spoke in defense of saving available parks for the neighborhood. The opposition deemed it necessary at this time in view of expansion of the hospital, that parking be provided for this hospital. "It is very valuable to the welfare of the city," stated Councilman Shoemaker, who started the vote in favor of the ordinance.

Councilman William Hicks, who joined Westlake in opposing the measure, asked if a planting strip between the parking lot and the park would be provided. "We require this buffer for other parking lots," Hicks said. "Are we going to violate our own rules?"

Planning Director Jack Bachtel explained that the rule applies only to areas zoned for parking in residential sections, and said that no zoning changes were involved in this case.

Funs—Games—Prizes . . At St. Leo's Festival

Mrs. Plageman called this week to remind us that dinner will be served each evening from 5 to 11 p.m. at the St. Leo Summer Festival. She also reminded that the 1958 station wagon will be given away on Saturday evening.

Everyone has been invited to this gala annual festival which is held to assist the church in paying off the school building fund.

Progress Report No. 1—Footers for the wings of the new Schiller Park band stand were dug by this back hoe—operated here by Bob Osborn. Concrete was poured last week. Dominic Sabatini probes depth, Ralph Predmore has just finished cleaning up the debris tossed in the ditches at night by neighborhood youngsters.

Progress Report No. 2: Engineer Carl Gibson and Crew Foreman Frank Esposito scan the foundation work, and the expanse of tree bordered lawn where South Siders soon will sit for "Concerts under the stars." Orchestras face north, the audience faces south.

Digging foundations and pouring of concrete footers has taken the place of preliminary survey work on Schiller Park's new "open air" band stand this week.

The improvements—scheduled for completion by June 15—were in the hands of Engineer Carl Gibson and crew boss Frank Esposito, the latter an old hand in Schiller construction projects, the former a young man with a special "feel" for Schiller.

Wet spring weather slowed things for a while, the men reported. But now things will go along quickly barring the unforseen and unexpected.

However, the unforseen can be delaying and expensive.

Esposito asked for cooperation from the neighborhood youngsters. More than $1500 damage already has been done to expensive grading equipment, and rocks thrown into excavations at night delay work next day. He recalls having rebuilt the Schiller fountain (near the shelter house) four times a few years ago; each night the pranksters tore down the day's masonry work.

Most improvements at Schiller are for recreation . . . fun . . . comfort, all work is paid for from tax money.

"Please — all youngsters help us in the next few weeks," the work crew asks.

The band stand will be completely electrified; will have lights for each musician, lights for overhead, and foot

Southern Kiwanis Has "Ladies' Night"

Little League Baseball Being Helped

A Hartley newspaper reporter was on the job when the Southern Kiwanis Club, of which Marion-Franklin High School Principal E. E. Gearhardt is president, recently held its Ladies' Night dinner. Featured speaker was Mrs. Jean Shea, newspaper columnist and radio-tv personality. Shown, left to right, Lieutenant Governor for Kiwanis and Mrs. Flowers, Jean Shea, Mr. and Mrs. Proe Vail. A recent project of the Kiwanis was the collection, and donation of prizes and gifts for Little League baseball teams.

Joys Of Trotlining Are Many

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

I was floating down a stretch of Big Darby Creek in a canoe about this time last year casting for smallmouth bass, and I was pleased to note that we floated over several trotlines in the course of a day's fishing. It was reassuring to me to know that this somewhat primitive form of sport fishing is still alive and kicking.

Some of my earliest fishing recollections are associated with trotlining, and I'm certain that the first respectable string of fish I ever caught came from a trotline.

Since then I have plied this ancient art, taught to me by Earl King, on the Muskingum, Mohican, and Kokosing Rivers, and Wills Creek and Big Darby Creek. Sleek channel catfish and big shovelheads are the prizes awarded to skilled trotliners. Suckers, carps, and occasional bass are also taken. But a trotline was designed with catfish in mind.

FAVOR NIGHT BAITING

By baiting up your line just before dark you fish through the night. This is when catfish are out prowling around looking for a meal. When the fishing is particularly good—during the dark of the moon, or when the stream is rising slightly after a rain—some fishermen run their trotlines once or twice in the night. By doing this they can take off freshly caught fish, and keep the hooks baited for more prospects. Crayfish are expert bait-stealers, and by replacing bait through the night you improve the chances of a catfish finding your minnows and nightcrawlers.

When it comes to deciding what baits to use you have an unlimited variety, but I think minnows are best with nightcrawlers running a close second. I've also had good luck on catalpa worms, liver, shrimp, and chicken entrails. (This last bait was in good supply before the day of cut-up chickens neatly wrapped in super markets). Chunks of yellow laundry soap, and marshmallows are also used as trotline bait.

I remember trotlining as a companionable sport. Earl King and I would spend an afternoon seining minnows in preparation to setting a line. Sometimes we would spend two or three hours the night before catching nightcrawlers. Other expeditions led to catalpa groves in a quest of bait. Putting out the line would be accomplished only after much discussion as to where would be the "right spot."

Tying on stagings was a knack to be learned—they musn't slip and become tangled with other hooks. Finally, the bait was put on just at dark. As the evening crept on with accompanying night noises, a man and boy alone in a boat found much of interest to talk about.

PROVES MANY A THRILL

The next morning at daylight anticipation was at flood tide. Would there, or wouldn't there be fish on the line to make it throb? Chances are, there were. In any event, fog was rising from the water, wood ducks were whistling overhead, birds were singing—and it was a good time to be alive.

Once a trotliner always a trotliner. I still know where to seine for minnows, and how to prod the big chubs out from under roots. My reflexes are slowing down a bit, but I think I can still grab nightcrawlers. I know that I can tie a staging onto a trotline. And I'll bet I can still estimate to within two pounds the size of a fish just by feeling him throb on the line.

Before many days go by I'm going to relive these joys.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

FRUITS — strawberries, lemons, pineapple, canned applesauce.

VEGETABLES — asparagus, greenhouse tomatoes, leaf lettuce, canned green beans.

OTHER FOODS — fryers, ground beef, ham, large eggs, milk.

STRAWBERRY SEASON SHORT AND SWEET!!

You won't need persuasion to get you to take home the beautiful bright red strawberries that are arriving in our markets now. Anyone would find them hard to resist.

We have enjoyed them early in the season from the southern states, but in early June the luscious crop of local homegrown strawberries is here. The season is short. Before long we must switch again to the frozen ones. So don't wait. Eat them fresh in all your favorite ways. It's time also to locate your supply for freezing and for making cooked or frozen jam.

SELECTING AT THE MARKET — Look for fresh, clean, bright red berries with green caps, one with no white spots or green tips. That glossy appearance means they're freshly picked.

CARE AT HOME — Ripe berries should be used soon after purchasing. They keep best if you spread them in a shallow pan and cover lightly with waxed paper in the refrigerator.

Wash gently in running water, then remove caps when you're ready to use them. Berries lose vitamins and become water logged if they stand in water.

GOOD TO EAT — GOOD FOR US. — Fresh strawberries arrive at the time when fresh oranges and grapefruit are on the decline. This is good, for strawberries are excellent source of Vitamin C. A cup of strawberries contains enough Vitamin C for an adult's daily needs at the cost of only 55 calories per cup.

VARIETIES FOR FREEZING — You have several choices when you buy local berries. You may buy them at your grocery, at a roadside stand, or you may pick them yourself. In any case, it's wise to select a variety that freezes well. Varieties recommended in Ohio include Pocahontas, Surecrop, Earlidown, Midland, Sparkle and Fairland.

ASPARAGUS

Last call to put fresh homegrown asparagus in the home freezer or locker for next winter's meals. After this week quality will be on the down grade.

Town Meeting Ends Twentieth Year

Columbus Town Meeting concluded its twentieth season of public service programming Sunday. Its incisive weekly discussion of issues pertinent to the day will be missed.

The program, unique not only in its nature but in the public support it commands, was founded on the premise that the public must have both sides of questions that determine the course of the future. Through the years it has illuminated the changing and challenging elements of our political, scientific, educational, economical, religious, and governmental affairs.

Supported solely by public contribution Town Meeting has long exhibited dedicated responsibility. This summer another note will be added to its service ideals.

In order to better inform its wide Ohio audience, the forum will return to the air at infrequent intervals during the vacation season.

Town Meeting's program committee, headed by President C. Emory Glander, working with Mrs. Grace Hare Frye, Director, will maintain a constant vigil on developments throughout the world, holding a constant check on the public pulse and events that shape our times.

Stations WBNS-TV and WBNS-Radio have agreed to devote air time to programs as issues dictate.

We applaud the decision of Town Meeting's Board and these stations. In this fast moving world, information is vital for survival, particularly the balanced type of information developed by free discussion.

We earnestly suggest that the public continue to participate, support, and aid this worthwhile service endeavor.

Bible Comment:

Cross Cry Emphasizes Humanity

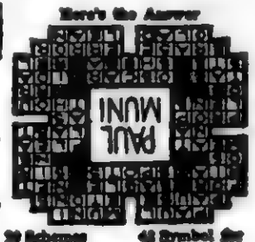
Christ's death on Calvary followed quickly His agony in the Garden of Gethsemane.

We are wont to say that there is an agony of soul that is greater than any physical pain, but physical pain can mean agony of soul as well. A martyr may bear his sufferings, upheld by his faith and determination to let nothing induce him to renounce his fidelity to right and truth. But while man lives and is conscious, the body cannot be separated from the soul. Bodily pain, no matter how courageously it is endured, often means agony of spirit.

It is in this light that we must interpret the cry of Christ, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" Here, as in the agony at Gethsemane, is emphasized the deep and real humanity of the Christ who suffered on the Cross.

It was the human cry that Job, under the burden of his afflictions, had uttered when he had been tempted to curse God and die.

It was a momentary cry of intense anguish, but the spirit of Christ under suffering was manifested more truly in His attitude toward the good thief. He knew in the moments following His outcry that God had not forsaken Him, for He said to the thief, "This day thou shalt be with me in Paradise."



As the sun's light failed and darkness came over the land, and the veil of the temple was torn in two, the spirit of Gethsemane came back. "Not my will, but thine be done," He said, and "Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit."

This was the final word from the Cross.

Hot Weather Treats To Make A Steamy Summer Bearable

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

For a hot-day luncheon, frozen fruit salad serves as a combination main dish and dessert. Of course, a pitcher of iced tea goes with this luncheon, too.

Ice Tea Recipe (18-12 servings)

Premeasure ¼ cup loose tea (or remove tags from 15 teabags). Bring 1 quart of freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil in a saucepan. Remove from heat and while water is still bubbling, add all the tea at one time. Stir. Brew 5 minutes, uncovered. Stir and strain into pitcher holding an additional quart of freshly drawn cold water. (Do not refrigerate.) Serve in ice-filled glasses, with lemon and sugar to taste.

Frozen Fruit Salad (About 8 servings)

One can (1 pound 14-ounce) fruit cocktail, 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, ½ cup liquid from fruit, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 package (3-ounce) cream cheese, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, 8 marshmallows, quartered; 1 cup heavy cream, whipped.

Drain fruit cocktail, saving ½ cup liquid. Sprinkle gelatin over ½ cup of liquid. Add sugar to the remaining ½ cup liquid and heat; pour over gelatin.

Combine cheese and mayonnaise; stir in gelatin mixture, mixing until smooth. Combine with marshmallows and fruit. Fold in whipped cream. Pour in a 6-cup mold or refrigerator tray.

Freeze, without stirring, until firm. Serve on salad greens.

What could be better for that midsummer heat spell than cooling ice tea and delicious frozen fruit salad?

Chittlin' Switch, Sunday Afternoon

Dear Jason:

Things around the old home town are the same as usual. Your brother Zeke is still going around with that Saliva Patta girl from Polecat Ridge. I won't say I don't like Salvia but I honestly believe she'd steal straw from her mother's kennel. There's a story going around that she's going to have an operation on her nose. She's not going to have it straightened—just placed between her eyes. I guess you can call Savila slightly on the fickle side.

She's been married before, you know, and at her first wedding she threw her bouquet and while it was still in the air she decided she didn't like the guy she had just married so she ran and caught it herself.

As far as her age goes, she's pretty close mouth about it but I hear she's trying to get the government to mail her Social Security check to her in a plain wrapper. Saliva also believes she can sing and last year she made a 12-inch record of her singing. The only thing that would help it would be a 12-inch hole in the center. But Zeke loves her so I guess you'll be trying to get some leave to come to the wedding. Zeke says Saliva has the face of a Saint and I had to agree a — St. Bernard.

Well, Jason, next week I'll drop you a letter from New York. As a mater of fact, it's really Brooklyn where the convention is, the Hotel St. George.

Write soon.
Your loving,
MOM.

Hunger Is Believed Cause Of $115.00 Disappearing

A Parsons-av business man is not strong for using food warmers as a substitute for the bank. He tried it last week, and ended up minus $115.00. It came about this way: Julian Marcus, 56, who operates a restaurant at 50 Parsons-av, put his cash in the food warmer until he should return on Tuesday.

Tuesday came, and so did Julian Marcus. But Julian Marcus found the food warmer empty. Some time during the night a burglar got into the building through an unlocked window. Anyway, the $115-taker apparently had been hungry and lifted the lid on the food warmer, and then, it is surmised, took the $115 and went away—quite happily, too.

GM Program Ends Union Shop, Dues

Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp., last week outlined a 15-point program for operation without a union contract which went into effect Thursday midnight for the 3500 workers at the Ternstedt Division plant here.

GM and the United Auto Workers Union, who have failed to come to an agreement thus far, will continue talks and hope to have a new contract soon.

Meanwhile, employes continue to work without a contract under the new 15-point program.

Only two of the points will mean any change in work schedules, pay or benefits received by the employes. They are:

"Union members will no longer have the obligation to pay dues to the union as a condition of continued employment in General Motors. The union will be unable to request and cause the discharge of an employe for non-payment of dues.

"New employes will not be required to join the union. Since General Motors now has no responsibility and authority to deduct union dues from wages, no such deductions will be made."

'Space Explorers' In Summer Plans At S. S. Library

More than 10,000 Columbus youngsters are expected to enroll in the Space Explorers' Reading Club of the Columbus Public Library this summer, but the two pictured above will "blast off" from Parsons Branch Library, 845 Parsons-av, where they are registered patrons. Here, Librarian Margaret Bausch explains rules of the club whereby youngsters will learn about the solar system by "rocketing" from one planet to another in accordance with how fast and how much they read.

Enrollment in the club, open to all, ages six to 16, will open Monday, June 2. On the same day, summer hours will begin at the branch library and will extend through Sept. 13. The library will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Mondays and 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays. Youngsters will also want to take part in the combination craft and story hours to be conducted at 10 a.m. Thursdays throughout the summer. Young "space fans" pictured above are Becky Neymeyer, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Neymeyer, 485 Sycamore-st; and John Loeffler, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Loeffler, 3528 Roswell-dr.

She was pronounced dead upon arrival at the hospital. Our deepest sympathy to the members of this family.

An 84-year-old widow of a Civil War veteran passed away last Saturday. The woman was Mrs. Etta Barker, who had lived at 1633 S. High-st.

Weddings

Naturally, many weddings are featured at this time, and our South Side young folks are among the ones listening to the strains of Lohengrin. On June 6, lovely Sallie Jester (who does such a beautiful job with her singing) will be exchanging her vows with Larry Pennington, of 1511 Little-av, in Brown Road Community Church. Miss Jester, 920 S. 18th-st, is a South High graduate, as is Mr. Pennington. Another musically talented South Sider who will be listening to the music instead of performing, is Rose-Marie Messmer, 635 Markison-av, who will become Mrs. Philip A. McRury. Miss Messmer is a vocal music teacher in the Worthington Schools and is a cellist in the Columbus Symphony. Mr. McRury, of Holland, Ohio, is an employe of Battelle Memorial Institute. The wedding will take place on June 7. Also on June 7, Rita Belli, 1624 Ashland-av, will exchange the wedding vows with A/1C John Albert, 240 Woodrow-av. Miss Belli is a graduate of Sacred Heart and Mr. Albert received his education at South High School. He is currently serving with the Air Force at Spokane, Wash. The open church ceremony will take place in St. John's the Baptist Church.

Anita Lee Masters, 3040 Innrd, and Wilbur Harold Egnew, 386 E. Beck-st, will be married on June 8 at Wagner Memorial EUB Church. Both young folks are South High graduates. On June 8 Janet Sue Appleman, 1561 E. Whittier-st, will exchange her wedding vows with Edward Carroll Schick, Westerville, O. Miss Appleman is a South High graduate, while her husband-to-be received his education at Westerville High and Capitol Conservatory of Music. He is head of the vocal music department of Bellevue High School. The wedding will take place in Hope Lutheran Church. Another June wedding, though we don't know the date, will unite former South Sider Gwen Haskins with A/C Kenneth Lee Neisent of Fortuna, N.D.

Cake and candles time in the younger set . . . Pamela Malone, 1363 S. Fifth-st, June 7; Ruth Curry, 1695 S. Pearl-st, June 10; Debby Blair, 1385 S. Sixth-st, June 7; Lisa Edwards, 78 E. Newly elected officers of the Band and Orchestra Parents of South High School are these: Mrs. McCune, president; Mrs. DeWitt, vice-president; Mrs. Justus, treasurer; Mrs. Foster, secretary.

The big news around St. Leo's these days is the spring homecoming festival to be held at the school grounds on June 6 and 7. The festival will last from 5 to 11 p.m. Dinner will be served both evenings. Special entertainment has been planned and many "fun" things will be available. The public is eligible.

Since this relative doesn't live in the South Side, we'll be safe in relating this incident. A niece received a "sack" dress for Mother's Day, so was quite pleased to wear it on a festive occasion, when friends were coming in for the evening. She even went to the store and felt quite proud of herself, generally. Not until the last guest arrived did she discover why there were a few more smiles and grins than usual — she had the dress on backwards!

Wonder if Jack Green was playing football instead of baseball at the ball diamond a week ago Saturday? Anyway, he broke a toe, a painful deal regardless of which sport caused it.

We wish we'd thought to put this item in a week sooner, but perhaps interested folks can act quickly anyway. Mrs. Homer Doty, of California now, has a June 9 birthday. Her former South Side friends might like to remember her with a card, so here's her address: 9414 Woodruff, Temple City, California. We know she reads the Leader in Temple City, so we'll send hearty greetings to her now.

Eddie Nehr, 236 E. Gates-st, is currently at home on a 30-day furlough from Wyoming. He will ship out to Germany at the end of his furlough. Eddie's homecoming was a sad one, for he arrived home in time to attend his father's funeral. When he is in Germany he hopes to be able to visit some of his relatives. Germany is the home place of his parents.

We've decided that "DeeDee" Germaine should be co-author of the column, for this week's efforts. We owe a big thanks to her. Here is an item we would not have know about if we hadn't talked to her: Harriet Long and Ann Wolford, 260 E. Gates-st, are currently in Washington, D.C., and will visit there indefinitely, as they are visiting relatives. Mrs. Long and Mrs. Wolford are sisters.

A former Gates-st resident, Cliff Sheets, was recently hospitalized in Tucson, Ariz. We're sorry we haven't his address, or the hospital he was in, or we'd gladly pass them along.

A belated May 24 birthday greeting to Gertrude Ramey, 1721 S. Third-st, and a "happy birthday" today to Mary LaRue, the brave soul who's married to our "character" brother, Don.

A May 18 wedding ceremony united Mildred Leonard, 1139 E. Whittier-st, to Walter Hesser of Willoughby, O. The new Mrs. Hesser is a sophomore at Hiram College and her husband is an employee of the Willoughby post office.

South High School seniors start their final round of activities tonight with a supper and prom. This Sunday will be the baccalaureate and on June 10 the diplomas will be the finale of commencement week.

Trudeau Guild 10 will hold a rummage sale on June 10, and the final meeting of the season will be held the following day, the 11th. The losers of the sales tax contest will feed the winners, dern 'em. (The winners, that is. Any doubts where ye Gadabout belongs?) Mary Claar will be the hostess in her lovely new home at 80 Frebis-av.

We've been hearing more about "proud grandpa" Eddie Tope . . . seems he'd bought toys for his granddaughter even before Mr. Stork delivered her to Carolyn and Allen!

Here's a chuckler we heard about: At a bake sale, a lady bought some delicious-looking cup cakes. Upon eating one of them later a hard substance was bitten into. She discovered that part of the "baker's" mixer was the "something new" added to the ingredients! No, Mrs. M., we won't tell your name.

Hello!

Are you planning a wedding in your family? We love to design the flowers for these happy occasions. We work hard to make every floral piece perfect and to blend with the gowns and surroundings. Call us for an appointment; we will give you an estimate without obligations on your flowers for the church and bridal party. We do not give telephone estimates.

Belated congratulations to several couples who have new little ones—Mr. & Mrs. Bill Hoermle, Jr., Mr. & Mrs. Clinton Friedley, Mr. & Mrs. Kenneth Steinmetz, and Mr. & Mrs. Donald O'Hara have baby daughters, while a new boy is the pride and joy of Mr. & Mrs. Luther Schlaegel. Recently on the sick list have been Mrs. Floyd Weigand, Mrs. Blanche Chrismer, Earl Lisk, Charles Gearhart, Arthur Starrett, Blanche Lynn, Mrs. Dwight Lynch, Henry Barry, Stanley Dodds, Jake Daulton and Joe Bryant. Having their anniversaries fall on the same day proves to be fun for two Champion Avenue neighbors, for they celebrate together. Congratulations to the Max Borsts and Robert Kaisers.

We still have bedding plants for porch boxes and yards. Come and roam through the greenhouses and make your own selection. The plants are in pots and priced from 15c up.

Summer Festival At Corpus Christi

The Corpus Christi Parish Summer Festival scheduled for June 13 and 14 promises to be one of the biggest ever. Popularity of the festival has increased until parishioners now have made it an annual event. This year a Ford station wagon will be given away at closing time on the last night, Saturday. A sneak look at the menu also is something to inspire a big turn-out. Food! . . . the menu looks like those in popular restaurants! Remember the dates: Friday and Saturday, June 13 and 14, at the Corpus Christi Parish House. Starting time is 5 p.m.

Apple Slices Are Fine With Mixed Cheese Dip

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

Ever serve "applesnacks"? They are crisp slices of red Delicious apples for the nibbling tray served with an interesting three-cheese dunk. Friends in the State of Washington gave us this idea.

Three-Cheese Dunk

One cup cottage cheese, well drained, 1 cup grated cheddar cheese, 2 ounces bleu cheese, mashed, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon horseradish, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 3 green onions, finely chopped, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon celery salt, pepper.

Blend cheeses together. Add remaining ingredients. Pile in bowl. Serve with crisp, fresh apple slices.

Then from California came this salad recipe:

Belvedere Salad
(4-6 generous servings)

Three-quarters cup macaroni, 1 cup ripe olives, 1 (6½-ounce or 7-ounce) can tuna, 2 hard-cooked eggs, 2 cups finely shredded cabbage, ½ cup mayonnaise, 2 teaspoons prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender. Drain, and rinse thoroughly with cold water. Cut olives into large pieces.

Drain oil from tuna, and flake coarsely. Dice eggs. Combine macaroni, olives, tuna, eggs and cabbage. Blend mayonnaise, mustard, vinegar and salt, and toss lightly with salad mixture.

Dunking apple slices in a dip made of three cheeses will please guests as a meal appetizer or snack idea.

Campfire Girls

The Jolly Bluebirds, one of the groups that "flew up" into the Camp Fire Girls on May 25, participate in a nature hike, as the first project in their new rank, on May 26. Mrs. William R. Oursler, leader, had her girls identify and gather leaves on a short hike. Upon their return to the meeting place they made blueprints of the leaves. This past Monday they made presents to give their dads on "His" day, June 15. They have been requested to figure out their Indian names, as is customary in Camp Fire groups, and to decide on the group's Indian name.

The "Jets Night" for the city's Camp Fire organization will take place at the W. Mound-st stadium tomorrow, June 6. A pre-game program will be presented by representatives of all three age-levels of the Camp Fire Girls. William R. Oursler of Markison-av will direct the activities. The sanitation project at Wyandot will benefit from the baseball game, as 50 cents from each $1.50 ticket sold will be retained by the Camp Fire Wyandot committee. Tickets may be obtained from any leader of Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls, or Horizon Club leader. In case of rain, the ticket will be honored on June 7. Jet badges may be used, by paying an additional 50c admission fee.

The first planning committee meeting was held at the South Side Settlement House, Wednesday, May 21. Committee chairmen were named and introduced to the functions of their committees.

Barrett JHS Memorial Assy.

Barrett Junior High School held its annual Memorial Assembly last Thursday morning, May 29.

Michael Crary led the student body in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. The school band, with H. L. Germain directing, played the national anthem while Andrew Denman led the assembly in the singing. The band also did a patriotic medley.

Principal Kenneth Olbert explained for the student body the significance of Memorial Day and the unique and singular experience and memories which belong to the veteran and especially to the veteran of combat. The trumpet section of the band sounded "Taps" in sweet, close harmony, and the assembly was dismissed to continue and complete the business of that day.

Barrett Drops Game

Barrett Junior High School lost a baseball game to Starling Junior High School on Tuesday, May 27. Barrett's Ray Burford was winning a pitchers' battle, and had a score of 2-0 in the latter half of the last inning, but Starling picked up a run, and with two out and two on base Starling's pitcher Staten won his own game by hitting a double down the left field line that ended the game.

Barrett's last game of the season has been scheduled with Hilltonia, on Tuesday, June 3, at Lincoln Park. The outcome of that game decides whether Barrett is or is not in a tie for first place.

Tuna With Cheese Sauce Is Summer Delight

Tuna covered with a succulent cheese sauce and bedded in rice can't wait to be eaten.

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

Here's a pleasant warm-weather dinner in a dish—large pieces of canned tuna with tomato wedges, green pepper and onion, served on thrifty rice with an easy-to-make cheese sauce.

Tuna and Rice Dinner
(6 servings)

One and one-half cups water, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 5-ounce box packaged precooked rice (about 1½ cups), 2½ cups 3-Minute Cheese Sauce, 2 7-ounce cans solid-pack tuna, ½ cup chopped green pepper, ¼ cup chopped onion, 1 medium-sized tomato, cut in wedges.

Bring water and salt to boil in saucepan. Add rice and mix just to moisten all the rice. Cover; remove from heat and let stand as directed in step 2 on back of rice box.

While rice is cooking, prepare 3-Minute Cheese Sauce. Drain tuna; reserve 2 tablespoons oil. Pour 2 tablespoons oil into skillet; heat. Add pepper and onion and cook until tender.

Add tuna and tomato and heat to serving temperature. Arrange rice on serving platter. Top with tuna mixture. Serve with 3-Minute Cheese Sauce.

3-Minute Cheese Sauce
(2½ cups)

One and two-thirds cups (large can) undiluted evaporated milk, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons dry mustard, 2 cups (about 8 ounces) grated process American cheese.

Simmer evaporated milk, salt and mustard in saucepan over medium heat to just below boiling (about 2 minutes). Add cheese; stir over medium heat until cheese melts (about 1 minute longer).

THE SECRET IS OUT!

Club Founder Has Namesake; 'Marion Hamilton' Is Iris, Too!

By Ray Shaffer

It took six long years but an Indianapolis flower grower finally came up with a new variety of iris and named it after a Hilltop woman.

Mrs. Marion Hamilton of 2945 Palmetto-st, has had her name applied to a beautiful pale salmon-colored iris grown by Florist Earl Roberts of Indianapolis.

Mrs. Hamilton and Roberts have been carrying on a correspondence for nearly seven years regarding the special flower. She hadn't even told her family or close friends, until last week that there was a possibility of a "Marion Hamilton Iris."

Roberts spent three years developing the flower. He then sent it to London, England, to the International Iris Symposium to get permission to call it the "Marion Hamilton Iris."

Approved in London

The flower was kept in London for two years to check its growth and originality of variety. Finally, in September 1957, permission was granted to name the flower after the Hilltopper and put it on the market.

Melrose Gardens of Melrose, Calif., has purchased the complete stock of this iris variety and is retailing it at $15 a bulb.

Mrs. Hamilton and Roberts met only once. He is a cousin of one of her close friends and visited her eight years ago. He was so impressed with her iris garden and her general knowledge of flowers that he determined to pay tribute to her with the new variety.

A member of the Columbus Iris Society for 25 years, Mrs. Hamilton is founder and member of the Highland Garden Club which celebrated its 20th birthday this year.

Her fellow club women are still amazed that she was able to keep the Marion Hamilton Iris a secret for so many years. They are also very proud for people are often named after flowers but few flowers are ever named after people!

Workers' Rally Adds To 'Y' Fund Pledges

Workers attending an outdoor rally of the YMCA-YWCA Development Fund at South Side Y Park last week, brought in $23,605 to boost the campaign total to $853,648.

Largest report at the meeting was $9,000 turned in by David A. Davis' Industrial "B" Division.

Special gifts divisions, representing local community areas, achieved a total of $108,684. Hilltop, led by W. E. Jones, remained in first place with $41,881. Spring Street had $31,455. South Side $22,340, Grandview-Arlington $3,786, Bexley-Whitehall $2,193, and the Downtown Division $805.

Speaker at the outdoor meeting was Ray E. Hughes, Spring Street board member, who heads its special gifts division.

Hughes, who has been involved in every "Y" campaign since 1915, said the YMCA's great contribution to the social order was as a builder of men. "If we want a better world, encompassing all races, creeds, and philosophies, we must train our youth in Christian principles."

"The YMCA and the YWCA need and deserve the support of the community," Hughes asserted, "because they work devotedly to strengthen the foundations essential to progress."

Gravel Lease Turned Down By Commission

By a unanimous vote, the City planning Commission has recommended that City Council reject a proposal to lease a 40-acre tract north of Frank-rd and east of Rt. 104 as a gravel site. The commission voted to retain the site as possible use for a nursery.

Planning Director Jack Bachtel stated it would be unwise to sell the gravel rights since the location of a new road paralleling Southwest Freeway is unknown.

Council President W. Wesley Llewelyn sponsored the lease. He estimates that the city would realize $15,000 from royalities on the gravel.

Letters To The Editor

Conscience Gets Driver Who Hit Dog

Editor's Note: We have a firm rule in that we never publish a letter unless it is signed. But, like every rule, there are exceptions. The following anonymous letter, found in our mailbox last Friday morning, is presented in the hope that it will bring a measure of solace to at least two deeply wounded people and it may serve as a warning to pet owners.

TO A BROKEN HEARTED BOY

I saw you in my rear view mirror last Tuesday evening. I saw you run screaming into the street, saw you scoop up your pain-stricken and howling little black dog in your arms, saw you run with your precious burden to your porch. I couldn't hear you cry, but the sound of your heartbreak wrenched my heart.

I just couldn't stop. I was driving south on Glenwood-av near Mound-st, definitely not exceeding the speed limit. Your dog darted across the pavement. I saw him only as he flashed under my front wheels. I felt the terrifying double crunch of wheels on a soft body. And then I saw you.

I was already late for two appointments and I just could not stop and do what I should have done — comfort you in my own numbed state of shock.

Several years ago, my own dog was run over. The man stopped and helped me look for nearly an hour for my injured, frightened pet. We couldn't do anything when we found him. His pelvic region had been crushed and the doctor had to lead him to a painless death by means of an injection. Still, the fact that the man—also blameless—had stopped and offered assistance, helped heal the hurt.

Don't be bitter. I couldn't stop.

Maybe I've spent these sleepless nights for nothing. Maybe your dog wasn't seriously hurt. Maybe he's already wagging his tail and giving you the adoring glances all small black puppies give to their young masters. I'd like to think so.

Perhaps I should be thankful that you didn't dart into the street immediately behind your dog. I couldn't have braked in time to avoid you, even at my low speed.

I drove on. But I do care—tremendously. I know your grief. I share that grief!

Don Ball, 167 E. Jenkins-av, and Woodrow Spriggs, 1655 S. Third-st, are two young men with a special interest in Mercy Hospital's June 15 dedicatory services. Under the skilled tutelage of Miss Christina McKeever, Mercy's dietician, they've learned all the serving tricks of banquets, parties . . . all the out-of-ordinary culinary secrets that make day-to-day hospital diets palatable. They're busy this week with special cookies and rolls—treats for visitors—at the open house. Picture was taken in the spacious and new stainless steel Mercy kitchen. Guy Stanley Snyder, 1812 Bucher-st, and Lowell Thomas Moore, 517 E. Jenkins-av, who are graduating from South High School this week, also serve Miss McKeever's staff.

Dedicatory services will be held by Mercy Hospital Sunday as work on a $427,000 improvement nears completion.

Richard Borrell, chairman of the Franklin County Hospital Commission, will be in charge of the ceremony; Judge Dana F. Reynolds, chairman of Mercy's Board of Directors, will present the key to the new hospital to C. B. Beard, Mercy superintendent.

The "Open House" program will begin at 2 p.m., and will continue until about 5 p.m.

Hospital personnel and the Guilds of Mercy will act as guides and hostesses for visitors. Tours will end in the conference room where refreshments will be served.

The ceremony marks the completion of the first Columbus hospital improvement project undertaken since the passing of a special $15 million bond issue last fall.

Assembly Hall For 250, And Six Classrooms For St. Paul E & R

The educational unit has been hoped for ever since a fund was started in 1952, with a gift of $15,000 from the estate of the late Carl Fisher, 40 W. Frankfort-st. Total cost of the improvement is expected to reach $100,000; the building fund has now grown to more than $55,000, the pastor, Rev. John O. Lang, M.A., S.T.M., reported this week.

Rev. Lang believes the $100,000 cost figure is a sound estimate, and may vary little, if at all. The cost of furnishing the new unit will be extra, he said.

The church looks ahead hopefully to the accomplishment of the full amount.

The $55,000 now in hand was received without a concerted drive. The cause has been an item on the weekly offering, Rev. Lang said.

It is expected that ground breaking will take place within a few months.

Six Rooms

The new unit will be built onto the rear of the church facing Bruck-st and will provide six classrooms, 20 feet by 30 feet in size, three upstairs and three downstairs. These, the pastor said, may be divided into 12 Sunday school rooms 15 feet by 20 feet in size.

Assembly Room

There will also be an assembly room seating about 250 people, the statement said, with a platform or stage, which will be used for Sunday school worship services, for religious films and pageants, and for fellowship activities.

Another feature will be a lounge room and an office. The new building will be connected with the present church structure.

Necessary

The educational unit is declared necessary because of the growing Sunday school, vacation Bible school and other agencies for religious education at the church, the pastor said. The present week-day Christian kindergarten will be housed in the new building and, if the pastors dreams ever come true, he said, there will be a Christian day school.

For Greater Efficiency

Settlement Houses To Have Shift In Program

A major shift in program is in store for the seven settlement houses serving Columbus following the recommendations of a United Community Council committee.

The committee, which included representatives from the South Side, recommended that the settlements give first priority to expanding services in the surrounding areas.

The activities of the settlement houses are largely centered within the agency building at the present time. The new program will shift from one that is chiefly recreation to a program that meets the total needs of the neighborhood.

The plan calls for the settlement houses to be active in the extension of neighborhood councils. The councils will be composed of citizens who are concerned with improving standards of housing, health, welfare, and recreation. Indoor activities which meet the overall need of the settlement house neighborhood will be carried on.

The settlement house survey was made by United Community Council to determine how the community dollar could be spent most effectively. All seven agencies are supported by the United Appeal campaign.

The report of the settlement survey committee will be considered by the board of trustees of United Community Council at the July meeting.

The following local residents served on the committee: Thomas Duckworth, 1641 Oakwood-av and William Stantan ich, 155 E. Hinman-av.

Agencies included in the survey: St. Stephen's Community House, 379 Barthman-av and South Side Settlement, 363 Reeb-av.

Parents Await Body Of Sailor

The parents of Kenneth Dayle French, a Navy man who was killed in Japan 10 days ago in an automobile accident, still await arrival of their son's body.

A message Monday indicated that the body had been shipped, but the information failed to include the transportation used. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Rex French, 940 Reeb-av.

Cook & Son are to be in charge of arrangements upon arrival of the body.

Conducting the band for the evening will be Clair Barnard, who at other times is the conductor of the Aladdin Temple Shrine Band and an instructor of bands at West High School.

The dances are sponsored by the South Side YMCA Young People's Inter-Church Council.

A special reception is arranged to mark the pastor's return — the tenth time since he became pastor of South Methodist Church.

The other occasion is that this is the 35th anniversary of the building, although it was stated that there will be no special activities commemorating the occasion.

Young Chaps Learn Art Of Swimming

For over a century the Columbus YMCA has been teaching hundreds of boys each year to swim correctly and safely. Bob Grady, the aquatic director, says this year is no exception. He is shown putting a new group of beginners through their learning paces.

With vacation coming, a special program for the summer is offered to boys of all ages and all levels of skill, the director said. Parents are assured of the greatest safety and highest quality of instruction.

In addition to the aquatic program there will be games, sports, and body-building in the gymnasium under the direction of Leonard Fauver, boys' physical director. Lobby games, arts and crafts and educational trips and hikes will be under the supervision of Morris Now, associate boys' executive. He will also direct several longer bus trips to places of interest, including Old Man's Cave, Buckeye Lake, Camp Willson and the Columbus zoo.

Parents who are interested in a safe, interesting and constructive vacation for their sons may contact the Boys' Branch YMCA, 40 West Long-st, or call CA. 4-1131.

. . . Preparation

Schiller Recreation Center will be closed next Monday June 16, because of the annual training session for summer workers. On this day approximately 175 people will be given the basic training for playground leaders. These people will be given additional training throughout the summer in workshops which will be held at Schiller on Saturdays.

Schiller playground will begin its summer program of sports, games, arts and crafts, special events and many other interesting activities on Tuesday, June 17, with the summer hours being from 12:30 to 8:30 p.m. Monday through Friday each week until school begins in the fall.

Mercy Hospital -

Costs for Mercy's construction is derived in part from this bond issue ($381,400) and partly from Columbus Hospital Federation Funds ($30,400).

The balance of the costs, about $15,000, has been supplied from Mercy Hospital Funds.

Among the major improvements listed are these:

(1) Twenty new beds will be made available on the first floor.

(2) A complete new dietary facility has been installed on the ground floor.

(3) A suite of three new surgical rooms, including urological and cast rooms, has been built on the second floor.

(4) A new recovery room with Halstead Stretcher Carts is available adjacent to the surgical suite.

(5) A modern, sterile, central supply facility has been equipped.

(6) New delivery rooms, a nursery, and a pre-mature nursery has been installed on the third floor.

These new facilities are housed in the completely new addition.

Mercy's expansion now will permit 134 patient beds instead of 95.

Architects already have begun negotiations for wrecking the oldest part of the main structure — an old farm house that was the original Mercy Hospital.

Future plans call for the demolishing of the building No. 1 South, and the eventual replacement with newer things. This work is tentatively scheduled for 1963.

Mercy was chartered "not for profit" in 1904; and has, in years since, become fully accredited by the Joint Commission On Accreditation Of Hospitals. Mercy enjoys the same high standards as its sister Columbus hospitals.

During Sunday's services, the Southway American Legion Post will have a color guard and post colors.

The Building Committee of Dr. Frank Riebel, Dr. Charles Pavey, Evan F. Ford, and C. B. Beard also will be introduced.

The Friendly Page Hobby Club, a wonderful group that makes the lives of shut-ins a little brighter will be holding a bake sale this Saturday at 9 a.m. If you're in the vicinity of Hoermle's, 1894 Parsons-av, why not stop in and purchase your baked goods there? All profits go to the furthering of the Friendly Pagers' "shut-in" project.

It was with a note of pride that we read about nine promotions at Capital University last week. Two of the nine are perhaps a little better known to us, so it is with wholehearted enthusiasm that we congratulate Dr. Clarence Heinke, now head of the department of mathematics at Cap and Harold E. Regan, basketball coach who attained an associate professorship. (Dr. Heinke is our "boss" man in the Camp Fire Girls Public Relation Committee, and of course "Whitey" Regan is the basketball coach of "Long and Lanky" our student son at Cap.)

A little girl is the new addition in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ricky LaRosa. The little one put in her appearance on June 3 at St. Ann's Hospital.

Our sympathy to June Meyer a former South High student, who lost her father last week. Mr. Patterson passed away last Friday at the age of 87.

The mobile X-ray Cruiser provided by the Tuberculosis Society of Franklin County will be at South Fourth-st and Morrill-av today from 2 to 8 p.m. and at Parsons and Reeb from 1 to 8 p.m. tomorrow, and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday.

Two members of the community have been on the ailing list, one of whom was hospitalized. Stanley Dodds, 202 E. Jenkins-av was the unexpected hospital patient. Marge Hoptry 280 Southwood-av, has been ill for a few weeks, but we do hope she's much better by now.

The East Unit of the Blue Star Mothers will meet in Room 206, Veterans Memorial, Wednesday, June 18. Rosina Wheeler and Hazel Hellworth will be the hostesses. The group is planning a rummage sale to be held on June 28 at St. Stephen's Community House. Any interested folks can donate rummage to the group, and numbers to call for pickup of rummage are these: Mrs. Brown HI. 4-6910; Mrs. Hellworth, BR. 9-0407; or Mrs. Weber, CL. 8-6656. We'll remind you of the Blue Star Rummage Sale again, never fear.

Two Cloverleaf Clubs have meetings soon in this area. The two are Leaf 16, which will meet on June 15, in the home of Mrs. John Corcoran, 857 Mohawk, at 7:30 p.m. Leaf 21 will meet on June 16, in the home of Mrs. Robert Hoffman, 808 Siebertst, at 8:30 p.m. Mrs. Robert Kuepfer, 572 Stewart-av is the newly-elected first vice president of the main board of the organization.

Mr. Currie, father of Dora Dayton, 248 E. Morrill-av, had quite a dramatic experience when he reached our fair city a short while ago. Mr. Currie, of Colorado, felt ill when he arrived at Dora's home and within a few short hours found himself a patient at St. Anthony's hospital, where he was hospitalized for a week. We hope Mr. Currie regains his health and enjoys his Columbus stay fully, from here on in.

Virginia and Richard Kocher, 1693 E. Columbus-st. will exchange their marriage vows on June 14, which is the birthday of Mrs. Krause. Mr. and Mrs. Conner (Carolyn Krause before her marriage) will be celebrating their third wedding anniversary the same day as the Krauses celebrate their 26th anniversary, on June 26. On June 27, Edwin Conner young grandson of the Krauses will be one year old. A rough month, don't you agree?

Just mustn't forget to wish "Happy Birthday" to "Dad" Norris Dean whose birthday appropriately enough falls on Father's Day, June 15. "Dad" lives at 33 E. Jenkins-av.

We still have a few notes, but since the summer months are our rough months, in a news-gathering sense, we'll hold them for a later edition. This is the time of year that the readers really have to come to our rescue, so DO remember us, won't you, on those important events in your life? We just can't write about things we don't know about. The number to call is HI. 4-1051. Till next edition, then, tis —

Fly The Flag Proudly!

June 14 is Flag Day—will an American Flag be waving its patriotic rainbow of color in front of your home?

Many of us will get out of bed this Saturday, look out the window and notice that a neighbor has placed a flag in front of his home.

A common thought will be . . . "say, that John Doe is a pretty patriotic guy. I wonder where our old flag is? I've been so busy planning my vacation I forgot about Flag Day."

America is getting to be a busier place every day. Its citizens work and play at a whirlwind pace. We have come to take the symbol of our heritage all too much for granted.

Few Americans readily recognize the national flags of many countries in the world. Yet, people from nearly all these countries, large and small, can easily describe the American Flag.,

To them, it is a banner of a rather fairyland-like country across the seas where people are free and happy.

To many of us, the American Flag is something we salute only during special official functions. To many more, the "Star Spangled Banner" is just the last song they play when a radio or television station signs off!

Tonight, a young Guatemalan boy will graduate from a local high school. This writer recently interviewed that boy who has only been in this country three years.

He said, "I love American music but especially the "Star Spangled Banner", "America" and "America The Beautiful". They make me feel good inside."

He added, "if you are going to take my picture, I want to be standing in front of the American Flag. It means so much to me."

Let's show that it means something to us and fly our American Flag "high and handsome" this Saturday.

Here's the Answer

Bible Comment:

Sunlight Follows Dark Night

No description can do justice, can suggest all the wonderment and glory of the Resurrection for the disciples.

They had followed Christ with all that they possessed on earth. All their vision and hope of heaven was staked on their commitment to Him.

Undoubtedly they had looked for some earthly consummation of His Kingdom and some triumphant outcome in which they would share.

Their hopes must have been high as they saw, and shared, Christ's triumphant entry into Jerusalem with the spreading of palm branches and the "Hosannas" of the people.

And then had come the cruel and disillusioning experience as they saw Him overcome by earthly powers, led for trial and crucifixion. It was an hour of darkness but scarcely an hour in which their faith would be obliterated.

They had not lost the sense of the glory and beauty of all that He had said and done. The sadness of the lost but glorious dream was in their memory of hope turned to tragedy: "We trusted that it had been He who should have redeemed Israel."

And then, suddenly out of their black night, came the glory of the Resurrection morning—the rumor, as yet a wishful longing, that Christ was alive and that some had seen Him. Then came the assurance of His actual presence and the evidence that convinced even the doubting Thomas.

No words can convey what they felt. There was the reality of the revived faith and hope in which the disciples went out to establish the Church and fulfill Christ's commission to preach the Gospel to every creature.

Dear Son:

A New-Type Alarm Clock Is Developed In Chittlin'

Chittlin' Switch,
Wednesday, five a.m.

Dear Jason:

Well, to start off with, your Paw has to be up early in the morning these days as he's got at least three stills full of hootch in the hills that he's bottling. He likes to be up at sun-up but Monday he wouldn't get up until noon.

But I hit on a good idea Tuesday and since then he gets right up when I call him. Each morning when I go to his room to wake him I open the door and fling the cat on his bed. In nothing flat he's on his feet. He sleeps with the dog, you know.

Your sister, Morphine, got herself a new boy friend. He has been down here at the Switch for about a year now teaching school at Pasture Flats High. He's a nice enough lad and one of those college graduates from the North. He wears a toothbrush in his lapel as his college emblem. (He's from Colgate, you know.) As a matter of fact, he asked your Paw if he'd have any objections to your sister marrying a Yankee. Paw told him he couldn't think of a better way to pay them back for that Civil War deal.

Personally, I don't think the marriage will last because he's got a good education and you know how your sister hated school and quit. On top of that, Morphine is a terrible cook. After all, if they get married he'll have to eat sometime. Morphine is so lazy she thinks Manual Labor is a Spaniard.

Your grandmother came over after she did her last number at the Gaiety Burlesque Theater and served the drinks. She was real helpful, Jason, but you would think that at 85 years of age that grandmaw would know enough to use a bottle opener. I keep telling her that she's going to ruin her gums one of these days.

Write soon.
Your loving, MOM.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Fruits—Strawberries, lemons, bananas, frozen lemonade.

Vegetables—Cabbage, new potatoes, leaf lettuce, cucumbers.

Other Foods—Fryers, ground beef, large eggs, milk.

A BEST BUY — MILK

During June Dairy Month special attention is drawn to dairy products, even though they are "best buys throughout the year." This is because milk production reaches its seasonal peak in late spring and early summer. A new record is in prospect for this year.

High-quality dairy products in the form you as a consumer desire, are made possible through constant research carried on throughout the country by experiment stations, universities, and private businesses.

Research Reassures—Roughly one-fifth of the consumer's food dollar is spent on milk and other dairy products. This fact is disclosed in a report on "Consumers and Dairy Marketing Research" by Glen H. Mitchell of Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, Wooster.

Some interesting results show up in the current report. One interesting comparison is in the methods of buying milk. These vary from one community to another. For instance, over three-fourths of the people in Dayton get their milk delivered to their homes. In Youngstown, over two-thirds of the families buy their milk at the store. Over a third of the milk is sold in gallon jugs in Akron, but these are practically unknown in Columbus.

Ohio consumers drink more milk per capita than the national average.

Researchers are trying to learn why people in some communities use more milk than those of other areas, what people actually prefer in terms of containers, method of delivery, and other factors that might influence consumption of dairy products.

This work is based on the assumption that research helps progress. Research is a means of finding better, more efficient ways of satisfying human needs and desires. It points to continued progress in providing the public what it wants.

MEMO TO MOTHERS

As the weather warms up, milk shakes and other chilled milk beverages will be especially appetizing as will the ice creams and other frozen desserts. (Add a few homegrown strawberries this week for a special treat.)

When school is out, plan for an extra supply of milk at home to replace what the children had at school.

Horse Show, Rodeo Will Show Again July 3 To 6

The 10th annual Mid-western Horse Show and Rodeo will be held at the Ohio State Fairgrounds Coliseum on July 3, 4, 5 and 6.

Some of the wildest bucking broncs and the roughest, toughest bulls have been secured for the rodeo events and performance classes will boast of some of the best-trained horses and most beautiful horse show classes seen in any show in the United States, the show folks promise. Cowboys and cowgirls from a 10-state area will compete for the prizes and trophies offered by the Mid-Western.

Calf Scramble

To highlight the program boys from the six chapters of the Franklin County Future Farmers of America will compete again in a thrilling and exciting calf scramble. The winners of last year's calf scramble also will exhibit their fat steers in a Junior Fat Stock Show, and will compete for the trophies and prizes given by the Mid-Western.

Texas Death Match Friday

It has been described this week as a "hullabaloo and riot." It happened inside the ring at Jones Park during last Friday night's main event.

As is becoming expected, it was Irish Mike McCall in the middle of things again. "He acted up," one eye witness account reported.

Scheduled to show in the best two out of three with "Silent" Montenaro, Irish Mike exceeded the limits of wrestling propriety with deft use of a "now you see it — now you don't" comb of the kind some wrestlers reserve only for their marcels.

Mike used his on the unhur suite countenance of his silent foe — mostly in the region of the eyes.

The audience first called the infraction, knowing as they do that the big man likes to play small tricks. But the referee wasn't looking.

In short order, Montenaro cleared the ring by pitching out the referee, and by beating Irish Mike "badly."

This brought disqualification for Montenaro . . . end of match and beginning of riot.

In the ensuing melee, we are told, the referee made two more trips over the ropes, Marshal Virgil Peters, Obetz, was called in with handcuffs, and first, Mike, and then, Montenaro, were fastened to the ring ropes.

Last casulty was Montenaro, who was "mauled to a pulp" by Mike while he hung helpless with his hands cuffed.

Both men insist on a rematch. A "Texas Death Match," Irish Mike insists. He's to get his way this Friday night.

A Texas Death Match is a no-holds-barred, no-fall match. First man out of the ring goes out on a stretcher.

Slower strokes of the iron do the job with fewer motions. Use straight strokes with the grain of the fabric. Moisture and heat should do most of the job, rather than extra pressure. Don't wear yourself out bearing down on the iron.

Tagged Fish Stocked In Schiller Lake

Clayton Lakes of the Wildlike Commission is shown above dumping the first of many tagged fish in Schiller Park Lake. The fish are part of the contest which is being sponsored by the Southeast Lions Club and the Schiller Park recreation department. Many prizes will be awarded for tagged fish which are to be caught and then registered at the park shelter house. The Lions are sponsoring this project to enable the small fry to catch fish, and be able to have their fish and the Prize, too. Applications can be secured at Schiller Park. They must be signed by the parents and returned to the park. Children must have a member's card. It is completely free to all under 14 years old. The contest officially opens June 17 and will continue until Aug. 15. More fish will be added from time to time. The rules of the contest are: (1) age 14 years old or under before July 1, 1958, (2) awards to be given for tagged fish only; (3) no treble hooks permitted; (4) all tagged fish must be registered with a Schiller supervisor to be eligible for award; (5) awards to be made on Aug. 15. By becoming a contest member, children must agree to abide by these rules. Photo by Tom Sharp

Winner!

Miss Diane Gehl

Among the graduates at Barret Junior High School is an "annexer" of honors, with three recent awards indicating her studious and social accomplishments.

The young lady is Miss Diane Gehl, a graduating senior in Barrett Junior High School. Three very recent awards are listed, and others earlier, and "they were earned" by the young lady, according to an instructor who has had opportunity to observe her at her work.

The ninth-grade Barrett student recently entered a contest for clarinet playing at Capital University. She was awarded a "high superior rating" for her presentation of a clarinet solo. Also recently, Miss Gehl was awarded a Musical Arts Scholarship to attend Ohio State University's Music Festival and Workshop this summer. Her music teacher is John Wolford, 961 Lilley-av. Andrew Denman of the music department at Barrett Junior High School.

Wins Encyclopedia

Another award brings to the young lady a "Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia" through her replies to The Ohio State Journal contest.

Mrs. Guthrie To Hostess WCTU June 17

The Linwood Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the home of the president, Mrs. Cora Guthrie, 1201 S. Champion-av, June 17, at 1:30 p.m.

Miss Jennie Harmon will conduct the devotions. Miss Leno Russell will give a summary of temperance articles which have appeared in the "Union Signal," the official paper of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Mrs. J. E. Bitzer will narrate her recent trip to St. Louis, Mo., where she attended the national convention of the WSCS.

. . . Summer Playgrounds

The Columbus Recreation Department will operate 63 playgrounds in the city this summer, 10 of which will be located in the South Side. Starting next Tuesday, June 17, the following playgrounds will be in operation and under professional supervision from 12:30 to 8:30 Monday through Friday of each week during the summer:

Schiller Center, Deshler and Jaeger-sts; Blackburn, 19th and Rich-sts; Fornoff School, 156 Dering-rd; Karns, Thurman and Champion; Lincoln, Markison and Ann-sts; Livingston, 18th and Livingston-av; Mohawk School, 471 S. Sixth-st; Smith Road School, 1301 Smith-rd; Southeast Lions, Barthman-av and Sixth-st; Southview, W. Greenlawn and W. Deckanbach.

OSU Mothers Plan Outing

The annual June outing for Group B of the OSU Mothers' Club will be held this year at the Southeast Conservation Club on Hart-rd with a pot luck picnic with all the trimmings. It will be served at 13 o'clock noon.

Mrs. A. H. Bergener, 1787 S. Champion-av, Mrs. Phillip Schneider, Schiller Park, residence, Mrs. Otto Vick, 3430 S. High-st, and Mrs. Roy Henn, 2643 S. High-st, will be hostesses. Mrs. Bea. Harrison, 1352 S. Ohio-av, is the chairman of the telephone and transportation committee. Games and fun are on the agenda for the afternoon. This will be the last meeting until October.

Co-Champions

Barrett Junior High School finished a good baseball season by defeating Hilltonia Junior High on the Lincoln Park diamond, Tuesday, June 3, by a score of 13 to 4.

Jim Cordell's strong arms, broad shoulders, and heavy bat made a difference of seven runs in Barrett's total, counting what he scored plus what he drove in.

Kenny Schumacher pitched the game for Barrett, bringing his record for the season to seven wins with no losses. Barrett has had a good season with nine wins and no losses overall and a 7 to 1 record in the South Section League. Barrett is co-champion with West Junior High, which also claims a 7 to 1 record. Barrett defeated West in the season, but lost a heart-breaker to Starling.

Cupid Smiles

Judge Roscoe R. Walcutt of the Probate Court announced this week that the marriage license desk will be open on Thursdays and Fridays during June until 7 p.m. This is done in order that applicants for licenses may not be subjected to the inconvenience of delay which comes from crowded conditions during the month of brides and roses.

More This Time

Four hundred and eighty-four licenses were issued during May, and it is anticipated that the number will be materially increased in June. Applicants will assist the department and materially reduce delay if they will have blood tests properly certified, consents of parents executed according to law, where one or both the parties are minors, and certified copies of divorce decrees where one or both the parties have been divorced, and if they will remember that the law of Ohio requires a five-day waiting period.

The probate court is located on the first floor of the courthouse annex, corner of Fulton and High-sts.

Boys Will Be Boys...Cane Pole Dipping Derby At Schiller

More than 300 youngsters had already "blasted off" as of Monday, June 16, in the Space Explorers Summer Reading Club now open for enrollment at the Parsons Branch Library, 845 Parsons-av. In the photo above, Miss Margaret Bausch, librarian, explains the rules of the reading club to Becky Neymeyer, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Neymeyer, 485 Sycamore-st, and John Loeffler, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Loeffler, 2528 Roswell-dr.

Early Applicants Already Fishing For 'Sgt. Garcia'

The 59 day Fishing Derby that saw first baits dipped this week in Schiller Park has been planned to give South Side Youngsters the "best fishing hole anywhere."

And it may well be. A casual stroll through Schiller this week confirmed what the Southeast Lions Club and recreation department officials had hoped for . . . and prepared for. The perimeter of the lake was a jumble of cane poles and patient kids standing almost elbow to elbow.

All sorts of special events have been planned to "keep the fishing good" and make the youngsters happy at least until August 15 when the derby officially ends.

Some of the fish recently given a new home in Schiller) also have been given special names and tag numbers. For example, "Sgt. Garcia" will be worth $10 to some lucky angler. His number is 5-1185.

Wyatt Earp ($5) is 5-1110, Cheyenne is 5-1135, Zorro is 5-1160, and Maverick is 5-1164 (all worth $5).

Other special events will be: June 25, movies of cartoons and fishing events; July 16, a casting exhibition; and Aug. 15, the final day, an entertainment feature, the awarding of prizes, and a drawing for a bicycle door prize.

Rules

Those youngsters who want to enter the contest must first become members of the Southeast Lions Fishing Club. Membership is very easy: just go to Neubeck's Confectionery, The South Side Leader office, Hoermle's Appliances, or the Schiller Park shelter house. Ask for a free application blank, fill it out . . . and go on over to the park and begin fishing.

Garcia, Earp, Cheyenne, Zorro and Maverick are waiting to be hooked. (And even if you don't catch one of these, there are countless more. Enter all tagged fish caught.)

If a fish is caught over the weekend—when officials are not present — save the fish until Monday or Tuesday and turn in the tag then to a member of the Schiller staff.

Safety Rules

Snagging fish is strictly prohibited to insure safety; big fellows also are urged to "move over and make room" for the little boys.

There is plenty of fish. Anyone under 14 years of age is eligible.

Shown above are five of the men responsible for making the Schiller Park fishing derby a big thing for South Side children. From left to right, Tom Crawshaw of the Schiller Park staff; Frank Neubeck, president of the Southeast Lions; Bill West of the Police Department; Stu Jones, originator of the idea for the Lions Club, and Ray Phillips of the Southeast Lions. Application blanks for membership in the club can be picked up at Hoermle's Appliances, Neubeck's Confectionery, South Side Leader office, and the shelter house at Schiller Park.

Hilltop Slates Bean Festival

A "Hill O' Beans" will be served by Hilltop Businessmen's Association at the annual community bean dinner Tuesday and Wednesday, June 24 and 25 at the Sullivent-Avenue Airport.

The two day affair will include choosing a queen, judo wrestling, training of combat dogs, professional aerial acrobats and a pony tail contest.

Educational displays have been arranged by Hilltop businessmen. Cash and merchandise prizes will be awarded both days.

Bean dinners will start at 5:30 p.m. of each day lasting until 7 p.m.

Leader Editor Heard On WOSU

South Side Leader editor Oliver Gedeist, on vacation in Wisconsin this week, will be back at home Saturday in time for a radio program heard at 10:30 a.m. from WOSU.

Gedeist will be joined by several other editors in a program called "The Editors Meet."

Heard also on the program will be City Attorney Russell Leach.

$ $ $ Still Needed For July 4 Celebration

Any assistance—large or small—in support of the big Fourth of July celebration for South Siders will be appreciated by the sponsoring Council of South Side Organizations.

Money contributed now will make for a bigger fireworks display.

A complete day of festivities has been planned. Everyone is invited to come early . . . to make a fun filled day of it.

Kiddy rides, the pony track and demonstrations will be ready for a 2 p.m. opening. Three ball games will be played.

Fireworks will be touched off at 9 p.m.

The Council of South Side Organizations has been working hard to make this affair the largest ever . . . with more fun . . . more demonstrations. With a few more contributions, they can make the fireworks big, too.

Send contributions—large or small—to the Council at 864 S. Third-st, Columbus.

Solar System And Civil War Books At Parsons Library

More than 300 boys and girls already have joined the Summer Reading Club of the Parsons Branch Columbus Public Libraries. The club was formed on June 2.

A series of weekly reading programs designed to appeal to all sorts of reading tastes has brought about the enthusiastic response, the library folks say.

A special reading program following the theme "Explore Your Solar System," also has interested youngsters. Each member who reads four books will receive a map of the skies, and for each additional book read, he will be given a sticker representing one of the planets.

Story Hour

The Story Hour group at Parsons will meet on Thursday mornings at 10 o'clock beginning on June 19 and throughout the summer months. All children in the neighborhood are invited to participate in Story Hour. The program for the summer includes such activities as a pet show, a picnic, and a puppet show.

Civil War Books

This week Parsons spotlights Civil War books as suggestions for adult reading.

"Night March," a novel by Bruce Lancaster, tells the unforgettable story of two young cavalry captains, Kirk Stedman and Jake Pitler, and their role in the Kilpatrick-Dahlgreen raid on Belle Island in Richmond. The object of the raid was the freeing of thousands of Union prisoners. The book relates the skirmishes taking place before the raid; the capture of Pitler and Stedman; Stedman's envolvement with Southern sympathizer, Lynn Stockdale; and the final failure of the raid.

Presenting the Confederate side of the picture is Robert S. Weekley's "A House in Ruin."

Weekly tells of the men of Cold Creek, Miss., who sought revenge upon the Union troops after the defeat at Appomattox and succeeded only in destroying themselves.

"The Death of a Nation" by Clifford Dowdy is a detailed account of the battle of Gettysburg and an examination of the reasons for the defeat of the Confederates. All of these books will soon be available at Parsons.—Julie Warner.

"Cardboard Blisters"

The Marion-Franklin Citizens Association pushed a protest of allegedly substandard building materials into the lap of the Columbus Building Regulations Department this week.

Material in question is "cardboard siding" already covered by the City Code, and sometimes used by the building industry.

It is presently being used in houses in the Southgate 221 project at Watkins-rd and Groveport Pike.

Association members William Neno and Paul Stecker, unwilling to let casual city approval pass unchallenged, visited council chambers last week with samples of the material taken from a six-month-old home at Alton-st and Sixth-av. This house "had blisters the size of baseballs rising through the outer surface of the siding material," the men said.

Columbus councilmen were reportedly "aghast," while Robert Brobst seemed unalarmed.

All information has been turned over to a Columbus daily newspaper for investigation and publishing, the men said.

Builder of the Southgate 221 project has said the material was to be used in a minimum of about 15 homes "to give variety to homes in the project."

Elected

Mrs. Miller

Mrs. Arthur O. Miller, 1199 Miller-av, has been elected treasurer of the Women's Board, of the Franklin County Heart Council. The board works to solve problems connected with heart disease in Franklin County. Mrs. Miller, who has been active in the Franklin County Heart Fund drive for four years served as South area chairman in the 1958 drive in February. She is also active in the Swan Ladies Bowling League.

Mrs. Miller and her husband have one daughter, Roseann, 11.

Shriner Award Has 30th Anniversary

Charles Shriner presents to Alan Weinberg and Donald Fischer the plaque on which their names will be inscribed as winners of the Shriner Award.

Scholarship, Leadership, Service And Character

Alan Weinberg and Donald Fischer, two outstanding seniors at South High School received the Charles Shriner Memorial Award Monday, June 9. Since the occasion marked the thirtieth anniversary of the award, its founder, Charles hriner, made the presentation in person.

Only twice before in the history of the school has the award been given to more than one student. This occurred in January of 1948 and in June of 1942. Principal H. D. Swain explained, "This year the committee found it practically impossible to make a distinction between the two boys."

The recipients of the award are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, service and character. Both boys have made significant contributions to the school in the fields of these requirements.

Alan served as president of the senior class while Don was vice-president. Both were officers of student council and members of the student court.

In recognition of his outstanding scholastic record, Alan was chosen as one of the valedictorians of the graduating class. He was also voted the most valuable player on the 1957 football squad. Don was a member of the marching band and the orchestra and was elected president of National Honor Society.

The Shriner Award was established by Charles Shriner in 1928 as a memorial to his father, Dr. Charles Shriner.

An Appology

Rev. John Lang, St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, 322 Stewart-av., called the South Side Leader office this week when he saw his copy of the July 11 paper.

"Why," the pastor asked, "had we changed the name of the church?"

He made reference to the front-page story in the Leader about the $100,000 addition soon to be made to the educational facilities of the church.

The pastor later was joined in query by many other South Siders. We know better, of course . . . the error was that we included the word "Reformed" in the name.

The editor apologizes.

Southwood School announced this week that 11 of its students had made an honors list for perfect school attendance during the entire school year just completed.

Hard at work—in school—every day from September, 1957, to June, 1958, were Judith Lenox, Billie Lou Call, Sharon Dunkle, Terry Knapp, Judy Kochenderfer, Michael Jack, Bill Jordan, Connie Stewart, Carla Jividen, Joyce Neighbors, James Mousis.

Apprentice Training Is Boosted

Southern Kiwanis heard the need for "more apprentices and more schooling in Building Trades' Crafts" described last week in a luncheon talk by Richard Bohl, a representative of the painting and decorating crafts.

Bohl outlined the history of apprentice training as carried out by Guilds in Europe, Middle Europe and pioneer America.

Training of this kind has been "sometimes neglected" within recent years, he said.

He also pointed out that apprenticeship training often requires 3 to 5 years before young men are fully certified as journeymen craftsmen, and that the average age of men now employed in the building trades is over 50-years.

History

First history of apprenticeship is found in Germany, France, the Scandinavian countries and Middle East, or wherever Guilds of master craftsmen had been established, Bohl said.

Young men were usually bonded to apprentice training by becoming indentured, Bohl said. Guilds entered a sort of contract with parents after bargaining; the young men worked and learned, and received a home, clothing, and their food in exchange.

This system was introduced into America during pioneer days.

New York City organized its first trade school about 1900, he said.

Neglected

Neither the Guild programs nor the trade school education has kept pace with the need for training high standards craftsmen, he suggested.

A move in the right direction was acknowledge when he

St. Mary's PTA and Parish Council Catholic Women's Euchre party will be held June 24 at 8:30 p.m. at the high school, 685 Mohawk-st, in the downstairs serving rooms. Door prizes will be given and refreshments will be served. Donation is 50c, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Our ailing list for today includes Lona Schwartz, 185 E. Markison-av, and Jane Deible, who underwent surgery last week at Benjamin Franklin Hospital. We do hope Jane (who is the mother of five girls) will receive a shower of cards from our kind readers. Mrs. Young, who was a South Sider for many years (I believe she resided on Morrill-av) would be considerably cheered by cards also. She has a malignancy and is very ill, in Trailer Haven, Melbourne, Fla. Thanks.

The Fidelis Class, Southwood Church of Christ, will meet on Saturday, June 21, for a picnic at Harrisburg Park. The class is also planning an all-day outing at Tar Hollow for the Fourth of July.

The South Unit of the League of Women Voters will meet on Tuesday, June 24, in the home of Mrs. Paul Lenox, 1411 S. Sixth-st, at 8:15 p.m. The main discussion for the evening will be the report of the conventions of the state and national delegates. A unique feature of the national convention, held in Atlantic City, was the trade hat parade. The league endorses extension of the Trade Agreements Act, and the hats were used to depict exports and imports vital to the individual state economy. The Ohio entry placed fifth in the competition.

Cloverleaf No. 2 will meet on June 24 at 8 p.m., in the home of Mrs. Fritz Metzger, 1222 S. 22nd-st. Cloverleaf No. 5 is scheduled to meet also on June 24 at 8:30 p.m. We're not sure just where the meeting is, so we'd rather not commit ourselves on that point.

Congratulations to G. A. Gessner, 188 Thurman-av, who won honors in the 1958 Columbus Rose Show. The Gessner win was in the "Old Fashioned" Class. More than 7,000 persons viewed the 1068 entries, shown by 152 exhibitors. The number of exhibitors was the largest in the 20 years that the show has been held.

Let's see, Tom Sharp, Isabelle Coslett and Gadabout, what deviltry can we get into? On second thought, let's behave real nicely and wish our boss-man, Oliver Gedeist, and Mrs. Gedeist a fine and relaxing vacation in Wisconsin and Minnesota. (As all the readers know, Mr. Gedeist is editor of our paper. Mrs. Gedeist is an excellent teacher of Southwood School's faculty.)

Stadium Theater Company, which presents its plays under Ohio Stadium, will more than likely have many folks in the Marion-Franklin area quite interested in its productions. Two of Marion Franklin's students were listed among the 16 successful applicants of the 35 students who applied. The two were Linda Berger and Ralph Maciocl.

Frederick P. Bort and his mother, Mrs. Anna Knapp, 634 Kossuth-st, are touring California and visiting with Joseph Burke, Sr., of Gardena, Calif. Mr. Burke is a former Columbusite. Before returning home, Mr. Bort and Mrs. Knapp plan to stop in Chicago to visit friends there.

The alumnae of Grant Hospital School of Nursing will hold a banquet honoring the class of 1958, Saturday, June 21, at 7:30 p.m., at Ilonka's. Mrs. Allen J. Pieplow, 153 E. Gates-st, will be present in her capacity as alumnae president. (And belatedly we must send our sympathy to Jean, who lost her mother not so long ago.)

Eighty-four outstanding high school girls from Franklin County, who will be representatives and alternates to the 12th annual session of Buckeye Girls' State, held at Capital University from June 21 to 29, were guests of the American Legion Auxiliary at a tea June 1, in Veterans' Memorial Hall. South Side members of the Auxiliary who assisted at the tea were Mrs. Walton R. Barnhart, 185 Frebis-av, and Mrs. E. F. Dellenbach, 691 S. 22nd-st.

A postal from Pat (Conn) Leitwein tells us that she and hubby, Walt, are now in Texas, having been transferred from the Florida air base where Walt was stationed.

● Birthdays are celebrated this week by these young folks: Melva Lenox, June 19; Donna Hall, 37 Innis-av, June 23; Stephen Hanf, 399 Southwood, June 24; David Rohrer, 67 Woodrow, June 23; David Ruddock, 345 Sheldon, June 24; Diane Ellis, 225 Southwood, June 24; John Abahazie, 145 Welch, June 22; Tommy Lenox, 1411 S. Sixth-st, June 24; Kenny Wood, 395 E. Welch, June 24; Donna Crites, 404 Welch, June 24, and Donna Wolfe, 1350 S. High-st, June 24.

A relative she hadn't seen for 48 years was the guest recently in the home of Mrs. Otto Oberkonz, 60 E. Jenkins-av. The guest, Louis Herr, is a resident of Brooklyn, N.Y. Mr. and Mrs. Oberkonz took Mr. Herr to some of our city's points of interest, and the East Coast gentleman was quite impressed. Seems the general impression "down east" is that our section of the country is still populated with Indians and such! Nevertheless the Oberkonzes and Mr. Herr had a very enjoyable visit. Further news from 60 E. Jenkins was the June 17 birthday of Mrs. Howard Henry, daughter of the Oberkonzes. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Oberkonz Jr. had an anniversary on June 15, to add further to family occasions. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Baum, 612 S. Lazelle-st, added a new year to their wedded life on June 8.

Three Standard Oil Co. dealers in this area were among the 12 honor guests at a division dinner at Ilonka's, June 17. Stephen K. Mathias, 2071 Lockbourne-rd, received a plaque for 15 years service as did H. H. Ohde, 365 S. High-st. John J. Wellman, 1141 Parsons-av, got his award for 10 years service.

Wedding congratulations, past and present, to these young folks: Mr. and Mrs. Karl Francis Stromeier, who exchanged their vows in St. John's E. and R. Church on June 14. Mrs. Stromeier, a South High grad, is the former Joan Newman. After a wedding trip to Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania, they will reside at 1574 Northwest-blvd.

Another of "Long and Lanky's" Capital University basketball friends exchanged "I do's" last Saturday, June 14. Charles Kessler was the Cap graduate who bestowed his name on Patricia Ann Ricketts. The Smokey Mountains are the honeymoon choice for the newly-weds, after which they will reside at 326 Virginia Lee Court.

Weddings that will soon take place are those of Susan Baldeser, 829 S. 18th-st, and Jonnie Lee Hite, 112 Brehl-av, on June 20; Jo Ann Ford, 671 E. Moler-st, and Norris McMackin, on June 21; and Carol Ann Paul, 645 E. Gates-st, to Edward Lee Campbell, 315 E. Gates-st, on June 22.

For those desiring to donate rummage to the Blue Star Mothers' June 28 project, contact any one of the following women: Mrs. Brown, HI. 4-6910; Mrs. Bellworth, BR. 9-0407, or Mrs. Weber, CL. 8-8656. The group will hold its rummage sale at the St. Stephens Community House.

Pert and pretty Judy Frye, 1660 S. Fourth-st, will celebrate a birthday on June 24.

In the impressive chapter coronation ceremonies of the Moose Lodge, Bessie Pugh was crowned queen of Chapter 206, Thursday, June 12. She, together with members of her court, Vera Johnson and Valeria Williams, were dinner guests of Senior Regent Dorothy Jolly, prior to the ceremony. Bessie obtained her honor by obtaining 56 new members.

Tillie Paullus, 256 E. Gates-st, is hostess at this time to her sister, Mary Bridge, of Los Angeles. In July the two sisters are planning to travel to Biscayne, Fla., where they will attend the 50th anniversary celebration of their uncle's priesthood. Father Thomas is the uncle who was ordained half a century ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schumacher, 240 Forest, celebrated a wedding anniversary on Friday, June 13.

We're hoping that Ginny Wilchers will soon be among the strong and healthy ones again. The same wishes go for Marge Hoptry, who missed her son's South High graduation because of illness.

G. E. LaRue is once again a Columbus resident, for the summer at least. Mrs. LaRue is attending Kent University for the summer quarter. "Pop", as we know him (since he IS our pop!) looks a little too skinny to suit us, so we'll try to fatten him up again. Trouble is, we always fatten us up too!

Received a phone call from our loved "doll-lady", Mrs. I. Bier, 742 E. Gates-st. She told us she's dressed 26 dollies, and has no more to dress. She'd like to have more, so if any of the readers would like to assist in her Christmas project won't you call her if you have a doll to donate? The dolls go to children of the TB patients, and to kiddies at Franklin Village. While talking to Mrs. Bier she told us of a little girl to whom she had given a dolly. The little girl, Bonny Hill, is a polio victim in Children's Hospital. She is a ward of the court, and has no visitors. We thought our readers would like to do a kind thing by sending her cheery cards. We don't have her room number, or we would pass it along. We're sure she'll get the card, just by sending it to her at Children's Hospital.

Now THIS is an unusual dinner, no foolin'. A home-made ravioli dinner "meat filled" will be served in St. Ladislas Church basement on Sunday, June 29, from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m., and the public is cordially invited to attend. Tickets may be obtained at the door, or by calling Mrs. John Taraba, HI. 3-5701, or Mrs. Michael Yandrich, HI. 4-9525. Price of the tickets is $1.25 for adults and 65c for children. Don't worry, you'll hear more about it next week.

For neighbors, etc., of former South Sider June Robertson (who lived on Moler-st) a reminder that tomorrow is her birthday, and we're sure she'd love to hear from her Columbus friends. Her address is 10 Concord Terrace, Framington, Mass.

Think that does it for this week. The few notes we have left we can use next edition. News gets scarce in the summer, sooo, we hoard items. As usual, the phone is HI. 4-1051 and this is—

When A Robin Isn't A Bird

Mrs. Ralph Uhrig, 1120 Markison-av, has 105 seedling iris—all of her own creation—in the family garden. Her hobby is shared by her daughter, Rosslyn, and her husband. Uhirig gardens comprise about an acre.

In A Side Yard Sanctuary

When is a "robin" something else—and not a bird?

To Mrs. Margie Uhrig, 1120 Markison-av, an Iris grower and member of the American Iris Society, a robin is a friendly letter of advice and encouragement . . . of growing secrets and nib nabs of new flowers, new gardens, new friends.

And sometimes the "robins" are called "pigeons," a pair of names which doesn't confuse iris minded folks at all—because the letters have wings, so to speak, like birds, are written and mailed every seven days in rotation something like chain letters . . . from garden to garden . . . year around.

Mrs. Uhrig is an active robin writer (she describes robins more fully in a story given to Isabell Coslett of this newspaper, and also printed here), looks upon iris growing with something more than a casual eye, considers her garden near the corner of Markison and Lockbourne-rd something far more than a pastime play place.

She has nearly 300 named varieties, most of which were in peak bloom last week, and 105 unnamed seedlings of which she has had almost direct part in creating.

Hybridizing — the creating of new varieties — lifts side yard gardening out of the ordinary. Said Mrs. Uhrig this week: "We enjoy an unusual amount of out-in-the-sun summer pastime, and more than the usual fall and winter gardening fun."

"To us, flowers have become a year around hobby."

She described it with a serene pleasantness and satisfaction hard to translate—and certainly not in the ken of folks less ambitious.

A rainbow of unique Uhrig creations cuts a wide swath across the garden.

Hybridizing begins during the flowering season when likely looking parents are carefully pollinated by hand—and protected from chance or "uncontrolled" pollination by bees — and completed in the autumn when seeds are harvested and planted. The "may-be-pretty-flowers"—and "may-be-nots"—are due during the second season after seed planting.

Hybridizing is a teasing and fascinating specialty that seems almost sooner or later to attract the dedicated "green thumber."

Improvements hoped for include newness, new vigor, better flower form, resistance to sun bleaching and wind and rain damage, deeper and purer colors, and "prettier" combinations of colors.

Older varieties of flowers still have their place in the garden, Mrs. Uhrig believes. Although many fine irises of recent introduction—within the last 10 to 15 years—now can be purchased for 50 and 75 cents (or in the bargain priced collections).

Newer ones often bring $50 during the first few years after their introduction on the market.

Growing is relatively simple and easy, too, Mrs. Uhrig insists. She plants anytime from the the middle of July until autumn, and has no secrets. Just dig the garden soil well, spade in some well rotted manure and some bone meal. Her beds, in rows, are at garden level. (Some people prefer to make rows about 18 inches wide, about six-inches high, because iris like good drainage.) She doesn't plant the individual rhizomes closely because iris grow quickly and soon become crowded.

Ordinary plant foods are seldom recommended for iris; bone meal scratched lightly into the soil in September and March has wonderful effect.

There are, of course, another hundred or so things one can learn about irises should he be tempted to strike out anew—that is, dig up the familiar yellow and blues growing along the garage, buy lots of newer ones, start looking around for flower shows to enter and ribbons to win.

But a half dozen will push him far along the iris comeback trail.

How did Mrs. Uhrig become educated to the elegance of iris?

She sent penny postcards to the commercial growers who advertise in flower magazines. The response included picture books of such color and description that the most avid May enthusiasm is sure to be sustained through the fallow winter months, bargain price lists offering hundreds of good named plants, and culture hints a'plenty. The hybridizing, society membership and "robins" just followed naturally.

As Told by Mrs. Ralph E. Uhrig, . . . to Isabell Coslett

Iris "Robins" are groups of ten people who exchange letters (in rotation) with each other about every seven days. Their purposes are the improved culture of the iris flower.

"Robins" are sponsored by the American Iris Society (AIS); the letters exchanged also are called "Robins."

To become a "Robin," a person must be a member, and have paid for membership, in the society. Directors, editors and chairmen are appointed, and the "Robin" groups formed by the society.

As a preliminary to organization, the society sends out questionaires asking what the members' aims are: are they interested in growing tall bearded iris, dwarf or perhaps in hybridizing.

Those growers interested in each of these categories then are divided into groups, a chairman is appointed, and the groups begin "Robin" correspondence.

Regular correspondence is a requisite for good membership; answers to questions, etc., must be delivered in seven days or demerits are earned (enough of these and the delinquent is either expelled or he loses his correspondence privileges).

Correspondents in the groups often live far from each other—from the West Coast to the East Coast. (Mrs. Uhrig receives letters from New Zealand.)

The groups discuss the soil, colors, varieties, climate . . . all sorts of cultural odds and ends of irises. They also pass along many interesting disclosures about different parts of the country, and the people living there.

Whenever the ten person letter exchange is complete, the "Robins" normally are sent to the chairman, who, in turn, compiles the information, and if things of general information are mentioned, it may be sent to a divisional editorial chief. They then may be referred to the national chairman of the AIS. This office publishes an Iris magazine four times each year.

Thus, the secrets of growing better iris become circulated internationally by means of a democratic "grass roots" sort of letter exchange.

Report On Reciprocal Trade Value To Area

"Made in Japan," "Made in England" or "Made in Germany" are a few labels that bring sneers from some American citizens who believe that U.S. citizens should buy and sell American goods exclusively.

The Trade Agreements Act, which has been the basis for the Reciprocal Trade program since 1934, is due to expire June 30 of this year. President Eisenhower has urged Congress to extend the Trade Act for five years.

However, protectionists claiming injury because of import competition are actively opposing the legislation by advocating weakening amendments or by urging its outright appeal.

Advocate of expanding world trade representing industry, agriculture, labor and consumers are urging Congress to consider the national interest as paramount and to renew the Trade Act without weakening amendments.

The bill to extend the program was passed last week by the House and sent to the Senate. The action was a surprise victory for President Eisenhower.

To acquaint local residents with this problem the following facts have been taken from a special report by the Committee for a National Trade Policy, a bipartisan organization promoting public understanding of foreign trade problems.

The report is based on a study by Department of Commerce, using data from the Bureau of the Census, Bureau of Foreign Commerce and other sources.

"The nation's export trade brings at least $61.2 million into Columbus each year, representing full-time jobs for at least 3,892 workers in the area's four main industrial groups.

The groups are: equipment manufacturers, non - electrical machinery, fabricated metals and food and kindred products.

The only Columbus producers known to be concerned with the possible effect of import competition are some manufacturers of machine tools, violins, men's dress shoes, wool textile mill products and knit goods. Nevertheless, according to the Department of Commerce, "the net effect of imports on the area's economy is overwhelmingly favorable.

"Imported flavorings, extracts, and other food products, imported minerals and other raw materials, and imported commodities enable Columbus manufacturers to produce better products at a lower cost and local residents to enjoy better living conditions than might otherwise be obtained."

"Without imports foreign buyers would not have sufficient dollars to purchase America's exported products in return—thus, a lower standard of living in foreign countries as well as in the United States."

Among the many Columbus firms which benefit directly from World trade are: Westinghouse Electric Corporation, S. A. Shonk and Company, Seagrave Corporation, and Nippert Electric Products Company, all of which add greatly to the economy of the area.

The report does not attempt to cover the ill effects of imports to some local industries. The recent closing of the local violin factory, the only one in the United States, points out the dangers of reciprocal trade.

However, the summary of the report seems to indicate that the over-all wealth given to Columbus by foreign trade over-shadows the few shortcomings in the trade program.

Bible Comment:

Mockery Of Christianity

The Christian enterprise from its very beginnings leaves one breathless in consideration of its immensity, especially in comparison with the ambitious plans of those who have sought to bring all the world under their domain by military conquest.

The world of today seems to mock the grandeur of that faith. We have seen professedly Christian nations in deadly combat and practically the whole world involved in war and violence.

Missionary enterprise has been disrupted and Christian missionaries have been forced in some areas to withdraw completely after good beginnings.

But we must not be discouraged. We must guard against seeing world events in the false perspective of despair. As the boundaries of the world have enlarged and progress developed, the power of evil has increased along with the power of good.

The crisis today is perhaps greater than any in the past. But it is inherently no different than successive crises in which powers of anti-Christ have tried without success to overthrow the Christian church.

The promise of God is still to the faithful, and it is as true today as it was in the dark hours when Christ said that the triumph of the Gospel is sure.

When the world passes out of this period of hate and violence, there will still be human need for the power of the Gospel.

We are more than ever aware that only Christ can satisfy the longings of mankind. His words ring true: "Be of good cheer; I have overcome the world."

Simple Dessert Treat Has Elegant Looks!

By Estelle B. Franks

Floating Island is a dessert with an elegant appearance, but it's made simply of chilled soft custard topped with glistening peaks of honey meringue. Team it with frosted cup cakes for a striking summer dessert.

Floating Island

4 eggs, or 3 eggs and 2 yolks 2/3 cups sugar, 1 teaspoon flour, 2¼ cups milk, scalded, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons vanilla.

Combine eggs, sugar and flour. Gradually stir in milk. Cook, stirring constantly, in double boiler over hot but not boiling water until mixture coats spoon. Remove from heat immediately. Cool slightly. Stir in salt and vanilla. Chill rapidly. Top with mounds of honey meringue.

Honey Meingue

1 egg white, ⅓ cup liquid honey.

Beat egg white until foamy. Then add honey, gradually beating until meringue stands in peaks (5-10 minutes.) Serve on chilled custard with your favorite cup cakes.

Here's the Answer

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Fruits—Strawberries, bananas, lemons.

Vegetables—Leaf lettuce, cabbage, new potatoes, frozen French fried potatoes.

Other Foods—Fryers, smoked ham, large eggs, milk, cheese.

BALANCE THE BUDGET WITH CHEESE

Cheese is a concentrated package of food. It takes about five quarts of milk to make one pound of cheddar cheese. When you use 5 ounces of cheddar cheese you're giving your family as much calcium and protein as one quart of milk plus the milk vitamins, A and riboflavin. Build the meal around cheese for it fits into numerous combinations of vegetables and eggs.

WHITE SAUCE IN A JIFFY

Would you use white sauce more often for cheese or vegetable dishes if it were less trouble to make? One of its special advantages is that it helps get more milk into your family's meals. To save time in making this sauce (the basis for a score of appetizing dishes) USDA home economists suggest making up a basic mix to store in your refrigerator.

To make the mix into sauce just add the desired amount of mix to hot water in a heavy saucepan, then heat and stir to blend, and cook until it thickens.

You'll have an excellent white sauce in minimum time without any fuss or bother.

Recipe for Mix

1 lb. (2 cups) butter or margarine
2 cups sifted flour
1½ tablespoons salt
1 lb. (4 cups) non-fat dry milk

To blend, use either a pastry blender or an electric mixer (medium speed for 5 minutes.) The mix will be granular in texture and creamy in color. It packs well in jars or other containers and should be kept tightly covered in the refrigerator. If refrigerated it will keep for several weeks.

Any amount of mix may be made into sauce at one time. When measuring, pack or press the mix closely. Use one-half cup of the dry mix (packed) to one cup of hot water for about one cup of medium-thick white sauce.

The above mix recipe makes a total of about one gallon of white sauce. If your family is small, divide the recipe.

There's Gas—at 8,700 Feet!

Deep-well drilling for natural gas by companies of the Columbia Gas System is expected to provide new supplies of this "wonder fuel" within our operating area.

Natural gas was discovered and first put to work here in the Appalachian area. And here, too, more people are using more of this fuel than in any other comparable region in the United States. To meet this ever-increasing demand, much of the gas you use now comes to you from the Southwest. Our deep-well drilling program aims to develop hitherto unexplored gas-bearing formations closer to home.

This constant search for additional reserves is your assurance that sufficient quantities of modern, efficient natural gas will be available to meet increasing demands in the future.

Southsiders '4th'

Air Force, Army and Navy exhibits will be "demonstrated" at the Fourth of July celebration for South Siders.

Tom Sharp, chairman of the committee for lining up exhibits and demonstrations for the Greenlawn-av affair promises these things among others:

Partial List

A 20 mm gun will be exhibited by the Naval Training Center—and "demonstrated in detail," Sharp said.

A depth charge also will be demonstrated, and a diving suit of the kind used in highly specialized under-water warmaling.

"Helm System

Navy men say that most people are amazed at the ease with which great ships are guided through lakes and seas. consequently, they're bringing a "Helm System" exhibit to the July 4 fete. Visitors will be able to follow the action of the captian of a ship and the helmsman at the wheel.

"That way," one of the unit managers said this week, "you will know how to steer when you buy your big boat."

There will be a "knot board," too. This board is not, really, knotty. It is simply the equipment that shows the speed of the ship in "knots" per hour instead of miles per hour.

And then there will be "Ammunition Boards" . . . but, you'll want to see them at the celebration for the South Side to be observed at Greenlawn-av on the afternoon of July 4.

Zoning Hearing A 'Lonely Place'

June 23 is the date set for a rezoning hearing for the area adjacent to Great Southern Shopping Center and the Gaffin property." Place will be the chambers of Columbus City Council.

The Marion-Franklin Citizens Association urges interested persons to be present.

Lamenting that "your president and a few others have been pretty lonely at some council meetings when Old-Marion Township rezoning was being considered," William Neno pointed out this week that only by stiff argument a few months ago was a C4 zoning and liquor establishment kept out of the Baker Hill development near George C. Beery Junior High and Marion-Franklin High Schools.

cribed a new $4½ million trade school center recently established in Cleveland.

The standards there are very high, Bohl said. Apprentices receive at least 2000 hours on-the-job training plus about 144 hours of related classroom instuction.

In the building trades, these programs last for 3 to 5 years, with plumbing and steam fitting being the toughest courses.

A certificate of recognition is awarded to boys completing the program—and these, he said, are generally recognized in other cities.

Completion of studies in a bona-fide school will generally earn the journeyman privilege, Bohl said.

A program in Columbus—a product of the Joint Committee—will soon train 500 boys in 11 classes of the building trades, he said. He said that both labor and management has shown interest in the program.

Will Wheel Line For City In Big State Bicycle Race

Mike Crary, Deshler-av, with a qualifying time of 1.40 minutes, was first place winner in qualifying time trials for the state bicycle race held at Schiller Park on June 7. Mike is shown on right. Terry Swingle, center, was second; Jim Rogers was third. Qualifying trials will continue each Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. State race will be held at Franklin Park on July 13.

South Side bicycle enthusiasts still have opportunity to qualify for the State Bicycle Race to be held at Franklin Park on July 13.

August Husse, president of the local Franklin Bicycle Club and state representative of the National Bicycle League, made the announcement this week and urged all hot pedalers to show up at Schiller Park on any of the next four Saturday afternoons. Qualifying races will get underway at 3 p.m. each afternoon, Husse said.

Schiller's raceway is 0.70 miles long—a fair trial for the big Franklin Park finals raced over an officially measured mile.

Husse said the first three fastest men will be qualified out of ten man qualifying heats. The finals will match seven Columbus racers and three each from Columbus and Cincinnati.

The winners of the Franklin Park race then will become eligible for a National Bicycle Race to be held at Newark, N.J., on August 15, 16 and 17, and sent there courtesy and expense of the Franklin Club and the National Bicycle League.

Husse, who is himself a lifelong bicycle enthusiast and the father of Bonnie Husse, the state girl's champ, urges interested young men to bring their bikes to Schiller; starting spots in the state contest are still open.

Jones Pk. Scene Of Death Match Saturday Nite!

The Irish Mike McCall vs. Silent Montenaro Texas Death Match, which threatened to re-create riot inside the ring at Jones Park, Obetz, was washed out last Friday night.

But even the deluge hasn't stopped McCall's chest beating. Said he this week: "I'll put Montenaro in the hospital this week." (They're matched for Saturday night)

McCall also has made the statement that he'll pay $100 to the promoter if the tables are turned—that is, if Montenaro emerges from the ring the victor.

In a first match between the men two weeks ago, the help of fans and Obetz police were needed to save the men from seriously injuring each other—hence the Texas Death Match, which will be a grudge battle all the way.

On Saturday night, last, Chest Breneman and Ken Kelsey went to a 30 minute draw. New referee Tom Upperman — an Obetz boy and the youngest ref in the ring—worked the match and did a splendid job.

Mingo defeated Bill Hoover with the help of the ropes; Hoover is seeking for rematch. Mike McCall whipped Matt Burns.

In the main event battle royal, McCall became winner by defeating the other five gentlemen.

South Siders To Graduate: Ohio State

A great many South Side OSU students look forward to graduation this Friday at 5 p.m., when 2200 diplomas will be issued as part of the 81st commencement program.

Announcement was made that in the event of rain the exercises will be transferred to the St. John Arena.

The commencement address will be delivered by Willard M. Kiplinger, Washington, D.C., editor of a business letter, "The Kiplinger Washington Letter," and "Changing Times." His subject will be "The Years Ahead."

Most people can't think with their mouths open, and most of them find this is no serious handicap.

Meeting Will Air Efforts To Capitalize Gravel Pits

Executive Committee CSSO Asks For Good Attendance

The question of "gravel rights versus playgrounds" will be given intensive study and discussion tonight at the South Side Branch YMCA.

Columbus City Council has been asked to lease acreage for private gravel rights, for an indefinite period, west of the Scioto River and north of Frank-rd. The area already has been picked for public service.

The Executive Committee of the Council of South Side Organizations will begin studies in the meeting room of the YMCA, 864 S. Third-st., at 8 p.m.

The question has stirred considerable conflict in official thinking.

The site has been approved for a city nursery and athletic field by the Recreation Department, Parks and Forestry Commission, and the city administration.

The executive committee CSSO invites all members of the organization to be present tonight.

"It is a highly important issue and requires the attention of all citizens," the committee said.

Proponents for "sacrifice" of the play area to commercialism have voiced the theory that since a good gravel market is available, there is also a good reason to turn the property over to gravel business people.

It is expected that strong opposition will be heard this evening.

"There are many ramifications in this proposal," the committee heads reported this week.

It already has been said that Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner will

Lets . . . Make It A Deluge

Announcement has been made that funds to pay for the July 4 celebration for the South Side are short $136! That means that those who have previously contributed to this fund for fun will be called upon to dig deep in the pockets to keep the magnificent record of the South Side groups clean in these matters.

The South Side is large enough and is able to pay for first-class entertainment on the historic Fourth of July celebration. Then, lets's get on with our donations. If WE and YOU have overlooked making our contributions, let's send any amount you desire, but send it right quick like — get the donations into the hands of the committee and keep our records clean.

Make your contribution to the Fourth of July Committee, Council of South Side Organizations, care South Side YMCA, 864 S. Third-st. Please make it a deluge . . . and fast!

Fun Frolic Earns $ $ For Students

Southern Kiwanis held an auction last week in the best traditions of "holler and drum" selling.

Merchandise up for hawking was a widely assorted collection of moderately priced stuff brought in by the members themselves.

Customers were — again— the members themselves.

Purposes were shared with brother Kiwanians all around the city: to enable a foreign student to live for a while in Columbus while enjoying the benefits of Ohio State University teaching.

Most everything from woolen socks to an ear-ring holder, shirts, pants, frozen steaks, etc., made transfer from Kiwanian to Kiwanian.

Good neighbor policy and education were served. The student may be from Arabia, it was said.

Potluck For Gold-Stars

A pot-luck dinner and birthday party were enjoyed by members of Columbus Chapter 1, American Gold Star Mothers, Thursday, June 19, at the home of Mrs. Otto J. Fischer, 683 Kossuth-st. Those present having birthdays in June were Mrs. Daniel Leonard, sunshine chairman, and Mrs. Anna Hatton, first vice-president.

Other members present were Mrs. Russell Forgrave, Mrs. George Neibler, Mrs. James May, Mrs. Clarence Kuhn, Mrs. Walter Dean, Mrs. Martha Nairn, Mrs. James H. Semons, Mrs. Percy Reed, Mrs. Freda Goble; Mrs. Cora Beaver, Mrs. Florence Tipton, Mrs. Jesse Midkiff, Mrs. Albert Heitz, Mrs. Lula Marbach; grandchildren, Mary Alice Nairn, Nancy Heitz, Donna Jean Martin; guest, Mrs. Robert Casto.

Mrs. James May is publicity chairman for the chapter.

Roller Skating

Recently an anouncement was made that an area of 300 feet in Schiller Park had been prepared for roller skating. It also was learned that some who have worked diligently for the hard-surfacing of the road were disappointed when the entire area was not hard-surfaced.

There is, also, it was indicated, a lot of joy that the roller skaters will have more room.

A New Kind Of July 4th Fete

Shown above is the TQ midget racer that Ed Brinkman will have on display at the big Fourth of July celebration sponsored by the Council of South Side Organizations at Southview Park. Festivities begin in early afternoon, displays are open beginning at 2 p.m., concessions and rides will be open until at least 8 p.m. . . . and ther's to be fireworks, too.

Safe-At-Home 'Picnic' Fourth

South Siders working behind scenes in preparation for the Fourth of July Celebration to be held at Southview Park sent out advance words of promise a few weeks ago.

Said they: "This year's fete will outshine all others . . . will be the biggest ever."

It's beginning to look like they meant every word of it.

To the original promises have been added more and more and more — more displays, a couple of extra kiddie rides, a few more concession stands, and maybe even a few more fireworks added to the gigantic night-time program already planned.

Newest things include a display by Columbus Motor Speedway aimed to give everybody an opportunity to inspect a stock car and the famous TQ midget racer.

Invitation

Howard Henry, committee chairman in charge of the fete, asks this week that all South Siders bring their community spirit — their zest for safe at-home fun — to Southview Park beginning at about 2 p.m.

"The largest number of people ever," he urges, "to match the best July 4 celebration ever."

Picnic Areas

There will be provided ample space on the grounds for family and group picnics, Henry says. No reservations will be necessary.

Just come and bring a desire for picnic fun and a "look" at an entirely NEW kind of Fourth of July celebration.

Baseball

There will be ball games played between two girls' teams, two American Legion teams, and one between Falters Packers and Margulis Department Store.

Opening

The day will open with a flag-raising by Southway Post American Legion and will close with a gigantic fireworks display, preceded by the National Anthem sung by Helen Wohlforth, and a prayer by Rev. Paul C. Kaefer.

Approximately 16 armed forces units will have displays on the grounds, and each person 15 years or more of age will be able tto have his chest x-rayed for TB by the mobile unit.

Ponies and rides for the kiddies will be available, and the U.S. Navy is providing a com-

Meters Now On Parsons

Installation Started Wednesday In Steelton Area

Installation of parking meters began yesterday, Wednesday, in the business district of the South Side, Traffic Commission Chairman Otto Meier has announced.

Asked about the number and where the installations have been and will be made, the Commissioner told the South Side Leader that a total of 76 meters have been or will be set up on Parsons-av between Woodrow and Hosack-sts.

Inquiries by the Leader reporter indicated a belief that this is the beginning of traffic control in the area, and will, probably, encourage the equipping of "back lots" for parking vehicles. South Side business men have been interested and, recently, quite active in seeking a solution to the heavy parking problem particularly in the "Steelton" area.

Area installations will continue until the limit set for the area will have been installed. Commissioner Meier has been active in providing such relief as is possible in solving the South Side parking problem, it was said.

Grandmothers Club 4th Anniversary

". . . a community service . . . a wheel chair for Franklin County Hospital from the Columbus Grandmothers Club No. 270. Left to right, Mrs. Ann Regner, Mrs. Clarence Boyd, Superintendent Ivan Bayles, and resident Martha Weist.

A Pleasant Duty —

Columbus Grandmothers Club No. 270, whose 112 members are drawn from the South Side and West Columbus, visited Franklin County Home last week to present Superintendent Ivan Bayles with a wheel chair to be used by residents.

In a brief ceremony attended by Mrs. Clarence E. Boyd, 926 Mohawk-st, club president, and Mrs. Ann Regner, 799 Bulen-av, ways and means chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Bayles and residents, the chair was accepted on behalf of countless old folks who may need the help of a chair in years ahead.

Said Mrs. Boyd: "It is a pleasant duty . . . funds raised through bake sales, rummage sales and the collection of sales tax stamps enables the club to do Community Service work"

All members of the club are grandmothers themselves, and pay a dues of $1.50 per year for the privilege of recreation and participation in community services.

They meet regularly at Schiller Park on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month for fun and crafts meetings and luncheons.

"The wonderful kitchen at Schiller has been enjoyed very much," Mrs. Regner said this week ". . . and especially by the pensioners in our club."

The local group is one of 570 chapters scattered throughout the United States. They belong to the National Federation of Grandmothers Clubs.

Among the regular services rendered is a donation of $50 made each year to Alum Crest Hospital. The Grandmothers' chief money raising ventures are the rummage sale and a bake sale held at Easter in the Majestic Paint Company store.

The club will celebrate its fourth anniversary on July 18, with a luncheon at South Congregational Church. They held a picnic at Westgate Park last Tuesday.

June 29 seems to be a popular anniversary date, looking at our list of news for today's endeavors. Mae and Virgie Dean, 33 E. Jenkins-av, will be observing their anniversary on that date, which is also Virgie's birthday. Two other couples, distantly related will be having 25th anniversaries next Sunday so congratulations to all three South Side couples. The silver anniversary celebrants are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leslein; 643 Southwood-av, and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Leslein, 1549 Studer-av. A family celebration will highlight the event at the Frank Leslein household. We imagine it will be a quiet celebration on Studer-av, due to Leroy's illness. He is in University Hospital at the time this column is written, but it is hoped that he can be home soon. Mrs. F. Leslein is one of our good "telephone" friends who takes pity on us and helps us with items these summer "shortage" days. We're ever so grateful, as we are to all the readers who take time to call us.

While talking to Mrs. Leslein we asked her what dancer son Jack was doing these days. (Jack Leslein is a South High grad who's gone to New York and made good on the East Coast.) She said that he's currently in Boston, at Blinstrut's, working the same bill as the famed Vagabonds. Blinstrut's is the largest theater-restaurant in the country, seating 1700 people. Oh yes, she has a new formula for keeping girlish figures, too . . . pushing stalled cars off railroad tracks.

A neighbor of the Lesleins, Mrs. Broyles, of 644 Southwood is recently home after surgery in Doctor's Hospital.

Our sympathy to the family of Mr. Biegler, who recently passed away.

New members of the "PG" Club are Walter and Margaret Miller, 1400 S. 6th-st. PG'ers are proud grandparents (move over, Eddie!) The parents are Bob and Sally Floyd, and the newest member of the family is a little boy born on Father's Day, June 15.

What's this we hear about Schiller Park going to be a'la Paris or Washington, D.C.? Guess this is the general idea for June 29 . . . Artists will bring their entries to the park at 2 p.m. set up the displays and stall till about 5:30 p.m. Entries will be in these fields: photography, sculpture, ceramics, and crafts. About 30 artists entered a similar fair last fall. Sounds different, doesn't it?

Mrs. R. A. Bartholomew, Belleair, Fla., is the guest of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stiles, 1388 Oakwood-av. Several informal parties have been planned for the former Columbusite.

Mrs. George Bennet, 644 E. Moler-st, is the newly elected vice president of the Insurance Women of Columbus.

Happy June 29 birthday to wonderful Lillian Ryan, 816 S. 17th-st.

St. Mary's Dad's Club will have a round and square dance Saturday, June 28, from 9 p.m to midnight in the school gym. Joe Tanner and Vince Newton are co-chairmen of the event.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Torgerson, 220 E. Mithoff-st, who received a set of twins from Mr. Stork's "Heir Mail Delivery." A little girl and little boy are the two new additions.

Mrs. Olive Winel, 353 E. Moler-st, was the final winner in the Heart's Desire recipe contest, sponsored over a local TV station. She was the recipient of a US Savings Bond.

The second of the South Side Branch YMCA summer square dances will be held tomorrow night at the South Side "Y" Park.

St. Francis School of Nursing, Circle 12, meets at 8 p.m. tonight in the home of Mrs. Leo Dietlin, 430 Stewart-av.

Birthday cakes in this part of the summer are . . . Deborha Dover, 56 Jenkins, July 3; Rodger Costigan, 199 E. Welch, July 2; Jennifer Jackson, 328 Jenkins, June 29; Brenda Messer, 164 Morrill, June 28; Bobby Deamer, 328 E. Morrill, July 2; Donna Beal, 1502 S. 4th-st, June 28; Harry Short, 1644 S. Goethe, June 30; Gary Sturgill, 204 Sheldon, June 30; James Waugh 195 E. Moler, June 27; Richard Pyle, Gantz-rd, July 2; Terry Darst, 367 Morrill, July 3; Larry Gregory, 322 Southwood, July 2; Jennie Dayton, 248 Morrill, June 30; and Stephen Kovalesky, 333 E. Jenkins, July 1.

Congratulations to South grad Ilga Tillers, who won a scholarship to Vassar College. From all we've read, here and there, Ilga received one of the top awards of the country.

A new little son, James Allen Whitt, jr., born on June 14, is the main center of attraction in the Whitt household at 1625 Lockbourne-rd. The Whitts also celebrated an anniversary on June 16, so June is doubly eventful for them.

Eta Upsilon Gamma Sorority alumna chapter, is holding a benefit card party this evening in the air-conditioned party room of the City National Bank and Trust Co., 3100 W. Broad-st at 8 p.m. The group, a Bliss College chapter, is holding the affair to help raise money for the Crippled Children's Society, and all profits will be used for the benefit of the handicapped. For $1 donation, there will be table favors for everybody, wonderful door prizes, cake and coffee. Donations may be given at the door, but for those desiring reservations, the "prizes" chairman is a South Side resident and will gladly oblige. The person to call is Mrs. Ronald Guth, of 1416 S. 5th-st at HI. 3-2186. Miss Marion McMahon, 209 E. Mithoff-st, is publicity chairman of the group. It is hoped that the card players will bring their own cards.

Miss Elizabeth Russell, organist of South Methodist Church, certainly devised a novel method of helping her parents to commemorate their 50 years of wedded life. Miss Russell sent gold taffeta squares to friends and neighbors to embroider and return to her, these "name" squares then being sewn together to form a pillow cover. She received enough squares to make an extra pillow, the interest was so keen. The minister who performed the ceremony, Rev. J. J. Hobbins, was one of the contributors. He and his wife sent a square with a pair of clasped hands embroidered on it.

Saturday, June 28, will be the Russell's anniversary. In addition to Miss Russell, two sons and six grandchildren will be on hand to help the Russells celebrate the day. The sons are Walter and Neal Russell, both of Columbus. The celebrants reside at 3643 E. Deshler-av.

Don't forget the home made ravioli dinner "meat filled," sponsored by the St. Ladislaus Parish this Sunday, June 29, from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the church basement. Tickets may be obtained at the door or by calling Mrs. John Taraba, HI. 3-5701, or Mrs. Michael Yandrich, HI. 4-9525. Price of the tickets is $1.25 for adults, 65 cents for children. Mrs. Albert Macioci and Mrs. Sam Skunza are chairman and co-chairman. Other chairmen are Mrs. Harold Hirschman, Mrs. William Santanich, and Mrs. Don Duh, dining room; Mrs. Albert Santo, bread and butter; Mrs. Dominic Iacoboni, salad; Mrs. Bernard Karmer, coffee; Mrs. Joseph Bramo and Mrs. Biagio Cervi, kitchen; Holy Name men and CYO, dishes; Mrs. Michael Markus, carryouts; Mrs. Joseph Buccilla and Mrs. Homer Hardy, publicity.

Received a nice communique from Helen Jones Rea, but will withhold it until next edition, for this is one of those "pressing" days (as aren't they all?)

Till next edition then, tis —

Funeral For Drowned Man

Funeral services were held yesterday, Wednesday, for Charles W. Davis, 19, of 319½ S. Wall-st, who disappeared in the waters of the Scioto River at Greenlawn Dam, when he apparently slipped on rocks. Services were held at Egan-Ryan Funeral Home at 10 a.m. Burial was in Greenlawn Cemetery.

Friends of the young man who continued their hunt following the end of the police search discovered the body. The unofficial search was said to have started at 6 a.m. Sunday and the body was discovered four hours later, at 10 o'clock.

The body was sighted from shore, it was reported, by Henry Bauer, 222 N. Roosevelt-av. He and two firemen and one of the searchers pulled it from the water.

"Accidental drowning" was the cause of death, ruled Dr. Walter M. Haynes, assistant coroner.

I just know there are more things happening in the neighborhood than I am able to get for this column. If you people from all over old Marion Township area will call me with your news, we will give the column a new name. Friends from other areas in old Marion are always telling me they always look for the column, so the things the rest of you do are interesting to your friends from all over, so let's see if this can't be made into a really good column with all of you giving me just a little news by calling me anytime during the week with the news as it happens.

Twenty-one young people of the South High Choir sang under the direction of Pat Smith at the Choir Festival at Otterbein College on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Carroll, 29 Williams-rd, were guests of honor at a basket dinner on Sunday at Laurelville Park, honoring their 75th birthdays. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll are spending this week visiting in Dayton.

Jerry Crabtree, junior at Marion-Franklin, recently underwent nine hours of surgery at Grant Hospital. A flood of cards are requested by doctors and family. At this writing he is making good progress, but is very limited as to visitors, so cards and cheery notes from classmates are very much needed. He is in Grant Hospital, Room 126. Jerry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Crabtree, 2535 Parsons-av.

Hello!

A custom pleasing to every wife is that of her husband sending her a bouquet of flowers in celebration of wedding anniversaries. Sometimes this is done by sending a rose for each year of marriage. But any lovely flowers let's her know that the sender remembers and treasurers the years of happily married life. Flowes play a big role on the wedding day and bring back treasured memories on the anniversary.

Our best wishes and congratulations to Mr. & Mrs. Leon Kallmerton who have just celebrated their 50th anniversary . . . Birthday greeting to Mrs. W. T. Kilbourne and to Mrs. Orpha Zimmer . . . Best wishes to Robert Clark, Grace Gant, Fossie Stubbins, Mrs. Mary Toth, Mrs. George Newell, and Harry Silberstein, all of whom have been ill . . . Congratulations to new parents Mr. & Mrs. George Felkner, and Mr. & Mrs. C. A. Tillman, who are lullabying their new little ones.

Call us the next time you need flowers for any occasion. We use only the freshest of flowers in our arrangements, and will give your order our best attention.

Hear Ye!

Yes, hear ye! Then follow the "hearing" with DOING.

There'll be plenty doing at Southview Park on Greenlawn-av beginning at 2 p.m. on July Fourth.

Follow the crowd for a safer and more fun-filled near-home community picnic and Independence Day Celebration.

A record breaking number of exhibitions are planned to give this all South Side fete an altogether NEW Look.

Read the story on the front page of the leader . . . and then make plans now to attend . . . with the family.

Honors For TB Project

No wonder the announcers can remember things to say!" . . . that's what Julie Warner, 1183 Kelton-av, seated, and Ivy Veronica Carter, 1471 Mt. Vernon-av, seem to be saying as they write up a few good TB slogans on the WBNS teleprompter typewriter.

Bond And Schooling

Julie Warner, a personable and talented gal who frequently writes South High School and Columbus Public Library news for the South Side Leader, was given an award recently for her work on the "TV Spotlights TB" project.

She received a $200 art scholarship and a $25 savings bond for her public service announcement and accompanying art work on tuberculosis prevention, treatment, etc.

Ivy Veronica Carter also was a winner of a bond.

Both girls were given a behind-the-scenes tour of channel 10 where they "discovered" the machine that makes the "gyp sheets" for announcers to read undetected by the viewing public.

The girls' awards winning work will be shown on channel 10 beginning in July.

The health education project is sponsored annually by the Tuberculosis Society, WBNS-TV, and the Columbus Art School.

Most Ohio soils feed fertile run-off water to ponds, supporting fair fish production. Most Ohio farm ponds need fertilizer only to correct a problem, not as a general practice.

Eggs are generally of high quality when they are produced, but they start down in grade almost immediately if not properly cooled.

Post Office Lock Boxes Cost More

Effective July 1, local business houses with sufficient volume of mail to justify the use of post office locker boxes will pay a substantial increase for the service.

According to notification sent to patrons, locked box rental fees will be increased from 50 cents to $1.50 for larger boxes, and some patrons now using the low-rate boxes will be hiked to the higher brackets.

The $4.50 and $6 rates for the smaller boxes at the main post office are not listed for change. However a size three box will go up from $7.50 to $8, with others of the same class being increased accordingly.

Smaller Box

A user who has rented a smaller box, it was stated, may keep the box number if there is a larger mail volume. Bags or other containers will be used by the post office but the rental fee to be collected will be the same as if the largest box had been provided.

Eash post office station also is placed in a new fee schedule classification.

If the milk house isn't ventilated by some means, milk cooling costs may increase materially during the summer months, according to Ohio State University extension agricultural engineers.

Stedman, a machine gunner in the company, entered the Army in May 1957 and received basic training at Fort Hood, Tex. He arrived in Europe last November.

Ess Vee Dee Bee Or Not To Be

I buy a hundred rolls and start the query.
I get so bloomin' tired
I cannot see.
That next roll is sure to hold the cherry.
Sort on, there must be one (or three).

It's two A.M. and all the house is quiet,
My hands are black and

But I'm sure the next roll—
if I try it—
Contains the nine Ess

I'll take the rolls back to

And I'll get another batch

AAA Warns Motorists Of Hitchhiker Crimes

"The lonely hitchhiker may arouse sympathy in many motorists, but those who stop to pick him up are asking for trouble," advises Russell H. Campbell, general manager of the Columbus Automobile Club.

The record of hitchhiker crimes rises sharply during the summer months, and many a good Samaritan motorist who offered a ride to a "clean-cut young hiker" has wound up in a hospital minus car and cash.

According to the FBI, the prints of two out of five thumbs raised to beg a ride are on file with the police. The majority of hitchhikers do not intend to do the motorist harm, but enough criminals use this method to find a victim to make picking up a stranger not worth the risk, Campbell pointed out.

Aside from being robbed or beaten, there is another very good reason for ignoring the out-stretched hand. In many instances, motorists have been sued heavily by hiking passengers for injuries sustained in an accident.

Twenty-two states have laws which forbid "standing in the roadway for the purpose of soliciting a ride."

But these laws do not protect the motorist. In fact, these laws are traffic safety measures and it is legal in all but two states to hichhike from the sidewalk or road shoulder. In the state of Washington, it is not only illegal to solicit rides, but the motorist who stops to pick up a hitchhiker is also subject to arrest.

Campbell quotes Section 27.368 of the new Columbus Traffic Code, "No person while on a roadway outside of a safety zone shall solicit a ride from the driver of any vehicle."

Children's Playtime Accidents Require Mom's Close Attention

Mother takes great care with cut on her daughter's knee. Even slight wounds can mean infection.

BY EDNA MILES

As soon as school is out, the burden of homemaking increases. Never a light job at any time, it then includes riding herd all day long on active children who turn up at regular intervals with anything from a burn to a bruised knee.

It's up to mother to be prepared for the emergencies that are bound to arise. Two absolute essentials are a first aid reference book and a first aid kit.

Treating cuts and slight wounds seems simple, at first thought. But infection can spring from the smallest cut if treatment isn't right.

Before you bandage a cut or wound, cleanse it thoroughly with sterile cotton or a sterile gauze pad. Next, use a good antiseptic on a fresh pad, place the pad on the wound and wrap with the bandage.

The bandage should never come in contact with a wound unless it is a newly opened sterile roll. Therefore, the individual sterile gauze pads are safest for use.

Here's the Answer

Bible Comment

Propaganda On Alcohol Equalizes

Alhcohol is the occasion of an immense amount of propaganda. For many years those who favor total abstinence have carried on extensive and highly organized campaigns against the liquor traffic. Lately, propaganda in defense of moderate drinking has been extensive, if not on an equal scale.

Efforts to distort or to overstate the facts either against or in favor of drinking will, in the long run, defeat the propagandist. The speedy enactment of prohibition and its speedy repeal ought to remind us, whatever our viewpoint, how great and quick reaction can take place when people are influenced by high-pressure propaganda without being fundamentally convinced.

It is obvious that there is today considerable confusion as well as much honest difference of opinion concerning the facts. A total abstainer sees no reason to abandon his practice. From his viewpoint, total abstinence never hurt anybody. Yet it would be folly for him to assume any moral superiority over plenty of men and women wro drink in moderation.

We'll Get There Yet

No amount of argument has ever been able to set aside the Biblical denunciations and warnings upon which the "temperance" lessons are based. But the fact that even among church people drinking is much more common than it was a few years ago makes it difficult to teach such lessons without recognizing changed conditions.

What should we do? Face the facts. Encourage frank and open discussion. Avoid censuring judgments, but do not compromise the truth. No habits that are sound and no cause that is right need have anything to fear from the fullest investigation, inquiry and discussion.

Newcamp Tire Co. Holds Grand Open

Dr. Bop and Free Prizes At Newcamp Firestone

Livingston-Fairwood Scene Of Gala Three-Day Fete

Dr. Bop, the popular musical personality, will stage his regular live radio program Thursday night from the premises of the new Firestone Store, Livingston and Fairwood-aves.

Walter Newcamp, owner and general manager of the store, reports that all Dr. Bop's four hour-long WCOL program (9 p.m. until 1 a.m.) will be broadcast from his store.

The opening will continue for two more days with free prizes, gifts for children and parents, and free Pepsi Cola available every day. Dr. Bop also will give away 100 free records.

An official ribbon-cutting ceremony, with Columbus City Councilman Ralston Westlake in charge, will take place Thursday afternoon. The ceremony will be taped and played later over the WCOL Dr. Bop program. Also attending the ribbon-cutting will be Firestone district manager John Gerrold, territory salesman Russ Carmean, and Robert Jackson, manager of Firestones' district truck tire department.

Newcamp's new store will be an example of a modern-and-complete-auto service and accessories center. Each department will feature specials especially in precision brake work and front end alignment.

The store also will be equipped to handle all foreign sports cars—both for tires and parts. Wire wheels will be stocked for all models. Service is available at all times.

The prize winners will be drawn by Whitehall Mayor Moling on Saturday evening at 5 p.m.; winners will be announced in this newspaper next week.

Don't forget the dates are today, tomorrow and Saturday at the corner of Livingston and Fairwood-aves.

West German authorities believe it would cost the government 52 billion Deutsche marks (about $12,385,000,000) for the first six years of the country's military buildup.

Ohio Crop Reporting Service now estimates Ohio's winter wheat crop at 42.7 million bushels, 30 percent more than last year, but 15 per cent less than average.

A $10,900 sale at a total cost of just $2.06!

Sounds unbelievable doesn't it?

But that is the report of Henry Jones, a local real estate salesman who advertised a six room house in the Hartley Newspapers last week.

This is but one of the many testimonials these newspapers receive each week. They are result packed advertising values due to the very low cost in reaching out into some 52,000 homes each week.

One of the big things that make these papers so valuable as an advertising medium is the fact that they are filled with the local community news and stay in the home until the next week's issue arrives.

Move To Ban Sack Dress

A movement is reported on foot by rod and gun clubs and conservation groups to ban the sack dress from all fishing waters, according to R. F. Jennings, public relations director of the Cortland Line Co., Inc.

There is a feeling that this garb encourages female anglers to exceed legal bag limits of fish which can be concealed easily within the copius confines of the garment. This will not apply in Ohio as there is no legal length or bag limit on any kind of fish.

One tackle dealer, who also handles hardware, reports that a lady customer in sack dress made off with one of his best wheelbarrows without changing her contours.

Sensenbrenner Says He'll Veto Gravel Lease

Sharply admonishing City Council, Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner stated last Wednesday that he would veto an ordinance allowing private concerns to exploit gravel rights on city property.

Council had passed the ordinance in the face of negative recommendations by both the Planning and the Parks comisions, which is what Sensenbrenner deplored.

Service Director Floyd C. Redick had vehemently fought the ordinance. The mayor's veto would represent a victory for Redick and a defeat for democratic council president, W. Wesley Llewelyn, who sponsored the bill.

Llewelyn had accused Redick of retreating from the issue at every chance, offering lame excuses for his opposition to it, and told the mayor that Redick has been deliberately misleading him (Sensenbrenner) and the parks commission in order that they will oppose the ordinance.

The council president reported that in a conference he had with the mayor last week, Sensenbrenner hinted that he might still change his mind and refrain from vetoing the bill.

Should the mayor permit the ordinance to pass, rights for a gravel lease would go to the Visintine Equipment Corp.

The lease would cover a 40 acre section of the west bank of the Scioto River, north of Frank-rd.

The Division of Parks has expressed a desire to use this land for a nursery.

Check List Handy Camping Guide

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Ed Larie, 76 Mary-st, West Jefferson, and his son, Rickey, are going on a camping-fishing trip, and they asked me the other day about some items of camp equipment.

More and more people, it seems are spending their yearly vacations outdoors. A camp outing makes an inexpensive vacation once a few basic necessities are accumulated.

Camping also makes an enjoyable vacation—if you plan for it in advance. Ed and Rickey chose the location for their expedition, in northern Wisconsin, more than six weeks ago. Then they started to gather their equipment. They purchased things like sleeping bags and air mattresses, and they are going to borrow a tent from a friend. Most of the other items they will need are around the house, but they are making a list and will check them off as the car is loaded.

Most campers supply themselves well with food and the more obvious items of camping equipment, but they forget the little things. Here is a camping checklist that I have found to be useful: an orange crate, picnic basket, clothes line and pins, mirror, oilcloth, clock, broom, axe and knife, shovel, folding chairs, folding table, flashlight, fly swatter, bug bomb, first aid kit, coat hangers, laundry bag, sewing kit, some string, pen and paper, soap and box.

Detergent, paper napkins, wax paper, toilet paper, paper towels, pot cleaners, pot holders, small flat boards, warm jackets, extra shoes, toilet and shaving articles, towels, dishcloths and washcloths.

Frying pan, stew pots, tea kettle, can opener, bottle opener, spatula, knives, cooking forks and roasting forks, fishing tackle and camera.

These are the things you will need whether you camp in a cabin, tent, or trailer. To this list you must add the other items necessary to your campsite. You should also plan the menu for each meal while you are gone, and take some canned meat in case you don't catch a lot of fish.

FISH REPORT

Robert Nolce, 2670 South High-st, landed a 12¾ pound channel catfish on his first trip to Clendening Lake, according to boat dock operator Bill Bess. The interesting thing is that it was Nolce's first trip to the lake—a case of beginner's luck.

Elden Hales, charter boat captain at Put-in-Bay, reports the white bass fishing in Lake Erie is picking up, and that it should be at its best for the next couple of weeks. These scrappy fish travel in schools, and will hit almost any kind of small shiny spinner or spoon. Some fishermen are taking smallmouth bass areound the islands on both live and artificial baits.

CAMPING WISE—This fisherman is well prepared for camping. At night he will store his equipment under his boat and sleep in his stationwagon. (Photo by Dick Matt.)

...A Darn Nasty Trick

Blood Bath At Jones Park Ends In Ringside Riots

When a man's head is "beaten to a pulp" in retribution for frisky fooling around with acceptable wrestling laws—he's usually met his match whether the whipping be fair or foul.

That's what is expected anyway.

And it always helps a wrestling fan's sense of righteouness if the frisky fooler gets the beating. But it doesn't always happen that way: wrestling sin becomes perpetrated week after week.

Silent Montenaro—the strong man and nice fellow who called for a "Texas Death Match" with Irish Mike McCall at Jones Park two weeks ago—is recovering nicely this week from head wounds inflicted by Mike while he, Montenaro, lay star gazing in the dewy grass outside the riot ridden Jones Park ring Friday night.

Montenaro was degraded in a scene of bloody bathos. Rain was falling, blood running from gashes in his head. A nice crowd (despite the almost continual rain which had the driveways awash) chanted approval as the battle moved first through the ring ropes onto the sod, and then blew to full riot with the Obetz law called in to calm everybody.

It's said now that McCall used brass knuckles (slipped to him by someone in the stands)—a darn nasty trick as most any armchair TV wrestling fan can tell you. But then Irish Mike can usually find more ways to whip a man than the law allows—and what better unlawful way than knucks.

(It was simply the old story of "what the referee doesn't see . . . doesn't need explaining".)

Both men will try again, of course. From beneath the bandages has come another challenge: a boxing match with gloves, and so it shall be 10 rounds in two weeks or as soon as both men are in top condition.

The many fans of Montenaro will recall that he was heavyweight Golden Gloves champion in 1950.

Also listed among the McCall-Montenaro irregularities were a couple of illegal reverse headlocks and neck snaps (by Mike) which preceded the exodus from the ring (both men) and the handy headwork (by Mike).

Saturday's feature match also ended in unlawful riot—this time in the dressing rooms after the match. Obetz police again were called in to calm the excitement.

This match was a tag affair with McCall and Mingo doing business with Hoover and Larry Daniels, the smooth working Negro star. The first pair took the first fall, with Hoover's famous head butt (also illegal) in absentia.

But somewhere along about the middle of the second fall, the "boys will be boys" spirit deceitfully drew Bill Hoover into wrong doing: he butted Irish Mike.

In the ensuing fracas, Tom Upperman, the young referee from Obetz, had his shirt torn, was lifted aloft (by Mike) and after the manner of pole axing, young Tom was used to club another wrestler—and was finally knocked unconscious.

The police entered the scene at this point and the match was recessed to the dressing room where it began again.

It goes back on public display tonight (Friday). They've been rematched.

In a Saturday preliminary match, Daniels and McCall treated fans to an exhibition of good, clean wrestling. There were no low blows, no choking, no neck snapping.

Irish Mike was defeated for the first time in 12 bouts.

South-Side Daily Vacation Church School

Intermediate class members will be honored with new pins at the Thursday (tonight) program. Charlene Walters has attended the rotating four church-YMCA school for ten years, Jay Young and Paula Price for nine years. Left to right, front row, Patricia Williams (6 years), Peggy Dupler (8), Paula, Charlene, Jay, Dave Mouser (8); second row, Karen Alexander (4), Carol Hickman (1), teacher, Mrs. Paul Starrett, Terri Schaderwald (1), Thelma Fischer (1), Luanna Williams (1), Sharon Yetter (6); back row, Malinda Metzler (4), Barbara Brown (1), Dannie O'Neill (2), Jonnie Pharr (7).

Historic Community Project Will Display Crafts Tonight

A strict regimen of daily Bible study, liberally sprinkled with recreation and handcrafts, has made the annual South Side Daily Vacation Church School a whopping success in the eyes of over 175 attending young people.

The school began two weeks ago in Gates-Fourth Methodist Church, will conclude with a party Friday morning. Tonight, parents and friends will visit, pins will be awarded and crafts displayed.

Crafts practiced at the school is determined in part by age groups . . . boys make some things, girls others. The kindergarten class makes umbrellas from colored paper, and booklets with titles such as, "We Thank God," and "Four Friends Help."

The educative purposes of the school were described this week by Mrs. Leland Mountjoy, the school principal.

"To give a better understanding of Christian principles," she said.

And so it has been since the school began over 26 years ago as a joint project between community churches and the South Side Settlement House.

This year, in the hands of senior teachers and teen-age helpers, Christian teaching is being given lively interpretation. Gates-Fourth buzzes with song and excitement. Small voices of kindergarten youngsters . . . the big voice of the choir . . . the snip of scissors . . . basketballs in the gym—all are blended in a sort of testimony that fun-loving kids can be taught ancient dictums.

Classes have been divided by age groups, then divided again, boys from girls, for recreation and craft classes. This neat arrangement gets the job done easier and gives less restraint to individual creative talents (for example, the boys nail, the girls sew).

Craft work may be the most popular class.

All craft handiwork has some religious association. And all is creative. Jim Wagner, the craft and recreation director on loan from the YMCA, insists on the emphasis.

Explained Jim: "Craft work must tie in with classroom teaching whenever possible, and must always be creative."

"We let the students pick their own projects, but they are not permitted to use purchased cut-out models of things," Jim said.

Examples of work in progress by junior boys are religious plaques and the boys' own house numbers scrolled from plywood, and a loom for weaving cloth.

They've also learned wood burning, can letter such things as "The Lord Is My Shepherd."

The intermediate girls' class does feminine things, although one of their projects is a "Bible School Gazette," a news summary of the two week school. They've also knitted slippers and coasters.

Craft work has taken the students closer to Christian teaching, both the teachers and students say.

Charlene Walters, 90 Thurman-av, a ten year veteran of the vacation school, described her good feeling of accomplishment in crafts and lessons like this: "We've learned about God," she said.

Her attitude was echoed by Jay Young, 1284½ Moler-st, a nine-year student, who said simply: "We make and we learn." Jay, who is a member of the intermediate boys' class, also gave his reason for good attendance. "I like to learn," he said. One of his lessons this week was "Jesus Faces the Cross."

Movies have become an important asset to the church school teachers, just as it has to their colleagues in public instruction. Missionary and Biblical themes are popular in modern dress-up.

A recent movie was illustrative of the story of Jesus on a trip to Galilee . . . well remembered by some of the girls because of the boats and river.

Perhaps less educative — but fun and energy letting, are the square dance lessons enjoyed by Junior girls during their recreation classes.

The school, sponsored by this year's host, Gates-Fourth Methodist, the St. Paul E&R, South Congregational, and Thurman Avenue Methodist Churches and the South Side Branch YMCA, has already accomplished much in the two brief weeks since public schools turned the youngsters over to play grounds and vacation.

"Walk Softly
Be Silent
For This Is The Place
Where Loving and Kindness
Remind Us Of God."

This reminder is posted on the primary classroom bulletin board—left there by a Sunday School Class.

The South Side Daily Vacation Church School is an ennobling experience for all who attend.

Mrs. Ray Kuehner, dean, and Mrs. Leland Mountjoy, principal, of the four church-YMCA sponsored school, have each served 20 years in the planning, administration and direction of the South Side Community Church School.

The choir is unique because it was organized just for the duration of the two-week school. Members are chosen from all four participating churches and are directed by Mrs. Ray L. Kuehner.

S. Methodist WSCS Meet

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet Wednesday, June 25, at 7:45 p.m. in the recreation room of the church for their last meeting of the summer.

The new circle leaders are Mrs. Erma Daugherty, Dorcas Circle; Mrs. Ann McCarthy, Mary Circle; Mrs. June Ward, Ruth Circle.

The hostesses for this meeting will be the new officers of 1958 and 1959, with the President, Mrs. Grace Ward, as the chairman. The society will meet regularly again beginning Sept. 25.

When traveling with children;

To repeat: the Executive Committee of the Council of South Side Organizations urges all members to be present at the YMCA tonight, Thursday, beginning at 8 p.m.
